FIFTY-SIXTH YEAR — ARICHAT, CAPE BRETON, N. S., SEPTEMBER 20, 1952

Work Commenced On Canso Causeway

Precisely at noon, Tuesday, a deep and powerful rumble in the bowels of the earth announced to hundreds of rain-drenched spectators at Cape Porcupine that the first constructive blow had been struck in a century-long fight to unite Cape Breton Island with the mainland of Canada.

Undisturbed for centuries, the slopes of the rocky prominence near Auld's Cove erupted with violent suddenness and threw themselves seaward like lemmings bent on self-destruction. Work on the Canso Causeway, long no more substantial than a fireside dream, had begun.

It all seemed so simple after the years-old agitation for a link across the Strait. Federal Minister Lionel Chevrier pushed a button and eight tons of dynamite blasted 2,200 tons of rock out of the hillside. Overalled Premier Angus L. Macdonald, obviously enjoyed himself jumped into one of the construction company's massive 39-ton trucks and gave the construction crew a lesson in driving while he dumped the first load of rock into the strait. The Premier drove back more thoughtfully, as though in his mind's eye he was reviewing the hundred pipers he has promised to line up on the Cape Breton shore when the Causeway is completed.

Banquet Held

Northern Construction Company and J. W. Stewart, Ltd., the contractors for the mammoth engineering project, held a reception and banquet for about 100 guests after the opening ceremonies. Floyd Chase, project Manager, introduced Brigadier Noel Lambert, the company's president, and the other speakers, Transport Minister Chevrier and Premier Macdonald.

Premier Macdonald declared that it was "a day long to be remembered by the people of Nova Scotia." He said that the need for a permanent and enduring link across the Strait was very real in order to encourage the full development of industry and to cope with the ever increasing tourist trade. He foresaw great economic effects and great psychological effects.

"The Causeway will be of great benefit to Cape Breton and the mainland of the province, indeed of Canada," he said adding a possible reference to Mulgrave that he "hoped" it would injure no part of the province. In this connection, he said later to this writer that Mulgrave would be at the head of what would be one of the finest harbors in the world. He concluded his address by stating his belief that the whole of this northern continent would benefit easier communication with "this tremendously significant part of the world."

Transport Minister Chevrier said that what had delayed a start on linking Cape Breton with the mainland was a decision on the best way to do it. A bridge and a tunnel had also being considered before it was agreed to construct a causeway.

• • •

Dual Purpose

He praised the co-operation received from the provincial government, in particular he thanked Premier Macdonald and the local M. P.'s and M. L. A.'s who had, he said, fought for a start on the project. He saw the Causeway as a means of further solidfying Canada as a nation as well as improving the means of communication between all parts of the country. This was very important because, he said, "Canada is becoming not the second country of the world but the one to be considered."

Even as the guests were celebrating the start of the work construction gangs had begun the around-the-clock labors which will continue until the causeway is completed, probably some time in 1955.

It was learned later that the shock of the opening explosion had been felt in Halifax, about 100 miles away. We'd like to think it was an Omen. Perhaps Haligonians will have to look to their laurels when this part of the province is opened up properly.—Casket.

MacDougall Home And School Association Meet In St. Peter's

The September meeting of the MacDougall Home and School Association was opened by Mr. Jack Adams, President, at St. Peter's on the evening of September 10th. The keen interest of the members and parents are taking in the Association was evident in the large attendance and the enthusiasm shown in planning for a successful year.

Officers continuing in office President: Mr. Jack Adams; Vice-President: Mrs. Clark Kaplan; Treasurer: Mrs. Jack Adams. Newly appointed Secretary for this year is Mrs. Donald Johnston. Mrs. Johnston was a delegate from this Association to the Provincial Convention at Wolfville this past summer and at this meeting she gave a detailed report of the Convention which the members found both informative and most interesting.

Conveners of various committees appointed at this meeting were: Social—Mrs. John A. MacDonald; Membership—Mrs. Finlay Ross; Ways and Means—Miss Margaret Madden; Programme—Mrs. Paul White; Publicity and Health—Mrs. G. Trowbridge.

Mrs. Clark Kaplan was appointed delegate to the Fall meeting of the County Council.

MacDougall Home and School Association for many years has been endeavouring to obtain the services of a Music Teacher for the school, and at this meeting members were pleased to welcome Miss Margaret Ladd of Port Hawkesbury, who has been engaged as Music Teacher in the school. Miss Ladd briefly outlined the program she plans to follow with the school children, and mentioned that approximately 35 private pupils in the community have made application for music lessons.

It was the unanimous wish of the members to take as one of their main projects for the year the re-decorating of the department to be used jointly as a Music Room and Domestic Science Room. The parents appreciating the need these two departments fill in the lives of their children hope, through their efforts in Home and School, to add to the appearance of the department in which their children may enjoy the benefits of both Music and Domestic Science.

