On His Way Home From China

Rev. Archdeacon G. A. Andrew

According to an announcement made in Halifax a few days ago by Canon Dixon, Secretary of the Anglican Missionary organization in Canada, Rev. Archdeacon George A. Andrew, well-known and highly esteemed throughout Cape Breton and rector of Arichat for some years, is now en-route to Canada from the China Mission field. His many friends and admirers in Arichat are rejoiced to know that he will soon be with them again, accompanied by his talented wife, a missionary in the China field also for many years, both speaking Chinese fluently.

Archdeacon Andrew was in charge of the Church of England Canadian mission in Honan, and was there for many years. He returned to Canada and was at Arichat where he had been rector of St. John's parish for some time. He journeyed to China in 1938 after the Jap invasion, going from Hong Kong to Hankow.

With others in that country, he has experienced a gruelling time since the invasion where famine is rife and countless hardships and privations prevail.

Accompanying him home to Canada is Mrs. Andrew and they will proceed to Arichat, it was stated.

Archdeacon Andrew's son Douglas is in the Air Force.

Countless friends throughout Cape Breton will be interested to learn that he and Mrs. Andrew are coming back.

Willard Thompson, prominent North Sydney business man, is a brother-in-law of Archdeacon Andrew.

The Archdeacon's return to Canada will be saddened on account of not being able to see his sister, Mrs. W. S. Thompson, of North Sydney, to greet him when he arrives in Cape Breton. Mrs. Thompson died a couple of years ago to the great regret of her many friends.

Only a couple of local color items from the nation's capital this week: One concerns the fact that at a local liaison officers' meeting (for the Consumer Branch, Wartime Prices and Trade Board, like you have in your own town) the ladies sent in a resolution to the Prices Board asking that boys' pants be manufactured with double seats; and that certainly sounds like an economy idea, because boys don't wear 'em out on the cuffs. After two months' absence from an internment camp a young Luftwaffe Nazi was caught by an alert detective in the Ottawa Union station. Asked what he thought of Hitler now, he replied: "What do you think of Churchill now? That's what I still think of Hitler."

Bet many employers wonder where all that Unemployment Insurance money paid in has wound up at. Well, a recent report by the commission shows they have a balance in the coffers of $143,657,000. Benefits paid out since January, 1942, when they first became payable, total $1,150,714.

A knotty problem has come up for the National Research Council perhaps, or any person with an enquiring mind. It was unearthed by none other than the House of Commons barber who wonders where red-headed males have gone. Twenty years ago they claim one in ten was red-headed; today they've dwindled. Only real red head among the 245 members of the House of Commons is said to be Robt. McCubbin, Liberal of West Middlesex. Now you take a guess.

In these days of rationing when we speak of the "privileged" class, nine times out of ten we're referring to the infant population. When sweetspreads were rationed, Moms were permitted to exchange the baby's sugar coupons for those of corn syrup; using both exchanged and "D"-coupons, baby can have 7 lbs. of corn syrup a month. Now comes "G" coupon by which they can get evaporated milk, through their own Local Ration Board. We've got to protect our future citizens.

A little barn talk: How to figure number of tons of hay in a mow, just multiply the length by depth and divide by 450. Best time to cut haul and prepare wood for fuel for use in the following year is the winter months. Wood should be dried well because when green it contains 25% water. Much of the heat is used in evaporating this and is lost...A ton of timothy hay 16 lbs. nitrogen, 6½ lbs. phosphoric acid, about 30 lbs potash. That is more than is returned to the land by a ton of ordinary green farmyard manure. If no fertilizer is applied, continuous timothy depletes the soil. About the same condition exists with other grasses.

Here's co-operation. The Canadian Motion Picture War Services committee has informed the Department of Munitions and Supply of the voluntary decision of 1100 theatres across Canada to effect a 30% reduction in the use of coal this winter. That answered an appeal to Canadians for help in the conservation and distribution of our fuel supply.

Nearly every Canadian family has some one near and dear in the armed forces overseas. Thus the appeal of the Post Office Department should be heeded about the deadline for mailing Christmas parcels by November 1st. Last year they handled 8½ million pounds of Christmas parcels, and expect a lot more this year. You are asked to pack well wrap well, address properly and keep out inflammable stuff.

