FIFTY-EIGHTH YEAR | ARICHAT, CAPE BRETON, N. S. JULY 2, 1955 | No. 41

Hon. R. H. Winters Reports From Ottawa

June 25, 1955

Dear Mr. Editor:

Activities in Parliament this week had a strong Maritime complexion, largely because of the fact that the Estimates of the Deparment of Fisheries were under consideration.

We have had a long succession of Ministers of Fisheries, all of whom have made notable contributions to the development of the industry that is of such vital importance to our local economy. I doubt, however, whether we have ever had a Minister who has shown more forward-looking competence, and at the same time has made the whole broad subject of the fishing industry as interesting as has the present Minister, the Honouable James Sinclair.

For the past several years. Members on all sides of the House have complimented Mr. Sinclair on his interesting presentation of fishery matters, and it was characteristic yesterday that in concluding the consideration of Fisheries Estimates. Mr. Stanley Knowles (CCF) made a special point of complimenting the Minister.

It is pleasing to be able to say these things, because Mr. Sinclair is a Westerner and we Maritimers have always had qualms about entrusting the welfare of this important industry to anybody from outside Eastern Canada. Although we wuld not like to see it develop as a pattern that the Minister of Fisheries will come from the West I think it is generally agreed that the present Minister has given the Atlantic provinces the fullest consideration.

Two weeks ago the Goverment announced legislation to guarantee bank loans to fishermen. On Thursday the Minister stated that as a further policy of assistance the Government will pay a rebate to fishermen and others at the rate of 50% of the cost of salt used in the Industry. This policy is roughly comparable to the Government's assistance in providing lime for farmers, and it will doubtless be welcomed by all those who are engaged in the salt and pickled fish business.

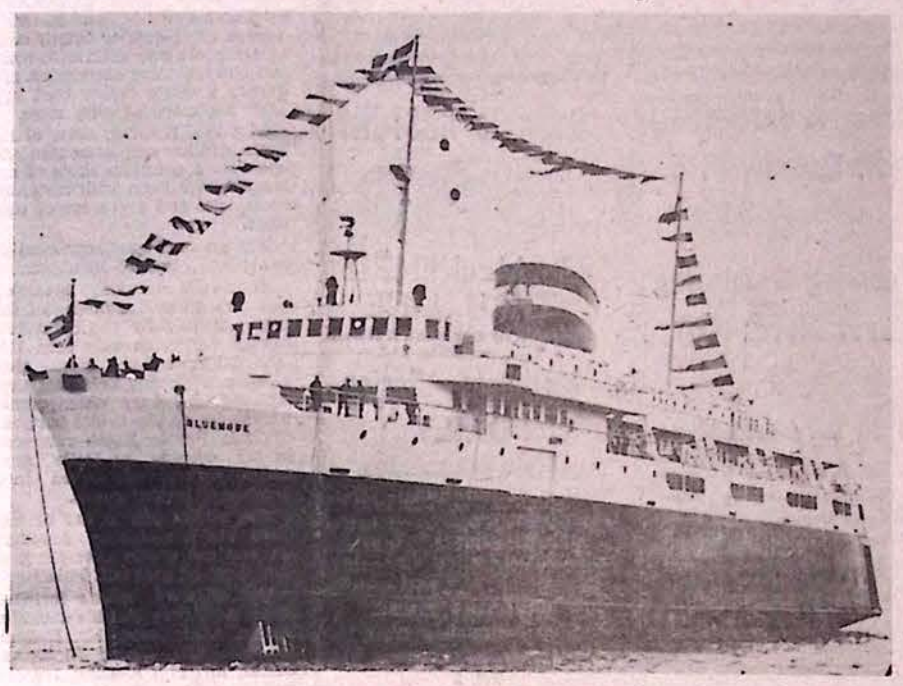

In addition to Fisheries, our Members raised questions in the House on the coal industry and on the ferry "Bluenose", both items being of outstanding importance to Nova Scotians.

