Hon. R. H. Winters Reports From Ottawa

June 11, 1955

Dear Mr. Editor:

For Nova Scotia's Members of Parliament, the most important develoment of the week was obviously the resolution preceding the legislation to make loans available to assist fishermen; judging by the fact that five of them spoke on it. They were Messrs. MacEachen, Balcom, Gillis, Dickey and Ralph Kirk. A considerable number of other Maritime Members joined them.

This legislation is intended to do for fishermen what the Farm Imrovement Loan Act does for farmers. Basically it will help the average fisherman to make more use of the credit facilities of the banks to meet his business needs. The Fedral Government through this Act, will give a guarantee to the banks for a portione of the money they lend under its terms.

This measure, when viewed against the background of the fishermen's indemnity fund, will be seen in its proper perspective and is greatly to be welcomed. That is why all of the Members who spoke on the proposal supported it warmly.

You will recall that the fishermen's indemnity fund, to which I just referred, gives a form of insurance to commercial fishermen on boats and lobster traps on payment of a premium of one per cent. It is working well and the Government is anxious that all fishermen look into its provisions very carefully before continuing to take the risk of leaving their boats and lobster traps uninsured.

Against the background of this insurance scheme, it is now possible to take this next step and give fishermen the opportunity of intermediate credit up to a maximum of $4000 for any one fisherman, on favourable terms.

The Department of National Defence came in for its share of questioning last week, with the announcement that the Chief of Staff, General Simonds, is retiring after his regular term of office. I think this retirement would have been regarded an item of routine if just prior to that the Minister had not had to remove a high-ranking Air Force Officer from his post bepcause of certain ill considered public statements. We will doubtless hear more about these matters when the Estimates of National Defence are being considered.

Next week I'm to have the opportunity of spending three or four days in Nova Scotia and I'm looking forward to the visit.

Yours very truly

Robert H. Winters.

Allan MacEachen Speaks on Loans to Assist Fishermen

(The following speech was delivered in Parliament, by our Federal representative, Mr Allan J. MacEachen, M.P. Inverness-Richmond, West Cape Breton on Financial Assistance to Fishermen.)

Like other hon. members who have already spoken on this measure, I want to congratulate the Minister of Fisheries for introducing the legislation forecast by this resolution. Since he has been minister the fishermen of the Atlantic provinces have become accustomed to getting consructive measures from his department, and this is simply another constructive measure in the series already adopted under his leadership.

The effect of this legislation will be to assist in the further capitlization of the fishing industry in the Atlantic provinces. In reaching that objective the legislation will be meeting one of the real, historic problems of the fishing industry in the Atlantic provinces. The need for the modernization of the fishing industry in production, distribution and processing has been already underscored by persons who are very familiar with that industry in this county. One of the great difficulties in attacking this modernization has been the lack of available capital for the development of modern equipment for production, distribution and processing.

In 1945 when the provincial govenment at Halifax appointed its royal commissio on provincial development and rehabilitation, Professor Dawson, the chairman of that commission, retained the former deputy minister of fisheries. Mr. Bates, to investigate the condition of the fisheries in the Atlantic provinces, more particularly in Nova Scotia. I think it was a result of the masterful analysis of the industry made by Mr. Bates that we have obtained so many commendable improvements in the industry.

I am sure it will surprise hon. members to learn that as late in 1940 the investement in fishing vessels in Nova Scotia was $3.1 millio and in gear $2.5 million. The total investment in catching equipment as recently as 1940 in Nova Scotia was $5.6 million, which represents an average investment per fisherman of something like $800. This of course has reflected very seriously in the type of craft the average fisherman could use. It was reflected also in his range from the shore, and also in his great dependence on the weather. So the fisherman in the maritime provinces was always handicapped by the instruments with which he had to pursue a very difficult and hazardous occupation. The result was that over 80 per cent of the fishermen of Nova Scotia had to depend for their incomes upon the types of fish that were easily caught along the shore.

This lack of capitilization in the fisheries of Nova Scotia resulted from the fact that no credit agency ever interested itself seriously in providing loan facilities for the fishermen. As the minister pointed out in his remarks, the fishermen depended primarily for the satisfaction of their credit needs upon the fish exporter or the local merchant, which resulted in a type of feudal bondage in the fishing communities of Nova Scotia that has been very difficult to eradicate, and has been one of the real obstacles to improvement in the indutry itself.

