FIFTY-FIFTH YEAR | ARICHAT, CAPE BRETON, N. S., AUGUST 9, 1952 | No. 50

DUNDEE DEW DROPS

Lost for a time in the wearisome turmoil of ins and outs, and daily routines of the home, it was indeed a recreation to have an afternoon off.

Through the co-operation of two devoted sisters, Mrs. John Campbell and Mrs. Alex MacLeod now vacationing from Brookline, Mass., a motor trip was arranged. The party comprised Mr. and Mrs. Alex MacLeod, little Faye MacLeod of Framboise, Norma Campbell, Hugh MacInnes and a correspondent and what could be more inviting than a ride around the "Arm of Gold". Through West Bay, Marshes, Lime Hill, up and down hills around winding turns and shady groves where maple branches arched the road and on to Marble Mountain. We stopped for a while on a summit to view the number of small Islands that hug the shores and to drink in the beauty of the blue expanse. The air was pure and the sky a heavenly blue. Barren and shattered and bearing scars of past years it still boasts a pretty lighthouse (well-kept) and stands proudly overlooking the largest (and to us the most beautiful) body of salt water in the world, and its shores still white with the screenings of the one-time precious ore.

We continued our trip with no interruptions excepting detours which added miles to the route. Nevertheless the scenery was interesting with the water at times lost from view and then again in sight.

We reached the attractive home of Mr. and Mrs. Alex MacLean, Orangedale, and were pleased to see Duncan who arrived home from the USA (by plane to Sydney). We were introduced to a brother, Rev. Neil MacLean and family and a sister Mrs. Pollett of Sydney. We were also pleased to make the acquaintance of Mr. Pollett and children but missed from the home the hospitable Mr. MacLean who had previously entered Inverness hospital for treatment.

We would like to have attended the anniversary service at Orangedale Church; a number of detours prevented, so we returned bringing with us unforgettable memories of a day well spent.

It was nice to have a visit from Mr. and Mrs. Percy Bennett of Watertown, Mass. while they were in the vicinity.

Jas. R. Morrison of Lynn, Mass. paid his annual call on Friday. Always the same, "Jim' is one of our looked-for friends.

We welcome home George Frost Jr., who arrived recently from Korea.

Bert MacDougall who has been spending some time here is visiting in the Steel City.

Mrs. John Campbell and Norma also her mother Mrs. A. B. MacDougall and Mrs. Hugh MacInnes motored to Glace Bay recently returning the same evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Alex MacLeod (Nellie MacDougall) are visiting friends throughout Cape Breton.

Mrs. Barb MacInnes, also Mr. and Mrs. D. D. MacRae and family, Balmoral, dropped in for a brief call while in Dundee on Sunday

Mrs. Angus MacLeod of Jamaica Plains, USA, accompanied by her sister Mrs. George MacLean of Sydney while visiting at St. George's Channel and Dundee. They had in their care the two attractive little children of Mr. and Mrs. Ewen MacKinnon who are spending the summer camping at West Bay Centre.

Last year the County employed three permissive teachers but this year the number is expected to rise sharply. A permissive teacher is one with a Grade 11 education.

DO YOU KNOW?

Pharmacists are quite versatile in their contributions to Society. The Eighteenth Century French apothecary—Antoine-Agusten Parmentier--introduced potatoes into France and popularize their use as a food.

The word "Pharmacist" comes from Pharmakon meaning remedy." The "ist" means pertaining to. Hence a pharmacist is one whose work pertains to remedies.

Millions of prescriptions are compounded each year with scarcely an error. This exceptional degree of accuracy is the result of the specialized training the pharmacist receives.

From Meteghan

Mr. and Mrs Raymond LeBlanc of Meteghan Centre, Digby County were motor visitors to Arichat during the week.

It was exceptionally nice seeing Raymond and his good wife when they called at the Record office to see us. A son of the late Dr. A. A. LeBlanc of this town and Mrs. Sabine Rose LeBlanc of Montreal, Raymond recalled his boyhood days in Arichat and was delighted with the improvement he found, more especially our paved highway.

