Sporting Mountain Echoes

MRS. ANNIE MAY LEONARD

Succeeding so soon the tragic death of her husband, the untimely passing of Mrs. Leonard tugged at the heart strings of the entire countryside. Personally we had occasion to be sorry.

We knew "Annie May," from the cradle up, and like her parents before her, she was ever numbered among our friends.

Whenever she had cause to come to Sporting Mountain she'd never bypass our little home by the roadside, and thus did we make the acquaintance of her fine family of sons and daughters upon whom the sympathy of everybody is centered in their twofold and exceedingly sad bereavement.

Enroute to River Deny's from their home in St. Peter's, Friday morning, Mr. and Mrs. Allister Calder and family had occasion to detour through Seaview and thus were we privileged to a brief chat with them on the roadside.

A. W. H. MacDonald was to Sydney during the week to consult an eye specialist.

We were glad to see Mrs. A. Gordon (Kaye McDonald) and younger son, Glenn, of Coxheath when they accompanied Ceretha over the mail route, Saturday evening.

Thomas Morrison was a motor visitor from St. Peter's Friday evening, and dropped in for an extended and interesting talk.

We congratulate Mrs. Fred Digout (Theresa Baccardax) upon a superlatively successful term in Seaview School.

We wish our energetic neighbor, the senior Mr. Mason, a speedy recovery from the illness which at present restricts him to the home.

John Fougere of the Hawker Market, caters to meat and fish (fresh and corned) requirements of this area every Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Verhagan and a trio of pretty little children aged six, four and two, respectively are our new neighbors on the Goswell farm. They are apparently as friendly and neighbourly as the Martins and Konnings who preceded them.

Enroute to Oban Mr. and Mrs. Robert Morrison of the South Side, accompanied by Jessie McDonald, Jr. of Oban dropped in to see us Sunday afternoon.

We are always gladdened by a call from these ever cheerful and sociable folk.

Mr. and Mrs. William Bissonette, their son Leonel, who is a visitor at the home, and son and daughter in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Adrien Bissonette and their little family quartet, comprised a motor party from Port Hawkesbury, Sunday evening and were guests at the LeBlanc home.

Leonel Bissonette got his elementary education in Seaview School, but supplemented it elsewhere, and now holds down a lucrative position of trust in Central Canada.

Presents Certificates

REV. A. P. POIRIER, of Arichat, Vice - President, Provincial Red Cross, was in Sydney, this week, where he presented certificates of merit to Red Cross workers, in that city. Among those being presented was our good friend, W. J. (Bill) Stephens, President of the Sydney branch of that Society, whose work has been outstanding.

Mural of Revelstoke Park, B. C.

Palette in hand, Robert W. Pilot of Montreal, (top) president of the Royal Canadian Academy, poses beside his nearly-finished mural of Revelstoke Park in British Columbia which will dominate the mural lounge of one of the Canadian Pacific Railway's 18 scenic dome sleeper lounge cars, like the one pictured below. Each of the new-type cars will be named after one of Canada's national or provincial parks, and the C. P. R., through the sponsorship of the Royal Canadian Academy, has commissioned 18 of Canada's best-known artists to depict the natural beauties of each of the parks in mural form for the lounge which is situated under the upper level dome. The "Park" cars are part of an order for 173 stainless steel, streamlined cars which, when delivered, will revolutionize transcontinental travel in Canada.

Edinburgh Weekly Pays Tribute to Angus L.

Nova Scotian Whose Heart Was Highland

MR. ANGUS L. MACDONALD, Premier of Nova Scotia, whose death at the age of 64 has been reported from Halifax, will be mourned personally by a large number of people in Scotland.

He made many new friendships when he visited Britain last year, and none more firmly than when he came to Scotland in the autumn. On that occasion, both officially and socially, he found himself "at home" again after the 150 years since his great-grandfather emigrated to Nova Scotia from Moidart.

He felt the ties of kinship with Scotland deeply and keenly. On the Esplanade of Edinburgh Castle he unveiled a plaque gifted to Scotland by the Government of Nova Scotia in commemoration of the granting of estates in Nova Scotia to Scots baronets over three centuries ago. When he unveiled the plaque, he said:-

"May it remain here for ever. But let it, and this castle rock itself, crumble away before the ties, that link our two lands shall be impaired or severed."

