Calling On Clan Donald To Support Appeal

To all members of Clan Donald:

Sometime ago I received from Mr. Donald Macdonald, Younger, of Castleton, Sleat, Scotland, a letter appealing for support for a memorial to Flora Macdonald.

The Clan Donald Societies in Scotland have set up a committee for this purpose. I can do no better than to quote from a small pamphlet that I have received from them:

"In Scotland there are three Memorials to Flora Macdonald at Kilmuir and Portree in Skye and at Inverness on the mainland but there is none in her native Isle South Uist. Before the 1939 War there was a proposal to repair this omission, but events forestalled the completion of the project, which has remained in abeyance since then. The Clan Donald Societies in Scotland have now undertaken to place the walls of Flora Macdonald's house at Milton, South Uist, in a state of preservation and to erect within the walls a Commemorative Cairn bearing a suitable inscription.

'Flora Macdonald was born in 1722 at Milton and lived in the house, whose remains are to be preserved from her early childhood until 1745 when he went to Armdale, Skye. Her birthplace was another house nearby of which there is no trace.

Through her father Flora Macdonal derived her descent from the Chiefs of Clanranald and from the House of Dunnyveg in Kintyre and on her mother's side she was descended from the Chiefs of Sleat. She was thus a true daughter of the great Clan Donald founded by the mighty Somerled who in 1156 drove the Norsemen out of the Western Isles and became Rex Insularum holding sway from the Butt of Lewis to the Isle of Man. Flora was the youngest child of Ranald of Balivanich in Ben becula and of Milton in South Uist and his wife Marion, daughter of the Rev. Angus Macdonald of the family of Griminish in North Uist. Her father died when she was about a year old. Hugh Macdonald of Armdale Skye, married her mother in 1728 and settled down at Milton where the family lived until 1745. In that year Flora accompanied her mother and step-father to Armdale in Sleat, Skye, but in June 1746 she returned to Milton to visit her brother Angus who had just taken over Balivanich and Milton. It was during the next few years that her courage and fidelity earned for her an imperishable place among the heroines of history.

We feel that this work of stone and bronze is necessary, but it is not itself a sufficient memorial to the Clan's Heroine. We have considered how best to keep alive the memory of Flora Macdonald among the people of her native Uist and have decided that the presentation of Flora Macdonald prizes in the schools of North and South Uist and Benbecula would be appropriate. Successive generations of school thoughts directed to the virtues of courage and fidelity so nobly exemplified by Flora Macdonald.

It has also been suggested that if funds permit Flora Macdonald prizes might be awarded annually to the successful competitors in the playing of the bagpipes which is traditionally associated with South Uist.

It is hoped that the Memorial at Milton may be completed and inaugurated before the end of this year."

The inscription to be used on the cairn will be in the following words:

Clan Donald raised this cairn of remembrance to their Kinswoman Flora Macdonald, daughter of Ranald son of Angus of Milton, South Uist. She was born in 1722 near this place and spent her early life in the house that stood on this foundation. When pursuit was drawing near to the Prince in the Long Island she greatly aided him by her heroism and endurance to gain shelter in the Isle of Skye.

I hope that all Macdonalds and all others who bear other surnames but who are, nevertheless, members of the great Clan Donald will rally to support our clansmen in the old Country in this worthy purpose. Io do not ask anybody to contribute a large sum; indeed I think that five dollars should be the largest contribution. Any amount offered whether small or large, will be duly acknowledged.

If the Clan rallies, as I am sure it will, the number of contributions will easily make up for the limited size of each donation.

Contributions should be sent to:
John A. Y. Macdonald, Q. C.,
Deputy Attorney General,
Provincial Building,
Halifax, Nova Scotia.

Angus L. Macdonald.

KELLY - TERRIO

The Immaculate Conception Church was the scene of a very pretty wedding on Monday, August 11th, when Rev. Father Doucett united in marriage Clarisse Marie Terrio of this place and Gerald Kelly of Halifax.

