Cornell University Research Group Visits Isle Madame

A small group representing the Cornell University Research Program in the Maritime Provinces of Canada visited Isle Madame for several days last week. The group made up of Dr. R. N. Rapoport, Dr. and Mrs. John Winget of Cornell University, and Professor Emile Gosselin of Laval University, interviewed several people in the communities of Arichat and West Arichat in order to learn something of the history and community life of the communities on Isle Madame. They interviewed people of all walks of life in order to get various opinions on how local life is changing with respect to education, health, community affairs, and other such topics.

The recent visit of the Cornell group is related to their more intensive work in Digby County. Their research in Community Development in Digby County has been going on for some years under the direction of Dr. Alexander H. Leighton of Cornell University. The purpose of their research is three-fold: First they are interested in writing a contemporary history of Maritime life. To do this they work with people in all aspects of modern life to determine their points of view on community affairs secondly they are interested in teaching University programmes that allow students to learn about problems of practical affairs in modern communities, in this case Maritime communities. Other research programmes being carried on by such Universities as London School of Economics, the University of Toronto, Harvard, etc., are attempting to understand problems of various communities in different parts of the world. Maritime people as well as urban industrial people, western farm and cattle people, and other people of the world should have their points of view understood if people of the world are to live together in harmony; thirdly the research being carried on can help community aders understand how problems of community life can be helped through understanding how changes take place. Studies in Digby County have traced changes in the fishing and lumbering industries. These changes have been described in articles written by members of the Cornell group and published in the Digby newspaper. Other community programmes begun there include a nursery school to explore problems of care and education of younger children, a photographic file to preserve for history a vivid picture of various aspects of life as seen throughout that portion of the Maritimes, and in addition work there has begun in the direction of setting up new health programmes.

The visit of the group to Isle Madame is part of their attempt to determine to what extent their findings in Digby County are representative of conditions in other parts of Nova Scotia. While it will be some time before their results will be generally available, it is anticipated that future publications by the Cornell group will be of use to leaders throughout the region.

Killed In Collision

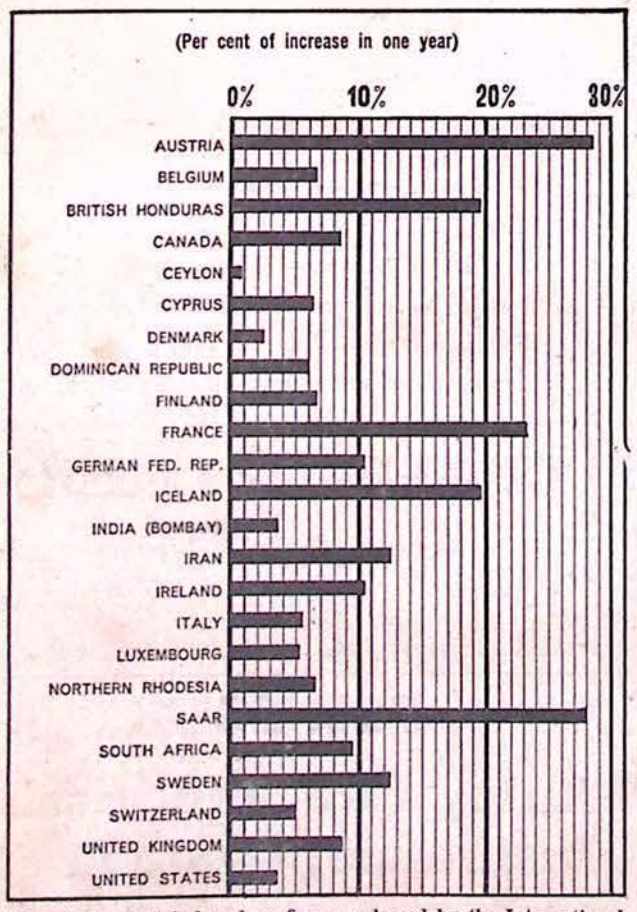

The sad news of the death of Teddy Poirier of D'Escousse, was received here with deep sorrow.

