WAR CRISIS AND PARLIAMENTARY SESSION

It can be reported now that there will be no early prorogation to Parliament, but merely an adjournment. This means only a temporary recess and it is due to the mounting gravity of the war situation which it is expected will produce conditions that may require, in any emergency, the presence of the representatives, if this should be necessary to consider the various angles of the Canadian war effort at home and abroad, with the possibility that controversial issues, such as national government or national service on selective lines and other matters touching on the war and its direction would be revived under such circumstances in face of the fact that these proposals have been rejected by the Government. However, in any crisis, there is no doubt that these would be reviewed as live issues once again, and whether Parliament is in session or not now, important news is certain to emanate from Ottawa within the next few weeks.

U. S. WHEAT POLICY AND CANADA

In view of the intentions of the United States to guarantee farmers a return of 97 cents a bushel on wheat compared with 70 cents in Canada, this disparity has caused much discussion on Parliament Hill. Under the present plans, farmers in the United States will receive 85 per cent of parity regardless of market conditions, with parity being a price that would give farm products relatively the same purchasing power as they commanded in the years 1909 1914. However, it is argued that a policy of this kind would raise the cost of living and the defence programme. Then again, conditions in the two countries and the basic wheat polices are not alike in many respects. Moreover, it is known that United States authorities are worried in case Canadian wheat is attracted to their markets despite the 42 cents a bushel duty rate. But a high rate in the United States and a much lower rate in Canada is bound to attract attention by its disparity, with this being a subject of much discussion in well-informed circles in the capital, particularly on account of the prevailing conditions amongst wheat farming communities in Canada.

CANADA AND THE GRAVITY OF FRENCH COLLABORATION

Though Britain severed diplomatic relations with the Vichy Government in France a long time ago, Canada carried on these relations through the French Legation in Ottawa since this was the only channel of communication or inquiry on various affairs, though it was never indicated whether this was used or not. Mr. Ristelhueber was in charge of the office in Ottawa ever since he came here prior to the collapse of France and he carried on his duties quietly. However, the Canadian Government will not be able to remain indifferent, if the Petain-Darlan Government at Vichy collaborates extensively with the enemy, with Premier King referring to the whole matter as "a very delicate subject" as indication of the seriousness of the problem for the Dominion of Canada.

ORDER-IN-COUNCIL PROCEDURE

No less than 13,807 Orders-in-Council have been passed in Ottawa since September, 1939. This information was disclosed by the Prime Minister of Canada in answer to a question by a Member of Parliament who wanted to know how many of the Orders-In-Council were passed in order to change or suspend operation of the laws passed since the outbreak of the war.

NEW BUILDING RULES

The licensing of new buildings or the enlargements of old buildings will depend upon the conditions in the locality and in the particular business affected. This information was given by the Priorities Commissioner, R. C Berkinshaw of Ottawa, who also indicated that licensing will not be difficult if there is actually a shortage of homes or apartments, which happens to be true in the case of many localities. Likewise, if there is a need for enlargement or expansion of building in certain industries or business, this will be permitted when it is proven to be necessary, though the industry or business is not concerned with war matters. Otherwise, a license may be refused as it has already been done in the cases of two motion picture undertakings or projects in Edmonton.

Democracy Speaks

By Wm. MacDonald North Sydney

The past fortnight has been one of the most eventful since the war began. The battle of the North Atlantic which resulted in the sinking of the British battleship Hood and the German battleship Bismarck, the battle of Crete, the launching of Canada's Victory Loan and the issuing of a presidential proclamation of a state of unlimited alarm in the United States were only some of the events which received the attention of the world.

In the opinion of this writer, however, all of the above mentioned developments were at least partly overshadowed by a series of great speeches which clarified the position of the democracies beyond the slightest doubt.

The long awaited "Fireside Chat" by the President has been heard around the world. In spite of all the warnings and threats that were issued by Nazi and Japanese propagandists and even American Isolationists in an effort to prevent the President from taking too bold a course, he came out with the bare facts and the measures to be taken to meet the approaching danger as definatly as one would expect of the great statesman he is.

