FIFTY-EIGHTH YEAR | ARICHAT, CAPE BRETON, N. S., JANUARY 22, 1955 | No. 20

Sporting Mountain Echoes

At date of writing (Jan. 15) snow is still conspicuous by its absence in this area, and it is raining today.

It was pleasing to see the New Year's initial issues of the Record so replete with contributions from the various correspondents and particularly pleasing to infer from "Old Timers" patriotic "musings" that he will soon be numbered among our repatriated citizens.

We had Alfred Boudreau motor us to St. Peters Friday forenoon.

Enroute we called to see Mrs. John N. Morrison and were glad to find her well and fit after a brief period in the V. G. Hospital.

A recent addition to that pretty home is a sunparlor directly overlooking Lindlor Island and Anse De Loup

The latter's pebbly beach was once familiar to our feet for upwards of three score years ago. Our father was numbered among the sturdy fishermen who were wont to assemble at that sheltered nook.

In the A. A. Morrison emporium we were glad to meet a fraternal friend of our own day and generation the well and popular known Jack Langley of Barra Head.

We owe an apology or explanation to Alex McKay of "The Channel" for our part in apparently stealing his box of groceries that day, and thus causing our veteran friend considerable inconvenience.

Arthur Morrison, Mrs. Vitus Burke and little son Daniel Joseph motored up from River Tillard the other day, and were guests at the Boudreau home.

James Smith of River Tillard and Alfred Boudreau are cooperating down on the former's woodlands in Seaview valley to fill a lumber order.

A. W. H McDonald was a business visitor from Oban to Thibeauville Tuesday evening and favored us with a friendly call.

Lillian Cooke has gone to Sydney to seek employment.
We wish Lillian success.

Alfred Boudreau motored our conscientious teacher Lucille Martell to her home in Little Anse Friday evening.

John Fougere of the Hawker Market contacted his Seaview customers as usual Friday morning.

Hon. R. H. Winters Reports From Ottawa

Dear Mr. Editor:

It's been some considerable time now since I had the privilege of following my long-standing practice of writing you a weekly letter about parliamentary activities.

My last letter was dated May 14th, 1954. Immediately after that I went to Europe on behalf of the Government, on a combined trade and goodwill mission. When I returned in the early days of July, the last sessions of Parliament had adjourned. The present session--the Second Session of the Twenty Second Parliament --convened on Friday, January 7th, and we have now completed our first full week of sittings.

Although I haven't previously written to you about the European trip, I have had opportunities to report publicly on it, and I will, therefore, limit myself at this time merely to saying that it is a stimulating experience to travel as a Canadian in any foreign country. Fortunately, as a nation we have not become involved in international entanglements. Most countries regard our role as being one of helpfulness and they invariably consider Canada as a strong and growing young country with an unquestioned bright future.

As for the opening of this session of Parliament, the significant event was that the proceedings were televised. This, in itself, is a characteristic of the advances being made these days in the field of science and technology.

The Speech from The Throne again reviewed developments from coast to coast, and there was particular reference to transportation projects for Nova Scotia, which are now moving toward completion and which hold promise for stimulating the economy of our province.

Unhappily the Leader of the Opposition, the Honourable George Drew, was unable to take his place in the House of Commons because of his recent severe illness. I understand that he is making a good recovery but that he will be required to rest for at least several more weeks. His place was taken by the Honourable Earl Rose, who opened the debate in criticism of the Government's handling of public affairs. Most of the week was devoted to the Speech from The Throne, and Mr. Sam Balcom, M.P. for Halifax took the opportunity of placing before the country a number of problems besetting Nova Scotia.

The Speech was interrupted to enact legislation to improve the Unemployment Insurance Act, both as it applies to the amount of supplementary benefits and for the time for which they are extended. This legislation seemed to be welcomed by all parties in the House. I believe it established something of a record for the speed with which it was dealt with both by the House of Commons and the Senate. It received Royal Assent the same day and is now part of our statutes.