Also the general unprofitability of the industry, in the thirties particularly, led to a condition in which no facilities were provided either by the life insurance companies or the trust companies to service the credit needs of the fishermen of the province of Nova Scotia. It was also realized that this lack of credit facilities, and the development of this relationship among the exporter, the local merchant and the fisherman should be remedied. Great efforts were undertaken through the credit union movement in the maritimes to overcome this condition.

However, the development of credit unions was not adequate to provide long-term credit although it did make an excellent contribution in providing for the short-term credit needs of fishermen of Nova Scotia. At that time the credit unions undertook a very difficult task in offering loans to fishermen whose gear and boats were never insured, and indeed who had very little to offer to the credit unions offering the loans.

Therefore I wish to join with the other hon. members who have spoken in urging that the minister consider allowing credit unions to become lending agencies under this proposed legislation. The credit unions of Nova Scotia have an excellent history of sound and trustworthy business pperations. Since the organization of the credit unions total loans of approximately $40 million have been made to their membership. Of that amount only $37,000 has been charged against the guarantee fund. During the some time in New Brunswick a total of $34 million has been lent and only $12,000 has been written off by way of bad debts. The result is that we can offer evidence of good and trustworthy credit institutions.

The credit unions, in many instances, are completely owned and operated by the fishermen. Furthermore they are located in small villages which normally are not served by the chartered banks. In addition to this, in the operations of many credit unions there is a loan protection insurance contract which insures that upon the death or total disability of the borrower the loan is paid off.

Because I believe the inclusion of credit unions would indeed enhance the operations of this proposed measure, and would enlarge the number of outlets for service to the fishermen, I suggest that some further consideration be given to the institutions which really assisted the fishermen in those days when the normal credit organizations in the country regarded fishermen as poor rissks.

Let me say, in conclusion, that the credit unions have taken a keen interest in the whole social and economic evolution of the many fishing villages in which they operate. For that reason I am sure they would be among the very first who would attempt to take advantage of the terms of this proposed legislation.

Plan to Erect Cairn In Memory of Angus L.

The Nova Scotia Association of Scottish Societies meeting in Antigonish last Wednesday announced that it would erect a cairn in memory of the late Angus L. Macdonald, former Premier of Nova Scotia and long-time supporter of Scottish culture. The cairn will be erected at a suitable spot in Dunvegan, birthplace of Mr. Macdonald. A committee consisting of A. R. MacDnald and Rod Chisholm, Antigonish, and W. L. Fillmore of Amherst is handling arrangements for the construction and erection of the cairn.

The site of a proposed Scottish village for the province received vigorous discussion and member societies throughout Nova Scotia are being asked to submit recommendations to a central committee headed by Major C.I.N. MacLeod, Gaelic advisor to the depart ment of adult education..

Rod J. MacDonald of Sydney, presented a brief on behalf of the Iona-Grand Narrows Board of Trade asking that tthe village be erected in that area. Earlier, a brief on the village had been submitted to the Nova Scotia government by the Association of Scottish Societies.

J. L. Wickwire, chief engineer for the Department of Highways will be asked to include a representation from association in the official party at the opening of the Canso causeway. President H. M. MacDonald of Antigonish was unable to be present for the meeting because of illness. In his report he reviewed the successful years activity and looked to an even more successful term coming up.

He mentioned in particular, Major MacLeod's column which was carried in the provincial press promotion of the Angus L. Macdonald cairn, the association's official crest, the directory of Scottish literature which was distributed at the meeting, and the brief which was submitted to the government dealing with the proposed village. He recommended also that the organization look into the possibilities of establishing an official bulletin, and encouraged more exchange of talent between the various groups for special occasions.

Dr. R. MacGregor Fraser of Wolfville was elected president of the association for the coming year. Succeeding Past President MacDonald who was named an official member of the executive. Vice-president is J. Rod MacDonald of Sydney and Mrs. George Brownrigg of Stellarton was re-elected Secretary-treasurer.

The rest of the excutive incudes Rev. D. MacLean Sinclair of Halifax; Major C.I.N. MacLeod, Sydney; W. C. Wilson, Springhill; Fraser Holmes. New Glasgow; Capt. Archie MacGinnes, Salt Springs; Mr. J. MacIsaac, Dartmouth; Mrs. John Lacey, Westville; Mr. Roy Henderson, Truro; Al Graham, Antigonish; Seymour Gordon, Wolfville.