Cash income from the sale of farm products in Canada for the first six months of 1940 rocketed up to over $538 millions as against $248 millions in the same period of 1942, and $356 millions in 1941. The increase was common in all provinces except Ontario, with the Praire Provinces tops because of the sale of 1942 grains. Greatest percentage was shown in the marketings of oats and barley. Hogs hit $100 millions, dairy products $110 millions. In the same period, however, the domestic consumption of fluid milk, butter, cheese, ice cream, etc., showed quite a decrease, most of it resulting from butter rationing.

Here's another interesting item for folks in agricultural spots. Stocks of creamery butter in store in nine of the principal Canadian cities on October 1st totalled 50,930,412 lbs., an increase of 17½ million lbs. over the amount at the same date last year. However, it must be remembered October 1st is taken as a peak date. There was a decline shown in Navy Marine Engines Made and Carried by C.P.R.

Helping to meet the urgent need of the Royal Canadian Navy for main marine engines and condensers to be used in escort vessels the Canadian Pacific Railway's Angus Shops in Montreal now has a steadily increasing flow of these "tools of war" coming from that section of the big shops which earlier completed the manufacture on schedule of more than 1,400 Valentine tanks, mainly for service in Russia.

The marine engine, pictured above on a C.P.R. depressed-centre flat car, prior to being prepared for shipment, weighs 89 tons, with condensers and bedplates included. Its size is demonstrated in the picture on the right of the workman, who is dwarfed by one of the huge connecting rods. Handling of the engines to their destination comes under the head of "high and wide" transportation, with special advice from the Canadian Pacific's engineering department being followed to squeeze the loads past bridges and other permanent installations.

As was the case with the Valentine tanks the marine engines are being made at the same time as Angus Shops handles the greatly increased repairs on locomotives and cars necessitated by wartime's heavier transportation load. All the jobs are being done without new buildings or extensive additions to the existing plant, a further demonstration of the versatility of the department headed by H. B. Bowen, chief of motive power and rolling stock.

To reach marine engine production as early as possible machining of parts and fabrication of sub-assemblies was started while the tank work still was proceeding at the big Canadian Pacific shops. As machine capacity and floor area were released from the tank contract they were utilized for the marine engine work. The first 10-ton engine bedplate was laid down a little over two weeks after completion of the last tank hull on the Valentine contract to earn the compliment in an official report that "the very best efforts were put forth by all persons responsible for this work".

Honored On His Eightieth Birthday

REV. A. E. MONBOURQUETTE
Parish Priest, Notre Dame Church
Arichat, Cape Breton

On Sunday afternoon the 17th inst., a large gathering assembled at the convent hall, it being the eve of Rev. Fr. A. E. Monbourquette's eightieth birthday. An entertainment prepared by the sisters opened with a song entitled, Rev. Pere, "Oui Je Vous Amie" by the pupils of the school. Piano duets, songs, and recitations were also given by the pupils. Miss Claire LeBlanc, read the address and little Miss Aurine Samson presented the pastor with a bouquet of flowers and Gerald Slone a card. Father Monbourquette replied in well chosen language thanking the sisters for remembering him on this occasion and the large audience present. The pleasant entertainment was brought to a close with the singing of "God Save the King." Father Monbourquette is still quite active and is able to look after the parochial duties, of this large parish now in his charge for nearly half a century. He celebrated his fiftieth anniversary of his ordination to the priesthood in 1938. We join with his friends in wishing him many more bithday anniversaries.

NOVA SCOTIA Farm News — GREATER PRODUCTION

Asks Farmers To Dig Deep

While the farmers of Nova Scotia by toiling incessantly for greater food production, are doing their big share to "speed the victory", it is indeed encouraging to note how wholeheartedly they are supporting Canada's Fifth Victory Loan which is now before the public stated Hon. John A. McDonald, Nova Scotia Minister of Agriculture, in discussing reasons for supporting the loan.

Every appeal made by the government of Canada for the public to buy war bonds, war certificates or stamps has been well met by the farm population of this province. The result is that today our farmers, their wives, their sons and daughters have very considerable investments in Dominion of Canada securities.

These investments, said Mr. McDonald, should be of special value to those depending on agriculture for a living. We look forward to post war development on our farms. Life in the farm home must be made attractive from a convenience standpoint as life in the city home. This will take money. Then there are bound to be up-trends in farming itself with the race going to those who are best equipped. Money will be needed for farm improvements. Other things being equal, the farmer who has the money to progress will be the one who will have the best chance for success.

Farmers, on account of the very nature of their business, planting in the spring and harvesting in the fall, have need for ready cash. The investments now being made in war savings should be of untold value when money becomes less plentiful and competition keener than it is today.