Recently a transportation subvention of $2.50 a ton was announced on a trial order of coal for the United Kingdom. This week the Government agreed to extend the same assistance for an exploratory order of 20,000 tons to Germany.

Normally in the latter part of June, Parliament is winding up its business for the session, but it appears that this year it will take some time still to clean up all the business remaining before us.

Yours very truly,
Robert H. Winters.

Yarmouth-Bar Harbor Ferry Launched

Latest word from Ottawa is that the S.S. Bluenose is expected to be in service between Yarmouth, Nova Scotia, and Bar Harbor, Maine, before July 31. Sea trials are expected to be completed by July 15. The modern, streamlined vessel is shown here following her recent launching at Lauzon, Quebec. (N. S. Film Bureau Photo).

Christopher Lynch To Appear At St. Peter's, July 8

Christopher Lynch, lyric tenor of concerts, radio and television, young Irishman, protege of John MacCormick, was born in Rathkeale, Ireland, thirty years ago. He came to this country in 1946 as the tenor star, engaged "sight unseen" for the "Voice of Firestone" national radio network program.

The son of a Liferick stock farmer, Christopher Lynch had little thought of becoming a professional singer. He expected to carry on his father's work, and become a breeder of prize horses. As an alternative, he dreamed of a career as an athlete. In his teens he was so proficient in the Irish national game of hurling, that Ireland's sports writers selected him "All-Ireland goalie" in the rough and tumble sport.

Like so many of his companions Christopher sang in the local church choir, as a boy soprano, and eventually as a first tenor. His high cedar voice convinced the wife of a Rathkeale banker that he had potentialities as a singer. and she encouraged in Christopher an interest in good music, first by giving him a book of Thomas Moore's songs, and then by urging him to listen to phonograph records of famous operatic singers, particularly Beniamino Gigli. Christopher's older brother John prodded him into vocalizing and practicing when the hurling matches seemed most enticing, and before long the youngest of the Lynch clan found himself neglecting hurling stick for an operatic score, although Rathkeale offered little in the way of instruction or operatic entertainment.

At an amateur musicale in the city of Limerick, the brothers O'Mara, well-to-do merchants and friends of John McComick heard the Rathkeale lad sing and determined that McCormack should meet him. The famous Irish tenor, then in retirement, listened to the O'Mara's enthusiastic reports of young Lynch and agreed to audition him.

When McCormick heard Christopher Lynch for the first time, he said "A beautiful vocie, and a fine upstanding Irishman. He is the most likely to succeed me". "It is a burden to anyone to be looked upon as the shadow of a great man". Lynch as said time and time again, "There never was a second John MacCormick and I doubt if there ever will be, least of all myself."

To the day he died in 1945, John McCormack's interest in Christopher Lynch never diminished. He sent the boy to his own teacher, Dr. Vincent O'Brien of Dublin. He coached the young tenor in repertoire and passed onto him the ideas and theories he had garnered in his own golden career. Before he died John MacCormick did succeed in interesting an American concert impressario out of his way to sing a concert for some little off-the-beaten track parish church or for nuns in a small convent. He is fond of children, being father of four, and devotes much of his touring time to school assemblies, where he feels, are found the audience of tomorrow.

Christopher Lynch, his wife, two sons and two daughters go to Ireland every summer, with Christopher "commuting" to the United States whenever concert commitments require it. Winters are spent in their modest by comfortable home in Valley Stream, New York. Still youthful enough to be bobby-soxers' favorite, Christopher Lynch has many plans for the future. He has always been interested in opera and because his studies in that direction in Italy were interrupted in the interests of his American career, he hopes to return to Rome, soon and do some serious operatic coaching.

"John McCormick wanted me to do this," he explains in his soft Limerick brogue, "and I'm thinking I shouldn't be disappointing him. after all he did for me."

(Christopher Lynch will be appearing in St. Peter's, Richmond County on July 6th at 8 p.m. He will be accompanied by Joan Walker, Soprano and Norma Holmes, Pianist. Tickets are on sale now: $1.25 reserved and $1.00.

