Old Sailor

The wind whipped 'round the waterfront cafe
As he hove in fresh from the seven seas;
A grizzled gent who spoke of old Bombay
Of Singapore and of the Hebrides.

He never went to Cambride or Cornell,
At tennis teas he would have been taboo,
Yet what a tale that tattered tar could tell,
Of rich, romantic realms that he knew.

Somewhere a clock at midnight chimed the hour
As he arose and stretched his lanky frame;
Dashed down the remnants of a whiskey-sour,
And sought the squally night from whence he came.

Wedding

BISSETT -- MacINTOSH

On June 30th at three o'clock a pretty wedding was solemnized in Black River United Church when Florence Helen,, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James H. MacIntosh, Dundee, became the bride of Stewart Morton Bissett of Cole Harbour, N. S.

The marriage ceremony was performed by Rev. Reuben Humby West Bay, assisted by Rev. Clarke MacDonald, Port Hawkesbury.

The bride entered the church on the arm of her father by whom she was given in marriage. She wore a gown of white nylon lace over satin with fitted lace bodice adorned with pearl trim. The bridal cap of lace was trimmed with orange blossoms from which fell a veil of pure silk illusion. She carried a bouquet of white roses.

Mrs. Anthony C. Russo, sister of the bride was matron of honor. She was charmingly dressed in a gown of blue nylon net and carried a bouquet of red roses.

Miss Janet MacIntosh, youngest sister of the bride was bridesmaid. She wore an orchid colored net and lace gown and carried a bouquet of yellow roses.

Cyril Bissett, brother of the groom, was best man.

Mrs. James H. MacIntosh, mother of the bride, wore a royal blue rayon crepe street length dress, with white accessories and a corsage of white carnations.

Mrs. Thomas N. Bissett, mother of the groom, was attired in a blue-grey suit with white accessories and a corsage of pink carnations.

Rev. Reuben Humby was soloist and Mrs. W. S. Urquhart, Grand Anse, was organist.

Following the marriage a reception for the immediate families was held at the home of the bride's parents.

The couple will spend a short honeymoon in Cape Breton after which they will leave for Cole Harbour where they will reside.

GILBERT

While in Halifax she was the guest of her daughter Mr. Tambon. Her friends are pleased to see her looking so well.

Junior Red Cross Meet At Mt. A

Sackville, N. B., July 12 -- (Special) -- Sixty-six high school students, many of whom probably regarded Junior Red Cross as "kid stuff" before they were selected to spend 10 days at Mount Allison University this summer, have already discovered-with only half that period elapsed--that there is a real place in high school for the junior society's program.

And all of them agree that, in spite of a heavy agenda of discussions on serious topics, they are having the best time, bar none, that they have ever had in their lives.

Representing five provinces and two countries, these 21 boys and 45 girls are delegates to the first "Atlantic Provinces High School Junior Red Cross Leadership Training Centre", to give the project its full designation.

They arrived here last Tuesday and by the time they depart this Thursday, should be fully prepared to promote the high school phase of Red Cross activities in their own communities. Thus the primary objective of the centre will have been accomplished.

According to officials in charge however, the unique experiment has been even more spectacularly successful in another, almost unexpected, direction.

"It has encouraged these young people, in the mature and Challenging setting of a college campus to 'come out of their shells'," as it was expressed by G. Forbes Elliot, centre director. "You can be sure they will be taking more prominent roles whenever the opportunity presents itself at home hereafter, both in the school and elsewhere as well."

Informality has been the keynote of practically all activities on the schedule of the Atlantic Provinces centre which begins each morning with a 7 o'clock 'reveille' and continues without a dull moment, although with numerous well-spaced breaks, to the 10.30 p.m. "lights out."

