Fifth Annual Richmond County Music Festival Reported A Noted Success

The Fifth Music Festival in Richmond County, with over seven hundred children participating, was brought to a close on the 19th inst., after two memorable days of enjoyment, encouragement, constructive criticism and assistance to students and teachers. Adjudicators were Mr. Douglas Baker, Head of Music Department, Provincial Normal College, Truro; and Mrs. Robert Flynn, Lancing Teacher, New Glasgow, the latter adjudicating the Scottish Classes.

As entries and schools participating in the Music Festival have more than doubled since its inauguraton in 1949, it has been found necessary to hold Festivals on two successive days in two areas of the County. The increase this year was such that a three day Festival is anticipated as being a necessity next year. Mrs. Paul White, President of the Richmond County Council of Home and School Associations, and Chairman of the Music Festival, opened the Festivals and brought Greetings from the Council.

Louisdale was the scene of the Festival on the first day, May 18th, with nine schools participating in the full day's program. In the evening, numbers selected from the day's program were repeated in the Parish Hall making an enjoyable performance.

On May 19th a second day of the Festival was held at St. Peter's where five schools were represented, and again an evening performance of selected numbers from the day's program was presented to an appreciative audience. At this Festival Mrs. Flynn adjudicated with constructive criticism in a most pleasing manner, the Scottish Classes introduced in the Festival for the first time this year with enteries which consisted of Highland dancing, chanter and bagpipe selections. Singing in Gaelic was also heard at the Festival for the first time.

Another Class introduced for the first time this year and which won much praise from the adjudicator was that of Junior Church Choirs, with boy, girl and mixed choirs participating.

The program in Louisdale and St. Peter's was brought to a close by remarks from R. J. Chiasson, Inspector of Schools. He expressed the thanks of the Home and School Council to the adjudicators, the voluntary helpers in the areas where the Festivals were held and all over the County. The teachers, parents and pupils were specially thanked for their splendid cooperation. The help given by Miss Teresa MacNeil of Johnstown was of inestimable value as well as the untiring efforts of Mrs. Paul White, Chairman of the Music Festival Committee and President of the County Council.

Said Mr. Connolly: "This man could have gone to the greatest clinics not to be exceeded by any medical scientist but he stayed to give the people he loved his great talents." The Premier urged that some memorial be raised in the Antigonish area in memory of this almost legendary figure.

The Premier concluded with this observation: "So long as we have men of this type in Canada, we will have greatness in the potential."

Rt. Rev. P. J. Nicholson, Pres. Emeritus of St. F. X. replied to the toast to Alma Mater. In his address he recalled highlights in the early history of the institution.

Nova Scotia Coal Industry Needs Home Support

"What would happen if the Federal government were suddenly to announce that it had decided to discontinue Old Age Pensions? To cut off Family Allowances? To scrap the Dominion-Provincial tax payments?

"I say to you that the people would rise en masse and that there would be a revolution in the province of Nova Scotia!"

Nn soapbox orator this horanguing the local radical cell, but the Hon. Malcolm Patterson, Attorney-General and Minister of Mines, opening and keynoting one of the most impressive gatherings of labor, industrial and community leaders ever assembled in the provincial capital.

Mr. Patterson added:

"We would be up in arms. We would fight such a development to the last ditch. But when our greatest industry is on the brink of disaster--an industry which every year brings into Nova Scotia far more millions than old age pensions, family allowances and Ottawa tax payments combined--what do we do?

"Our service clubs, our labor organizations, our people as a whole sit quietly and complacently, doing nothing, saying nothing."

This apathy, he admitted, is due largely to the coal industry having been taken more or less for granted for a century and ahalf. To lack sufficient individual information, first about its tremendous importance to every man, woman and child in the province, and secondly about the comparatively sudden, extreme and deadly peril to whicih the industry and the province are now exposed.

He warned: "Some people shrug it off with the bland statement that 'oil is more convenient.' Let me say to you that if our coal industry goes down, we will not have the money to buy either coal or oil--we will be driven out of the province."