A crew member of the collier, Wabana, Poirier was killed when the liner Scythia crashed into the Wabana in the Gulf of St. Lawrence off Frame Point, near the Gaspe coast.

A wife, mother, brothers and sisters of D'Escousse survive, to all of whom we extend our sympathy.

Commencement Exercises Arichat High School

On Friday evening, May 30th, the Arichat High School held its Commencement Exercises in the County Hall. The graduates, Viola Landry, Shirley Bona, Nora Theriault, Regina LeJeune and Joan Britten wore floor-length white gowns with American Beauty corsages.

A well-balanced program was given consisting of songs, music, playlets and speeches by the graduates. The vaedictory was delivered by Miss Viola Landry. The awarding of prizes was made by Mr. Chiasson, Inspector of Schools while the class pins were presented by Rev. Fr. A. Poirier.

The speakers were former Inspector J. A. Benoit, Mr. Chiasson and Rev. A. Poirier. Mr. Benoit with masterly skill, depicted the glorious days of Arichat and reviewed for his audience a list of scholarly men who presided over the destinies of youth at the Academy. It was a surprise to the younger listeners to learn that years ago, about 1879, a prominent gentleman of Arichat had prophesied that soon Sydney would EQUAL Arichat.

Mr. Chiasson touched upon the tragedy of so many pupils dropping out of school before completing the course. Today no one can allege material poverty as an excuse for quitting school, it is rather a poverty of ideals. Life is shaped by heredity and environment. Each individual is given the canvas, but he must paint the picture, the soul co-operating with God. To achieve success, the educated person requires humility, tolerance, charity and respect for duly constituted authority. Some educated persons bring havoc into the world because they lack Religion and deny GOD.

Rev. A. Poirier deplored the fact that the boys were not represented on the stage with the graduating class. Addressing the graduates, he developed the theme of graduation day as one of gratitude towards God, towards parents and teachers. He expressed the hope that the 1952 Arichat graduating quintuplets would face the future with undaunted spirits and play their part in life.

Hon. R. H. Winters Reports From Ottawa

The Editor,
Richmond County Record,
Arichat, N. S.

Dear Mr. Editor:

During the week Committee work occupied much of the time of the Members, although I believe that a considerable number, especially from Ontario and Quebec, spent more time campaigning in by-elections than they did in the House of Commons. These six by-elections will take place on Monday and I would imagine that thereafter the work of the House will be dealt with more directly and expeditiously than has been the case for the past few weeks.

I am told that the Government's handling of the hoof and mouth epidemic in Saskachewan was, until recently, one of the main talking points in the forthcoming Saskatchewan provincial election, but a few days ago Ontario's Minister of Agricukure visited the quarantine area, and, upon his return, reported that everything possible was being done and spoke in a laudatory manner about the way in which the Department of Agriculture's veterinarians had handled the situation as well as the precautions taken. This has had the effect of deflating this issue.

From the stand-point of news, I suppose the most interesting Committee sitting now is the one study ing defence expenditures, because it is here that the Opposition is attempting to uncover information designed to show that the Department of National Defence is not administering its affairs in an efficient manner. The leader of the Opposition, on Monday, precipitated a debate on a motion asking a judicial inquiry into thefts, frauds and fire and defence establishments. The Government, of course feels that it is the responsibility of Parliament to make such inquiries, and it is for this specific reason that the Committee of Parliament was established. The debate nevertheless occupied most of the day, and the motion was eventually defeated after the Minister of Defence, Mr. Claxton pointed out that losses in defence establishments are considerably lower on the average than for comparable civilian establishments

With Canada's north country opening up, matters concerning the welfare and activities of the Eskimos are receiving increasing attention. The Government has placed before it many suggestions and much advice on what should be done for these people. In an effort to consolidate--as much as it is possible to do so--the thinking of a wide variety of people who are interested in the Eskimos, a conference was assembled last week, and a full discussion took place over a period of two days. The people have a role to play in the future of Canada but the real problem is to find out what contribution they can best make.

Yours sincerely,

Robert H. Winters.

County Council Home And School Association Hold Spring Meeting

The Spring meeting of the Richmond County Council of Home and School Associations was held at St. Peter's, County Hall, on Thursday, May 29th.

