Home-Made Yarns

An American friend of ours while on vacation in Isle Madame during the summer, has kindly sent us the following stories he heard from his fishing guide:—

One afternoon Joe brought home a row boat for a friend of his. It cost about $2.00 and looked it. I asked Joe what it was good for and he explained how this plank could be replaced and that rib repaired, etc. When he was finished, I suggested that perhaps the man might build a new one cheaper. Joe thought a minute and then told me it reminded him of a gun an Indian tried to sell him. When he asked the Indian if it was a good gun, he replied "yes, all it needs is a new stock and barrel."

When we were out by the whistling bouy, in Arichat bay, he told me of a party he had taken out some years back. The one man wanted to know what made the noise and other said it was a sea-bull and suggested that the first man pick up the axe that was in the boat to ward off the bull, lest he try to climb in and overturn the boat. So all the way in, he stood up in the launch, prepared to fight off all comers. As they passed the buoy in the dusk, and it going " whoo, whoo" with the waves Joe pointed it out to the tenderfoot and they went by very quietly to keep it from knowing they were near. I'll bet the city-man is still telling of his close escape.

PENNY-A-MEAL CAMPAIGN FOR ORPHANS BRINGS $20,000.00 FIRST MONTH

The following is a report from the Diocese of Antigonish for the penny-a-meal campaign for orphans and the report is most encouraging.

Midas might have laughed at us when we started, but we'll wager he'd wipe the smile off his face now.—Two million pennies is a lot of money—$20,000 to be exact—and it was all saved up during the month of September.

We don't claim to have the golden touch: these coins were gathered the hard way, by countless little sacrifices, but they do show us what we can do when we just make up our minds.

The orphans, of course, are tremendously happy to think that their brothers and sisters in Christ are deeply interested in their welfare, and are willing to go out of their way to show it. When you have no folks of your own who can help you, it's good to know that many, many others are anxious for your welfare.

No doubt the splendid showing that has been made during the month of September will act as a further incentive to the people of our diocese. Having once shown a noble response, it is difficult to be content with anything less, so we are sure that the month of October will even surpass the standard that has already been set.

Mrs. Fred Flewelling, Stanley, N.B., picks Fleischmann's Yeast for prize-winning baking.

Wins over Twenty Cooking Awards at '52 Stanley Fair

Mrs. Fred Flewelling's prize-winning repertoire at the 1952 Queen's County, N.B. Fair, included bread, rolls, buns, cakes, pies, jellies, pickles, and canned fruits and vegetables! On top of a busy farm schedule the preparation was terrific. But the baking slid in and out of the oven with a skilled routine, and the results were the kind that has made Stanley Fair famous!

"To be a successful cook you have to work with the finest ingredients," says Mrs. Flewelling. "I learned long ago that there's no better yeast than Fleischmann's. It's good and lively and dependable."

There's the secret! Dependable ingredients like Fleischmann's Yeast ensure the results achieved by prize-winning home bakers throughout the Maritimes.

BIG TOURIST SEASON IN NOVA SCOTIA

More tourist automobiles entered Nova Scotia during the 1952 travel season than ever before, according to preliminary reports to the Nova Scotia Bureau of Information from the main provincial entry points.

Traffic figures for the period June 1 to September 30 indicate 77,291 "foreign" cars entered the province compared with 64,068 in the corresponding period of 1951, the best previous year. The increase—21 per cent—is the largest recorded in any season since records were begun 30 years ago.

Two-thirds of this season's traffic gain was in United States vehicles. Twenty-seven per cent more American cars came to Nova Scotia than in 1951. The increase in cars from other Canadian province was 15 per cent.

The traffic census is taken each season at principal points of entry. More tourist cars come into the province at Amherst than any other point, but records are also kept at Digby, Yarmouth and Carriboo.

Preliminary figures cover automobiles only. Details on the total number of tourists visiting Nova Scotia this season, including those travelling by train, bus and plane, are not yet available.

The SNAPSHOT GUILD

Two shiny balls hold baby's attention while mother snaps a picture.

Simple Props Can Make Snapshots Better

IN THIS column I write frequently about the importance of giving people in your pictures something to do. Today I want to bring up the use of props in creating a good picture situation. You are familiar with the importance of stage props in plays and in movie scenes. What I have in mind is something not nearly so elaborate.

Reducing it to an idea that is simple indeed, let's think for a minute about taking a picture of a baby—one who is old enough to sit alone. You know that a secret of a good picture in this case is having the baby occupied so that he is content to sit where you want him. And the answer to this is to supply as a prop some item that will hold his attention. A toy is the most commonly used device. But for quite a small baby, why not try a piece of Scotch tape. Tangled in his fingers, it'll be hardly noticeable in the finished print, but will hold his attention and likely cause an interesting expression.

With older children and adults, you use props not so much to anchor them in the spot you want them, but to help them relax and be natural. The props should, of course, be chosen with regard to the appropriateness. They can help tell the picture's story. They can give a clue to the likes and interests of the subject, or help define the locale.

If you are picturing grandmother sitting in her favorite lawn chair, chances are she'll feel very self-conscious with her hands folded in her lap. So, bring out her knitting, or even her mending basket and thus give her something natural and normal to do with her hands—and you'll have a better picture.

