FIFTY-NINTH YEAR | ARICHAT, CAPE BRETON, N. S., MARCH 31 1956 | No. 31

Text of Mr. Urquhart's Speech In the Legislature

(2nd. Instalment)

(The following is a continuation of Mr. Urquhart's brilliant address which has been lauded by his friends and supporters in his native Richmond County. The remainder of this address will appear in consecutive issues of the Record.)

I should like now to turn my thoughts for a few minutes to a small portion of the highway needs of my constituency, but before doing so we should, of course, recognize the tremendous progress made in reconstructing and paving our trunk and secondary roads since 1934. There has been continuous progress since that time, with the exception of the war years when such expenditures were curtailed and kept to a bare minimum for maintenance purposes only.

I am, of course, pleased to say that my constituency has received a fair share since 1949. However, I must hasten immediately to assure the House, and in particular the Honourable Minister of Highways, that there are many other highway problems urgently in need of immediate attention. I shall not burden the House by recounting these various projects, but there are two which I feel should be mentioned at this time.

Honourable Members will recall that last Session I made representations to the Minister of Highways that the reconstructed highway from Boudreauville to Martinique by way of Petit de Grat, Arichat and West Arichat, should be paved during this year. The section from Boudreauville to the Port Royal crossroads was reconstructed some few years ago and the base has sufficiently settled to enable hard-surfacing to be carried out.

We must appreciate the fact that there is no railway on Isle Madame and consequently, all supplies for its inhabitants – which constitute nearly one-half the popuation of the county--must be transported by trucks and trailers.

At Petit de Grat, on Isle Madame, we have the fish processing and cold storage plant of Booth Fisheries and the total quantity of fish processed at that plant is transpored by highway from Petit de Grat to the American market. I feel that Honourable Members would be interested to know that since the plant was constructed in 1951, it has expanded from some 21-2 million ronud fish to 25 million landed in 1955, and company officials expect that in 1956 the quantity will reach the 30 million mark, and the prospects are that there will be a gradual increase each year. We must recognize the fact Mr. Speaker, that a gravel roadfrom Petit de Grat to Arichat is no longer adequate to cope with the transportation problem in that section of the County.

In addition to the above, Isle Madame provides a most scenic drive for our tourists, and anyone who has driven from Arichat to Petit de Grat and on to Little Anse, and then from Arichat around West Arichat to Port Royal and Janvrin's Harbour, will agree that there are few places more picturesque and more beautiful than quaint Isle Madame. Some of the most prosperous farmers in Richmond County also live on this island, and I shall have more to say about them later.

I will conclude my remarks on highways by urging the Minister of Highways to give his most kind and favorable consideration to my request to have the L'Ardoise Road paved this year as well. This road is also in excellent condition for paving, and I should point out that L'Ardoise and Petit de Grat are the two largest parishes in my constituency.

The traffic on these roads is increasing each year and only paved surfaces can stand up to the everyday needs of trucks, trailers, school buses and passenger vehicles.

Fishing is also the main industry in L'Ardoise and all fish caught and cured in that area are also transported by trucks and trailers. Again, no railway facilities are available to the people of that part of Richmond County in the area in which they live.

Next to Highways, Mr. Speaker, one of the greatest services made available to the people of Nova Scotia is Rural Eectrification. I am naturally very happy that practically my whole county, with the exception of two and possibly three short sections, has been covered with this service.

We are all aware of the requirements of the Rural Electrification Act, whereby any district requiring this service must have four potential and three actual consumers to the mile. Where this is not possible, the Commission has adopted the policy that if the available consumers would pay the equivalent of the four potential and three actual consumers to the mile, Rural Electrification would be extended to their area.

Due to the fact that some sections of my county are sparsely settled, it was necessary for the consumers to adopt this plan if they were to obtain this service. As a result, some of the customers in the Eastern part of Richmond County are paying a minimum monthly bill of $5.50 while others are paying a minimum monthly bill of $4.50 which I feel is high.

It hardly seems fair, Mr. Speaker, that some citizens of this province should have to pay a much higher price than others for the same service so essential to our modern way of life.

This brings me now to the point which I have in mind, that a thorough study be undertaken in an endeavour to ascertain whether it would be possible to provide a uniform rate for Rural Electrification consumers throughout the entire province, or, in the alternative, to have the province divided into zones which would have a uniform rate for all consumers within a particualr zone.