On that day on the Castle Esplanade, he sprinkled a handful of earth from Nova Scotia into the Castle's dry moat; over his head flew the national flag of Nova Scotia —the saltire of Scotland on a sea-green field, with the Lion Rampant superimposed; men of the North Nova Scotia Highlanders from duty in Germany, stood by the plaque; the Royal Scots provided a Guard of Honour; and Mr. MacDonald had his own personal "guard" of six kilted members of Clan Donald.

A few days before his Castle ceremony Mr. MacDonald spent a week in Oban at the Jubilee Mod of An Comunn Gaidhealach. He showed himself there one of the most devoted sons of Gaeldom.

Though he spoke it with a Trans-atlantic "blas," he had fluent Gaelic, and in his speech at the Mod's official opening he used that language to refer to the bond of blood and tradition that bound old Scotland with the "New Scotland."

Mr. MacDonald, who was born in the heart of the Cape Breton Highlands, was severely wounded as a Captain in the Canadian Highland Brigade shortly before the World War 1 armistice. Between the wars he was successively a barrister, Nova Scotia's Assistant Attorney-General, leader of the Nova Scotia Liberals, and, for the first time, in 1933, Nova Scotia's Premier.

He left the Premiership in 1940 to become Canada's first Navy Minister, and as such he developed the Canadian Navy from a force of 2,000 men and half a dozen ships to one of more than 90,000 men and 500 ships.

He returned to the Premiership of Nova Scotia in 1945, and he was re-elected Premier last May.

We regret to hear the sad news of the passing of Mrs. Robert Sampson of Louisdale, N. S. The late Mrs. Sampson was the former Mary Barb Marchand, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Bennie Marchand. She was 87 years old and was quite active up until 2 years ago, when she was taken ill. She married Henry Goyetche in 1894, who predeceased her in 1900. In 1911 she married Robert Sampson who also predeceased her. She had 5 children by the first marriage. Measure into large bowl, ½ c. lukewarm water, 1 tsp. granulated sugar; stir until sugar is dissolved. Sprinkle slowly with 1 envelope Fleischmann's Active Dry Yeast. Let stand 10 min., THEN stir well. Scald 1 c. milk and stir in 5 tbs. granulated sugar, 2 tsps. salt; cool to lukewarm. Add to yeast mixture and stir in ½ cup lukewarm water. Beat in 3 c. once-sifted bread flour; beat well. Beat in 4 tbs. melted shortening. Work in 3 c. more once-sifted bread flour. Punch down dough in bowl, grease top and let rise again until nearly doubled. Punch down dough and roll out, half at a time, into a rectangle a scant ¼" thick; lift dough, cover with cloth and let rest 5 min. Brush with melted butter or shortening; cut into strips 1½" wide. DUNDEE DEW DROPS

MRS. C. R. LEONARD

The death occurred on June 17th, of Mrs. C. R. (Annie Mae) Leonard, at her home in West Bay, following a period of illness, after returning from V. G. Hospital, Halifax, where she failed to respond to medical treatment.

Her death which followed that of her beloved husband, who met his fate in a car accident eight months previous, casts another gloom over the Leonard home, and an extended wide area.

The funeral among the largest ever witnessed in the vicinity, took place on Monday, beginning at her late residence, and thence at 2 p. m to West Bay United Church where a teary eyed congregation, heard a most impressive service from Rev. R. Humby, pastor of the congregation, who also sang, most beautifully a solo, "Round me Falls the Night." with Mrs. A. A. Mac Innes, Organist.

The collection of flowers, sympathy cards, and many other tokens of rememberance, expressed in a wide measure, the high regard held for the beloved "Annie Mae", whose sympathetic heart shared the sorrows of many friends, while her strength permitted her to contact them.

On more than one occasion, she was known to have left her sick bed to attend a funeral.

Among other selections sang during the service was the beautiful and most appropriate hymn 456 in the hymnary, "When on my day of life the night is falling," a request by her cousin, Mrs. H. M. MacInnes, to be sang in the home.

