FIFTY-SEVENTH YEAR | ARICHAT, CAPE BRETON, N. S., JUNE 26, 1954 | No. 42

ST. PETER'S NEWS

BY ROBIN HOOD

Mr. Norman MacLeod, of Otisville, New York, the author of "Yarns Spun on the Old Spinning Wheel," which we all enjoy reading, is assuming the credit for awakening us from our long slumbers and we must really admit that it was through his noble efforts that we have undertaken the responsibility of sending the news from St. Peters, sparce though it may be and written by this old timer, who is not active enough to be alert to all the goings and comings, but will try to live up to the pointers given by Mr. MacLeod in one of his yarns.

Like a Rip Van Winkle, arising from his slumbers, we are now in the process of exercising our muscles, and with the aid of Joseph Kyte's, "Rawleigh's Liniment," should be in shape to continue our effort and keep the writer's cramp from entering the joints of our fingers.

Your correspondent from "Sporting Mountain", has also added a bouquet to our effort, and if we were endowed with half the ability of D. A. S., Robin Hood could express himself in a manner that would be more befitting to a correspondent, but trying to please Mr. MacLeod and other readers of the Record abroad and at home, we will do our best,

In following D. A. S.'s Echoes for the past several years, one cannot help but admire this man who is a lover of nature and a friend to all.

Postmaster Roy Stewart has been indisposed and we do trust that he will soon be back on the job again fully recovered. One of the boys of the "Old Brigade", Roy Stewart is a son of a pioneer family of this town.

Robin Hood and many other friends in St. Peters were exceedingly glad to see their old friend Freeman Tupper, a former employee of the Mersey Paper Company, who at one time was a resident of this town, in charge of operations for that Company in Richmond County.

Mr. and Mrs. John N. Morrison, our new residents in the community, were motor visitors to the old home in Seaview last week. Good neighbors and citizens, may they enjoy much happiess in the years to come.

There seems to be no scarcity of fresh fish, and if the indication of fish peddlars is any sign, we are safe in saying that soon we will have more peddlars than fish. The other day, "Robin Hood" complained about the price of fresh haddock and the French boy making the sale remarked,"She may cost you something, but by gosh! that fish she is good for the brain,"

It would appear that this is just the food we need, and besides living up to our fast day obligations will also have a tendency to improve our faculty.

John (Jack) Coffie, Manager, of the Royal Bank of Canada, Sydney Mines Branch, is going into retirement, after many years of faithful service. Strange as it may seem another St. Peter's boy, Clarence Campbell, will replace Mr. Coffie at Sydney Mines. Mr. Campbell was Manager of the Arichat Branch, for the past several years. Clarence is a son of Capt. and Mrs. Patrick Campbell.

John MacDonald, better known as (Jack the Piper), is a patient at St. Mary's Hospital, Inverness.

A native of Soldier's Cove, Jack served in both wars, and was on active service in World War 1.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. Cameron were recent motor visitors to L'Ardoise, guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Martell.

We liked your last poem, "Old Timer."Your beautiful lines bring us back to memory lane and may your thoughts hasten you back to the scenes you love so well.

Yarns Spun On The Old Spinning Wheel

By Norman L. MacLeod

(The Annex, Otisville, N. Y.)

Whew! Five dollars for shoes! Sixty years ago only people of affluence paid over two dollars while many people perambulated about in one dollar underpinnings. Larrigans, the progenitors of galoshes or overshoes, retailed as low as fifty cents a pair. This launches me on the yarn I promised to spin about a retired English soldier.

William Gibson, garrisoned in a Canadian city, possibly Halifax, Nova Scotia, met and married Miss Thibeau, one of River Bourgeois's fair sex. On his ,retirement from the army he went to live with his family at his wife's former home. He was a genius, capable of doing practically anything that could be done with human hands.

He resided in the community only a short time when he came into prominence by introducing a hand-made shoe for five dollars. It was a good-looking shoe, well made and had the distinguishing feature of an inner cork sole insuring greater comfort to the wearer. Takers at that price were few and Mr. Gibson was not the type that would sit idly by awaiting orders. Business suspended.

St. Peter's at that time was a community of law-abiding citizens few of whom ever kicked over the traces, and in this arena of criminal inactivity Mr. Gibson was appointed as a special constable. His duties would seldom amount to more than process serving with possibly an occasional arrest, a rather colorless job for a colorful ex-soldier.