The bride who was given in marriage by her uncle, Daniel Brow looked charming in a floor-length gown of white satin and chantilly lace. The bodice was close fitting with embroidery and the long sleeves tapered to points over the wrists. Her three-quarter length veil fell from a juliet cap of lace. She carried a bouquet of red roses with satin streamers and fern and wore white accessores. Miss Priscilla Linden and Miss Barbara Kelly were bridesmaids. Miss Kelly wore a floor-length gown of mauve taffeta with picture hat to match white accessories and carried a bouqupet of pink and red aroses with satin streamers and fern. Miss Linden wore a floor-length gown of yellow nylon net over satin with picture hat to match. She carried a bouquet of yellow and white roses with satin streamers and fern.

Joe and Dannie Terrio supported the groom and Henry Terrio was usher.

Miss Jeannette Gerroir was organist.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, Rev. Fr. Doucett proposed the toast to the groom. The bridal party motored around the Island and then returned to the home of her aunt Mrs. Felix Linden where dinner was served to a large number of invited guests. The table was beautifully decorated with spring flowers and centered with a three-tiered wedding cake.

They will reside in Halifax where the groom is employed.

We wish them a long and happily wedded life.

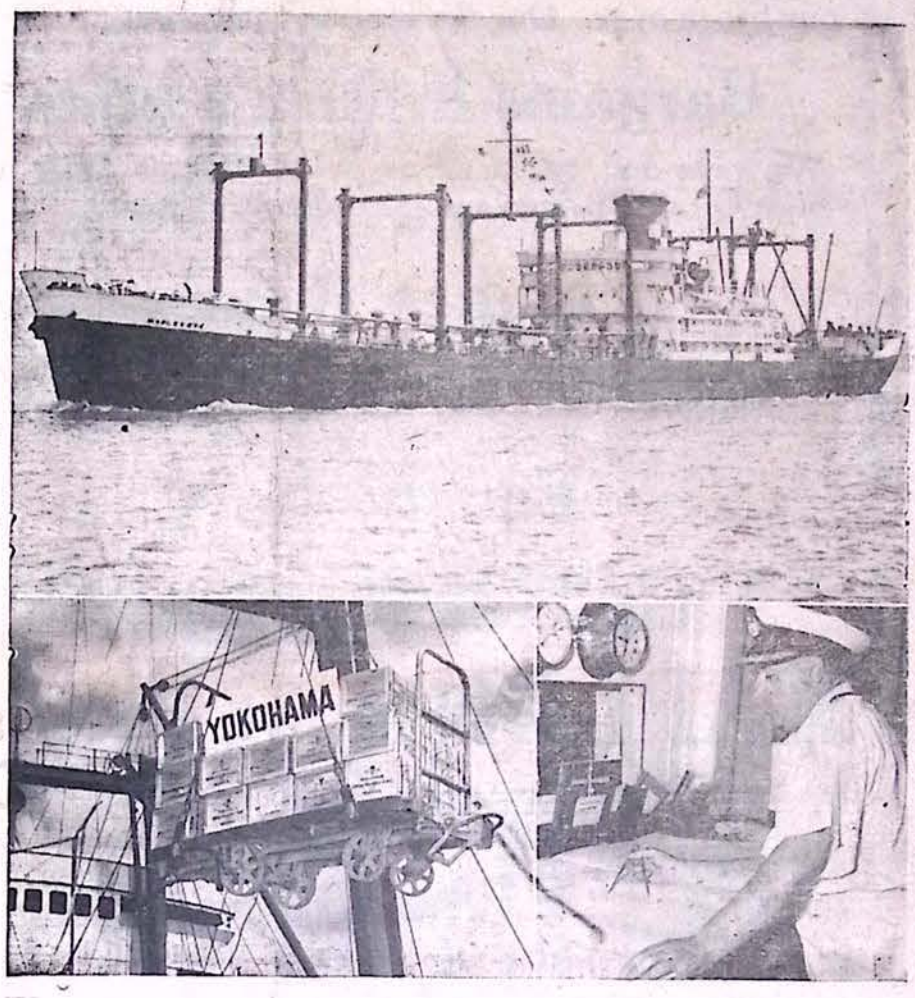

Miss Priscilla Linden visited her mother, Mrs. Felix Linden for a few days. She returned to Sydney on Monday.

