FIFTY-NINTH YEAR | ARICHAT, CAPE BRETON, N. S.. APRIL 28, 1956 | No. 35

Ottawa News Letter

By
HON. R. H. WINTERS
Minister of Public Works

Dear Mr. Editor:

The House of Commons has already this session devoted three full days to its customary searching annual study of the Estimates of the Department of Public Works.

I know that before I ever became associated with this particular Department, its Estimates of expenditures always held a special attraction because in them are embodied the Geovernment's plans for Public Buildings, marine structures such as wharves, breakwaters, repairs eo existing structures and dredging. Consequently the tabling of the Blue Book of Government expenditures is eagerly awaited each year and no Member of Parliament picks it up without a quick look at the pages listing Public Works items to see what's in store for his constituency in the year ahead.

Once one has responsibility for this particular portfolio the whole matter, of course, takes a different aspect. Then you are the one who has to answer the many, many questions from all sides of the House about projects under way, or projects Members believe should be under way. For a Cabinet Minister to face the House for the first time and answer all questions about his Department is quite a tense experience. After several years, however, he develops a sense of feeling about what the various Members are likely to ask; and after eight years I now rather enjoy the give and take of a good searching review of our Estimates.

Sometimes the going might seem to be a little rough, with some of the questions and statements by the Opposition Members being quite critical. But that sort of thing is to be expected in Parliament; its the very essence of the democratic process, and I can think of nothing more calculated to make a Minister and his department see that everything is as ship-shape as it can be. Personally I find that most Members are fair and simply trying to do the best possible job for their constituencies.

Long beofre the Estimates get to the House, depprtmental officials and the Minister spend months weighing the various factors and trying to balance the innumerable requests in the light of the monies likely to be available. When finally the Minister goes before the House to justify his program he has behind him long hours of homework and study. In the Department of Public Works we have such a wide variety of projects all over the country that nobody could be Minister of Public Works long without developing a pretty good knowledge of Canadian geography.

Out of all this emerges the tangible results such as the new Post Office recently opened in Lunenburg, the one being constructed in Liverpool, the large expenditures made on wharves in Bridgewater and elsewhere along the south shore. This year's Estimates contain plans for the expenditure of over $6 million in Nova Scotia, which is in keeping with our policy of providing facilities necessary to enable the Government to perform its public service and our fishermen to pursue their hazardous occupation.

Yours sincerely,
ROBERT WINTERS

Meanwhile, measure into a large bowl ½ c. lukewarm water, 1 tsp. granulated sugar; stir until sugar is dissolved. Sprinkle with 1 envelope Fleischmann's Active Dry Yeast. Place in greased bowl and grease top of dough. Cover and set in a warm place, free from draught. Let rise until doubled in bulk. Sporting Mountain Echoes

Date of writing is April twenty-seventh, and we are getting some spring snow which an old timer was wont to say was butter for the land.

There was a large assembly at the hospitable Boudreau home, Monday night the occasion being a reception for Joseph Konning a recent arrival from Holland.

We ppprecia ted a friendly call from Robert Ross, Donald McDonald, Charles Grand and Mrs. Alice Flynn when on the way to the party.

We regret to know that Mrs. Neil Sutherland (Kaye McNeil) of Sydney River, and Mrs. Vitus Burke (Irene Morrison) of River Tillard are at present temporary patients in hospitals at Sydney, and we hope they may soon be back to their respective families.

Shurman Stockley returned to his home in Ingonish Friday morning and was accompanied by Lillian Cooke.

Allan Tousenard, veteran dealer, was a business visitor to Seaview, Thursday afternoon, and took time off to spend a social period in our little domicle by the roadside.

If we keep as active as we are thankful to be at present, we purpose visiting Mr. Tousenard's prominent plant at River Bourgeois and thus shall be able to tell our readers something about it.

Our neighbors, Mr. Verhagen of Seaview and Mr. Bouchard of Oban had the misfortune to lose their horses recently, but both succeeded in securing satisfactory animals, the former in the vicinity of St. Peters and the latter at Louisdale.

WEDDING

Archibald - Gouguen

The home of Mrs. H. A. Archibald of 139 Victoria St., Truro was the scene of a quiet informal wedding, April 28, 1956 when Mrs. Archibald's daughter, Miss Helen Sara was united in marriage to L. W. Goguen of St. Peters. The Rev. Dr. F. E. Archibald, of Moncton, N. B., brother of the bride, officiated. Only the immediate members of the family with a few friends were in attendance.

During the afternoon the two absent members of the family. George in Hamilton and David in Toronto talked by Telephone offering best wishes and their interest in sister Helen. Many telegrams were also received.

The bride was dressed in a very pretty spring suit with suitable accessories. She travelled in the same suit. Helen has been Principal of the St. Peters school for some years where she teaches Grades XI and XII. She will continue her school work.

Mr. Goguen has built a new house near St. Peters where they will reside.

Mr. and Mrs. Goguen left amid showers of confetti and good wishes for a short wedding trip, going later to their home in St. Peters.

The Record joins with the many friends of the popular couple in wishing them both every happiness.

THE CRIMSON TOLL
(Wolfville Acadian)

Premier Henry D. Hicks made a very apt remark in addressing the annual convention of the Maritime Motor Transport Association, at Kentville, a few days ago. He said that "motor vehicle travel on highways has been woven into the very fabric of our lives. Into that fabric has been woven another thread--a thread of crimson--coloured by he blood of men women and children, who have suffered death or injury."

He emphasized that truck drivers appointed by the Association are among the best in Nova Scotia and are building for themselves a reputation for skill and courtesy. The Premier pointed out that in Nova Scotia alone 123 persons had been killed and 2,611 injured in highway accidents last year. He classed truck drivers as the the professionals of fthe art of driving, and thought that one method of reducing the death rate on our highways was by education which was not easy, because it was designed to alter the behaviour and improve the habits of those who use the highways.

Most truck drivers can, and do, set a high standard of excellence on the highways, and if many other drivers could be induced to follow their careful use of the roads with thought and care for other road users, both drivers and pedestrians, much could be done to reduce the rapidly mounting score of death and accident in the province. The Premier's appeal is deserving of careful study by all who operate motor vehicles on the highways of Nova Scotia.