Mr. Patterson announced that the government will give leadership in a summer long campaign of advertising in which its efforts will be matched dollar for dollar by the chief coal operator, the purposes of which are the replacement as far as possible of oil by automatic coal fuel appliances, to halt installation of further oil burners in future, and to introduce automatic coal equipment in situation not yet convered to oil.

Daily and weekly newspapers and provincial radio stations will be fully utilized in this all out effort to help the coal industry over the hump until 1960, by which time it is estimated that the natural growth of the country and potential industrial developments will ease the tension and once more provide a bouyant market for coal.

Lionel A. Forsythe, president of Dominion Steel and Coal, said that "if ever there was a time for deeds not words that time is now."

In recent years there has been much concern over the lack of sufficient new industries for Nova Scotia. We must now realize that the "bird in the hand is worth two in the bush" and is the one to save.

Just how valuable is this bird in the hand the province was reminded when Mr. Forsythe showed that coal operations alone employ 14,281, and directly support a population of at least 75,000 persons, with annual wage disbursements of over $37,000,000 and annual supply purchases of over $21,000,000. (Old age pensions, family allowances and Ottawa payments together bring in less than $40,000,000.)

Coal pensions alone come to more than a million annually, and municipal treasuries benefit to the tune of nearly $700,000.

"But," said Mr. Forsythe, "he is a mighty sick bird," due principally to the competition of oil fuel.

The president said frankly that the corporation has made mistakes in its sales policies in the past. But any corporation of which he is head will admit its mistakes and do its best to apply the lessons of the past to the problems of the future.

He praised Federal assistance on transportation which is now over four dollars a ton on coal landed in Ceneral Canada. Ottawa is doing well in this respect, the provincial government is solidly behind the operators in their efforts to save the Nova Scotia industry--it is up to the people of Nova Scotia to lend an effective hand themselves.

Both Mr. Patterson and Mr. Forsythe mentioned that on recent visits to Ottawa the question has been asked: "But what are your people doing for themselves?"

Freemam Jenkins, president of UMW District 26, United Mine workers of America, spoke briefly and estimated that there are now 90,000 oil heating units in use in Maritime homes, and that these plus the inroads caused by diesilization of the CNR are causing sales losses of one million tons annually.

Mr. Jenkins urged action: "Hesitating and hanging back by any one of the three parties to the present campaign would mean nullification of the efforts of the other two."

He pledged the 100 per cent support of organized labour in and about the mines of Nova Scotia.

George Murray, Iron Fireman representative, announced an additional advertising campaign by his firm to run concurrently with the government and operators ads. He said the general public is unaware of the radilal changes that have come over the automatic coal fuel scene. It is now possible to fill a tank with small size coal with no more fuss than oil is poured into the basement.

From the tank it flows through the furnace without being touched by human hands. The coal shovel is a thing of the past.

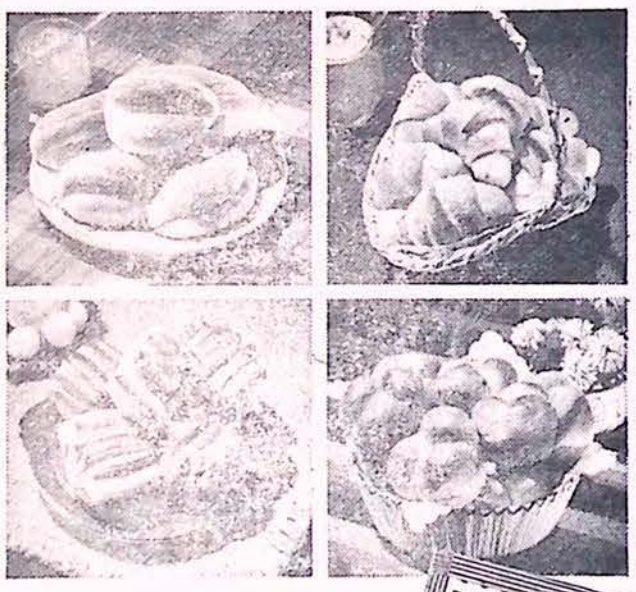

Hon. George Prud'homme, Federal Minister of Mines,down from Ottawa to lend strong support to the campaign, had been praised

IN BOSTON-N. S. SERVICE

The S. S. Evangeline will replace her sister-ship, the S. S. Yarmouth, in the Boston-Nova Scotia service this summer, A. B. Sharp, president of Eastern Steamship Lines, has announced.