Mr. Wilfred LeBlanc Louisdale motored over the Cabot Trail accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Kelly and Mrs. Mary Emeneau.

The death occurred on Thursday of Narcisse Gerroir after a lengthy illness in his 52nd year. He leaves to mourn their loss several brothers and sisters. The funeral was held on Saturday with Rev. Fr. Doucett officiating at Church and grave. C. A. Boucher was in charge of funeral arrangements.

The death of Joseph Burke occurred at his home in Martinique after a lengthy illness. He was 76 years of age. Besides his widow he is survived by several sons and daughters. The fumeral service was held on Sunday afternoon with Rev. Fr. Doucett officiating. Funeral arrangements under the direction of C. A. Boucher.

C.P.S. Maplecove Far East Bound

To the Canadian Pacific Steam ships' 10,000 ton cargo vessel Maplecove goes the honour of being the first company ship to return to Pacific service since World War II. The ship, which sailed from Montreal recently is headed for Vancouver, Yokohama Kobe, Manila, Cebu, Hong Kong and Naygoya and late in September the Maplecove will be joined by her sister ship Mapledell to offer a monthly service between these ports. Formerly the Beaverdell and Beavercove, both these vessels were on regular C.P.S. Atlantic service before the changeover. Lower right shows Maplecove's skipper Captain R. A. Leicester, of Vancouver, in the chartroom of his ship, studying the route the vessel will sail, while lower left shows a cargo sling with a load of Canadian produce bound for Yokohama, Japan being loaded on the ship at Montreal. All-Canadian crews will staff the two ships.

Handcrafts Exhibition

The eighth annual Craftsmen-at-Work Exhibition will be held this year in the Vocational High School in Halifax, August 19-23, Mary E. Black, director of handcrafts for Nova Scotia announced recently.

The exhibition will be open daily fom two o'clock in the afternoon to 9.30 in the evening. There will be no charge for admission.

Here you will see Nova Scotia's outstanding craftsmen working on the potters wheel, hooking rugs, making silver jewellery, spinning, demonstrating the various needlecrafts, weaving and woodwork.

Special exhibits of leathercraft, silver, pottery and hand woven yardages, the work of outstanding craftsmen from other Canadian provinces, will be shown in a separate exhibition room.

Wednesday, August 20, has been set aside as a special day for weavers. Mary Alice Smith, of New York, editor of Handweaver and Craftsmen" will give a talk on Modern Trends in Weaving. Articles submitted to the Weaving Study Project will be on display. There will be special demonstrations on the twelve harness loom and a short meeting for the Nova Scotia members of the Guild of Canadian Weavers will be held.

Thursday, August 21, is a day for potters. M. Jean Cartier, one of Canada's outstanding younger potters will speak on Modern Trends in Pottery. His talk will be illustrated with products from his own pottery.

On Friday, August 22, Ellis Roulston, director of Arts and Crafts of Mount Allison University, will discuss Modern Trends in Handwrought Silver as he observed them during his recent year of study in Sweden. Pieces of his latest work and slides will be used to emphasize particular points he wishes to make in his talk.

These three talks will be held at 9.30 a.m. at the school on the dates given and are open to all craftsmen and their invited guests.

A small but interesting exhibit of ecclesiastical embroideries and other Church furnishings will be shown. This is a new field for craftsmen but one in which there is ample scope to utilize their varied abilities.

Movies of interest to all craftsmen will be shown each afternoon and evening.

Sales booths will be operated by Nova Scotia's craftsmen where Christmas wedding or other gifts can be purchased or orders left for later delivery.