The President minced no words as he went calmly along, speaking the English language in its simplest form with his rich voice echoing throughout the world. He left no doubt in the mind of anyone as to what he thinks of Adolf Hitler and his Axis partner, nor as to his opinion of the approaching danger to American Security and still less as to what measures he will take to counteract that danger.

As on many occastons before, the President warned the American people of the threat to their security if Hitler should defeat England and get control of the Atlantic. He warned of the possible Nazi invasion of South America, which would only be seven hours distance by air from the Azores and Cape Verde Islands, and the economic strangulation of the United States and Canada if the Axis should win in Europe.

The President's speech was not only a warning to Americans and indeed, to freemen everywhere, of the threat that exists, it was also an announcement of what steps had been taken to assure the ultimate defeat of the dictators. He informed the world that America would deliver the "goods" to Britain and not hesitate to take any further action that may be necessary to bring about victory for the democracies.

In short, the speech might well be described as a clear cut statement of the case of democracy to be judged at the bar of posterity. To those of us who believed that President Roosevelt was one of the world's greatest democratic statesmen the "Fireside Chat" confirmed that belief.

Another great speech was delivered by Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden, at London in which he clearly stated the war aims and peace aims of Great Britain. Mr. Eden made a strong statement in favour of Britain's cause and the principles for which she is fighting. On the other hand he challenged Hitler to state what hope he had for the future of humanity, and answered the query himself with a sarcastic "nothing".

To those who pretended that they didn't know what we were fighting for and continuously hoped on the fact that Britain failed to state her war aims, when they are obvious, and her peace aims, when they were almost unknown, perhaps the Foreign Secretary's speech will form a much cherished document.

One of the most out-spoken demands for American entrance into the war, to be made by an influential American statesman was made in an address at Philadelphia by Mayor La Guardra of New York. Mr. La Guardra who is also chairman of the American delegation on the mutual Defence Board between the United States and Canada called upon America to get into it now and that it was better to fight now with Britain as an Ally than to fight later without her.

He reiterated America's intentions to deliver the goods to Britain and raid to Germany, "try and stop us."

These three speeches should not leave either Germany or Japan in any doubt as to what the democracies are really out to accomplish. Our goal has been clearly defined and our course definitely chartered.

FRANCE AU REVOIR

Farewell, France, until in some happier day we may see you again!

Painful the words, after a year's waiting and hoping that somehow out of the wreck of France something might have been salvaged for freedom. Painful words to those who have felt that the French people are good, and clean wholesome.

Nearly a year ago, France suffered the humiliation of military defeat. With more than a million of her sons in German prison camps, virtual hostages to have expended her to continue the war in Africa, or in the Near East, would have been to expect much. The e were some who had earned to expect much of France However. Hope died slowly.

France chose. No vote was possible in the confusion of surrender. Whether the French people ever were, or are now, back of Petain, Darlan or Laval, no one knows. There is room for the gravest doubt.

Nevertheless the Petains, and Darlans and the Lavals are in charge of France. They have personally elected (no one compelled them personally- to play ball with Hitler. Aside from actions, which might have been forced on them by circumstances, they have given lip service to Fascism, which was not. They have opened the gates of Tunisia and Syria to the German invader; they have chosen to ride a surf-board on the "wave of the future," on which one may expect the remainder of the French navy to be launched at any moment.

For the moment, the Frenchmen of the Fascist mold of mind are in the saddle. For the moment they are France. Resolutely we must push into the background for the moment the members of Frenchmen who fought so gallantly for freedom. We must forget, for the moment that "Liberty, equality and Fraternity" [illegible] We were not speculate, for the moment, that perhaps 90 per cent of Frenchmen still love freedom. For the moment such force as France has is at the disposal of the Totalitarian Revolution.

That is the fact, and that is the only fact in reference to France that bears on the situation today.

All that can be said today by the most ardent lover of all things French is "France au Revoir!"

Farewell, until we see you again, in your true tricolor, firm and ardent once more for freedom!

Doubt it not, that day will come!