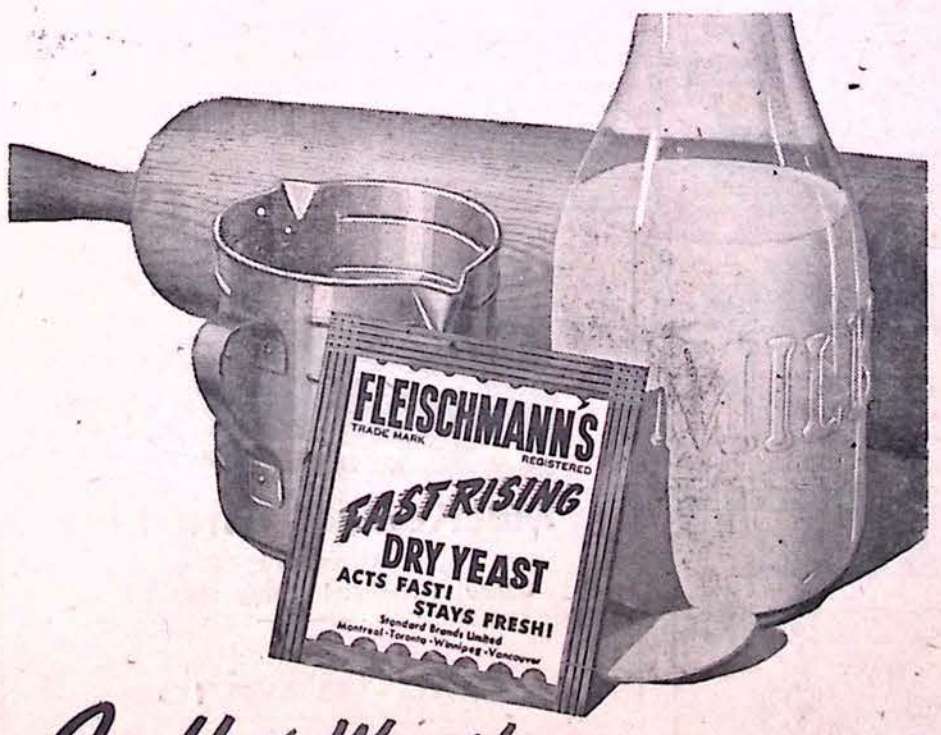

Following a hearty breakfast in the dining room of Trueman House, the delegates return to their quarters in the Academy building for "tidy rooms". The first assembly is called at 8.40 o'clock after which the discussion

TWO RICHMOND COUNTY CLERGYMAN HONORED BY ST. F. X. UNIVERSITY

Rev. Father Michael Gillis, a native of Soldier's Cove and Rev. Nelson MacDonald, a native of Grand River, were both honored at the Special Convocation Exercises at St. F. X. University on July 6th when degrees were conferred on them for outstanding service.

At present Father Gillis is pastor of St. Anthony's Parish, Passchendaele, C. B., while Rev. Nelson MacDonald is in charge of a United Church Parish on the South Shore.

FISH TRAP DESTROYED AT PETIT DE GRAT

A fish trap operated by Eugene Lenoit and other shareholder fishermen of Petit de Grat was damaged beyond repair when it was torn from its moorings recently.

The destruction of this trap is believed to be caused by a passing ship during the night. The only part of the trap remaining is the leader which extends from the trap to the shore.

This is a serious loss to the fishermen and came at a time when operations were only beginning to show some results financially for the shareholders. The cost of this trap is estimated at several thousand dollars and this coupled with the labor in preparing it for the water, makes the loss all the greater.

We trust that some assistance may be forthcoming to compensate these fishermen for the loss of this valuable fishing gear.

Obituary

KENNETH DAN MacLEOD

At an early hour Wednesday morning, July 8th, the death occurred at the Memorial Hospital in the town of Inverness of Kenneth Dan MacLeod a native and resident of Marshes, West Bay, N. S.

Only a short time previously he entered the Hospital to undergo an operation which appeared successful at first, but owing to a diseased heart condition of some years duration he failed to recover as the end of life's journey was fast approaching.

Being of a cheerful friendly disposition and was an employee at Marble Mountain where an important industry was carried on some decades ago he was favourably and widely known.

He actually passed away in the prime of life, the son of the late Kenneth MacLeod and Mrs. Mary MacPhie MacLeod. His span of life extended four years beyond the three score.

His wife, formerly Miss Isabell MacKay of West Bay survives, who tenderly cared for him during all his illness.

An elder brother Dan A. MacLeod died in New Glasgow in 1916.

A younger brother Angus M. MacLeod, a resident in the State of Massachusetts, accompanied by Mrs. MacLeod formerly Miss Florence M. MacKinnon R. N., arrived by plane to attend the funeral on Friday afternoon July 10th which was largely attended.

