Tales, Tidings And Tidbits from Montreal

LOWN MEMORY HIGHWAY

Young fellows and glamour gals of today become excited over new model cars, and gasp at new fangled gadgets which adorn these speeding beauties of our multi-laned highways. But it is MacTavish's conviction that their excitement does not approximate the splendid awe and spine tingling sensations that caused our bared feet to slap fast upon the dust road toward Morrison's Hotel in St. Peter's some forty years ago when a "gas wagon" chugged into the wide yard behind the neatly clipped hedges.

Were it family worship or morning mass, the churning of butter or the hewing of wood or sowing or reaping, tools were discarded and Bibles dropped and young feet pattered fast and older folks followed—and we gazed with wonder upon this phenomenon with its heavy brass fittings and acetylene lamps and its large wooden wheels and the dust caked plates and the goggles and the long dusters of the occupants.

Words of its arrival travelled fast thrcugh our village. The Ross es and the Pringles and the Urquharts and the MacLeods, from the Channels and the Mountains and the Points; and the Laffords and Martells and the Potties and the Boudreaus from the L'Ardoises and the Rivers and the Coves; and others who had hitched their horses behind our two general store; hastened to tighten the halter ropes and pat reassuringly the damp flanks of the beasts in fearful anticipation.

There was a Hupmobile that rolled into the Hotel yard one fine summer evening during the first decade of the century. It was a low-laced and two seated contraption with heavy spare tires strapped to the back. We gathered around it eyes wide with wonder, wishing but not daring to touch this strange mechanical beast. We stayed there aghast the countryside ichsl m t-th eaq until we were called or chased to our beds a-shiver with excitement and to dream of speeding through the country side behind the wooden wheel of a horseless wagon.

Then awake early in the morning and away to view again this unfamiliar demon; to see the luggage stored away and the driver turn the switch and the kicking of the crank and to hear the sputtering of the motor and the roar and to blow at the heavy fumes from the exhaust. Then to run behind this contraption as it ground away; with a yell in our throats as it wheeled faster and the billows of dust choking the cheers in our chests. And the faces of the women and the younger children at the windows and the older men by the fences and the doors and the automobile swinging to the curve of the Church Hill and gaining momentum and disappearing in the dust and leaving us with a great mixture of longing and awe.

But this particular automobile did not leave us that morning. Perhaps it had become infected with our fevered love, for it refused to favor the sharp turn at the hill's bottom and it disobeyed its goggled driver and clambered straight up the grassy slope and after hesitating for a moment with a puff of steam and a groan of gears it turned on its side and fell silent.

Our cups overflowed that Summer's day.

Then later as cars came to our village and some stayed amongst us..and our first rides.. fearful and flushed. And the Wellers and their workmen on the canal and the low slung roadster with the long strapped hood and the big wheels; and the little Ford runabout with the small solitary seat behind; and Jack Stewart's Maxwell with its brass and bulbous rubber horn; and the Johnsons from the States and the MacEwens and the Ford that later a Mr. Wheaton kept pat and purring for years.....

Ah! youth of today! Can you capture the thrills and the tingling that coursed through our veins and made full our lives during the first decade of this eventful century as we pursued the crude forerunners of your beautiful gadgets of the present? Hardly I say— Hardly!

And as one Mary Mac from deep in the hinterland of our Island Highlands remarked after a car had dusted past their quiet farm for the first time and that during the election campaign of 1911, said she, "Papa waas looking, Mama waas looking, Johnnie waas looking, Margaret waas looking and we waas all looking and we didn't know what it waas at all."

No, poor Mary did not know what it was, indeed. And neither did we nor anyone comprehend what tremendous vehicle of love, life and death had wheeled into our lives.

Bon jour,

MacTAVISH

"SOMETHING GOOD"

Wouldn't this old world be better
If the folks we meet would say—
"I know something good about you!"
And treat us just that way?

Wouldn't it be fine and dandy
If each handclasp, fond and true,
Carried with it this assurance—
"I know something good about you!"

Wouldn't life be lots more happy
If the good that's in us all
Was the only thing about us
That folks bothered to recall?

Wouldn't life be lots more happy
If we praised the good we see?
For there's such a lot of goodness
In the worst of you and me!

GOING, GOING

As children know who see
September
A little month ahead
And can but hazily remember
Where all July has sped.

When August comes the summer's slipping,
The biggest part is past,
And like an ice cream cone that's dripping,
You cannot make it last.

AT A CORNER ON MAIN STREET

A community springs up and, as it grows, a branch bank opens its doors. This pattern, basic in Canada's development, has been repeated again and again in pioneer areas, villages, towns and cities. Through local branches, the chartered banks bring to small communities, as well as large, the same broad range of banking service.