Inspector Chiasson spoke briefly, commending the members for their interest and assuring them of his continued co-operation. To assist in program planning, Inspector Chiasson said he had obtained a projector and a tape recorder, both of which would be on loan to all Associations in the County.

A paper entitled "Education for Democratic Living", prepared by the late Edgar A. Fortune for a talk scheduled for the Home and School Council meeting last Spring was read by Mrs. Clark Kaplan. The phrasing, familiar to all who had heard Mr. Fortune speak on various occasions, made them once more aware of the loss of their leader in the field of Adult Education.

Meetings are planned to take place as usual on the second Wednesday of each month.

WEST BAY

The influx of motor traffic through here during some weeks past was very much in evidence, but as the autumn season advances as usual the greater portion of the traffic leaves Cape Breton Island by the car ferry service on the Strait of Canso to Port Hawkesbury, as we noted on our recent visit to Mulgrave on the Nova Scotia mainland.

On August 15th we accompanied R. N. MacInnis of the M[illegible] to Sydney and as we stopped a couple hours at St. Peters it gave us a much desired opportunity to pay even a brief visit to a couple of worthy friends.

A. MacPhie family residents of Sydney consisting of Mr. and Mrs. MacPhie and daughter spent some weeks occupying one of the cabins owned by R. N. MacInnis. Those annual visitors are estimable people whose presence their many friends look forward to each year. They seem to enjoy very much the scenery in this and the surrounding community.

We congratulate Miss Ann Mae MacKay on being successful in securing a High School certificate of Grade XI at the Provincial High School Examination of this year. She was one of those who attended the St. Peters High School the past term that Institution of Learning which has made an enviable record for itself through many past years.

Mr. and Mrs. M. H. Hackett of North Sydney were recent brief visitors here. Mrs. Hackett is engaged in teaching in one of the Public Schools in that town and in former years taught successfully doing High School work in the Westville school. Mr. Hackett occupies a responsible position in a telegraph office in the city of Sydney.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert N. Leonard of Halifax were recent week-end visitors here.

Rev. R. Humby preached some excellent religious discourses since his arrival here. "The Tares among the wheat" was masterly philosophic analysis. His vocal powers of singing are also magnificent.

Recently we were favoured in this community by a visit from a cultured and distinguished lady a native of Missouri in the West Central States but a resident of the City of Boston as a Music Teacher she represents an Education Department in the State of Massachusetts which is interested in some phases of the Gaelic Language. In her travels she carries with her in her car an instrument called a "Recorder" and thus we were successful in having recorded the following: The Gaelic song composed by the late Alexander MacMillan of Kempt Road in the County of Richmond, N. S., that is on the Russian war of (1854-56), also a Gaelic song entitled: "Isle of the Heather"; "Likewise MacCrimmon's Lament" and last but not least an English Evangelical hymn "Life's Railway to Heaven". But owing to the length of those selections that were recorded it may be difficult to have them broadcasted over the Radio.

Earl W. Urquhart, M.L.A., who met the Commonwealth Parliamentarians in one of the Canadian Central Provinces and accompanied them to portions of this Province has returned home.

(The Record congratulates Mr. Urquhart, in having being chosen to perform such a distinguished service for which he is so well qualified.—Ed.)

We quote with interest and pleasure the following paragraph from the prolific pen of your resourceful "Sporting Mountain Echoes" correspondent:

"Lawrence Burke motored three veteran friends to our house by the side of the road" Friday evening including Mrs. Sarah MacAulay, The Points; her sister, Mrs. Amelia Bannister of Portland, Maine and Mrs. J. H. Ross of Seaview."

It is a well-known fact that those three estimable women are welcome visitors wherever their presence are known.

The annual campaign for funds sponsored by the Children's Aid Society of Cape Breton, is now on and will continue for the next few weeks. Canvassers will call at your homes and we are sure you will all respond to this noble cause in contributing a generous donation to help the society to carry on its good work throughout the Island of Cape Breton.

Last year over 600 children were under the care of the Children's Aid Society in Cape Breton. The caring for these unfortunate children involves a gerat amount of work and entails financial aid as well, to keep the little ones well clothed and properly nourished.

By contributing to the Children's Aid Society, you are helping to bring torn families together and to share in the things they have been deprived off.

Innocent little children must have your help, so as they may grow up strong in body and mind and in the years to come take up their places as good Canadian citizens.

The only way you can help—is with your kind donations.

Bill's home he's got his wings

As a member of aircrew, he's marked as a young man of unusual calibre. He's had months of intensive training on the finest of equipment. He has developed character; and the chance to go far in this expanding service offers him a bright future. The future accomplishments in the field of aviation can be counted on to outstrip its brilliant past.

Here's the life that any boy — or any parent — can be proud of. There's a blend of skill, adventure and service to your country that can't be beaten for sheer satisfaction.
