Tales, Tidings And Tidbits from Montreal

A BELATED LETTER TO A LITTLE LADY

Dear Mary Pat:

You will remember the day last July when you travelled to Walkerville with MacTavish; how we stopped for a moment at Grand Anse Corner to say Hello to Willie Urquhart and then how we rolled along through Whiteside and along over the winding dirt roads and finally down the grass lined drive way to the big white house that has stood for nigh a century by the waters of the Passage whose thousands and thouands of tides have advanced and receded by its very doors. That as you know is the home to which your Great Grandmother came to as a bride and in it she lived, loved and laughed and raised a fine large family in the best traditions of a bygone age. And you will recall, Mary Pat, how your Great Aunt, Lizzie Walker and the uncles Dave and Frank spread out the welcome mat to all of us and then later how you and I and wee MacTavish strolled along the stone strewn beach and how we stepped gingerly along the temporarily exposed isthmus to Gull Island; the abundant shells and the slithery green, salt savoured sea weed still oozing with the water which had left it for an hour or two at low tide.

You will remember how we discovered two beautiful sleek feathers that the wind had whipped from the wings of a soaring gull, how we marvelled at their beauty and how we fashioned the quill and promised to write each other with these crude pens of the ancients.

Well, Mary Pat, MacTavish received your fine letter some time ago and he was proud to hear from you. I appreciated your faithfulness but I was also ashamed for I had broken faith with you and had been careless and had lost my quill--and perhaps a friend...which indeed are hard to come by.

You see, Little Lady, while MacTavish gamboled about old greens in Cape Breton he met many old friends and he enjoyed talking to them. There were chaps like Colin MacIntosh from Allston, Mass., genuinely enthused and hearty as all get out, and his wife and his daughter and a Mrs. Campbell from the South Side and her daughter and other people one particular day gathered about the home of popular Dan Alex on the sun caressed slope of Sporting Mountain, and there was Jim Sutherland who is a raconteur in his own right and who made MacTavish tingle with tales of other days. Gracious, Mary Pat, there were so many we met and each meeting provided its own thrill; why even dropping in to chat with Charlie Cameron with his white duster immaculate and to have him chuckle in his own inimitable way was good indeed; to have Allan Alex cross the street and shake hands; to see one's own folk the Cottons and the Calders healthy, and happy to have you around was splendid; to say hello to Molly Brown of our town and to walk down the lane and sit with Dannie Morrison and sense the acrid odor as that fine old timer tacked the hot shoe to a singed hoof; to sit for a moment or two with Kennie Matheson in the den of his fine new home and talk of old times; to spend an hour with Don MacKenzie and Alex MacGoo; to rattle down the macadam road in Bill Goyetche's sloven; to shake Angus Ferguson's hand and perhaps a tiny toast....These things, Litte Lady, are the ingredients that go to make up a return to past pastures pleasant and joyful ..as it ought well to be.

And this is my public apology to a young friend who kept her part of a bargain with an aging adult and who must have lost faith in one particular being.

So to you, Mary Pat Trowbridge in your beautiful new home high above the Canal, landscaped prettily halfway between the mighty Atlantic and our own beautiful Eras d'Or a tip of MacTavish's tam for an assist in making our holiday what it was and as my long silent partner Baptiste has just barked at me: "I bet you plaintee, mon ami, eff you were fifteen rader dan de fiftee you be ....you'd write all de tame to dat fine lettle niece of dat Mrs. Annie J. Hill."

And I can but answer, "For sure, Baptiste, you bet your boots."

Bon jour,

MacTAVISH

A. K. Cruickshank

Funeral services were held on Thursday, Aug. 26th for the late A. K. (Sandy) Cruikshank of St. Peter's, N. S. Mr. Cruikshank who was in his 53rd year was born in Caledonia, Guys. Co., but lived in Sunnybrae, Pictou Co., until he moved to Cape Breton about 30 years ago. Since that time he has been in the employ of the Mersey Paper Company serving in various capacities and for many years has been Supervisor of the operations of the Company for Cape Bretnn.

His sudden and unexpected passing was a shock to all who knew him.

