A pretty wedding of widespread interest was solemnized at the Im maculate Conception Church on October 11, when Mary Patricia Linden daughter of Francis Linden and the late Mrs. Linden, was united in marriage to Joseph Amedee Covin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Covin, both of this place.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. Fr. Doucett, P. P. Organist for the occasion was Miss Jeanette Gerrior, while guest soloists were Rudolph LeBlanc and Mrs. Percy Jollymore.

The bride entered the church on the arm of her father by whom she was given in marriage. The alter was tastefully decorated with cut flowers while pews for the guests were marked off with bows of white satin ribbon. The bride looked charming in a full length gown of white nylon net over satin, with a chantilly lace jacket and lace mitts. She wore a long veil which was held in place by a tiara of seed pearls. She carried a bouquet of red roses with satin streamers. The maid of honor was Miss Priscilla Linden, aunt of the bride, and bridesmaid Miss Violet Covin, sister of the groom.

Miss Linden wore a ballerina gown of flamingo rose nylon net over taffeta, with matching halo head-dress and mitts. She carried a bouquet of pink roses and baby's breath. Miss Covin wore a ballerina gown of turquoise nylon net over taffeta, with matching halo headdress and mitts. She carried a bouquet of yellow roses and baby's breath. Annette Boudreau, cousin of the bride was flower girl, and looked winsome in a dress of pink nylon net with matching headdress, and carrying a nosegay of pink pinnochio roses and white mums. Train-bearer was Wayne Linden brother of the bride. The groom was attended by Edward Forgeron and Arcade Terrio. The ushers were Tom Shaheen and Leonard Terrio.

Following the Nuptial Mass a reception was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Felix Linden, grandparents of the bride. Receiving the guests with the bride and groom. was the bride's grandmother wearing a gray suit with coral accessories and a cosage of red roses.

The bride's table was covered with a lace table cloth, silver candlebra placed at each end and centered by a three-tier wedding cake which was jointly cut by the bride and groom. Toast to the bride was tendered by Rev. Fr. Doucett and was responded to by the groom.

Serviteurs for the occasion were Mrs. Cliffod Marchand, Mrs. Wilfred LeBlanc, Mrs. Dan Brow, Mrs. Edward Forgeron and Mrs. Tom Shaheen. Later in the day the happy couple left on their honey-moon. For travelling the bride chose a grey flannel suit with flamingo rose accessories, and a corsage of pink roses. On their return Mr. and Mrs. Covin will reside here where Mr. Covin operates a grocery store. They have the sincere wishes of their many friends for a long and happy wedded life.

Cape Breton Folk School To Be Held This Fall

Cape Breton's fourth Folkschool will open at Mabou on Monday. November 22 and will end on December 3. This year's school is being undertaken under the sponsorship of the Farmer's Associations of Inverness County with the co-operation of groups throughoot Cape Breton Island. It is anticipated that the bulk of the ctudents will be drawn from various centres of Cape Breton Island with somt representation from the eastern mainland counties.

As in past years, the folkschool will be organized and staffed by the Nova Scotia Divisons of Adult Education and Physical Fitness, and the Department of Agriculture. The staff will comprise personnel who have an estimate insight into the problems facing the small rural community of today.

Subjects treated during the course will include public speaking, conduct of a meeting, dramatics, discussion group techniques, Nova Scotia history and literature, organization of community programs, physical recreation and community singing. In addition, considerable time will be devoted to study of practical problems related to farming and rural living generally.

Reading, discussion and participation in group activity are the basic educational methods of the folkschool. Emphasis is placed on the principle of learning by doing. Community problems are treated by group discussions carried on by the students, rather than by lectures; dramatics is learned by having the students develop and set out their own plays and skits; still in public speaking is acquired gradually through practice in putting one's idea before the whole school; community recreation techniques are developed through active participation rather than spectatorship. There are no examinations of and kind.