The thrice-weekly service between Boston and Yarmouth, Nova Scotia, will begin Friday, June 18, and continue until Sunday, September 19.

The S. S. Evangeline is in Boston now being fitted for the service.

Return of the Evangeline to the popular overnight service between Boston and Nova Scotia is timely because the province is preparing to observe the 200th anniversary of the expulsion of the Acadians, an event immortalized by Henry W. Longfellow in his epic poem, "Evangeline."

LITTLE-KNOWN FACTS FROM THE READER'S DIGEST

In the first electronic range designed for home kitchens a cake bakes in three minutes, a potato in five, a 16-pound turkey roasts in an hour and a quarter, reports the current Reader's Digest. Bacon is broiled on a paper plate, with a paper napkin underneath to absorb the grease. No pots to wash, since food is cooked on dishes on which it is to be served.

A group of school children were meeting of the village board in the hope that they would learn something about government. Occasionally the mayor interrupted the board proceedings to explain things. The youngsters squirmed and looked around at maps on one wall and a huge moose's head on another.

When the meeting closed, the mayor asked, "Any questions, children?"

"Yes," said one small boy, "Who shot the moose?"

WORLD STILL LOVES A QUEEN TOUR PROVES

On their recent royal tour, Queen Elizabeth II and her husband the Duke of Edinburgh, covered nearly 50,000 miles, visited 14 countries and crossed three oceans, travelling by train, plane, ship, helicopter, jeep, auto and horse carriage.

Telling of this royal junket, June Reader's Digest says: "By her stunning performance Elizabeth refuted those Socialist critics who had said royalty was getting too expensive. The tour has proved if proof were needed again, that the people of the world dearly worship a symbol and, if the symbol is for good, then the symbol for bad has no chance against it. You cannot be a Communist or a Fascist and stand for two days in the sun or rain in order to catch a fleeting glimpse of a young girl who wears a crown."

Elizabeth and Philip attended, on the tour, 185 state functions, balls, parties, luncheons and dinners. They planted trees, unveiled memorials, laid wreaths, held investitures, broadcast speeches, opened parliaments. They shook about 50,000 hands, changed costumes an average of four times a day, and reviewed countless troops and constabularies. Through it all, they did not miss a serious engagement or fall seriously ill.

The tour involved a piece of logistics, "roughly comparable to that of a small war." The royal luggage weighed 12 tons, and Army, Navy and Air forces were deployed in supporting roles.

Elizabeth's wardrobe, which included more than 60 special costumes with shoes and hats, plus 200 pairs of white gloves, "never presented her as anything but immaculate," the Digest observes.

SERVICES AVAILABLE

In recent months your Department of Trade and Industry, through its field representatives and through these advertisements has been offering its services to secondary industries to help in the solution of their management problems. It is felt by the Department that use of its facilities can be of benefit, particularly to the manager of a small industry.

As an additional service your Department is now making available certain pamphlets entitled "Management Aids for Small Business" published for the use of manufacturers by the Small Business Administration of the United States Government. Your Department feels that information of this type could be of use to the management of Nova Scotia secondary industries. For comparatively young firms they may be especially useful. Older and well established firms may find them of interest in that they can compare their own methods with the pamphlets' suggestions.

Made available last month were the following: "How the Small Plant Can Analyze Old and New Markets" and "Pitfalls in Estimating Your Manufacturing Costs." A third pamphlet is now ready for distribution entitled "Budgeting in the Small Plant." To obtain any of these, ask your Field Representative or write the Commercial Services Division, Department of Trade and Industry, Provincial Building, Halifax.

DANIEL C. BOUDREAU

The death of Daniel C. Boudreau, a lifelong resident of this town occurred at his home on the 22nd inst., in his 82nd year.

The late Mr. Boudreau was a quiet and friendly man, beloved by his wiife and family and the many friends who had the pleasure of his acquaintance.