D'ESCOUSSE NEWS

We are sorry to report the death of Mr. Ephraim Poirier who passed away at the Arichat Hospital, June 25, at the age of 86 years.

Mr. Poirier, until a year ago, was in very good health. and would think nothing of walking from his home in Poirierville to D'Escousse, a distance of over two miles.

A good and kind Christian, and a good citizen Mr. Poirier's passing will be keenly felt among his many friends in D'Escousse, as well as Poirierville.

Surviving are two brothers, Wilfred of Poirierville and Wallace of East Boston, Mass; and a sister Mrs. Alex P. Poirier.

To his relatives and many friends we extend our sincere sympathy.

We are sorry to report that Mr. Lauchlin Poirier was involved in a car accident last Sunday when returning to Sydney in a car driven by Mr. Raymond Fougere.

Mr. Fougere had come from Sydney to spend his usual weekend and Mr. Poirier and a few more friends accompanied him.

Not far from Sydney on the return trip they were struck by a car from Sydney. Mr. Fougere's car was badly damaged but luck was with the passenger as none of them were seriously injured. Mr. Poirier received head injuries which will keep him from work for a few days and he is spending the time home with his family.

The usual game of 45's was held in the School House Tuesday night and was well attended. The first, second and third prizes were each two chickens and there was also a door prize. The games are sponsored by the Home and School Association.

Sporting Mountain Echoes

Date of writing is June 24th and thus it is summer official and practical.

We congratulate our next door neighbor upon the purchase of a beautiful brand new family Chevrolet whilst all are in a position to appreciate and enjoy it.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lewis and sons Robert Jr., and Ronald of the Steel City motored over the top of Sporting Mountain Monday evening.

Enroute they visited the Govt. Fish Hatchery at River Tillard where Miss Owens courteously and intelligently acquainted them with the many things of interest there.

We had occasion to have Afred Boudreau motor us to Oban the other day.

At the crossroads we paused to observe Fred Digout's mill in operation and admired the manner in which Raymond Pate and Wilfred Burke performed their respective parts.

Veteran dealer Wm. Morrison of Loch Lomond accompanied by Joseph England from St. Peters were business visitors to Seaview Tuesday and dropped in to our little domicile for a friendly chat.

James Sutherland supplemented the party and an extended and most interesting social period was enjoyed by all.

Alfred Boudreau motored Kaye McPhail and Hugh J. Hill to Arichat Tuesday, on business relative to lands recently purchased from the Municipality.

We presume it would be absurd to assume that the Newfoundland meteor and the Mexico meteors were not meteors at all but fragments of the atomic explosions we were wont to hear so much about.

"CRAFTSMEN AT WORK" EXHIBITION

The tenth annual "Craftsmen-at-Work" exhibition will be held this year at HMCS Cornwallis, July 25-29 inclusive it was announced by Hon. W. T. Dauphinee, Minister of Trade and Industry.

By popular request some of the outstanding features of the handcrafts exhibition of last year held at St. Francis Xavier University, Antigonish, will again be presented this year. Included are the children's Christmas scene, which will suggest many items which may be ordered for later gift giving; the Nova Scotia tartan scene, with varied articles displaying the new, authentic and popular Nova Scotia tartan; and the Nova Scotia mural. The mural, a focal point of attention wherever it has been shown was designed and executed by Nova Scotian craftsmen. It depicts the history of sheep in Nova Scotia and has been shown in various centres of Canada. It was during the designing and making of this large mural that the Nova Scotia Tartan came into being.

Many historic design quilts made by provincial Women's Institute groups will be on display including an Acadian theme quilt executed by the Port Williams group. It depicts the hero and heroine of Longfellow's poem "Evangeline", Gabriel and Evangeline, against a backgrond of wedgewood blue. In the corners are apple blossoms, fleur-de-lis and mayflowers.

A Pubnico quilt, with applique designs of both early and modern scenes, and a Kempt quilt featuring a replica of the Church of St. Charles in the Memorial Park, Grand Pre, will also be shown.

New this year are six large embroidered pictures depicting industries of Nova Scotia — coal mining, lumbering, fishing, farming, the apple industry and steel mills.