Interment was at West Bay cemetery.

Surviving are one step-sister, Mrs. Hubert Olsen and one brother Ross MacMillan, Roberta, besides a family of nine, Ross, Sydney, Mitchel, Creighton R.(Jr.), Lawrence, Winston and Donald at home, also Minnie Alice, Jean and Frances at home.

Four step sons also survive, Herbert of Halifax, Alex serving in Germany, Lloyd, Hamilton Ont., and Wallace at home. All, excepting Alex. were home for the funeral.

Our deepest sympathy is extended to the sorrowing family, sister and brother.

CAPE AUGUET

Construction work has started on our roads and the Government bulldozer operated by Raymond Stone is doing a splendid job. We understand a new breakwater is to get underway very shortly, and by early fall electric power is coming to our community, which is just what we have been waiting for.

Mrs. Harry LeBlanc, who spent over a year in Glace Bay Hospital, arrived home on Saturday fully recovered. She is being warmly welcomed by her many friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Martell, of Halifax, arrived home on Saturday where they will spend two week's vacation, guests of Mr. and Mrs. Jeffrey LeBlanc. Mr. Martell is an employ of the Nova Scotian Hotel. We wish them a very pleasant holiday.

Mrs. Francis DeCoste who spent the winter months with her parents in Sheet Harbour, arrived home last week with her young son David. They are at present guests of Mr. and Mrs. Frank DeCoste.

Bart Briand, chief cook on the S. S. O-We Ra, Mulgrave spent the week-end here guest of his parents Mr. and Mrs. Alphonse Briand. He was accompanied by his chief mate Mr. John Meunier of Canso. They returned to their duties on Monday.

Clarence Goyetche, crew member on the dragger,"Donna Louise" spent the week-end here with his mother, Mrs. Mary Goyetche.

Amable Boudreau, of Halifax, is spending a week's vacation with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bennie Boudreau. Amable has been employed with the National Fish Co., for the past twelve years. May he enjoy his visit.

David Boudreau recently purchased a 1954 G. M. C. truck from Seigle Motors of Sydney.

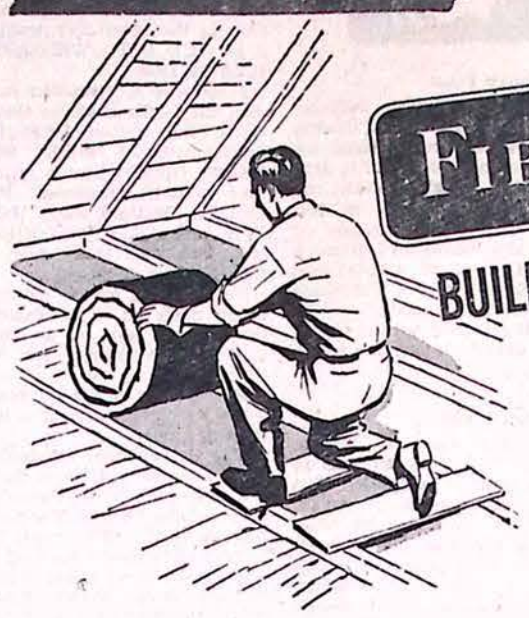

Mr. and Mrs. Bennie Boudreau were motor visitors to Dundee on Saturday, where they visited their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Francis Ryan.

Sylvester Boudreau and his brother Agappie have purchased a 1949 Plymouth sedan from Mac Pherson Motors of Sydney.

Priscilla Goyetche who has been employed in Arichat, arrived home to spend the summer with her mother, Mrs. Mary Goyetche.

Until recent years, most domestic furnaces using coal were hand-fired. Many are still hand-fired today. The firing of the furnace and the removal of ashes causes some work and some inconvenience. This is not necessary today with a properly designed furnace with its accompanying automatic stoker device.

With modern appliances, coal can be fed directly and automatically as it is required from the coal bin into the furnace. Modern furnaces are fitted with ash removal units which automatically remove ashes from the furnace and place them in a conveniently placed receptacle. Such coal-burning furnaces are just as convenient as any other type of automatic furnace available today.