A simple prop can give your subject something on which to center his or her attention, making them less conscious of you and the camera. In fact, a well-chosen prop can turn a dull picture into one that's interesting and far more satisfactory from all points of view. 432 —John van Guilder

FIRE PREVENTION WEEK-1952

Fire continues to be the greatest drain on physical resources and it follows that it is also the greatest factor in the cost of living.

In the last ten years three hundred and sixty men, women and children have been killed and nine hundred and twenty-nine others seriously injured by fire.

Fourteen thousand eight hundred and eighteen fires have caused a money loss of $26,692,842 by the direct action of flame, smoke and water.

The Direct and Indirect losses by fire are probably eight times greater and since money represents volume of work it means that every man or woman in Nova Scotia is working six weeks each year to pay for these vast losses.

There are no accidental fires - - every fire results from some act of human omission or commission.

Most fires would never happen if every man, woman and child, exercised ordinary care concerning flammable materials and the use of lighting and heating appliances, smoking materials and volatile liquids.

The long range control of fire and the elimination of the conflagration hazard lies in the adoption and enforcement of modern building laws and fire prevention regulations.

The Government of the Province of Nova Scotia earnestly recommends this situation be studied by those responsible for the government of all large and smaller Municipalities.

The Government acknowledges the unselfish and tremendous work by all Volunteer Fire Officers and Firemen who are working towards the elimination of all fires and the extinguishment of the fires that do occur and again calls upon them to continue this work throughout the years ahead.

A. H. McKinnon,
Minister for Labour,

S. S. Wright, Fire Marshal,
Province of Nova Scotia.

Sporting Mountain Echoes

It was pleasing to see an interesting reflection of William Calder in a recent "Cape Breton Mirror."

Recuperating from a recent illness, Sam Taylor was our guest over the week-end. Time was when hard work was recreation for "Sam," but he is obliged to go easy now. Of comprehending mind and ever ready wit, there is always a "kick" to his converse.

Compliments to "Skipper" of Roberta. We trust she shall occasionally favor us with the happenings of that area in her sensible and proficient way.

Tuesday afternoon Miss McPherson took her pupils for a nature study walk to Seaview Lake and Falls.

She surely could not have chosen a more diversified area to engage their attention.

We regret to report that Jacob Isackson was taken suddenly sick during the week and rushed to the City Hospital for an emergency operation.

At time of writing he is doing well.

Mr. and Mrs. Alex Edwards of Arichat accompanied by Wilfred Morrison, St. Peter's were recent business visitors to Seaview and bought the Campbell horse from Jas. Sutherland.

Enroute from St. Peter's, Thursday evening, Maurice Fougere dropped in to say "hello".

In cheerful mood, he practiced his ventriloquism upon a couple of visitors and had them looking about for the invisible speaker.

Thomas Morrison motored up from Ance De Loup, Friday evening, and enjoyed an extended reminiscent chat.

A. J. Campbell was a visitor from the Points the other day, and purchased one of Samuel Boudeau's matched horses.

Preparatory to going into winter hibernation on the sunkissed slopes of Sporting Mountain, we had Leonel LeBlanc and James Goswell store the season's fuel.

A certain man filled his barns to capacity for an approaching winter, but immediately his soul was required of him. However, he boasted of it but we acknowledge it all in a spirit of gratitude.

"I put away my hard-earned money"

This young bank depositor recently wrote to his bank manager:

"I made a goal of $1,000 for this year. It is two years since I opened the account with two dollars. I owe thanks to you that I put away my hard-earned money where it will benefit me . . . I do not wish to touch it for the time being."

Building up a bank account means work and sacrifice. But Canadians know the value of having savings handy in time of opportunity or need: they maintain 7½ million savings accounts in the chartered banks—almost twice as many as ten years ago. At the same time bank staffs have almost doubled. That, and higher wages, have increased bank payrolls almost three times.

More people use the banks, more people work for the banks than ever before.

ask the man who flies one

You'll find him about 20 years of age . . . fully trained and full of the zest for flying . . . keen . . . alert . . . brimful with a sense of accomplishment and responsibility! He probably won't admit to you he feels a pride in doing his duty — in being prepared to defend freedom — but it's obvious he does.

"I went air crew because, more than anything else, I wanted to fly — and I felt I'd get more flying and experience in the Air Force . . . Jets? . . . yes, they're easier to fly . . . Sorry, I can't describe the feeling to you, but there's just nothing like being up there . . . 35,000 feet . . . in a world of your own . . . in a jet that's — well — your baby . . ."

PROTECT YOUR CHILD AGAINST
Smallpox - Diphtheria - Whooping Cough

Attention is drawn to the preventive means which are available for the protection of the lives of your children against communicable diseases.

Diphtheria, smallpox and whooping cough are preventable—yet last year these three diseases took the lives of many Canadian children. Whooping cough causes more deaths than any of the other communicable diseases.

Your Health Department has the means to protect your children, or your family Physician will be glad to render this service.

You are urged to give this matter your serious consideration, Make an appointment now with your family doctor or consult your Medical Officer of Health regarding this protection. Immunization against these scourges of childhood is possible.