The Russian 'Enigma'

To the Editor,

Sir:—We hear a lot of talk about the Russian "enigma." The fact is there is no enigma. We know that for over twenty years European financiers have been plotting against Russia, because she repudiated her bonds. They were determined to get back into Russia, to restore the system. Day in and day out, through an international press, they translated in their efforts, to discredit the people and prejudice them in the eyes of the world.

For many reasons, Hitler was expected to attack Russia. In his book, he accepts the job, and glories in it. It all went like clockwork until England became thoroughly alarmed. She wanted no Nazi government, with its camouflaged industrial slavery and fake ethics. When Hitler found he had to fight England he was frantic. It was the very last thing he desired. He rushed to Russia, and made peace with the prospective victim. Russia didn't want to fight. She had more territory than she could develop. She had everything to lose and nothing to gain. The fight between England and Grmanly and her salvation.

The Functions Of The Press

EDITORIAL NO. 10

THE GUARANTEE OF FREEDOM

This is the closing editorial of a series which was designed to provide our readers with a better understanding of the functions of the press which serves their community. An attempt has been made to deal briefly, simply and adequately with the many phases and relationships between the newspaper and the territory it serves. It is not without purpose that this editorial has been left until the last because in a sense it sums up what has been said in the previous editorials about the aims, objects, ideals and problems of the community weekly newspaper.

The purpose of this series has been to give a glimpse of the intangible things about a newspaper—the soul if you will. For the newspaper has a soul, and that is what makes it such an important asset in the district it serves. We borrow these words from another writer to explain just why we believe that your newspaper is your guarantee of freedom.

"I am the guarantee of the Canadian way of life—the way of liberty—the way of equal opportunity— the way of free enterprise the divine way and the true way for national well-being and upward advancement.

Weekly I go into your home—in winter and summer—in spring and fall. I chronicle your birth, your marriage, your death, and the intervening years which mean sorrow or joy, depression or exaltation, health or pestilence, poverty or wealth, weakness or strength.

Freeborn am I and true to my heritage. I am not the subservient carrier of propaganda which enabled a Hitler to become the master of Germany, nor am I the complacent press which contributed to the downfall of France. I am a friendly visitor. You'll find me constantly at your right hand, week after week. I have character, and even when I hurt you, I know you would not have me spineless.

I provide you with special civic service. I support to the last drop of my ink your charities, your Red Cross drives, your school, your church, and our service organizations. Yes, I assist in the building of community character.

Through advertising I promote your trade, move your commodities, advance your living standards. I am a bit bashful about mentioning these things, but I want you to rest assured that I am your friend.

I am the Canadian home town newspaper, and without me your liberities would vanish."

Considerations Involved

To the Editor,

Sir:—It is unfortunate that those who are promoting the conscription issue do not reflect at greater length upon the political difficulties involved. If the demand for conscription in certain quarters becomes more and more pronounced it is possible that Premier King will feel, sooner or later, he must submit the issue to the people. Let us suppose that the King government did go to the polls and was opposed by the Conservative party advocating a policy of conscription. What then? The King government would obtain a solid Quebec block of 65 seats. Thus they would need to win only 65 seats throughout the rest of the Dominion to have a majority in the House. On the other hand the Conservatives and any others supporting them, would have to win 125 seats in the rest of the Dominion. First, let us keep in mind the present weak state of the Conservative party in Canada Secondly, let us remember that anyone with common sense knows that no public man in Canada can promote the interests of Great Britain and Canada in the United States so effectively as Mr. King. With this picture before us, it hardly seems possible the King government would be defeated. And then, with an anti-conscription government being sustained at the polls, there would be those who would misinterpret the whole business as evidence of a half-hearted war effort on the part of Canada. However well-meaning they may be, those who are forcing the conscription issue are making a mistake.

NOTE AND COMMENT

The first big Canadian tank has been turned out, 'tis said, although any bar-room bouncer of other days could tell you that it be turned out many a one.

Until the government repairs the highways a motorist needs a bump of location for the bumps.

There is talk now of a minister of information for Canada. After the census he will have plenty of material to work on.

A man has to be out of the ordinary to set the Thames on fire, but it takes no genius to ignite a forest.

Iraq, it seems, is the present name Persia, though it would suit Italy better.