The services were conducted by Rev. R. Humby, pastor of the West Lay Congregation assisted by Rev. D. J. MacLeod of Orangedale and Rev. Clarke MacDonald of Port Hawkesbury.

Rev. Mr. MacLeod sang in Gaelic a favourite hymn of the departed friend, "On the Happy Golden Shore". He also concluded in prayer.

Rev. Mr. MacDonald offered prayer and read appropriate portions of scripture.

Rev. Mr Humby, the presiding minister spoke very appropriate words of hope and comfort to the mourners based on an appropriate selection from the Old Testament.

The hymns selected were as follows: "The Lord's My Shepherd". "What a Friend We Have in Jesus" and "Rock of Ages", rendered vocally.

Burial took place in the family plot in the Cemetery at the Marshes, West Bay.

W. A. MacRAE

What with relatives, friends and family connections all over Cape Breton, a widely-spread area had reason to mourn the tragic and untimely passing of Willie MacRae.

The extended funeral cortege from his late home at The Points to Black River Church, Sunday afternoon was a practical manifestation of that.

Rev. R. Humby was assisted by Rev. D. J. MacLeod of Orangedale who for upwards of two score years had occasion to know Willie well, and whose sincere and eloquent tribute touched a responsive chord within the hearts of all his hearers.

The talented Hayman sisters, Lois Bell, and Joan Sandra were heard in St. Peter's United Church Sunday morning in their inimitable rendering of two duets, "Softly and tenderly" and "I will lift up mine eyes".

There is a generous sprinkling of summer tourists throughout the country and during the week we were favored by visits from some good old friends.

First we were gladdened by a call from W. L. McPhee and his intimate friend of many years, Leonard McGee of St. John, N.B. "Wilfred" is one of our old pupils (we do not pretend that is why he has always filled a position of trust in the Civil Service) and a veteran of World War One.

Wednesday a motor party from River Tillard comprised Mrs. Margaret Morrison, her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Colin McIntosh her daughter, Mrs. Vitus Burke and infant son Dennis Joseph.

Equally welcome the same evening was another including Mrs. John Goswell her son-in-law and daughter Mr. and Mrs. H. Hayman of Providence, R. I. and their two daughters, Lois Bell and Joan Sandra.

Rev. McLeod of St. Peter's United Church visited in this section of his charge Friday evening.

Mrs. D. A. Morrison accompanied him.

Enroute from "The River" Friday evening Kay McPhail and her daughter Joan of Oban made neighbourly calls in Seaview.

J. Calder Goswell, his sister Mrs. K. McLean and daughter Bernadette, of Halifax were weekend guests at the Goswell homestead.

Through the characteristic courtesy of Mr. and Mrs. Colin McIntosh of Boston, Mass., and other members of the Morrison family, we were favored with a most enjoyable trip to Isle Madame Thursday.

We shall tell you about it in our next contribution.

THE COMMODORES

Add old time fiddling to the feats of The Commodores, known to listeners throughout Canada for their four-part rendition on CBC networks of sea chanteys, western ballads, Negro spirituals and "the old songs". The nautical gents haven't actually taken up violins yet, but they'll be backing Canada's 1953 champion old-time fiddlers on the CBC Trans-Canada network broadcast from the All-Canadian Open Old-time Fiddlers Contest in Shelburne, Ontario, Saturday, Aug. 8. The Commodores are (from top to bottom) John Ringham, of Vancouver, baritone; Donald Parrish of Wallaceburg, Ontario, bass; Carl Tapscott, Toronto, second tenor and arranger; and Harvard Reddick, Bloomfield, Ontario, first tenor.

groups, each made up of students from New Brunswick, Nova Scotia, Prince Edward Island and Newfoundland -- there are also guest delegates attending from Quebec Province and the State of Maine--gather on the lawns for their daily sessions.

For unfavorable weather as well as for the afternoon "elective" activities, the delegates also have access to the Owens Museum of Fine Arts Tweedie Hall and Beethoven Hall. The Academy building, due to be used as a freshmen's residence with the opening of Mount Allison's fall semester, houses the centre headquarters.

Evening programs, which usually feature a visiting special speaker, are also the occasion for airing gripes. These are carefully noted by the centre's staff of 16, after which appropriate action is adopted in proper parliamentary form, by the delegates as a body.