M. D. Jarell, eminent trichologist, demonstrates causes of baldness and how it can be prevented.

How To Have Hair For A Lifetime To Be Demonstrated Here By Famous Trichologist Offers Written Guarantee

An exclusive interview by Ward Allen

LONDON, ONTARIO, (Special)—M. D. Jarrell, Director of Jarell Hair Experts of Canada, exploded the "myth of baldness" today in an exclusive interview.

"Baldness is unnecessary, costly, and a plague to mankind," says Jarrell. "No man need be bald. No man need suffer the stigma of premature old age that is forced upon him because he is losing his hair. The Jarell method of hair and scalp treatment can prevent baldness—can turn colorless fuzz into healthy, growing hair—can make you look youthful again."

Demonstration To Be Held in Arichat, N. S.

This revolutionary method of home treatment for the hair and scalp will be demonstrated in Arichat, N.S., Tuesday ONLY, June 21st at the Arichat Hotel. Trichologist H. L. Hendrickson will conduct the private, individual interviews from 12 noon until 9.00 P.M. on Tuesday ONLY. There is no cost or obligation, and you need no appointment.

Reason for Baldness

"There is always a reason for baldness," continued this nationally known authority. "Hair cannot grow through a scalp that is infected with dandruff, excessive oiliness, or extreme dryness. A scalp that has never been exercised cannot be expected to produce healthy hair". Men, and yes, women too, walk the streets today completely devoid of nature's greatest ornament—hair. Simply because they were not taught the basic rules of hair and scalp hygiene while they were growing up. "The simple answer," emphasized this expert is that children should be taught the same simple basic rules of hair and scalp hygiene that they are taught for the proper care of teeth. If this were the case baldness would be a rarity today!"

Heredity Not Involved

Trichologist Jarell dodged no issues. He quickly took up the most widely spread theory of baldness—heredity. "Mankind's unrealistic belief that baldness is heredity stems from a misinterpretation of the theory of genetics. Theory does not state that any person must be bald because baldness exists in the family. What it does say, is that in some families, a tendency exists toward an undernourished scalp." The purpose of Jarell Hair and Scalp Experts is to teach the methods of strengthening the weak scalp and nourishing it to a healthy, vigorous condition. A healthy scalp will grow hair, if it is not already completely bald," assures Jarell.

Is There Hope For The Completely Bald

In his travels throughout the United States and Canada, Jarell has collected hundreds of testimonies of his ability to develop weak fuzz into healthy, mature hair. All of his clients have started with a private examination, hair and scalp analysis, and a diagnosis of the disorder, Jarell is quick however, to tell a hopeless case that he cannot be helped. "We strongly advise," says Jarell, "that no person who is completely bald hold any hope whatsoever of regrowing hair. If there is any fuzz at all, we can restore a healthy scalp condition and the hair will grow normally again as nature intended."

Offers a Guarantee

"Jarell Hair Experts of Canada, offer a guarantee to any client who enrolls for treatment. If he or she is not completely delighted with results at the end of 30 days, the money invested will be graciously refunded," pledged Jarell. "We must have satisfied clients. We must regrow hair. After all, it is our best advertisement."

Is Your Hair Healthy?

If you have a scalp disorder, or if you are worried about your hair, call Trichologist Hendrickson at the Arichat Hotel, in Arichat, N.S. Tuesday ONLY from 12 noon to 9.00 p.m. The public is invited. The examinations are private and open to men and women. You do not need an appointment, and you will not be embarrassed or obligated in any way.

N. S. PUBLIC CAN END FOREST DISASTERS

Halifax, June 13 — In a public message to the provincial branch of the Canadian Forestry Association here, B. J. Waters, president of the Mersey Paper Company, warns that the forest fire disasters of May 22nd in Nova Scotia can happen in any wooded district. "Had the winds been in slightly different directions large parts of Bridgewater and Liverpool would surely have been destroyed as were Cabano, Quebec and Bar Harbour, Maine, a few years ago," Mr. Waters pointed out. "While comparatively few forest fires have destroyed our villages and towns, any forest fire has the potential to do so. No one knows where or when such a fire once started will be controlled.

"Besides the appalling loss of homes and other buildings, thousands of acres of forests were destroyed in the holiday weekend fires. It will be many years before these forest areas produce anything other than weeds.

"According to the Department of Lands and Forests, there were 225 forest fires in Nova Scotia in 1953, the last year reported upon. Only one of these was caused by lightning; the others were started by human carelessness or accidents.