Also featured will be an all-wool mural of the "Order of Good Time", the design taken from a painting by Jeffreys.

Handwrought silver jewellery bearing Nova Scotia designs and handturned salad bowls, plates and other items of Nova Scotia woods turned out by skilled crafts men will be on show.

Many new samples of tweeds, fine dress goods, drapery, upholstery materials, stoles and many other Nova Scotia woven articles will be features. Nova Scotia prize winners at the recent London, Ontario all-Canada weaving exhibition will have their prize taking articles on exhibit.

A one-room apartment using Nova Scotia fabrics, all handwoven, will suggest many ways in which Nova Scotia handcrafts may be used in room decorating. Rugs, upholstery, drapes, pillows and other furnishings will be displayed, and can be made to special order for any visitor to the handcrafts show.

In addition to the exhibits there will be demonstrations of pottery throwing and modelling, the making of silver jewellery with a display of Nova Scotia semi-precious stones, vegetable dyeing, weaving, spinning and rug hooking.

Mary E. Black, Director of the Nova Scotia Handcrafts Division of the Department of Trade and Industry and assistants will be in attendance at the show.

The "Craftsmen-at-Work" exhibition will open at 2 p.m. Monday July 25 and continue daily through July 29 with admission free. Formal opening will be at 8 p.m. on the opening day, Monday. Wednesday night July 27, through the kindness of the Captain M. G. Sterling, commanding officer of the naval base, a special "Sunset Ceremony" will be carried out by personnel of the Royal Canadian Navy.

LANDRY — McGRATH

A very pretty summer wedding was solemnized at Church of the Assumption, Arichat, on June 27 when Miss Naomi Agnes McGrath daughter of Mrs. Ethel McGrath and the late M. McGrath was united in marriage to Raymond Albert Landry, son of Thomas A. Landry and the late Mrs. Landry of Little Anse. Rev. A. P. Poirier, P.P. performed the ceremony and sang the Nuptial High Mass.

The bride, given in marriage by her brother Morton McGrath wore a three-quarter length dress of white lace over satin with white veil and matching accessories. She carried a white prayer book and wore a corsage of pink roses.

Mrs. Phil Keating, sister of the bride. was her only attendant and she wore a pale blue dress of nylon net over satin with matching accessories and a corsage of pink roses.

The groom was supported by his cousin, Russell Boudreau.

After the ceremony breakfast was served at the home of the bride's mother for the immediate family. Serviteurs were Mrs. Homer Nickerson and Mrs. Alice Madden. Following breakfast they motored to Sydney where dinner was served to the bridal party at the Isle Royale Hotel, returning in the evening to Little Anse where supper was served to a number of invited guests.

The bride's gift to her bridesmaid was a matching jewellery set and the groom gave the best man a set of gold cuff links.

Out of town guests included Tifos. A. Landry and his daughter Muriel, Little Anse; Mr. Holland Halfax; Mrs. Homer Nickerson, Canso; Mr. Phil Keating, Halifax and Miss Mary Keating, Rocky Bay.

Prior to the marriage the bride was tendered pre-nuptial showers at Arichat and Little Anse and received a large assortment of gifts, including, linen, electrical appliances, silverware and money.

We wish them a long and happy wedded life.

NOVA SCOTIA COAL — THE THRIFTY FUEL

The Dosco Miner

Use NOVA SCOTIA COAL

In all the years Nova Scotians have been mining coal only 19.6% per cent of the known supply has been used. There is coal available for many years to come. This unlimited supply, plus efficient, modern methods of production are two of the reasons why heating with coal is easier on your pocketbook.

For example, there is the "Dosco Miner". Designed, engineered, and built by our own staffs, the "Dosco Miner" can extract and deliver to the loading conveyor one and one-half tons of coal in 13 seconds. No explosives are required thus making this form of coal mining safer and more efficient.

The "Dosco Miner" is only one of many new modern methods now being applied to coal mining. The benefits are passed along to you in the form of lower fuel costs and higher fuel efficiency.