Modern Trends in Handcrafts is the theme of this year's exhibition. Everyone interested in handcrafts, or for that matter anyone wishing an interesting place to spend an afternoon or evening is cordially invited to attend Craftsmen-at-Work. There is no admission but children under fifteen must be accompanied by parent or guardian.

Craftsmen-at-Work is sponsored by the Department of Trade and Industry of Nova Scotia.

OPPORTUNITY WINNERS

The camera man dropped into a rehearsal for the radio show Opportunity Winners (heard Monday nights at 8.30 on the CBC Dominion network) and caught the three stars of the show as they listened to some words of advice from conductor-emcee John Adaskin. That's William B. Williams on the left, a baritone from Hamilton; next in Adaskin; and the girls are Angela Atonelli (left) a coloratura soprano from Guelph, Ontario; and Sylvia Grant, a mezzo-soprano from Calgary. All three are studying at the Royal Conservatory of Music of Toronto. They got their chance to star in a network show of their own by winning first place in the three Opportunity Knocks series broadcast last winter. Starting on August 22nd they'll be featured with Adaskin and the Opportunity Winners orchestra in the grandstand show at the Canadian National Exhibition in Toronto.

Minister Of Highways

Hon. M. D. Rawding, Minister of Highways and Public Works, accompanied by our MLA Earl W. Urquhart, and Gus MacLean, regional engineer of Port Hawkesbury were business visitors to Arichat on Wednesday.

Mr. Rawding is the popular representative of Queens county and is a man of wide experience in the construction field prior to his appointment to Minister of Highways and Public Works in the Macdonald Cabinet, a position he has filled with much credit since assuming the responsibility some years ago.

Last year Mr. Rawding had the pleasure of opening the new paved highway from Grand Anse to Arichat and we are sure that when Mr. Rawding drove over this fine piece of pavement on Wednesday he was well satisfied with the work performed by the Tidewater Construction Company last summer.

A. D. GUNN, PASSES AT SYDNEY

A prominently known resident of Sydney and Mayor for four successive terms in the early 1900's A. D. Gunn, died on Wednesday afternoon in the City Hospital following a brief illness. He observed his 80th birthday April 14, this year.

He was stricken ill Tuesday morning in his office on Charlotte street and removed to the hospital where death ensued early Wednesday afternoon.

His passing removes a figure who had been active in civic, legal and political circles and until his retirement a number of years ago was one of the most colorful and astute practitioners of law in the province of Nova Scotia.

A native Pictonian he was born at East River, a son of the late Alexander and Mary Gunn who emigrated to Nova Scotia from Caithness, Scotland.

A graduate of famous Pictou Academy, he studied law at Dalhousie University and received his degree from that institution in 1895.

Following his admission to the bar of Nova Scotia, his first practice was at St. Peter's, Richmond County, but he was there only a short time when he was invited to come to Sydney by the late Joseph Gillies, K. C., who at that time was connected with the old Sydney Post.

He became associated with the law firm of Mr. Gillies as well as serving as editorial writer on the newspaper.

During his law student days at Dalhousie he spent his summer vacations in the employ of the Halifax Chronicle as reporter and later as night news editor.

Pharmacists are quite versatile in their contributions to Society. The Eighteenth Century French apothecary—Antoine-Agusten Parmentier--introduced potatoes into France and popularize their use as a food.

The word "Pharmacist" comes from Pharmakon meaning remedy." The "ist" means pertaining to. Hence a pharmacist is one whose work pertains to remedies.

Millions of prescriptions are compounded each year with scarcely an error. This exceptional degree of accuracy is the result of the specialized training the pharmacist receives.

The Only Unionized Lumber Dealer in Nova Scotia

Sporting Mountain Echoes

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Monnon, (M. A. Morrison, R.N.,) their little daughter, Karen and Mrs. Monnon's niece, Alice McDonald were week-end motor visitors from Inverness to St. Peter's where they were guests of Mrs. Monnon's parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Morrison.