His is survived by his widow, the former Jean Chisholm of New Glasgow, and one son James, who is a Senior Commerce Student at St. Francis Xavier University. Also surviving are his mother, Mrs. Arthur Cruikshank, Sunnybrae, a brother Meigs at home, a sister Freda, Mrs. William Pelka, Providence, R. I., and two brothers Chester and Osborne of Cruikshank Motors, Port Hawkesbury.

Following a brief service at the home services were conducted at the St. Peter's United Church by Rev. N. S. MacDonald, a former Pastor who is now located in Sydney Mines. He was assisted by Rev Dr. G. A. Christie, Port Hastings. Rev. Mr. MacDonald paid tribute to his sterling character as a citizen of the community and stressed the high esteem in which he was held by everyone.

The many expressions of sympathy and the profusion of floral tributes bore testimony to the love and respect in which the late Mr. Cruikshank was held by his friends.

Pall bearers were Dr. J. H. Digout, J. A. Currie, C. W. Boyd, E. G. Gordon, William Holmes and James Ritcey. Interment was made in the St. Peter's Cemetery.

We thank a St. Peter's correspondent for ssnding us the above obituary and join with him in extending sincere sympathy to Mrs. Cruickshank and her son James.

Return to Duty

We had been indisposed for the past several weeks, three of which were spent at the Victoria General Hospital, Halifax, where we underwent an operation, performed by Dr. W. Allan Curry, an eminent surgeon of that city.

We take this opportunity of thanking Dr. Curry, the Supervisors and nursing staff of Victoria General, for the splendid treatment accorded us while a patient in this modern hospital, a credit to the Department of Public Health and the Province of Nova Scotia.

We regret the interruption in the publishing of the "Record", and are sorry for the inconvenience it has caused our advertisers, subscribers and commercial printing patrons.

The many cards and letters received from subscribers and friends wishing us a speedy recovery are much appreciated and gives one renewed vigor to carry on in the future.

While wewere in Halifax my wife was the guest of our good friends, Mr. and Mrs. John Bouchard, to whom we are deeply grateful for their kindness and hospitality extended to us.

It was nice to see the many friends who visited us at the hospital and to make the acquaintance of patients, among them was Cyril D. Robinson, a noted Canadian writer whose articles appear in the Montreal Standard. We are looking forward to a visit from Cyril in the near future.

Beneath the birches where the sun
Shines on the morning dew;
Time seems to garner one by one,
The loveliest that we knew.

And while we miss their presence rare,
From home and street and glen;
God rest them all who slumber there,
Until we meet again.

Let us have faith that right makes right, and in that faith let us to the end, dare to do our duty as we understand it.

STEWART MacLEAN

It was naturally with a sense of shock that citizens of this area learned on the evening of the second ult., that their familiarly and favorably known neighbour, Stewart MacLean, had met tragic death down on the railway through the treachery of a domestic animal which he was leading home from the vicinity of Sporting Mountain Station.

The youngest and most active quartet it was unfortunate that he was destined the first to go, for it means the breaking up of the well known MacLean home which has been a conspicuous part of our community life through successive generations since pioneer days. Already his brother, Hector has been moved to a home for the indisposed at Baddeck.

Rev. J. M. McLeod of St. Peters and Rev. R. C. Humby of West Bay jointly officiated at the funeral Sunday afternoon which was representative of every section from The Strait to the Steel City and thus a practical manifestation of the entire countryside's sentiments.

Burial was in the pretty little cemetery of southern exposure at The Cove, and was under the qualified direction of Mr. A. N. McDonald of Port Hawkesbury.

Incomplete interior improvements to the United Church in Grand River gave Rev. J. M. McLeod Sunday afternoon off and he took occasion to visit in this section of his charge.

The reverend gentleman's able address at the big funeral on the fifth ult. evoked considerable complimentary comment.

Among those whom we were especially pleased to meet there were Mrs. Mary McRae and her son Graham McDonald, of Sydney River.

We were Mr. McDonald's first teacher.