Having hands of great cunning he took up his shears and needle and fashioned himself a coat and cap, adorning them with the necessary brass in buttons and braid. a very trim looking outfit, especially when worn by a man of such soldierly carriage as our constable.

Dr. Jekyll never turned into Mr. Hyde with greater rapidity than our constabulary became a police force. Every evening from the going down of the sun until the ringing of the curfew the police force was on active duty and not ensconced, in a swivel chair with feet elevated to the top of a desk. Starting at the schoolhouse the force marched down Main Street on one side as far as the post-office, returning on the other side.

With head erect, chest out, belly in and in a well-tailored, good fitting blue uniform with a double row of brass buttons down the front of the coat, three smaller ones on either side of the aperture in the back, insignia on cap, badge on breast, and swinging a most formidable looking billy, with people staring to the right of him, people staring to the left of him, onward majestically marched the police force!

Shortly the glamor began to wane and those who at first showed their dislike became more vociferous in their resentment, while those who were slightly awe-stricken returned to their former state of apathy. But the younger element went into action and did something about it. On or about the third evening while the police force marched down one side of the street they marched up the other, giving full vent to their vocal cords. Outnumbered, the force retired.

Not being schooled in strategy the youngsters were unprepared for the next move. The following day when they were disbanded he appeared in full uniform and presented each with a printed invitation to appear before the town magistrate charged with disorderly conduct. On the morning of the day set for the trial the magistrate was suddenly stricken(?) with some kind of a virus and the trial was never held. The uniform was placed in moth balls, the police force folded up, but Mr. Gibson functioned in a creditable manner as a constable later.

When everybody said it could not be done he generally went ahead , and did it. Perhaps his crowning achievement was an architect and builder

Purchasing a piece of property in the west end of town, overlooking the St. Peters Bay, single-handed he began to build what promised to be the most picturesque looking home in town.

Gathering foundation stones he trundled them in his wheelbarrow to the site. Equipped with spirit level, plumbline and pick and shovel, he broke ground. After finishing the excavation he built the foundation wall on the completion of which he was ready for the erection of the building.

Tongues wagged about the manor that was being built on the crest of the hill. Those who saw the plans he prepared and then looked over the lumber cut to different sizes were puzzled. Some simply shook their heads and said nothing; others guffawed and said it couldn't be done. But unperturbed this architect. laborer, mason, carpenter, plasterer builder carriedor.

He had so marked or numbered all material that he always knew the right board or piece of lumber to select with the result that there soon arose a mansion that outgabled Nathaniel Hawthorne.s "House of Seven Gables." What lookked like an inexplicable jigsaw puzzle to everyone proved to be a thoughtfully worked out plan that readily took shape, each piece fitting perfectly, when guided by the hand of the designer.

Whether it is still standing or how it withstood the elements those living in St. Peters know. The critics said it had too many corners and angles that it would leak, be cold, etc.,but the builder maintained that it was sound of body and limb. My personal opinion, if I may inject it here, is that he was a genius and whatever he did he did well.

John A. (Ted) Morrison

The Post-Record of the 17th. inst., carried the obituary of John A. Morrison, a punctual and proficient employee of the steel plants electrical department.

He was a son of Mr. and Mrs Wilfred Morrison, well known citizens of St. Peters.

A veteran of World War One, "Teddy," as he was affectionately known, has been absent from his home town through all the decades that have intervened.

The bereaved widow (an overseas war bride,) the only son, Douglas, the worthy parents, and surviving members of the family have the sympathy of all in their sad affliction.

Alfred Boudreau is employed with Contractor Fougere at St. Peters, and thus Elliott McLeod gets free transportation to and from his work at the Gov. Fish Hatchery.

Mr. and Mrs. Burge Ross, of Roberta, and A W. H. McDonald of Oban were recent visitors to Seaview.

Dan McDonald and Murdoch Murray were passengers on the mail conveyance Thursday evening, and dropped off here.

Thus we were privileged to an interesting social period ere Ceretha returned from Hawker.

John Morrison and his attractive daughter, Joan, of Mira Road (one of the Steel City's prettiest suburbs) are motor visitors to St. Peter's, guests of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Morrison.

Saturday the household comprised a motor party to visit Mr. and Mrs. Robert Morrison at "The Shore."