The meeting was called to order at 2:30 p.m. by the President, Mrs Paul White, and the invocation was given by Rev. J. H. MacEachen, P. P. A welcome to the delegates and visitors was extended by Mr. Jack Adams, President of the MacDougall Home and School Association.

The guests on the platform included: Dr. L. A. DeWolfe, Past President Provincial Federation of Home and School; Mr. C. T. LeBlanc, Vice President Provincial Federation; and Mr. Peter Grossman, Director of Regional Libraries.

The President in her remarks reviewed the work of the Association during the year, and also paid tribute to the memory of the late Edgar Fortune. A one minute silence in his memory was observed. It was quite evident that all present felt keenly the loss of Mr. Fortune, for he had been a great friend of Home and Schools and of Richmond County.

The different Associations in the County gave a report of their activities. It was noted that these associations had been doing very fine work during the year, and that their activities had followed the lines of the aims and purposes of Home and School Associations.

Mr. C. T. LeBlanc, Regional Vice President, who was repreasnting Mr. H. Simpson, Provincial President, who could not be present, expressed pleasure at being at the meeting. He stressed the importance of sending in reports and sending a delegate to the Provincial Convention.

Mr. Peter Grossman, who already has been in the County on two occasions to talk Regional Libraries, was introduced to the audience by Inspector Chiasson. Mr. Grossman outlined library service as it is functioning already in five counties of the Province. He discussed the aims and purposes of these libraries. One of the things which he mentioned was when people talk of Regional Libraries they ask "Will the people make use of it?" Experience has shown in all the counties that have library services to date that people are definitely reading.

After the different conveners had reported their year's activities the President, Mrs. Paul White gave her report as Chairman of the Music Festival, and made reference to the two successful Music Festivals which were carried on in the County, and the help which the Council had given to the schools with the portable organ and an accompanist.

Inspecor R. J. Chiasson reported

DIAMOND DUST . . .

In one of the two games which opened the Richmond County Baseball League for the 1952 season St. Peter's Royals edged L'Ardoise Ramblers 10-8.

Played under ideal weather both clubs put on quite a show for a large crowd of enthusiastic fans. On the mound for L'Ardoise was Howard Sampson and for the Royals, "Mickey" White, both pitchers went the nine innings. St. Peter's jumped into an early one run lead in the first only to be until the second when L'Ardoise came up with a run to tie the score. The score see-sawed back and forth until the fifth which saw both teams tied at 5-5.

L'Ardoise loaded the bases with nobody out and when the side was retired two Ramblers had crossed the plate putting them ahead 7-5.

The Royals started a rally in the seventh which netted four runs. Two walks, three hits and two errors did the damage.

In the top of the eighth L'Ardoise squeezed one run in to make it a 10-8 ball game. In the ninth L'Ardoise started something when the first batter walked. But "Mickey" White showing all the stuff that made him top pitcher in the league last year bore down to retire the side.

Showing top form for L'Ardoise were shortstop Cyril Martell, second baseman Russell Sampson and outfielder Richard Sampson. All three were really connecting at the plate and were sharp in their fielding.

Ewen Ross did the catching for St. Peter's; he replaces Roswell Pottle who left for the West Coast last week. Bill Pearo, lanky left fielder, came up with a very strong game for the Royals. Other Royal players picking up at least two hits each: right fielder Art Williamson, third baseman Lloyd Pottle, pitcher M. White, 1st baseman "Bunter" MacEwen and shortstop E. Skinner.

Umpires were: at the plate A. Mombourquette, 1st base Cameron Boyd and 3rd base W. Fougere.

Time of game, one hour 50 minutes.

The late Mrs. White, a native of Arichat, was well known by her many friends throughout Cape Breton, having resided in North Sydney some years ago and at that time her late husband, was superintendent of the Western Union Telegraph Service in that town.

A lady of kind and pleasing personality, she left a favourable impression in the hearts and minds of all who had the honor of knowing her. Familiarly known by the name of May White, by her many friends and although an absent visitor from Arichat and other parts of Cape Breton for many years, her friends often enquired of her in a most kindly manner.