But apart from the benefits to the individual that must follow investments in war bonds, said Mr. McDonald, have no doubt the farmers of the province of Nova Scotia, will do their utmost to support the war loan for in no class of people is there keener desire to "speed victory" and in no class is there a higher degree of patriotism. It is indeed a privilege as minister of agriculture to commend the farm population of this province for their past efforts and to unite in the appeal "to dig deep for those bonds that are needed to put this loan over the top."

Chick Hatcheries Total 1,342,198

A summary of the operation of the approved hatcheries of Nova Scotia for the year 1942-43 as released by C. M. MacMillan, Poultry Products Inspector, shows the total number of chicks hatched during the year stands at the all-time high of 1,342,198. This is the first time the total has topped the million mark. The number of eggs set was 1,872,660.

The total number of chicks hatched this year is up 35 per cent compared with the total of 961,155 hatched last year. In 1939 the total was 428,141.

The important thing, he adds, to place orders immediately.

He spurns best who spurns last, and Ethiopia spurns Italy as a co-belligerent.

Any Italian who took Mussolini's advice to "live like a lion," now knows that he was more of a donkey.

A bond is a connecting link. And many a Victory Bond this week will link up the buyers peacetime need with his present wartime prosperity.

The Three-Power Conference

By Wm. D. J. MacDonald, N. Sydney

The arrival of United States Secretary of State Cordell Hull and British Foreign Secretary, Anthony Eden in Moscow and their talks with Soviet Foreign Commissar Malatov makes the long anticipated Three-Power conference a reality The deliberations in the Kremlin, of the most important meeting yet held between British, American and Soviet leaders, may go a long way towards deciding the destiny of the world.

An understanding between the three mightiest powers in the United Nations group on Military, economic and political questions will speed the Victory on all fronts and brighten the outlook for a permanent peace among the Nations of the world. Should the three Foreign Ministers fail to reach any worthwhile agreement on any of the problems confronting their respective countries, then the Moscow Conference would be considered a failure, and the prospects of Anglo-American-Soviet co-operation in post-war international affairs would be very remote.

Although this present Conference is only considered a preliminary to an all important meeting between the Big Three,--Churchill, Roosevelt, and Stalin, it is nevertheless a highly significant gathering of three capable representatives of three world powers The fact that 72-year old Cordell Hull, whose health has been indifferent for sometime, saw it necessary to make the long difficult and weary trip to Moscow to attend the Conference in person is ample indication of the necessity of giving immediate consideration to the differences of policy that exists between the three governments.

This meeting of the three foreign Ministers may well be the beginning of a series of meetings that will, along with other Allied representatives, draw up a blue-print of a future world set-up that will remove the causes of wars and help promote international co-operation among all nations. The complete defeat of the enemy Nations and the form of punishment to be administeed such Nations when they are conquered will undoubtedly receive primary consideration of the delegates. The opening of a second front in Europe to relieve the Nazi pressure on Soviet forces is likely to be the strongest plea put forth by Malatov, and possibly Stalin. The Soviet Government has long been using every diplomatic influence it has to persuade the British and American Governments to attack Germany through France and the Low Countries. Needless to say the Anglo-American delegation was well armed with a reply to the request when it went to Moscow. What that reply was only time will tell.

The settlement of boundaries in Eastern and Central Europe after the war, and the post-war status of certain small Nations, now absorbed the Soviet Union, is a weighty question that likely came up for consideration. The most delicate problem of the moment confronting the Soviet Union and her Anglo-American Allies in the war in the Pacific, Although Britain, America and other members of the United Nations are at war with Japan, Russia has thus far maintained peaceful relations with that country, and consequently cannot extend any Military assistance to her Allies in their fight against the Japs.

Some Allied spokesmen, notably the five wandering American Senators, have advocated a Soviet declaration of war against Japan, or at least the use of Soviet bases for Anglo-American operations against the Pacific enemy. Such a move on the part of Russia would necessitate the opening of a five-thousand mile front in Asia while she is still fighting a life and death struggle on a two thousand mile front in Europe. Common logic should help repel that Allied argument. But, on the other hand, if Russia refuses to fight in Asia how can she justly expect the other Allied powers to go into Europe and finish off Germany to protect Soviet interests and then turn to the difficult task of defeating Japan while Russia was back to lick her wounds and reconstruct herself.