W. N. MacDONALD INFORMS "RECORD" OF A PROPOSED INDUSTRIAL DEVELOPMENT

W. N. MacDonald of Sydney was a visitor to Arichat on Thursday. We were pleased to have a visit from our good friend who is always interested in the development of industry in Cape Breton.

For the past several years Mr. MacDonald has operated coal mines in Inverness and Port Hood and has made extensive research at Mabou during the past few years. Mr. MacDonald informs us that vast coal areas were located at Mabou and that the quality of this coal for domestic and metallurgical use is unsurpassed.

At present Mr. MacDonald is interested in the development of a large industrial steel plant that may be established in Richmond County. Further particulars cannot be published at this time, but we are satisfied that the information given us by our good friend that these industrialists are serious and much research has been done by Mr. MacDonald to hasten the establishment of such an industry hat would bring prosperity not only to Richmond County but throughout Cape Breton Island and the Eastern portion of the mainland.

A man well posted in the Marine world Mr. MacDonald can visualize great developments for Cape Breton and to listen to this gentleman oulline these developments one can admire his spirit and foresight. Yes, there is only one W. N. MacDonald in Cape Breton and it is a great pity there are not more like him.

This man does not seek publicity but instead a greater prosperity for the people of his beloved Cape Breton.

ATLANTIC SALMON CAUGHT — 135

One hundred and thirty-five Atlantic salmon caught by anglers from Nova Scotia rivers during the week ending June 18 brought the total catch as of that date to 586, according to reports received by the Federal Department of Fisheries, Halifax.

The Medway, Queens county, was top producer with 40. Next was the North river, Victoria county, with 14 and then Moser's Halifax county with 12. St. Marys Guysborough yielded 11. Other rivers with catches were Margaree, Inversess county, 4; Port Dufferin 4, Sheet Harbour West 6 Ship Harbour 4, Musquodoboit 3, Little Salmon 1, all Halifax county; Gold 6, LaHave 9, Petite Riviere 4, all Lunenburg county; Salmon, Digby county, 1; LeQuille 2, Annapolis 10, both Annapolis county; Gaspereaux 2 and Cornwallis 2, Kings county.

Water levels are below normal with improved fishing expected if rain occurs.

Through counting traps on the Medway 88 Atlantic salmon were observed entering the Medway during the past week. These counting traps were installed in selected Nova Scotia streams in order to determine the size of salmon runs and to obtain data on the annual fluctation in numbers.

BIG CELEBRATIONS PLANNED FOR ACADIAN BICENTENARY

Annapolis Royal, N. S., June 27 Before the Pilgrim Fathers landed at Plymouth Rock, a thriving village was already established here on the shores of Annapolis Basin. Here Canada was born.

This summer some of Canada's most distinguished leaders—headed by His Excellency, The Rt. Honorable Vincent Massey, Governor General of Canada--will join with Nova Scotians and their summer visitors to mark the 350th anniversary of Annapolis Royal.

A five-day program will begin on Saturday, July 30. Queen Annapolis IX will be crowned. The RCAF will stage an air display. The famed Bengal Lancers of Halifax will perform. Each night, except Sunday, there will be dancing. There will be fireworks, water sports, parades and concerts.

Annapolis Royal is on Route 1, about 84 miles from Yarmouth and about 129 miles from Halifax, the provincial capital of the province. There are excellent tourist homes, cabins and motels in and near the town, which, because of its location at the head of the Annapolis Basin and its lovely countryside, is one of Nova Scotia's beauty spots.

Fort Anne National Historic Park is here. Its museum houses precious relics of the dramatic history which was recorded here.

Seven miles from Annapolis Royal is The Habitation, a reconstruction of the trading post which was built by Samuel de Champlain when he established a settlement here is 1605. It was at The Habitation that The Order of the Good Time, the oldest social club in North America was formed. Visitors to Nova Scotia may become members of this club after they have spent seven days in the province. They receive handsome, illuminated certificates and "Fellowship and Good Cheer" cards.