After an absence of some thirty years Dan Northover is a visitor from the Pacific Coast to relatives and friends in his native Cape Breton and is the welcome guest of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Morrison in the very home at "The Shore" in which he was reared to adult life.

On a recent fine evening Mr. and Mrs. Morrison accompanied him to our little domicile by the roadside and rarely have we been so favorably impressed by a friend ly visit.

A blending of paternal Northover and maternal MacRae and manifesting the good parts of both Mr. Northover is as most interesting personality with whom to enjoy a social hour.

Gaelic College To Operate Under Own Name

After seventeen years of pioneering, sponsored by the Cape Breton Island Gaelic Foundation, the Gaelic College, St. Ann's now will operate on its own feet and in its own name, it was disclosed recently at this Shiretown when a Gaelic College Official announced that Foundation Directors changed the name of the Pioneers Memorial institution from Foundation to College and the Board to "The Board of Directors of the College of Celtic Arts and Crafts".

The reorganization took place at a well attended meeting of Directors, presided over by Rev. A.W. R. MacKenzie, President and C. W. K. McCurdy, secretary, when consideration was given to proposals of extensive expansion of Gaelic College facilities, featuring the building of a Girls Residence to house 100 students and the erection of a Gaelic Mod auditorium to seat. 1500, also providing for Class room space for the Schools of Piping and Highland dancing.

Mr. MacKenzie outlined the rapid progress and greatly increased attendance of students and pictured the pioneer set-up as bulging at the seams, and inadequate for the needs of today. He said Summer School housed 110 students in cabins provided in 1944 for forty and promoted 53 classes of instruction daily for five weeks having only the single class room provided in 1939, when today 17 instructors were employed in comparison with two in 1944. Mr. McCurdy read letters of resignation from several Directors which were accepted and five additional Directors were elected. John C. MacMillan, North Sydney, and George P. Fraser, Baddeck, were named a committee of two to draft plans for the new Studenth Residence and Mod- Classrooms Auditorium.

John C. MacMillan, North Sydney, was elected the first chairman if the College Board of Directors; Former School Inspector James MacKinnon, and George P. Fraser, Baddeck, Vice-Chairman; and C. W. K. McCurdy, Baddeck, was elected Secretary.

Rev. A. W. R. MacKenzie, for-

Arthur Morrison of the Govt. Fish Hatchery spent his vacation visiting his brothers James and George E. (Teddy) in Buffalo, and Bernard in Toronto, whither he went and whence he came by air.

We can readily assume that Arthur was shown a good time whilst their guest on either side the border line.

We congratulate Roderick Fougere of Sampson Cove upon securing a handsome Ford car on a bingo ticket and we compliment him on numbering his good mother in the motor party to Seaview on Monday.

We are glad to say that our industrious neighbor the senior Mr. Mason, has returned from a Glace Bay hospital much improved in health.

Lecnel LeBlanc and Alfred Boudreau are busy these days hauling pulpwood to Sporting Mountain Station.

It is correct to conclude that the transfers are rapid.

Margaret McDonald is at present the guest of her brother and sister-in-law Mr. and Mrs. A.W.H. Donald in Oban.

The Sporting Mountain teachers Mrs. MacDonald of Oban and Miss Martell of Seaview spent the week end at their respective homes on Isle Madame.

Arthur Fougere was a week-end motor visitor from Stirling.

Mrs. D. Doncaster was in this area Wednesday in the interests of the Family Herald and Weekly Star.

We were cheered by a neighborly call from Arthur Morrison and Peter Thibeau when they motored over the top of Sporting Mountain on Monday.

We recently imported a pair of Chinese Geese.

Their graceful and swan like appearance in the water is a sight to engage you, and passing pedestrians always pause at the pond to admire them.

Among the satisfactions of a Bank Account . . .

It's reassuring to watch savings grow . . . to have your bank book record your progress.

You feel more secure with your money safe and readily available when you need it.

It's a comforting feeling to have cash on hand for opportunities, emergencies.

Multiply by 9,200,000 deposit accounts the satisfactions you enjoy from your bank account. The grand total of comfort, security and peace of mind shows, better than a dollar total, the essential value of a bank account. More deposit accounts than there are adult Canadians, with new accounts opening every day, reflects the confidence of the nation in the chartered banks.