PETIT DeGRAT NEWS

Fishing operations at this port were not as active as usual last week due to weather conditions. The arrivals of trawlers and draggers from the banks brought in small fares. The largest catch reported was landed by Red Diamond III, Capt. Tapper.

Red Diamond IV in command of Capt. Levi Harris brought in a fare of 60,000. This was Capt. Harris' first command. He was formerly mate on Red Diamond III.

We regret to report the illness of Capt. Joseph Mayo, who was obliged to return from the banks during the past week. We wish him a speedy recovery.

The new trawler, Boston Swift, which arrived here recently from England landed 50,000 pounds of fish at the Booth plant last week. The trawler cleared for the Banks on Tuesday night, also Red Diamond IV.

Trawler Margaret H.M. of Lunenburg landed 60,000 pounds of haddock.

Two skinning machines have been installed at the Booth Fisheries plant. These new machines will mean greater production and more employment at the processing plant.

Yazer's Toggery Celebrates 25th. Anniversary.

A prominent and popular industrial Cape Breton men's wear firm are now celebrating the 25th anniversary of the founding of the business.

A quarter of a century ago the Yazer brothers Mendel and Jack launched the business under humble origin.

They covered the whole of Cape Breton Island's rural areas in a house to house visitation selling a miscellaneous array of merchandise.

This was the beginning. Gradually they amassed sufficient monies to set up a store in Sydney Mines and some years ago the Sydney branch of what is known as Yazer's Toggery was established.

Jack manages the Charlotte St. branch and Mendel is in charge of the original stand at Sydney Mines.

Both young men have built up a substantial patronage down through the years and their price policy and quality merchandise has established for them a widely known reputation.

At the same time both have been identified in the progress and development of their respective communities where their services in all phases of community activities have been recognized and appreciated.

The 25th anniversary sale event will bring bargains and savings unprecedented. This is an appreciation of the fine support and co-operation of the public of Cape Breton Island.

N. S. Legislature To Convene On February 23

Opening of the Nova Scotia Legislature is tentatively scheduled for Wednesday, Feb. 23, it was authoritatively learned in high Provincial Government circles.