"The best way to control fires is to make sure they do not start. It is up to each individual to be certain he is not responsible for any such calamity. We must all constantly be on guard. Until they are dead out, every match, cigarette and campfire, every burning brushpile can threaten not only the forests, the source of livelihood to thousands of Nova Scotia families, but also the homes of many people."

New Church

The construction of a new Church is now underway at D'Escousse to replace St. Hycinth's destroyed by fire last summer.

We understand the new church will be constructed of brick and it is being built on the old site.

Sporting Mountain Echoes

This area was not immune from the unseasonable June weather which prevailed while a storm ceter was so firmly established off the south east coast.

We had Alfred Boudreau motor us to St. Peters Monday afternoon.

In Morrison's expanding emporium it was pleasing to be greeted by the genial proprietor who with Mrs. Morrison had but recently returned from a pleasant sojourn in the Flowery State south of the border down Mexico way.

At MacLean's it was equally pleasing to be warmly greeted by the courteous and dependable Miss Burke who enjoys the confidence of her worthy employer and patronizing public.

We returned via Thibeauville and thus had occasion to visit a trio of veteran neighbors including Mrs. Annie McPhee who is exceedingly well accomodated and cared for in the comfortable home of her son-in-law and daughter Mr. and Mrs. Charles Thibeau; and also Miss Margaret McLean and her brother John L. who get similar consideration at the Madden residence.

We are indebted to Patricia Morrison of Truro for an article by C B. Johnnson relative to the centennial anniversary of the Provincial Normal College.

We appreciate your thoughtfulness "Patsy" and we thank you.

Alex McKay and his son-in-law John Calder, had occasion to be in Seaview Wednesday and favored us with a friendly visit.

We were especially glad to see our old friend Mr. McKay whose years coincide with our own; and glad to make the personal acquain tance of Mr. Calder whose beauti ful home was a sheltered nook by the roadside on the South Shore, is admired by every passes-by.

Enroute from St. Peters via Cannes Thursday evening, W. B. Pringle and two children (Nadine and David) dropped in for a friendly chat.

Mr. Pringle is rearing a large family of sons and daughters, a nation's hope; and moreover, conducting a model school in his home section at The Points where his pupils are singularly privileged.

Mr. and Mrs Lloyd McRae and Mrs. Delbert McRae comprised a motor trio from MacIntyre's Lake Friday evening.

We were glad when John Colin McDonald of Grand Anse and Kempt Road made himself known to us at St. Peters the other day, and gave us tidings of old friends in his home area.

THE NEW LOOK

Harold Hatheway, CBC Talks and Public Affairs producer, found a way to beat the heat and publicize the Maritimes at a recent conference in Toronto. Wearing a civilian Nova Scotia tartan kilt, the former New Bruns wick newspaperman and teacher raised a few Upper Canadian eyebrows and started talk about a new trend in men's summer dress. Hatheway got the idea from a C BC Maritime Comment talk. and decided that what was good enough for his Highland ancestors might meet today's needs as well.

With this Scottish influence combined with interest in the Acadian celebrations, tourists can look forward to a colorful display of Maritime finery this summer.

HERE IT IS!
The Furnace that removes its own ashes!

Now you can enjoy the financial advantage of heating with coal and be completely free of the chore of shovelling coal and carrying ashes. Following intensive research by Bituminuous Coal Research, Inc., Dosco engineers have perfected a radically-different type of domestic furnace which makes heating safer, cleaner, cheaper, than ever before. It is unsurpassed for comfort and convenience and actually pays for itself in fuel savings.

Check these features!

NO ASHES TO CARRY — Ashes are automatically carried by vacuum to a canister inside or outside the house.

ABSOLUTELY CLEAN — It is impossible for ash or dust to enter the furnace room.

ECONOMICAL — Cuts at least 20 per cent from the cost of operating a hand-fired furnace, with relatively higher savings over other types of heating systems.

SAFEST YET — Automatic feeding assures a steady heat and only a small amount of coal is in the furnace at any time.

FULLY AUTOMATIC — Feeds itself and rejects the ashes without any demand on you. Thermostatically controlled.

The New Dosco Furnace will be demonstrated in your district soon — be sure to see it Purchase and installation of Dosco's new furnace can be financed through a Home Improvement Loan available under the National Housing Act. See your Bank.