There are now 3,800 branches of Canada's chartered banks serving the banking needs of Canadians, 700 opened in the past ten years.

Benefits For Disabled Civilians

Long motted measures for the benefit of disabled Canadian civilians are now getting actively underway.

Mr. Ian Campbell, National Co-Ordinator, in Halifax to attend the first meeting of the Nova Scotia Council for the Rehabilitation of Disabled Persons, gives full detail of Federal plans to assist in the nation wide movement.

Right Hon. J. L. Ilsley, Chief Justice of Nova Scotia, presided, at Dalhousie Health Clinic, Wednesday night and there was an after meeting of directors at which various organizational matters were discussed.

Mr. Campbell gave this summary of the situation.

"The National Advisory Committee submitted a number of proposals to the Federal Government at the end of November last year. Having considered these recommendations, the first steps have been taken which may eventually lead to a properly co-ordinated plan to rehabilitate the disabled in this country.

Under the Estimate of the Department of Labour funds are available to the Provinces for the following:

1. To share with the Provinces the cost of establishing facilities to co-ordinate the activities of all bodies, public and private, who work on behalf of the disabled in any Province.

2. To share with the Provinces the cost of a new training schedule within the Canadian Vocational Training Coordination Act which will make available to disabled persons training that will lead to their employment.

In addition, the health grants, which in many areas are now used for rehabilitation purposes have been expanded by the Department of National Health and Welfare to include Rehabilitation Services Grants to be used for the following:

1. The training of personnel necessary for a rehabilitation plan;

2. The purchases of apparatus designed to reduce disability. The cost of these two items up to a certain limit can be borne by the Federal Government.

3. The expansion of existing rehabilitation facilities, or the creation of new facilities necessary to organize a plan to rehabilitate the disabled within an area.

Costs incurred in this connection again up to a certain limit will be shared by the Federal Government with the Provinces.

It is hoped that this assistance will help to stimulate in each Province a program that will mobilize community resources now available to the disabled and that there will gradually develop a well rounded out program giving the services necessary to all that need them."

Following the general meeting, the Directors of the Council met to discuss plans for the coming year.

Wedding

MacIntosh- MacDonald

St. Andrew's United Church, Halifax, was the scene of a pretty summer wedding, August 25th at 3 p.m. when Miss Margaret Shirley MacDonald, of Halifax, daughter of Mrs. John Fletcher MacDonald and the late Mr. MacDonald of Glace Bay, was united in marriage with Dr. Edwin Livingston MacIntosh of Liverpool, son of Mr. and Mrs. James H. MacIntosh of Dundee, Cape Breton. Rev. Neil Stewart MacDonald of Sydney Mines, brother of the bride, officiated at the ceremony, assisted by Rev. Charles Anderson. The organist was Murray Vandenburg and the soloist was Mrs. Victor Martinello.

The bride, given in marriage by her brother-in-law, wore a ballet length dress of white lace and net, fashioned with a halter bodice and bouffant skirt of accordion pleated net. Her headdress was a band of the net trimmed with seed pearls and held a veil of tulle illusion. She carried a bouquet of white shasta daisies.

Miss Jean Fraser of New Glasgow was maid of honor. Dr. Jas. H. MacLeod of Liverpool was best man and the ushers were Dr. Wm. Coleman of Halifax and Dr. Donald Hicks of Shelburne.

A reception was held following the ceremony at the Lord Nelson Hotel. The bride's mother wore a dress of charcoal lace with dusty rose velour hat, mink furs and a corsage of white gladioli. The groom's mother wore a royal blue crepe dress with white accessories and a corsage of white gladioli. The toast to the bride was proposed by Rev. C. Anderson.

Following the reception the couple left on a wedding trip to Cape Breton. For travelling the bride wore a grey two-piece suit trimmed with white and red, and white accessories. Her corsage was of white baby 'mums. On their return they will reside in Liverpool.

Good luck in your future Ed and Shirley.

He later sold lots on this property where today three other dwellings are situated. Two years ago he sold his home to Joseph Goyetche but occupied the barber shop. He purchased a piece of land from J. Emile Lenoit where he built a modern dwelling.

An industrious man the late Colin Paon did much to improve and encourage building in this town and during the short period he resided here erected two homes.

As a trustee of the Arichat School Section the late Mr. Paon was always ready to help improve conditions of the school and during his term of office as trustee, the Arichat school was renovated.

He leaves to mourn his untimely passing a wife and four small children to whom we extend our heartfelt sympathy in the passing of a loving husband and father.

The funeral was largely attended which attested to the esteem in which the late Colin Paon was held by his many friends throughout Isle Madame.