During his early life he was engaged as a sealer in the corn industry in Maine and in latter years was on the staff of the Lobster Hatchery, when it was in opertion here. For some years he was employed by the Portland Packing Company. Wherever Dan Boudreau was employed, he was a general favorite with his fellow-workmen and also held in high regard by his employers.

He reared a large and worthy family, many of whom are now residents of the U. S. A.

Surviving besides his wife are: Leo and Charlie of White Plains, N. Y.; Steve and Jake, of Boston, Mass.; Jimmie of Halifax; Lorenzo and Joe, Arichat. Two daughters, Mrs. James B. Morrison. (Lillian), of Boston, Mass., and Mrs. L. H. McKeown, (Edna), of Newtownards, Ireland.

Mrs. Morrison, Mrs. McKeown and Leo, were home to attend the funeral, which was held from Notre Dame Church, with Rev. A. P. Poirier, Celebrant at Requiem High Mass. The funeral was largely attended which attested to the esteem in which the deceased was held.

We extend our personal sympathy to the bereaved wife and family in their sad bereavement.

CARD OF THANKS

The wife and family of the late Daniel C. Boudreau, of Arichat, wish to express their sincere thanks to all kind neighbours and friends for kindness shown them in the recent passing of a beloved husband and father. Our special thanks to those who loaned cars, sent Mass cards and messages of sympathy.

Nova Scotia Coal Industry

by both government and union representatives for his friendly, co-operative attitude toward previous delegations to Ottawa.

He did say, however, that there is a feeling up there that "The community (Nova Scotia) doesn't seem to be supporting the industry the way it should."

Mr.Prud'homme urged vigorous prosecution of this campaign to put coal back in the homes of Nova Scotia, saying:

When you lose your home-market, it is difficult to persuade taxpayers in other parts of Canada to support it.'

Ottawa from time to time had heard rumors of discord and distrust. "It is therefore refreshing to attend such a gathering as this and find management, labor and the government all working in such close harmony."

He spoke of coal experiments now briskly pushed on gas turbines at McGill, and such already achieved mechanical marvels as the Desco Miner which is revolutioning coal winning in Cape Breton.

Canada ere long will have a population of at least 22,000,000 people and will be using two and one half times the fuel it now requires.

The great problem is to keep the coal industry of Nova Scotia going in the meantime. He pledged his best support to this campaign, which he likened in its local consequences and stakes to the Battle of Britain in the Hitler war, and urged his hearers so to fight it that, in Churchill's words, it may be said in years to come: "This was their finest hour."

Sporting Mountain Echoes

Spring is exerting itself on Sporting Mountain in a very pronounced way, and the sun-kissed slopes are bedecked with all the flowers that are seasonable in May.

During the week Jack Thibeau catered to his customers in Seaview with fresh fish and proprietor Fougere of the Hawker Market with fresh meat.

John N. Morrison was a business visitor from St. Peters to Seaview and Thibeauville, Tuesday, and made some neighbourly calls.

Alfred Boudreau nd Arthur Fougere were business motor visitors to Sydney.

Alfred Boudreau and Arthur for a half-ton truck which will be more serviceable generally.

A. W. H. McDonald accompanied Ceretha McLennan over the mail route Tuesday evening.

We compliment those who assembled the other day to make some improvements on Sporting Mountain Cemetery and its approaches.

After a residence of some eighteen years in Seaview, Mr. and Mrs. Francis Gilmette moved, Wednesday, to the new home recently purchased at Hawker.

Leonel LeBlanc made the transfer.

Orderly and unoffensive citizens we wish Mr. and Mrs. Gilmette well at "The River."

Mr. and Mrs. J. Melvin Mason were holiday motor visitors to the Steel City.

Thomas Morrison was a business motor visitor over the top of Sporting Mountain, Friday and dropped in for a talk.

"History of the Telephone in Nova Scotia", recalled happenings in the home area that particular spring, one a tragic death from exposure near Kytes River.

A native son of this section, and a scion of a family well and favourably known in the community through successive generations since pioneer days, we were glad for a visit from Dan McPhee of New Waterford, Sunday evening.