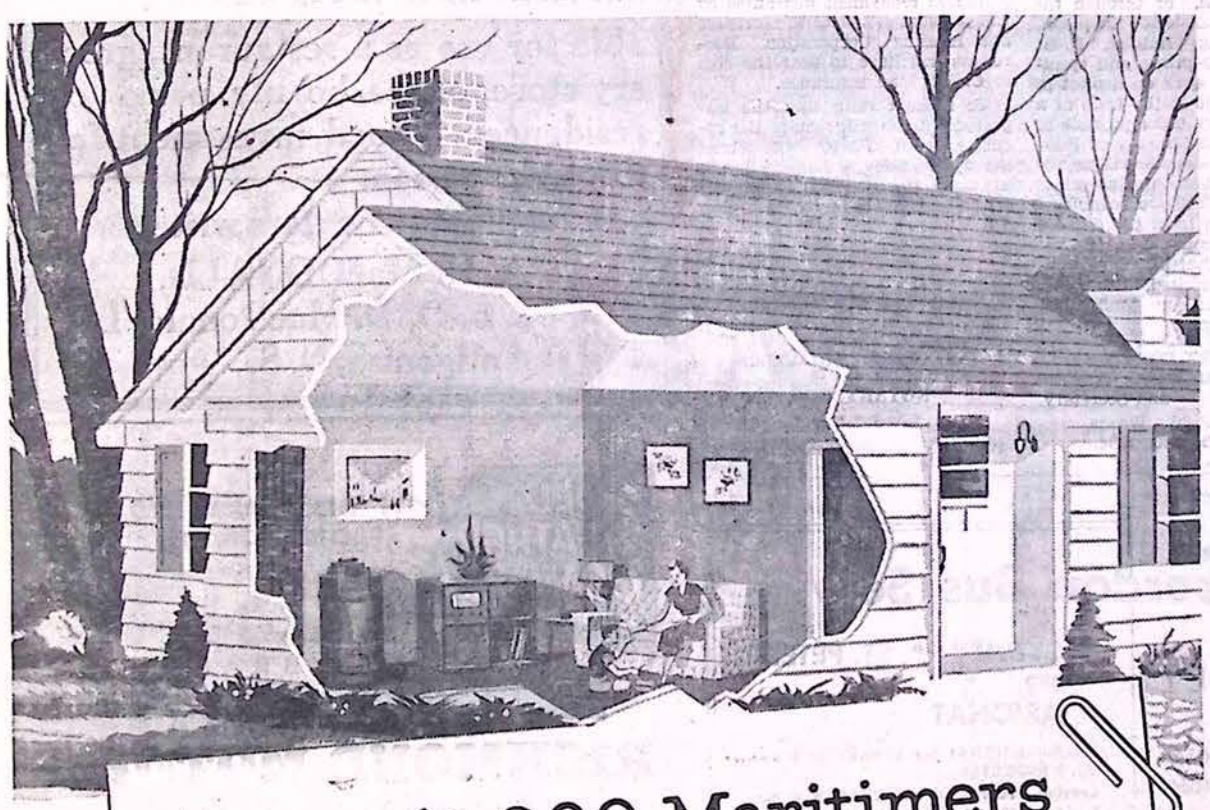

Usually called into session earlier in February, the House will meet later this year to enable the possible introduction of legislation dealing with the Pottier Report on education.

Because of the wide scope of the Pottier recommendations, involving as they do all the municipalities of the province, time may not permit the drafting of suitable legislation for the Spring sitting of the House, and it may be that a special Session will be called later in the year to deal exclusively with the education changes, it was hinted. In any event, legislation dealing with the Pottier proposals would not become effective before Jan. 1, 1956, it was reliably learned.

Premier Henry D. Hicks will face the House for the first time as leader of the Government. He plans no changes in his present Cabinet until after the Spring session, it was learned. A major re-shuffle is then expected.

The Government is known to be struggling with the Pottier Report with the hope of lining up some legislation for the February sitting of the House. However, arrangements have to be workd out with

A Free And Responsible Press

A pamphlet "Have We a Free and Responsible Press", published by the Canadian Association for Adult Education, purports to discuss the question raised by its title, and discover whether the Press of Canada, particularly that section of it which is represented by daily newspapers, is really a "Free" Press, or is as some critics aver, only a tool of big business or special groups.

The pamphlet does not provide the answer. It is interesting to read only because it is written in a style, to use its own word of condemnation of the Press of Canada is not free and independent, but is subservient to pressure groups, or because of its monopoly is not filling its role.

The article presents the duty of the Press as being a duty to print "news" and at the same time condemns it for doing just that. It suggests that newspapers should be leaders and moulders of public opinion, and in another sentence condemns them for endeavouring to wield an undue influence on the public mind.

It might be well to remind the authors of the pamphlet, and the public generally, that the principle of the Freedom of the Press was not originated by newspapermen. Nor was it reaffirmed by newspapermen when it was included as one of the Four Freedoms of the Atlantic Charter. Not one of the Fathers of Independence who signed the Declaration after 1775 was a newspaperman. Neither President Roosevelt nor Prime Minister Churchill were newspaper men when they formulated the Atlantic Charter. The freedom of the Press is, in essence and in fact and truth, the freedom of the people.

If the authorities of the pamphlet will compare the newspapers of Canada,, or the United States or Britain, with the newspapers of Russia, or of Germany under Hitler; or of Italy under Mussolini; they will realize that English-speaking countries have in their Free Press a priceless of Democracy, and that with all their shortcomings, the newspapers of Canada are in fact the servants of the people, and that their handling of news is governed by public interest alone, and not by the interests or pressures of either advertisers or special pleaders. In fact the growth of newspapers in circulation is due largely to the fact that they are no longer the mouthpieces of political parties, or of special interests, but are what they purport to be-NEWSPAPERS.

Simpler Income Tax Forms

Income tax forms this years embody a new way of showing deductions for dependent children.