Then while the other United Nations would be broken economically and considerably weakened in a Military sense, and passing through a period of convalescence, Russia would be fully recovered from her bout with Hitler and ready to wield great strength as a victorious world power. For their own security, the nations of the world could not allow Soviet Russia, any other country, to assume such a dominating place in world affairs. Such a situation would be nothing short of a return of the old international game of power politics and the inevitable consequence of another war.

These are only some of the questions that will cause headaches in the Kremlin and help deplete the aspirin supply in the travelling bags of Messrs Eden and Hull. No definite statement of Mutual Policy on foreign affairs is likely to result from the present Kremlin talks, as American delegate Hull will not be in a position to say what the attitude of his country will be towards the rest of the post-war world, that matter having to be decided by the unpredictable American Congress.

However, the discussion of all problems confronting the British, American and Russian Governments should familiarize the three delegates with each others country and do much to promote better relations between the three world powers.

Remember

Father Time is a dual personality. He is a veritable Dr Jekyll and Mr. Hyde. At one and the same time he is kind and he is cruel.

If we want proof of this, we need only cast our thoughts back to the days of 1915-18. Since that period Time graciously healed most of the wounded Canadian hearts which then ached in loneliness and begged piteously for one more touch of the missing hand and lips of those stilled forever in the mist of Europe. But Time also dulled our memories of the horrible pain and grief which swirled in the wake of predatory German generals.

Only fourteen years after 1918, when German viciousness began to rise again as a threat against world peace, Time had blurred our minds. We do not readily recall the inhuman heart-breaking experiences of the first World War. There was no overpowering urge in our breasts to stamp out the smouldering fire of conquest before it became an unmanageable holocaust. Time had so softened our recollections of tragedy in that short space, the reawakening of the German militaristic spirit did not warn us to meet and overpower it immediately.

Have we yet learned how wicked Time can be?

It is only four years ago since the stiff-necked goose-steppers ran bayonets through the frail bodies of old men and women in Poland, led little children into fields to shoot them down with machine gun bullets. But three years have passed since the Germans bombed old and young civilians out of the towns and cities of Belgium, to choke the highways against the approach of the opposing armies--and then bombed and machine-gunned these helpless creatures along the roads. Will we let Time make us forget that now?

It is about two weeks since the Nazi monsters looted the city of Naples and mercilessly murdered inhabitants because they expressed their dislike of the German cause. Can we forget that also?

For four years, thousands of the finest of our Canadian youth,d destined to live happy lives among us, have fallen victims to German guns. Is our sorrow from those bitter memories of the past since 1939, arousing in our hearts a grim determination to end this senseless parade of wars for a long, long time?

There is a message being spread throughout the land in these days of the Fifth Victory Loan campaign. Its purport is, "Let's not become complacent."

But there is a yet more potent slogan for us at this moment. It is contained in one word:

"REMEMBER."

If we will keep green the indescribable horrors of this war, if we will remember that these were perpetrated by the Germans and will be repeated again and again unless we completely crush the German militaristic spirit, we won't need any warning against complacency.

We will pour our dollars into Victory Bonds as never before, speed our work in war factories and take increasing pride in the actual job of extermination which our men are carrying out at the battle front.

NATIONAL SELECTIVE SERVICE

A WORD OF CAUTION

TO MEN OF MILITARY AGE AND TO THEIR EMPLOYERS

National Selective Service Civilian Regulations authorize the Minister of Labour to require that male employees furnish their employers with evidence that they have not failed to comply with National Selective Service Mobilization Regulations (i.e., the Military Call-Up).

It is intended that an order will be issued shortly, requiring employers to carry out the necessary check on their male employees, and to report any men who do not produce the required evidence of compliance.

The check up will cover every male employee who has reached the age of 18 years and six months and has not reached his 38th birthday. The man will have to show evidence in one of the following forms:—

(a) A man discharged from the Armed Forces following service during the present war should have his discharge certificate. A discharged man who has not a certificate should apply for one in the following manner:—

Army—District Officer Commanding, Military District in which discharge took place.

Air—Records Office, R.C.A.F. Headquarters, No. 5 Temporary Building, Ottawa, Ont.

Navy—Secretary of Naval Board, Ottawa, Ont.

(b) A man who has responded to a direction from a Registrar of a Divisional Mobilization Board, to report for medical examination under Mobilization Regulations, should have either a certificate of unfitness or an order for postponement of military training from the Divisional Registrar. (A man entitled to either document who has lost his copies should immediately apply to the Divisional Registrar who issued the original, for a duplicate.)