"Remember the Hood" might be just as effective a cry in the United States as "Remember the Maine."

The dollar has recently a slight dip. Rather early in the season! The dollar must indeed be cold cash as a result.

The boy who goes to school unwillingly returns home even more reluctantly—if he has a poor report card.

Sweden is reported to be "clinging" to neutrality. But neutrality, in this war, has proved no more of a life preserver than the straws drowning men grasp at.

The Minister of Finance says that nobody knows how many millionaires there are in Canada. A bell hop in an expensive hotel, however, is convinced that he is in the presence of one when he gets a five dollar tip.

Five Italian generals have been killed in this war. Evidently leading a retreat can sometimes be as dangerous as leading an advance.

The national chairman of the Conservative party is said to have an "engaging" smile. That will help him to engage campaign workers.

Canada foots the bill to boot Hitler and his gangsters.

People who believe Axis propaganda should take a hippopotamus as their totem animal. It can swallow anything.

There's talk of taxing speeches. Hen-necked husbands will demand an absolutely prohibitive impost on certain lectures.

In spite of his Balkan "victories", photographs of Hitler show him looking as sour as ever. Probably this is the result of getting up, morning after morning, on the wrong side of the Channel.

Hess is said to be demanding extras in the way of food while a prisoner of the British. But if this assassin really got his deserts, it wouldn't be just fruit he would get.

A correspondent thinks that if that fellow Hess is a Trojan horse he should be fed oats or hay instead of chicken.

Crete had to be abandoned by the British, because of the superior strength of the German air fleet in numbers and the successful evacuation of Allied troops from Crete, numbering 15,000, was a wonderful achievement considering all the difficulties they had to overcome before this could be accomplished. The losses on both sides were heavy, but those of the Huns were colossal.

SUCCESSION DUTIES WILL BE DOUBLE

Succession duties will be collected by the Federal Government just as if there were no such thing as provincial duties. In other words, Ottawa reports that succession duties are to be collected twice from now on in Canada.

There is an old saying Britons used to cry
"Be Trust in God, and keep your powder dry."
That saying holds good to this year fortt-one
To defeat our enemies, especially the Hun,
Trust in God, always and to keep powder dry
Lend your savings to Canada, and Victory Bonds buy.

SALES OF DAIRY CATTLE

Of vital interest to dairy farmers and breeders of dairy stock in Nova Scotia are the sales of dairy cattle and prices paid in recent weeks for dairy stock purchased from this province for shipment elsewhere. Following are notes on the sales recorded:

Yarmouth County—10 grade Guernsey cows, due to freshen soon, sold to Massachusetts buyers for $70 to $75, while 24 pure bred Guernsey cows went to Ontario and U. S. points at an average of $116, and 11 pure bred Guernsey heifers brought an average of $100 each.

Kings County—To Ontario buyers went six pure-bred cows at an average of $175, and several purebred heifers at an average of $60.

Colchester County—Reports approximately 60 purebred Guernsey cows and heifers for shipment to Ontario, with cow prices ranging from $100 to $250, average $150, and heifers avering $75. One carload of purebred Ayrshires went to Quebec at prices ranging from $100 to $175. Two purebred Holsteins went to Newfoundland at $100 and $125, as well as one purebred Ayrshire at $125, and grade Holsteins and Ayrshires at $75 to $85.

Pictou County—To Ontario buyers 12 purebred Guernsey cows form $60 to $135, and 54 grade Guernsey cows fair to good quality from $40 to $60.

Reports on sales in south-western Ontario show purebred cows bringing from $130 to $140, and good grade cows $75 to $100. In Central Ontario good commercial purebred Holstein cows brought $100 to $150, better quality from $200 to $300, grade cows $75 to $90. Jerseys, purebred cows $75 to $200, good grades $75 to $100.

In Ottawa valley purebred Ayrshire cows brought $125 to $160, and good grades from $90 to $125.