Enroute they detoured through Seaview and made friendly calls at the Goswell home and our house by the wayside.

J. Calder Goswell of Halifax is spending a week with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Goswell, preparatory to their moving to the Provincial Metropolis.

Citizens Honor Bank Manager And Family

Citizens from Arichat and other parts of Isle Madame, honored Mr. and Mrs. Campbell and daughter, Ellen, at the County Hall, prior to their departure for Sydney Mines, where Mr. Campbell is being transferred as Manager of that Branch of the Royal Bank.

Mr. M. S. Binet, acted as chairman of the gathering and in his opening remarks paid tribute to Mr. Campbell and family, and called on Mr. E. C. Doyle, Municipal Clerk-Treasurer, to read and present an address on behalf of the citizens of Isle Madame. Mr. Doyle, before reading the well worded address, spoke highly of Mr. Campbell, as Manager of the Royal Bank, and also spoke in glowing terms of the Campbell family as citizens of Arichat.

The full text of the address is as follows:

• • •

Dear Mr. Campbell:

On the eve of your departure to continue your duties as a Bank Manager in a larger sphere, we have assembled in our Municipal Hall to express a public appreciation of your seven years of highly effective and efficient services as Manager of the Arichat Isle Madame Branch of the Royal Bank of Canada.

Over the years gone by many have preceded you at Arichat in that exacting and responsible position. All of them excelled in their possession of those qualities of head and heart so conducive to the career of a successful and deeply appreciated Bank Manager. To that Honor roll we are now happy to add the name—Clarence Campbell.

To our every day life during your stay at Arichat, yourself together with Mrs. Campbell and winsome little daughter Ellen, have unwittingly contributed much towards community fostering of Principle and Character—the recognized foundation stones of a sound and enduring nation. All in all, be it on the financial or cultural field, we are richer as the result of your sojourn with us. Our knowledge of the latter fosters the thought—God speed you and may every success attend your new field of labour.

However, words alone never can convey a complete appreciation. There must be something tangible that involves a material sacrifice accompanying. Accordingly, all the Isle Madame communities have contributed and made possible this presentation of travelling kits and purse to yourself and family. Please acaept this small offering together with our prayers —may all your future journeys be both happy and profitable.

Be assured we sincerely regret your leave taking. On the other hand we rejoice—knowing you now move on to a deserved promotion in itself a shining recognition of your sterling worth. We conclude with Au Revoir—which is not good bye.

M. S. BINET - Chairman
E. C. DOYLE - Secretary
Arichat, N. S.

• • •

After the reading of the address, a purse of money and three beautiful travelling bags were presented to the Campbell family as a token of esteem, from their friends on Isle Madame.

In reply to the address and presentation, Mr. Campbell on behalf of his wife and daughter, Ellen, thanked all for their kindness.

Mr. Campbell spoke of the happy relations with the people of Isle Madame and that during his residence here, while Manager and in prior years as Teller on the staff of the local branch, the friendship extended to him and his family would always be cherished in the years to come.

Other speakers in their brief address all wished the Campbell family every happiness in the future, and spoke highly of them as citizens of the town.

Mr. Wilfred Corbett, the new Manager was present and when called upon to speak paid tribute to Mr. Campbell, and remarked that he entered the local branch of the Bank some years ago, when Mr. Campbell was being transferred elsewhere, and that this time, a re-occurrence was taking place. Mr. Corbett in closing wished the Campbell family every success for their future happiness.

At the conclusion the gathering sang, "For they are jolly good fellows."

NOVA SCOTIA COAL - THE THRIFTY FUEL

No. 1B Bankhead, Cape Breton

USE NOVA SCOTIA COAL

With a coal-burning furnace of modern design which is fed by an automatic stoker, a very steady heat can be obtained because there is always a fire burning in the furnace. Consequently, the temperature of the water in the heating system may be kept practically constant. A constant temperature may be obtained in the home if the system is provided with adequate controls. This constant temperature which gives a maximum of comfort is not obtainable from other fuels. Where fuels other than coal are used the fire is extinguished entirely when a pre-determined temperature is reached in the home. This results in a temperature variation of as much as six degrees with the attendant discomforts which such a variation causes. You can avoid this temperature variation by using Nova Scotian coals in the proper furnace.

Give your family the comfort of a steady heat in the winter months by using Nova Scotian coals.