Through the courtesy of Mr. Monnon they were all numbered in a motor party to Seaview, Saturday afternoon and thus privileged to make friendly calls upon the remnant of their former neighbours in the vicinity.

Mrs. Monnon is the youngest of a family quartet nurtured on the rugged and rocky slopes of Sporting Mountain in a period when there was no state aid.

They, however, early and courageously met the challenge of life.

Rena, the eldest (Mrs. Alexander McDonald, East Bridgewater, Mass.) was at service south of the border in her middle teens; John went to the Steel City, acquired a trade, and esablished a home in a Sydney suburb; Robert is competing with the progressive farmers on the south shore; and Mary (Mrs. Monnon) is a graduate nurse by her own initiative and enterprise.

Collectively they are thus a national asset and surely there is no pretension in essaying to pay them tribute.

Mrs. Lloyd McRae was called to Ingonish, Tuesday, where her mother, Mrs. Wm. Stockley is seriously ill.

In her several visits to Seaview Mrs. Stockley made a good impression and we trust she shall soon be restored to her wonted health.

Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Stockley also returned home.

Mrs. Geo. Burns (Annie Goswell) who spent the past week at the old homestead went to Sydney and vicinity, Saturday to visit friends ere returning to her home in London, Ont.

It would be superfluous to say that Annie was one of our good girls for as Peter Cratchit observed when he heard his mother similarly described, "I am sure everybody knows that."

Leonel LeBlanc and Alfred Boudreau loaded a car of pulpwood at Sporting Mountain Station, Friday.

Needless to say, the transfers were rapid.

Jack Thibeau and Alfred Boudreau were business motor visitors to Sydney, Monday, and again on Saturday.

In a recent contribution we made some comparisons concerning beef prices.

Talking to our friends (everybody's friend) D. W. Morrison, down at St. Peter's, Wednesday morning he recalled a more striking contrast as shown by the accounts of his father, the late J. W. Morrison who was a general dealer in wagons, farm machinery and merchandise.

An eastern farmer bought a wagon for seventy-five dollars and paid the various terms with pork.

With the inflated prices of that commodity prevailing during World War I the quantity required to square the bill would have purchased a new Ford car, a new wagon, a new set of harness and a new mowing machine.

The SNAPSHOT GUILD

This is one of the pictures used in "How to Make Good Pictures" to illustrate the point on back-lighting.

Here's "How to Make Good Pictures"

TODAY I want to tell you about a new book that's just now coming on the market—or, to be more accurate, a new version of an old favorite. It's the 29th edition of "How to Make Good Pictures," published by the Eastman Kodak Company.

This new book is a friendly guide rather than a textbook. I've never seen a photographic handbook quite like it. It's written for pleasant reading as well as easy learning . . . shows the reader picture opportunities wherever he or she happens to be, and then shows how to make the most of these opportunities.

The book opens with a chapter made up entirely of pictures and captions. It's titled "Let's Make a Picture" and shows step-by-step how an experienced picture-taker selects a subject and camera position, and makes a series of pictures. Then there's a long picture-caption chapter comparing "good" and "better" pictures of many types, pointing out details that make a picture better, and listing basic "points to remember."

The mid-section of the book is a picture-taking tour, taking the reader through examples of snap-shooting opportunties "Right Around Home," "Around Town," "In the Country," "From the Air," "At School," and so on.

Practically every field of picture-taking is covered — pictures on vacations and holidays, family events, children and pets, adults at work and at play, pictures after dark, sports and action, flowers, and trick and stunt pictures.

All in all, its a great big dollar's worth of simple, down-to-earth advice on picture making. Here are some sample "points to remember":

"Sunshine lends sparkle to an outdoor portrait — but keep the sun out of your subject's eyes."

"Avoid noon sun. Mid-morning or mid-afternoon sun tends to give a pleasing 45-degree lighting."

"Back lighting and 'open shade' are very pleasant for pictures of children—and adults with blonde hair. Give about twice the normal direct sunshine exposure."