The whole program of the folkschool is designed to provide a rich and enjoyable experience in community living for those who attend. It offers an opportunity for men and women interested in the problems of the rural community to live, think. study and play together under the guidance of a staff group of diverse skills. The total folkschool program is aimed at the growth and development of the students in ideas, in reading and speaking ability and in a healthy outlook and attitude towards the possibilities of the small farming and fishing communities of Nova Scotia.

Organizations throughout Cape Breton- Farmer's Groups, Home and School, Women's Institutes, Co-operative Societies, Credit Unions, Young People's, Church Groups, etc.- are invited to select and sponsor one or two students to attend this year's school. The investment is small; and the return to the organization and to the community will be great. Past experience has shown that folkschool ssudents return to their home communities to organize groups, to help make meetings more interesting, to initiate community programs of action, and generally to share with others their rich experience at the folkschool.

Any individual or organization interested in obtaining further information about this year's Cape Breton Folkschool is invited to contact the local agricultural representative; the Sydney Office of the Division of Adult Education; or the Secretary of the Folkschool committee. Miss Mary MacNeil, Mabou.

Sporting Mountain Echoes

You never miss the water till the well runs dry, and we never missed the Record till its publication was temporarily suspended.

It was surely pleasing to see it reappear; pleasing to see its columns magnified by a contribution from the unrivaled "MacTavish"; and superlatively pleasing to note that its genial publisher was restored to his wonted health and capacity to carry on.

Sporting Mountain is replete with red coats these days, but the wary deer are no longer conspicuous on its sun-kissed slopes.

Earl Canning, Albert McNabb, Roy Canning and Harry Buckland, comprised a motor quartet from the Steel City the other day.

They failed to bag any game, but did not fail to favor us with a pleasurable visit.

On a recent Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Gray, prominent citizens of Gabarous, and foster son, "Jackie", accompanied by Mrs. Dan MacKillop of Grand River, motored to Sporting Mountain, and thence, over the top of Pringle Mountain to The Points.

Enroute they made a friendly call at our little home by the road side, and it was a real pleasure to renew acquaintance with these worthy people who made their initial visit to Seaview a year ago.

Thomas Morrison, motored up from St. Peter's a few days ago, and enjoyed a reminiscent chat with the remnant of his former neighbours who were glad to see him looking so well and fit, and exhibiting no apparent ill effects of his recent indisposition.

Mr. and Mrs. , Lloyd MacRae and family comprised a week-end motor party from Sterling, and were guests at the Boudseau home.

They were accompanied by their housemaid, Gladis Martin.

A motor trio from Grand Anse comprising Mrs. H. A. MacDonald her popular daughter, Barbara May McDonald, of Boston, Mass. and her usassuming son, J. Neil McDonald were among the seasons visitors whom we were glad to greet.

It was last year we first had the pleasure of meeting Miss McDonald, but her prepossessing and fascinating personality makes a permanent friend of every acquaintance.

James A. Goswell has returned to Halifax, after visiting friends in Seaview and vicinity.

We were loath to see him go, but appreciate the fact that circumstances at home require his presence now.

The sensible and likeable Ella Greenorn, who is the guest of her grandmother, Mrs. Ross in Oban, called upon friends is Seaview the other evening, and we were glad to be numbered among them.

Others who favored us with neighbourly calls during the week included Robert Thibeau and Joseph Burke of Cannes, who had occasion to be in Seaview for a couple of days, and A. W. H. Mac Donald of Oban.

Saving money... and writing cheques

A bank offers you two types of deposit account, Savings and Current.

If your main purpose is to save, to accumulate funds, it's good to have a Savings account.

If you write cheques frequently, you will like the many advantages of a Current account.

The money you leave in a Savings account earns interest, and your bank book gives you an up-to-date, continuing record of your financial progress. If your funds are active, with frequent deposits and withdrawals, a Current account provides a special service; a monthly statement, together with your cancelled cheques—useful as receipts and a ready reference for budgeting, bookkeeping and other purposes.