Mr. LeBlanc is a graduate of MacDonald College in Agriculture and for the past several years is the efficient agricultural representative in Digby County..

Mrs. LeBlanc is interested in the work of the Nova Scotia Women's Institute and is a past president of the Society. Before returning home she attended a meeting of the Institute at Truro. The work performed by this lady in community efforts is noteworthy.

Accompanying Mr. LeBlanc was his sister Miss Clarisse LeBlanc of Montreal who we were also happy to greet after an absence of twenty-five years.

In the days of wooden ships and iron men the Bellfontaine side of the LeBlanc family were very prominent in Arichat where they owned and operated many large sailing ships to foreign parts.

Gone are the old days but still remain the worthy descendants of a noble race.

Dr. Boudreau and Miss Boudreau is the son and daughter of Capt. and Mrs. Thos. Boudreau of this town.

From Boston

Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Wigmore of Boston, Mass., arrived during the past week with Mr. and Mrs. Gus Benoit, of East Boston, Mass to spend a two week vacation at Mrs. Wigmore's home here.

In a recent issue of the Record Mr. and Mrs. Wigmore were in the news featuring this grand couple as employees in the household of the National Secretary of the Republican Party, Mrs. Howard.

Steve, a native of Ireland, is a die-hard Democrat while Jennie, his wife, is a Republican. However this does not interfere with the Wigmore household, but whatever party wins in the American election, someone is sure going to take a razzing.

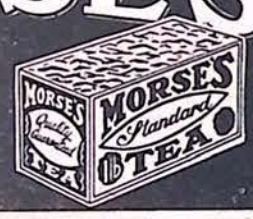

We were delighted to see our good friends Mr. and Mrs. Wigmore and also to greet Mr. and Mrs. Gus Benoit, the former is a son of Joseph and the late Mrs. Benoit and is a nephew of our good friend John Benoit who occupies the Wigmore dwelling.

Sporting Mountain Echoes

James Morrison took final leave of friends in Seaview, Monday, ere motoring back to resume his position with the Lynn, Mass., Electric Company.

He made a tiresome but futile attempt to find Maurice Fougere whose characteristic innate humor helped the various mailmen to while away many a weary hour whilst waiting for the train at Sporting Mountain Station.

An annual vistant we trust we may be here when "Jim" arrives next year, and that in the meantime we shall be active enough to keep the echoes of his native Sporting Mountain sounding in his ears.

We remember when the price paid would have purchased not two but thirty-two similar animals

We regret to say that Henry Pate has been handicapped during the week with a very sore eye which does not readily respond to treatment.

Allister McRae of Sydney was a recent transient motor visitor to Seaview and called to see his aunt Mrs. J. A. McLeod on the D. A. Morrison farm.

The SNAPSHOT GUILD

A close-up of the cake cutting is among the "must" shots in any wedding movie.

Movies of the Wedding

IN SOME families the making of wedding movies is becoming as much a custom as the traditional wedding album. I heard recently of a family which has already collected movies of weddings in two generations. They have much fun projecting the film from the parents' wedding 25 years ago and following it with the movie from the daughter's wedding last June.

If you're making movies at a wedding, you'll find wonderful subject material at the reception. If it's an afternoon garden reception your movie making will be simple indeed. If it's indoors it'll still be easy if you use a photobar for your lighting. This is simply a bar with a lamp on either end. You attach the camera in the center and carry your lights along with you, as far as your extension cord permits. This makes indoor movie making as easy as using a still camera with flash attachment.

This is one movie that won't need a script. Just shoot the high points as they come along and the story will unfold naturally as it moves toward the climax. The departure of the bride and groom will make a good ending.

A simple and effective title shot could be made before you leave home. An extreme close-up of the wedding invitation will serve very nicely to introduce the movie. For the very last shot, a close-up of the "just married" sign that inevitably appears on the back of the car would be an amusing touch.

Remember that variety adds life and spice to a movie. Vary the distances, the length of the scenes, and the shooting angle. Shoot action that has meaning. Don't settle for animated snapshots. Posing is poison in a movie. Record natural activity. Your movie camera is versatile. Take advantage of all the things you can do with it. Make a movie that's worthy of the occasion.