POULTRY CLUB INCREASE

Some 24 poultry clubs are operating in the province this year, according to C. E. Benoit, provincial poultry promoter. New clubs organized this year include five in Inverness County, namely: Northeast Margaree, Skye Glen, Whycocomagh, Port Hood and Creignish; Scotburn and River John in Pictou county. Others operating include Musquodoboit in Halifax county, Wedgeport and Pubnico in Yarmouth county, Aylesford and Cornwallis in Kings, Melvern Square and Forest Glade in Annapolis; Mahone Bay, Bridewater and Barss Corner in Lunenburg; Newport in Hants; Tracadie and Heatherton in Antigonish; Guysboro in Guysboro county; Reserve Mines in Cape Breton county, and D'Escousse in Richmond.

Up at Reserve mines in Cape Breton, the poultry club has started this year with 2000 started chicks, all pullets. This club is in the heart of the coal mining section in Cape Breton.

ALFALFA DOES WELL IN DIGBY COUNTY

Production of alfalfa is a success in a number of areas in Nova Scotia and the development of this crop is on the increase. Digby county is one area in which the alfalfa project has been carried on for several years with excellent results. This spring Raymond LeBlanc agricultural representative in that county, reports that 250 pounds of alfalfa has been distributed in the county in five and ten pound lots treated with nitro culture for inoculation. Approximately 30 acres will be planted to the crop this year, the localities involved being Metegan, Meteghan River, Comeauville, Church Point, Weymouth, Plympton, Barton, Bloomfield, North Ridge, Hillsvale, Acadiaville, and Marshalltown. It is also interesting to note that a large quantity of lime has been shipped into the county this spring.

WOMEN'S INSTITUTES FEATURE BOMB VICTIMS AT RALLIES

Members of the women's institutes throughout Nova Scotia are making a special effort this year to make and collect articles of wear needed by victims of air bombings in Britain and to aid collecting money for the Queen's Canadian fund. This work is claiming strongly to the front in the annual district rallies of the institutes which are now in progress and will continue into July. Exhibits being shown at the rallies will feature garments suitable for the victims in the bombed areas, and at the close of the rallies the articles will be collected and turned over to the provincial Red Cross for shipment. It is expected that at least 3000 garments of various kinds will be collected. The idea for the exhibits originated with the Cumberland county district of the women's institutes. Miss Helen Macdougall, supt. of institutes for the Nova Scotia department of agriculture, is attending the rallies, and reports that, as was amply evident at the 1940 rallies, the ... women are maintaining the institute tradition of steadfastness in the face of war's anxieties and problems, so strong a factor in helping to maintain the morale of the people in general.

TRAINING YOUNG WOMEN IN HOME CRAFT

One of the outstanding features of the youth training movement in Nova Scotia, as conducted jointly by the Nova Scotia department of agriculture, and the federal department of labour, has been the large number of young women of the rural districts trained during the past two or three years in various phases of home craft. This training has been provided through the medium of the short courses, held in various districts throughout the province, with a month's course of a more advanced nature given during the winter at the Agricultural college at Truro.

This training in home craft takes in all phases of home making and home management, including such subjects as cover the best methods of buying goods, using goods, cooking and preparing and serving meals, making the best use of home resources in both food and clothing, as well as a certain amount of handicraft. In this way a very large number of rural young women in this province have been brought to a more thorough knowledge of the many branches of practical home economics.

This year the series of home craft short courses have been started off with the encouraging fact that the first course, now being held at Upper Canard in Kings County, has the largest registration of young women yet experienced in any of these courses in recent years. A total of 37 are taking the course at Upper Canard, which will be in progress for a matter of three weeks.

The courses are conducted under the direction of the staff of the women's institute division of the Nova Scotia department of agriculture, of which Miss Helen Macdougall, is superintendent, the special instructors for the courses this summer being Misses Mary Power, Laura Duncansen and E. Balsor.

Mrs. (Sheriff) J. H. Poirier and Mrs. Mary B. Dorion, of West Arichat, spent Sunday with friends in town.

Spent a Week In Hastings

Mrs. Edwin T. McCarthy spent a week, as the guest of Mrs. Harry Forbes, Port Hastings.