Thus, the essence of my theme, Sir, is that we should endeavour to have uniformity so that the cost of this service would be shared equal ly by the people of this province. After all, uniformity is the basis for most public services that we enjoy. For example, highways are reconstructed and paved uniformly throughout the province.

Meanwhile, measure into a large bowl ½ c. lukewarm water, 1 tsp. granulated sugar; stir until sugar is dissolved. Sprinkle with 1 envelope Fleischmann's Active Dry Yeast. Let stand 10 mins., THEN stir well.

Add cooled milk mixture and stir in 1 well-beaten egg and 1 tsp. grated lemon rind. Stir in 2 c. once-sifted bread flour; beat until smooth. Work in 2 c. (about) once-sifted bread flour. Knead on lightly-floured board until smooth and elastic. Place in greased bowl and grease top of dough. Cover and set in warm place, free from draught. Let rise until doubled in bulk. Punch down dough and roll out into an oblong about 9" wide and 24" long; loosen dough. Combine ½ c. lightly-packed brown sugar and ½ c. liquid honey; spread over dough and sprinkle with ¾ c. broken walnuts. Beginning at a long side, loosely roll up like a jelly roll. MAURICE BOUDREAU

The passing of Maurice Boudreau in his eighty-fifth year down at Barra Head on the morning of March nineteenth removes a veteran citizen who in life's heyday was familiarly and favorably known in this area.

The location of his spacious Medow Farm on the upper reaches of River Tillard where he nurtured a worthy family placed him in the vicinity of Oban and Seaview, and he was ever a neighborly neighbor to the residents of both sections.

His eldest daughter Phyllis (now Mrs. Smith of Boston, Mass.) was one of our ambitious pupils in Seaview School.

She didn't come by bus, but traversed the three miles that intervened every morning and evening.

A son, Ephraim Boudreau, was a brilliant student at College, and fills a prominent place in the Civil Service at Ottawa.

The others comprise, Mrs. Ernest McNeil (Mary) Barra Head, who tenderly ministered to her aged father in his final illness; Mrs. Hector Campbell (Helen) of Halifax, Mrs. James Burke (Theresa) Ontario; and Sister Marian Reige (Cecilia) of California who flew across the continent to be present at her fond father's funeral rites.

We were pleased the other evening for an interesting visit from Eileen Landry the competent and courteous Postmistress at Cannes.

Miss Landry has a populous district for which to sort the mails.

Ceretha McLennan has returned from an extended visit to relatives and friends south of the border.

Angus Morrison had occasion to come up from St. Peters Saturday morning and dropped in to see us.

When Mr Morrison was our mail contractor and roads became impassable to vehicles ancient and modern he would shoulder the mail bags and hike to Sporting Mountain Station to wait for the train which sometimes did not arrive till midnight.

In our new way of life we presume it would be folly to expect that sort of service again.

Lloyd McRae has gone to New Brunswick where he is employed in a mine.

His brother-in-law Sherman Stockley is at present with the family.

Lucille Martell of Oban School is spending the holidays at her home in Little Anse whither Buddy Boudreau motored her Thursday evening.

At date of writing we are still snow bound in Seaview and we'd infer from "Dundee Dew Drops" that conditions are very similar on the other side of South Mountain.

Last Week in the Legislature

The House approved in principle an amendment to the Public Health Act which would absolutely prohibit the sale of adulterated milk or cream in Nova Scotia. The legislation was introduced Health Minister Geoffrey Stevens who informed the legislature that the body of the bill had been approved not only by his department but by the dairymen's association the milk producers' association and the department of agricuture.

The bill also permits a quicker method of pasteurization than presently employed.

Appointment of an administrator of the Cape Breton Mental Hospital, presently undergoing a royal commission investigation headed by exchequer court Judge Vincent J. Pottier, was urged by CCF eader Michael J. McDonald (Cape Breton Centre). Serious concern and anxiety was evident in Cape Breton, said Mr. McDonald, with respect to the well-being of hospital patients and while the investigation was being carried on, the government, in conjunction with the commission, woud do well to appoint an administrator he suggested.

Health Minister Stevens replied he would cdontact the commission regarding Mr. Mc Donald's suggestion. Prior to this he said Mr. Justice Potter would make such a recommendation if he, Mr. Pottier, saw fit to do so.

A bill introduced by Highways Minister Mackenzie would give the highways department the power to construct a highway or section of one within a city or town and also the control and licensing of billboards and advertising signs.