The T-I forms now available at post offices across the country set aside space for taxpayers to list each child and the deduction individually. The deductions for children are then totalled.

On the old form the total deductions were listed first and the number of children listed elsewhere.

Income tax officials said the new way will be simpler and more easly understood by taxpayers.

The forms also outline whether a taxpayer may claim $400 or $150 for children. The lower figure is for those receiving family allowances which aren't available to some new arrivals to Canada.

Officials said this probably will not effect more than one per cent of all taxpayers.

SEALED TENDERS addressed to the undersigned and endorsed "TENDER FOR FEDERAL PUBLIC BUILDING, BADDECK, N.S." will be received in the office of the Secretary, until 3.00 p.m. (EST), WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY, 9, 1955.

S., the District Architect, Old Post Office Building, St. John, N. B.,; at the Public Building, Sydney, N. S.; and at the Post Office, Baddeck, N. S.

To be considered each tender must be accompanied by a security in the form of a certified cheque or Bonds as specfied in the form of tender and made on or according to these forms and in accordance with the conditions set forth therein.

The Department, through the Chief Architect's office or through the undersigned, or through the office of the District Architect, Public Building, Halifax, N. If not returned within that period the deposit will be forfeited.

Loans Available To Householders For Improvements

Owners of single houses will be able to borrow a maximum of $2500 and apartment owners $6,250 under new home improvement loan regulations to come into effect Feb. 1. Banks will extend the loans on a promissory note.

Federal officials said Monday home owners will be able to get the loans, forecast in the Throne speech, for almost any improvement purpose.

Three to Five Years

They will be able to borrow money to build an extra room, put on a new roof, add a garage, instan new heating, plumbing or air conditioning, put in electrical wiring, construct sewage disposal units or simply do some new painting or decorating.

The maximum life of the loans will run for three years on borrowings of $1250 or less; five years for any higher amounts. The maximum interest will be 5 1-2 per cent, the same as on National Housing Act mortgage loans.

The one major restriction is that the improvement loans will be available only to owners of single houses and small apartments. Apartment owners must occupy space in their building to be eligible.

For aparments and other multiple dwellings, the maximum loan will be $6,250-$2,500 on the first apartment and $1250 on each additional unit up to a maximum of three.

Banks Main Agencies

Chartered banks, brought into the mortgage lending business for the first time last March, will be the main lending agencies for home improvement loans. The regulations, to be announced later, also will allow approved instalment credit agencies to make loans.

Loans made by the banks and other lending institutions will get a limited repayment guarantee by the governments Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation. Borrowers will have to bear the cost of CMHC loan insurance.

To make certain that the improvement job will require the requested loan, CMHC will screen the applications, informing banks whether the amounts requested sound reasonable for the job plan ned.

NEW DIRECTOR FOR N. S. LIBRARY

Hon. Henry D. Hicks, Minister of Education, has announced the appointment of Miss Alberta Letts as Director of the Nova Scotia Provincial Library.

Miss Letts replaces Peter Grossman, recently appointed Assistant Librarian of the Vancouver Public Library, B. C. Mr. Grossman had held the Nova Scotia post since 1948.

During the last six years, under Mr. Grossman's guidance, a plan for comprehensive library service on a province-wide scale was drawn up and many of its proposals have been carried out. Five regional libraries have been established which provide library service for over half the population of Nova Scotia. Library legislation was passed which has been studied and followed as a model in other provinces. Reference, inter-library loan, and union catalogue services have been organized and widely used. Particular attention was given to the reorganization of the Legislative Library and to Nova Scotia historical material.

A native of British Columbia, Miss Letts received her Bachelor of Arts degree from the University of Western Ontario and a degree in library science from the University of Toronto. She has had library experience in regional and public library work in both Canada and the United States, and for two years lectured in Library Science at the University of Toronto. She has been on the staff of the provincial library since 1949, and as senior librarian, was responsible for the organization of the first regional library in Nova Scotia. in the Annapolis Valley. Since 1952, she has held the position of Assistant Director of the provincial library.