Hawkesbury's Chief Magistrate Visits Arichat

We had the pleasure of a visit on Saturday from Mayor A. J. Langley, of Port Hawkesbury, one of that town's most progressive citizens. His wife and a party of friends accompanied him on a trip to Sydney. From here they returned to their home in Hawkesbury. Mr. Langley is also president of the Hawkesbury Marine Railway and he and Mrs. Langley donated the fine monument in front of the town office in honor of the soldiers who died for their country. We want more men of Mayor Langley's fine public spirit.

Halifax Rifles on Parade Here

The band of the Halifax Rifles followed by a company of soldiers paraded here on Friday afternoon to give a boost to the Victory Bond campaign. The band played several selections near the Royal Bank and speakers were: Dr. B. A. LeBlanc, M. S. Binet and D. J. Sutherland, who made short but patriotic addresses. The soldiers marched in true military precision and made a fine appearance that elicited many laudatory remarks. It would have been a patriotic gesture if the Red Cross had served them with hot coffee in the town hall. We are quite sure they would have appreciated it, as the weather was quite cold.

Hawkesbury Visitors

A. C. Chisholm, of Port Hawkesbury, called on us Sunday afternoon. Mr. Chisholm was for nearly twenty years president of the Inverness County Liberal Association and on his retirement from that office was made honorary president. Mr. Chisholm, although in his eighties, is still going quite strong, though of course not as active as he was when a younger man. He is still in business in Hawkesbury and is one of that town's most prominent citizens. He was accompanied by his son, Chris., who is always a genial young man to meet and one of the Record's best friends. It was a pleasure to meet these old friends and we felt pleased that they had not altogether forgotten us in their business activities.

Home On Vacation

Boutin Doyle, M. A., arrived from Halifax on Thursday to spend his vacation with his father, E. C. Doyle, Municipal Clerk.

Visiting His Wife

Frank Peebles, of the Princess Louise Fusiliers band, is spending his furlough with his wife formerly Miss Dorothy Young, a daughter of Capt. and Mrs. Frank Young. He returns to Halifax shortly.

Visiting Daughter

Mrs. B. J. Marchand, visited her daughter Miss Verona, who is a nurse in training at St. Martha's Hospital, Antigonish. While there, she attended the graduation of nurses which took place at Mount St. Bernard College.

Returned To Halifax

Wallace Maloney returned to Halifax on Monday after spending a week with his wife and family.

American Visitors

The Record was much pleased to receive a visit from Timothy M. Doyle, of Worchester, Mass., and his brother, Richard J. Doyle, of Watertown, Mass., on Thursday. They are sons of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Doyle, of Poulamond, and have been residents of Massachusetts for some years. Their many friends are pleased to see them and regret that they are returning to their American homes in their car on Sunday. Too short a visit, boys; come again and stay longer.

Summer Visitors

Capt. and Mrs. E. Diamond, of Melrose, Mass., have arrived at Grand Anse to spend the summer in their pretty villa. They are being cordially welcomed by their many friends.

Visiting Their Parents

Sgt. and Mrs. Raymond Edwards, of Halifax, accompanied by his brother, Inglis were visiting their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Edwards during the week. They left for Halifax to-day.

Haddock Scarce

The fishermen have been complaining of the great scarcity of haddock in these waters and feel greatly discouraged as a consequence. The Richmond Fishermen's Co-operative, Petit de Grat, whose plant has been greatly extended, is prepared to handle hundreds of thousands of of pounds of haddock if the traps and trawl fishermen could only harvest them in sufficient quantities. So far, the prospects look none too bright.

Lobster Representative

Francis Kelley, representing the Consolidated Lobster Co., of Gloucester, Mass., was on a business trip to town on Tuesday. He was accompanied by Pte. Joe Jamieson, of Canso.

Over The Top First Day

On the opening day of the Victory Bond campaign, Richmond County went over the top, and the Halifax Herald proclaimed the fact by a heading in large type than ran across an eight-column page. Who will say that money is scarce in Richmond County after this grand achievement? No one could put his money to better use or devote it to a more worthy cause than the purchasing of Victory Bonds. Invest in Victory Bonds to the limit of your financial means. We wish we had a few thousands to invest in this gilt-edged security. We are proud of what Richmond County did the first day's sale.