(c) A man who has been rejected on application for voluntary enlistment in the Army since the beginning of the war, should have a certificate showing that he was rejected through medical unfitness. (If a man entitled to such a certificate does not possess it, he should apply to the District Military Headquarters of the District in which he applied for enlistment, in order to procure the necessary form.)

(d) A man in the designated classes who has not reached his 38th birthday, who was married as at July 15th, 1940, or who, having been married before that date, is a widower with children, must be prepared to furnish evidence, such as a marriage certificate or birth certificate of a child, to show that he was married before July 15th, 1940, and that he is now either married or is a widower with children.

(e) A man who has reported for enrolment in the Army under an Order—Military Training issued under the Mobilization Regulations and who has been rejected should have a certificate showing he was rejected through medical unfitness. If a man entitled to such certificate does not possess it, he should apply to the District Officer Commanding the Military District in which he was rejected.

(f) (i) A man who is not subject to the Mobilization Regulations because he is an enemy alien who has not made application for naturalization may obtain a certificate from a registrar of his Divisional Mobilization Board indicating that the Mobilization Regulations do not apply to him and such certificates must be obtained by all such enemy aliens;

(ii) A man who is an alien and neither a national of Belgium, Czechoslovakia, The Netherlands, Norway, Poland, the United States nor Yugoslavia and has not applied for naturalization may be relieved of his duty under Mobilization Regulations, but he gives up his right to future Canadian citizenship after the war; where such men have applied for such relief and been granted such status, certificates will be issued by registrars in appropriate cases.

This caution is issued to facilitate compliance with the order which is proposed. A reasonable interval will be allowed to permit men to provide themselves with whatever document, as referred to above, they may be entitled to hold.

Employers are requested to give notice of this proposal to their male employees, to facilitate the operation of the order when issued.

FARMERS AND FARM WORKERS

If Your Farm Work has Slackened for the Winter, You Are Needed Elsewhere in Essential Employment

Highly essential work—very important in Canada's war effort and for the welfare of the Nation—is threatened with shortages of workers. One of the few sources of men available for other high priority jobs is those men on the farm who will not be needed at home during the Fall and Winter. Heavy needs must be met in many lines—producing fuel wood and other necessary forest products; in food processing, in railway track maintenance, for the loading and unloading of ships. If you live on a farm and are not needed at home during the Fall and Winter, you are urged to answer this national appeal.

Farmers engaged in essential work during the off season will be allowed to return home when needed. Also, those on postponement under Mobilization Regulations will continue on postponement while in approved essential work during the slack season on the farm.

Councillor-Elect Langley Visits Arichat

Byron S. Langley, who was re-elected councillor for District No. 14 last week by a larg majority, paid Arichat a visit on Monday. Byron's popularity in his district was amply demonstrated by the large vote he polled, rolling up a majority four times greater than his majority in last municipal contest. The ratepayers of District No. 14 evidently put little stock in the rumor circulated to bring about his defeat.

VICTORY LOAN AND DISTRICT NEWS

The Victory Loan campaign is going well in Richmond County and there is every indication that it will go over the top before the campaign ends. Isle Madame's quota will be oversubscribed and on the mainland subscriptions are coming in satisfactorily. The campaign throughout Canada has reached large dimensions and the Canadian people as a whole are subscribing to the limit of their ability. We are carrying some large space advertising in support of the campaign and we regret that some district news is held over until our nxet issue. We regret this, as we appreciate our correspondents news items.

THE WAR AS SEEN BY THE RECORD

It may be some time before the Allies drive the Hnus entirely out of Italy. The Germans have strengthened their position in and around Rome and it may be some weeks ere that city falls to the Allies. But fall it will and must and the Allies are strong enough to batter their way into the Eternal City perhaps sooner than expected. The Americans are taking a frightful toll of Japanese lives and equipment in the South Pacific theatre of war and the little yellow devils should see that they are doomed to defeat and their leaders must already be feeling the noose around their necks for the unspeakable crimes they have committed against civilians and captured British and American prisoners of war. In Russia the Huns are finding a hard road to victory, which was to crown their efforts in a few weeks, as they supposed, over the heroic Russians. Instead of German victories in that titanic struggle, it is the Russians who are steadily gaining ground and driving their enemies from Russian soil. In China the Japs will in time be driven out of that country and it does not seem impossible that before another year comes and goes that the Chinese may be fighting on Japanese soil and paying them back for all the suffering the Japanese people have inflicted on them for over five years of war. We are not unduly optimistic in making this statement. The progress made in all theatres of war by the Allies on land, sea and in the air, justifies us in feeling a spirit of optimism, and subsequent events will bring conviction to even the most pessimistic of Canadians. Just wait and see.