CARD OF THANKS

The wife and family of the late Colin Paon, of Arichat, wish to express their sincere thanks to all kind neighbours and friends for the many acts of kindness extended to them during their sad bereavement. Also to those who sent Mass cards, sympathy cards and floral offerings.

VISITING AT D'ESCOUSSE

Mr. and Mrs. Norman Poirier, who were married in Toronto recently, spent their honeymoon at the home of the groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lauchlin Poirier, of D'Escousse. The bride was the former Doreen Watson of Toronto.

Before motoring back to Toronto, the young couple were honored by friends and relatives when they were presented with a substantial sum of money as a wedding gift. The presentation was made by Miss Arlene MacDonald, a cousin of the groom.

A pleasant evening was spent, followed by a delicious lunch.

The good wishes of their friends is extended for a long and happy wedded life.

"Fleischmann's Yeast never lets you down", says Mrs. G. Arthur MacDonald, Pictou, N.S.

Repeats Baking Successes at 1952 Pictou Fair

With a fresh batch of awards for her prize-winning baking at the 1952 Pictou County Fair, Mrs. G. Arthur MacDonald is rated tops in turning out home-made bread.

Talking shop with her husband (he's a baker by trade!), Mrs. MacDonald attributes much of her success to her care in selecting ingredients. "Ingredients are so important," she says. "For instance, you have to use an extra-good yeast—one with plenty of pep and action—for the best results. I personally never use any yeast but Fleischmann's, because I know from experience how fast and peppy it is."

Right to the point! Across the Maritimes Fleischmann's Yeast is the favorite with prize-winning bakers because they've proved it's so dependable.

Sporting Mountain Echoes

The showery weather prevailing throughout the week was a handicap to farmers who were late in harvesting their hay crop.

We had occasion to be glad for a friendly visit Wednesday afternoon from Mr. and Mrs. Alexander MacDonald, (Rena Morrison) and daughter Alice, who are motor visitors to the Maritimes from East Dorchester, Mass.

The worthy trio left Monday for Mr. McDonald's native P. E. Island and we bespeak for them a pleasant sojourn in "The Gardan of The Gulf".

Roy Campbell dealer in Watkins products called upon his customers on Sporting Mountain, Tuesday.

Maurice Fougere walked from his rustic retreat the other day to spend a social afternoon with us, and it was nice to note the active octegenarian still retains his characteristic humor.

Robert Ross was a business visitor from The Point, Wednesday evening.

Bernard Kanning is assisting Lecnel LeBlanc in transferring the Sporting Mountain pulpwood.

We are indebted to our friend W. L. McPhee of St. John, N. B., for a publication featuring an exhaustive article on "Canada's animal emblem, the Beaver."

Speaking of beavers, it is not easy to attribute their marvellous achievement to a natural impulse without regard to any prior consideration or forethought.

"Wilfred" and his steadfast friend Lenn McGee are wont to repair to a lake frequented by these sagacious and intelligent mammals and thus engendered a whole lot of respect for them.

When Messrs. McPhee and McGee made their annual visit to Sporting Mountain this season, they were disappointed and chagrined to find the beaver family at Seaview Lake had disappeared.

Grand Anse News

SPURRELL — URQUHART

On Thursday evening, August 13, at 7.30 the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Urquhart was the scene of a pretty mid-summer wedding when their daughter Joan Gladys was united in marriage to Norman Arthur son of Mrs. and the late Mr. Harry Spurrell of St. Peter's. Rev. R. Humby of West Bay performed the ceremony.

To the strains of Lohengrin's Wedding March the bride entered the appropriately decorated room on the arm of her father by whom she was given in marriage. She looked lovely in a street length dress of pale blue crepe with which she wore a halo of white rosebuds and a corsage of pink roses. She was attended by her sister Catherine who was becomingly attired in a street length of navy blue nylon sheer with which she wore a halo of pink rosebuds and a corsage of pink roses. The groom was attended by his brother Herbert Spurrell of Montreal.

The bride's mother was attired in white printed nylon with white accessories and a corsage of red roses.

During the signing of the register appropriate music was rendered by Miss Beverley Stuart of St. Peter's.

Following the ceremony a reception was held for sixty guests. Rev. John MacLeod, St. Peter's, proposed the toast to the bride which was responded to by the groom. The wedding cake was cut in traditional style by the bride and groom and apportioned by Mrs. L. A. Urquhart, Port Hawkesbury, aunt of the bride.

Amid showers of confetti, the happy couple left on a motor trip to Annapolis Valley. For travelling the bride wore a navy suit with white and navy accessories. On their return they will take up residence in St. Peter's.

We wish them a long and happy wedded life.