POOR FRANCE

Petain, Darlan and Weygand, heads of the Vichy government (so-called) have gone over to the enemy and are assisting him in every way to defeat the British Empire in this life and death struggle. What a despicable trio! If the Huns should win, all the worse for France. She will be as she is another of Hitler's victims, and will cease to exist as a nation or an empire. If Foch were living France would not have capitulated as she did without a fight. She would have been better prepared to resist the enemy. France is going through sad days, and all on account of the traitors in her midst.

In buying Victory Bonds we're not Just giving out our money, But we will have it back once more When war torn skies are sunny.

FOR SALE

Reclaimed used bricks, $2.00 per hundred. Also one Bain Wagon.

LOOK OUT FOR YOUR LIVER

It may be the cause of your troubles. Buck it up the right way, with Fruit-a-tives. Feel grand.

Your liver is the largest organ in your body and most important to your health. It pours out bile to digest food, gets rid of waste, stores energy, allows the proper nourishment to reach your blood. You feel "rotten"—headachy, backachy, dizzy, dragged out all the time.

Rid yourself of these miseries, as thousands have—with Fruit-a-tives, for 35 years Canada's largest selling liver remedy. Fruit-a-tives stimulate your liver, bring prompt relief—make you feel like a new person. Get Fruit-a-tives at your druggist's today, 25c, 50c.

The UNEMPLOYMENT INSURANCE PLAN

To the Employer...

Contributions to the Unemployment Insurance Fund become payable as from July 1st, 1941.

Contributions are made by the employer and the employee, and are paid by the purchase of Unemployment Insurance stamps by the employer from the Post Offices.

The employee's contributions are deducted from his wages by the employer.

Stamps will be affixed to a special book, called the Insurance Book, by the employer. The book is the employee's record of contributions, and when he becomes unemployed it forms the record from which insurance benefits may be paid. Full details will be sent to you when you have returned the postcard attached to a form which is now in the mails.

The plan of procedure has been adopted after consultation with employer and employee associations and is one which has been based upon thirty years' experience in Great Britain.

The Dominion Government adds 20% to the combined employee-employer contributions, and in addition, pays the administration costs which include the operation of a National Employment Service for the convenience of employers and employees.

Contributions are payable by all persons while in employment and by their employers, with the exceptions listed in the panel below.

The first duty of every employer will be to REGISTER WITH THE COMMISSION by completing the postcard attached to a form which is now in the mails, and obtaining and issuing insurance books for all his employees. If there is doubt as to whether your employees, or any of them, are insurable, ask for instructions when you return the postal card. If you do not receive a form through the mail go to the nearest Post Office and ask for one. All employers must complete registration prior to June 14th, 1941.

The Commission feels that it can be assured of the full cooperation of all employers. Nevertheless, attention is drawn to the fact that registration is compulsory and any failure to register is an infraction of the law and is subject to penalties.

Minister of Labour

FOR EVERY CANADIAN who sails the deep, for every airman who flashes through the skies, and for every other man in the fighting forces, the prayers of the nation "rise like a fountain, night and day."

In times of crisis our people stand steadfast. In daily devotions they renew the flame of faith and arm with unseen powers their warriors in the field.

Oftentimes they discern the Unseen Hand. Witness the miracle of Dunkirk. Witness, too, in the darkest hours the emergence of great inspiring figures to steady the ranks of Democracy and fire its courage and confidence.

Church bells are ringing throughout Canada calling men and women to worship and sacrifice in defence of our freedom, the sanctity of our homes and the future of our children.

Translate your faith into works by buying Victory Bonds.

BENEFITS OF FARM DRAINAGE

Last year when the Nova Scotia department of agriculture secured a tile drainage ditcher and made arrangements to do ditching for farm drainage at a set rate, one of the first contracts made for 300 feet on the farm of R. S. Wright, at Valley, near Truro. This was for drainage of a field that had never been dry enough to walk across without sinking ankle-deep in water. On the 8th of May this year the field was sufficiently dry that Mr. Wright was able to seed part of it. He has signed on this ear for 2000 feet mor of ditching.