Mid-Winter Edition

We are indeed grateful to a good friend in Los Angeles for sending us a copy of the Mid-Winter Edition of the Los Angeles Times.

They called this the MidWinter Edition but by the beautiful floats covered with flowers and Her Majesty the Queen of the Tournament of Roses appearing on the front page it looks more like a midsummer edition. We won't argue this point because the date line says Monday morning, Jan. 3, 1955.

This is how Bill Henry in his column "By the Way" sums up Los Angeles when he says: "Nothing in my humble opinion is so calculated to make a Californian yearn for home as a visit to this city nd that goes double when you happen to time your visit to hit the Christmas-New Year holiday season."

Stir in
3 cups once-sifted bread flour

and beat until smooth and elastic; work in
3 cups more (about) once-sifted bread flour

Turn out on lightly-floured board and knead dough lightly until smooth and elastic. Place in a greased bowl and grease top of dough. Cover and set dough in warm place, free from draught, and let rise until doubled in bulk. Turn out dough on lightly-floured board and knead lightly until smooth. Divide into 4 equal portions and finish as follows:

1. PARKER HOUSE ROLLS

Roll out one portion of dough on lightly-floured board to ½-inch thickness; cut into rounds with 3-inch cutter; brush with melted butter or margarine. Crease each round deeply with dull side of knife, a little to one side of centre; fold larger half over smaller half and press along the fold. Place, just touching each other, on greased cookie sheet. Grease tops. Cover and let rise until doubled in bulk. Bake in a hot oven, 400°, about 12 minutes. Makes 6 rolls.

2. CLOVER LEAF ROLLS

Cut one portion of dough into 8 equal-sized pieces; cut each piece into 3 little pieces. Shape each little piece of dough into a ball and brush with melted butter or margarine; arrange 3 balls in each greased muffin pan. Cover and let rise until doubled in bulk. Bake in a hot oven, 400°, about 12 minutes. Makes 8 rolls.

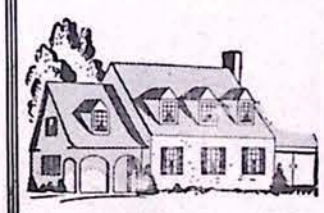

3. FAN TANS

Roll out one portion of dough on lightly-floured board into a rectangle a scant ¼-inch thick; loosen dough, cover and let rest 5 minutes. Brush dough with melted butter or margarine and cut into strips 1½ inches wide. Pile 7 strips one upon the other and cut into 1½-inch lengths. Place each piece, a cut side up, in a greased muffin pan; separate the slices a little at the top. Cover and let rise until doubled in bulk. Bake in a hot oven, 400°, about 12 minutes. Makes 8 rolls.

4. CRESCENT ROLLS

Roll out one portion of dough on lightly-floured board into a 14-inch round; brush with melted butter or margarine and cut into 12 pie-shaped wedges. Roll up each wedge of dough, beginning at the outside and rolling toward the point. Arrange, well apart, on greased cookie sheet; bend each roll into a crescent shape. Brush with melted butter or margarine and sprinkle with salt. Cover and let rise until doubled in bulk. Bake in a hot oven, 400°, about 12 minutes. Makes 12 rolls.

Canada's Largest Bank first to report assets over $3 billion

During the year just closed, Canada and the Royal Bank matched strides on a path of solid progress. In many significant areas of the bank's operations new high records were reached, thus reflecting the vitality and growth of Canada itself.

Marking an historic milestone in Canadian banking, assets surpassed the $3 billion mark while deposits of over $2,797,000,000 and loans of $1,188,022,047 were also new record-making "highs". The bank now has more than 2,450,000 deposit accounts on its books.

To keep pace with the demand for banking service, new branches were built, while many others were renovated and modernized. Today, The Royal Bank of Canada operates some 813 branches — 71 of them beyond Canada's borders — each geared to offer facilities in step with the needs of all Canadians in this era of exciting national progress.