The late Mrs. White took up residence with her daughter, Mrs. Mabel Hooper, of Charlottetown, some years ago, where she was devoutedly cared for by Mrs. Hooper and her family.

The funeral of the late Mrs. White was held from the MacLean Funeral Home. Services were conducted by Rev. J. T. Ibbott. Interment was in the Peoples Cemetery, Charlottetown.

We extend our sympathy to Mrs. Hooper.

Notice Of Appreciation

To all those who took part in any way in the search at Capelin Cove, we wish to express our sincere thanks.

Owing to the extensive nature of the search and time involved, it is impossible individually to thank everyone, for during the search many came, did their part, proceeded on their way, their names still unknown to us.

To the telephone operators at L'Ardoise, St, Peter's and Sydney; To the telephone owners at Fergusons and Grand River; To the coastal fishermen from North Sydney around to Arichat who came to man the boats; To the firms and individuals who supplied boats and equipment and donated food for the men; To the Red Cross for the dishes and beds; To the Elk's Lodge whose members kept a faithful night patrol as well as giving a generous donation of money for food; To the many faithful employees of both firms affected; To Jimmie Shannahan of the Cape Breton Flying Club; To the members of the Argyle Home and School Association for many donations of food; To the loyal women who made many trips in order that the searchers be properly fed; To the men of Gabarouse, Sterling, Loch Lomond and Framboise who left their work and gave so freely of their time; To all those and any others, who assisted in any way, we are very grateful.

Inserted by the families of the late Louis Dillon and Alister J. Chappell.

Sporting Mountain Echoes

A species of stomach flu is epidemic throughout the district and very few are immune.

Eunice MacPherson of Sydney will be Seaview's next teacher.

Her application has been accepted by the Municipal School Board.

Alex MacLeod had John D. Ross motor him over to see Mrs. J. H. Ross, Sunday.

Old friends were glad to see the veteran citizen of Roberta maintaining his wonted health and activity.

W. F. Boyd and son, Fraser, of Cannes, were business motor visitors to Seaview, Tuesday.

Elliott MacLeod is positively opposed to any addition to Sporting Mountain whilst he is obliged to scale its sun-kissed slopes for pulp wood.

Speaking of pulp wood when the scalers get through we shall give our readers a resumé of the results.

We congratulate Elliott MacLeod upon having a residue from his scale sufficient to pay for the nice horse he recently purchased.

James MacIntosh and his son-in-law, Anthony Russo were business motor visitors from Dundee to Seaview, Wednesday.

Francis Boudreau of Cannes who caters to the fish requirements of a widespread area made his initial visit of the season to customers in this vicinity, Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Olsen late of Point Tupper, but now residing in St. Peter's motored up the other day to visit friends in Seaview.

Mrs. Dan MacDonald of Oban has the distinction of having potato tops above ground in May.

Lillian Cooke has returned from Grand Anse where she was employed.

When warmly and cheerfully greeted by your first name which always strikes a more responsive chord than unessential conventionalities, in a tone indicative of true sincerity,. it is disappointing to be unable to recognize your friend.

It was thus with us in our bachelor retreat by the roadside on a recent fine evening when surprised by a social call from Mrs. Hugh MacDonald of Grand Anse, the former Kate MacIntosh, of Oban, but it was because through all the alternations of all the years that have intervened since her girlhood days on Sporting Mountain we had seldom seen "Katie".

In the interim her sons and daughters have all developed into manhood and womanhood, and if the robust and good-looking John Neil of pleasing personality who motored her over on that occasion to see Mrs. J. H. Ross is typical of the family generally few fond mothers have been so favorably regarded and so amply rewarded.

for the Speech Festival, and explained that the Festival had grown considerably this year.

Dr. L. A. DeWolfe was then called on to speak. Dr. DeWolfe expressed himself pleased by the reports that were given to the different Associations, and commenting on the Music Festival he was glad to see that as yet it was still non-competitive. Dr. DeWolfe discussed our present curriculum and pointed out some of the inherent weaknesses in it. He stressed the importance of the teacher in the classroom and the effect which a good teacher has on a child's personality.