I Thought It Was A Deer

A red cap sits at a jaunty angle on his head. A rifle shining with newness is gripped tightly in his hands. His eyes peer up the well worn game trail. A dry twig cracks sharply in front. Leaves move as if something were passing through the trees. He whips his weapon to his shoulder, aims quickly and fires. A body thumps into the dry leaves carpeting the forest floor. A human body--that of his hunting companion. The hunter thought it was a deer.

There is no need to elaborate on the genuine remorse this hunter must have felt over the accident. But it is hardly believable how such accidents could happen. Men are not ony taken for deer but recent reports show that they've been mistaken for squirrels, partridges, raccoons, moose, fox.

Then there are other hunters who handle their guns so carelessly they not only endanger the lives of those around them, but their own. Such a theme is expressed in a 20-minute 16-millimetre motion picture film available from Canadian Industries (1954) Ltd. This production "stars" Trigger Happy Harry who is the epitome of the man who does everything wrong with a rifle. His antics serve as a convincing lesson to hunters who are in the "sound shot" class or whose impatience impells them to let loose at the slightest movement in the bush.

Our constitution has given every Canadian the right to own a rifle or shot gun without the benefit of permit or registration. Let us not usurp this right by making murder weapons out of them. Make absolutely certain you know what you're shooting at this coming hunting season before you squeeze the trigger. Statistics show hunting is still one of the safest sports. Let's keep it that way.

The weather continues fine after the windstorm which disrupted telephone and power lines in this area.

Among those who attended the exhibition at North Sydney were Mr. and Mrs. Hugh MacInnes, accompanied by Phil MacInnes, John A. MacInnes, Peter Campbell and Jas. H. MacIntosh.

The display of hand sewing, knitting and crocheting was beautiful and the judges, few in number seemed to be having difficulty in placing the prizes on so large an assortment. The lengthy table of vegetables, attractively arranged was certainly eye-catching and there was a large variety of fruits.

Good food, a variety of entertainments and a lovely day summed up to a most enjoyable outing.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Mullen and two sons Hayward and Clyde Sydney; Mrs. Jack Floyd and children, David and Kaye, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Collins and son Billie of Sydney also Mrs. Leslie Mullen of Newfoundland, comprised a motor party to Dundee on Sunday and stopped in for a short visit here.

Dannie Northover of Vancouver B. C., is visiting friends in his native Cape Breton. Thirty-three years is a long time to be away from home and Dannie is making up for lost time among his many old friends who are giving him a welcome reception.

We trust that too many years will not pass before he comes again.

We were exceptionally glad for the visit from Mrs. Bertha (Donleigh) Coleman who was accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. John Calder, St. George's Channel on Saturday evening. Bertha is an RN and is still employed in that profession.

The many friends of Alex MacLeod, Brookline, Mass. will be sorry to hear of his accident at work after returning from a vacation in Cape Breton. Mr. MacLeod, a lineman, was out on repair work after a terrific storm when a huge limb on which his ladder was resting gave away and he suffered a fractured knee-cap.

This is his first accident in the lengthy period in which he has been employed, as climber with The Edison Light. We trust that his injuries are not too severe, and that he will be back to work within a reasonable time.

WHEN IN THE WOODS

HUNT FOR MEAT — NOT MANSLAUGHTER

DON'T SHOOT BEFORE YOU'RE SURE!

The Law Says this: All persons who kill or injure another while hunting WILL LOSE THE RIGHT TO BUY A HUNTING LICENCE OR CARRY ANY FIREARMS INDEFINITELY.

This Law is rigidly enforced in Nova Scotia and in most cases "indefinitely" means a lifetime.

HON. COLIN H. CHISHOLM, MINISTER

DEPARTMENT OF LANDS & FORESTS

If you are inexperienced DON'T go in the woods without a guide or experienced hunter. And if you are experienced yourself DON'T let familiarity with the sport breed contempt for the safety rules of common sense. Make sure that you and other sportsmen can hunt again.