MAKING HEADWAY

The hospital question is still a live one in this community and the promoters are not idle in its behalf. We are aware of the great amount of capital involved in the undertaking, but we have faith that it will be forthcoming in due time and that the hospital and its equipment will materialize as other things have materialized after unceasing efforts in their behalf.

MUCH TO BE THANFUL FOR

We are almost at the end of October and Christmas is approaching very rapidly. The weather is much chillier, but the sunny days makes life worth living. Removed from the war zones of the world conflict, Arichat has much to be thankful for, but there are many anxious hearts in those homes where boys from here and elsewhere from Richmond County are either in England or in the battle zones May they take heart, for the end of all suffering comes nearer every day as the Allies make new gains and the enemy is defeated wherever he makes a stand, and is in in full retreat in Russia. Yes, October has been a good month for the Allies. November may be even better.

"TIME BOMBS"

Everyone's talking "post-war",
But if they just talk and no more,
The new world we get
Will be, you can bet,
No different than ever before.

The war of arms will decide what nations are to shape our future. The war of ideas will decide what thinking in the nation is to give the future shape.

Times change more easily than people do. That's why many people like to think that the times are out of joint.

You can't be all wrong on any one thing and do anything else all right.

VICTIMS OF TRADITIONAL DIVISIONS

Few of us [illegible] realize how much traditional divisions shape Canadian policy and determine individual action. Without giving much thought to it, we conclude, for instance that because labour and management have been divided for a long time, that the division is inevitable and can never be bridged.

"Canadians are victims of the folly of artificial separations", said a leading Member of Parliament in Ottawa last week. "National unity becomes a fact only as we are able to break down these separations." A great citizen, this M. P. has always built bridges between East and West, Catholic and Protestant, Liberal and Conservative, by his moderation and sanity.

The battle-line is never horizontal. The real enemy is not the "fellow on the other side" of some artificial barrier just because he is "on the other side." The battle-line is always between the sound and unselfish individuals and groups found in every party, class, section, race or creed. They are the constructive forces of the nation. On the other side, also regardless of class or party are the materialistic and negative elements who inflame and divide. These are the enemies of the state.

Both forces, heretofore, have been supposed to be inextricably mixed. The subversive crowd like to have it so and have been largely responsible for this misrepresentation. Working under cover, confusion undermines the nation's morale.

But the battle-line is no longer blurred. There are signs that Canadians are refusing to be hoodwinked by the forces of greed, hate and division. Sound leadership regardless of class or party affiliations is finding unity on common ground.

AGRICULTURAL SUPPLIES BOARD
Dominion Department of Agriculture, Ottawa
Honourable JAMES G. GARDINER, Minister

Fred Denty and his sons—Austin, left and Frank, centre—ships' riggers—at Halifax Shipyards. Two other sons Earl and Tom are in the Army.

"Everybody Must Help" Says Fred Denty—Ships' Rigger

● At Halifax Shipyards they talk about the Dentys.

Formerly a deep sea fisherman, Frank Denty and two of his sons, Frank 32, and Austin, 16, are now employed in the yards as ships' riggers—building ships and keeping them repaired for active service. Another son, Eber, drives a truck at the navy dockyard.

Two sons are overseas, serving in the Army—Earl, 26; and Tom, 19, who quit the shipyard "to get closer to the scene of action." A son-in-law of Fred Denty is also in the army, serving overseas.

The entire Denty family—12 of them, including four daughters and a 13-year old son—have been buying Victory Bonds and War Savings Certificates since they have been on the market.

"We put every cent we can get into Victory Bonds," says Fred Denty, "because we know just how much everybody must help to win this war. I've got two sons overseas and we who are at home have to back them up to the limit. There are a lot of things we would like to have but I know that the more we can lend to our country the sooner this war will be over and the better the chances for the boys to come back. We are going without comforts until this scrap is over."

The boys in the shipyards add their recommendation for Victory Bonds, too.

"Victory Bonds not only help the war effort but they are a good investment for the post-war period," says Frank Denty.

"I've got a couple of bonds and I don't know how many War Savings Certificates, and I'm going to hang on to them," says Austin.