The bill would prohibit erection of advertising signs within 500 feet from the centre of the highway outside town or city limits. Stiff fines or imprisonment, would be penalties for erection of unauthorized signs; or the damaging, by defacing, etc., of signs which were Crown property.

A charge by Opposition Leader Robert L. Stanfield that neither the agriculture department or the department of municipal affairs was doing anything to prevent a heavy taxation burden on rural and farm people as result of the carrying out the new provincial educational pro-

JACK MINER
PIONEER BIRD BANDER

It is an undisputed fact that the late, Jack Miner, Canadian Naturalist, pioneered the scientific research in bird banding of mass numbers of waterfowl on the continent.

He banded his first wild duck in August 1909 which was shot in January 1910 by Dr. W. E. Bray of Anderson, South Carolina. This constitutes the first complete record of where a bird was banded and where shot on the continent. The duck was a wild specie and came to the Miner ponds in the summer of 1909 and was caught and banded in August of that year.

It is true that Jack Miner's friend Mr. James Henry Fleming of Toronto had banded a robin on September 24, 1905 and some duck hunting clubs in North Carolina had put some colored leg bands on ducks but Jack Miner's system of mass banding and getting a complete record of where a duck or goose was banded and where shot was the first scientific data that was used by both the Federal State and Provincial Governments in learning what percentage was shot in ech locality and enabled the Governments to legislate against any excessive kill.

Since 1909 there has been over 50000 ducks banded at the Jack Miner Sanctuary and since 1915 some 51,026 Canada Geese.

Is It Safe To Fly Ocean

Every 18 minutes an airplane completes a crossing of the North Atlantic or Pacific Ocean. Since 1948 there have been approximately 145,000 reularly scheduled passenger flights across these vast expanses of water.

How many lives have been lost from landing in the ocean during that time?

"On the North Atlantic route, none; on the Pacific route, two passengers, two crew-members," states Robert N.. Buck, long a commercial airline captain, in the April Reader's Digest.

"Ditchings" in transoceanic flight hve been rare the world over. But if one should ever be necessary, both pilots and planes are now well prepared carrying life-saving items that include rafts ,individual life jackets, emergency radio transmitters, chemical freshwater maker fishing tackle to supplement food rations, flashlight, compass, book on navigation and the stars, shark repellent, flares, dye to put in the sea to make a huge area of bright color which can be seen from a long way off, and even a special reflector which makes it easier for the radar of a search plane to find you.

It should be remembered, says the Digest article, that all airplanes flying major ocean routes have four engines. If one engine fails, you can get home on two. The chances of double failure are remote, says the author. "In 13 years of ocean flying, I have had only three cases of engine failure, and each time only one engine was involved" gram was replied to by Agriculture Minister Colin Chisholm. "To see that the welfare of the farmer and rural dweller is protected as far as possible" (from too burdensome a tax) his department, he said, will maintain close negotiations and relations with both the municipal affairs department and the provincial agricultural industry.

In relation to the new Social Assistance Act, R. C. Levy (PC-Lunenburg) felt additional amendments should be written into the act allowing for assitance to families of men undergoing short-term imprisonment sentences, also the right of appeal to court from decison of the body administering the act.

Whether any research to determine where markets can be found for Nova Scotia products was being carried out by the Department of Agriculture--the question of G. I. Smith (PC-Colchester)-- was replied to by Mr. Chisholm who said a number of new outlets had been found by an agriculture department staff member covering the Montreal, New England and Newfoundland markets. There is a big market in Newfoundland for provincial products said Mr. Chisholm but problems were interfering, such as the lack of a warehouse on Newfoundland's west coast and also transportation. E. D. Haliburton (PC-Kings) said valley fruit growers could compete against shippers from Montreal if the ferry William Carson was subsidized and if the island province had a good road system.

He would submit a return [illegible]er the Perkins House in Liverpool would be open this summer, said Premier Hicks, in answer to a question by W. S. K. Jones, PC-Queens, and in answer to aquery by S. T. Pyke (PC--Cumberland Centre) Highways Minister Mackenzie said there had been no conversion to oil furnaces in any provincial building during the past year.

A recently appointed three-man committee is now studying the possible effect on the St. Lawrence seaway on provincial economy and would meet with the federal seaway authority, Premier Hicks reported.

Among suggestions by Progressive Conservative members that representation for new methods of coping with unemployment was one offered by G. H. Wilson (Hants West). Mr. Wilson suggested a federal-provincial study to determine if money paid out in unemployment insurance could be better diverted to job-providing highway and public works programs.