The afternoon session adjourned at 5:30 and the Executive were served supper in the Domestic Science Room by students of the local school taking Domestic Science under the direction of Miss Genevieve Gillis, the teacher of that department.

The meeting reconvened at 7:30 p.m. with a much larger attendance in the evening. The guest speaker for the evening was D. W. McAdam, Judge of the Juvenile Court, who was introduced by Inspector Chiasson. Judge McAdam spoke on the factors which cause delinquency and mentioned that the school might be a great contributing factor, that we compel students to follow a rigid course of study for which they have no particular interest. Delinquency might have its origin in Grade I that the child might be pushed one grade to another faster than he can assimilate the matter, and he becomes frustrated and discouraged. He suggested that Home and School Associations could undertake as one of their projects making a survey of the Grade One pupils in their schools to find out what things they might supply to the schools to make the program for these little ones more interesting.

A vote of thanks moved by Rev. C. P. Gerroir, P. P., Louisdale, was extended to Judge McAdam for his very inspiring and interesting talk.

The Nominating Committee brought in a slate of officers which was accepted. The following will compose the Executive for next year:

Immediate Past President, Rev. C. P. Gerroir, P. P., Louisdale.
President, Mrs. Paul White, St. Peter's.
Vice-Presidents: Rev. J. H. MacEachen, P. P., St. Peter's; Mr. A. E. Terrio, D'Escousse.
Treasurer: Mr. C. D. Campbell, Arichat.
Corresponding Secretary, Mrs. W. G. Langley, Point Tupper.
Recording Secretary: Mrs. G. Trowbridge, St. Peter's.

The President announced that the Executive had awarded a schol arship in Music to Miss Beverley Stewart, Grade X student of St. Peter's to enable her to attend the School of Music, August 17th to 28th at Big Cove.

An interesting part of the program was the Creative Art Exhibit which represented the work of various schools throughout the County. The Exhibit included posters, samples of writing, paintings, wood work and garments. The hall was opened at 1:30 to enable the local children to view the Exhibit and they came in very large numbers. The hall was again opened half an hour in the evening to enable the rest of the children to view the Exhibit. The quality of the exhibits was very good and it showed much orginality.

After the singing of the "Queen" the meeting adjourned. Lunch was served by members of the local Home and School Association.

SPECIAL ATTENTION TO MAIL ORDERS

The SNAPSHOT GUILD

With a careful 1-2-3 count this picture of a family picnic is a most satisfactory snapshot.

Count 1-2-3 and Snap It

I ASSUME you understand that the title of today's column is to be taken figuratively, rather than literally. I am referring to three simple things that you should keep in mind as something of a mental check off list every time you make a snapshot.

Outdoor activities are now the order of the day in all parts of the country. This means that the opportunities for making wonderful snapshots are unlimited and we all want to make the very best of these opportunities. It was with helping you to do this in mind that I asked a friend of mine who sees thousands of amateur snapshots each summer (he's a photofinisher) to compile this one-two-three check off list of points he feels will be most useful.

One—hold the camera steady! Moving your camera when you shoot will mean a fuzzy, unsharp negative. So avoid camera movement by holding your camera firmly against your cheek, if you are using a miniature type; by pressing your elbows firmly against your body to give steady support to the camera held at waist level. Trip the shutter with a firm steady motion—never with a jerk.

Two—check your focus and exposure. If you are using a fixed focus camera, you won't be concerned with focus. The problem was solved for you by the manufacturer. However, you will still need to be careful with your distance. With the non-focusing camera, don't get closer to your subject than five or six feet. With the focusing camera, remember to check the distance setting each time to make sure it is at the proper footage for the subject.

Three—look carefully into your camera's view finder before you shoot. My photofinisher friend says that many pictures are marred by a jumbled, confusing background which detracts attention from the subject—or by such incongruities as telephone poles sprouting from a lady's hat. These things can be easily avoided by studying each picture for a moment before you shoot. If the background doesn't look good, try shooting from a different angle.

These three rules are representative of the things expert photographers do automatically. And if you follow them faithfully over a period of time, they'll become a natural part of your snapshooting technique.
