Speech In Legislature By Earl W. Urquhart, M.L.A.

(The final instalment of Mr. Urquhart's speech in the Legislature, appears as follows:—)

I was more than surprised that no mention was made in the Throne Speech of the problem of unemployment. It appears to me now, very clear, that the Conservatives were more concerned about this problem when they were in Opposition. You will recall, Mr. Speaker, that the Premier, as Leader of the Opposition, in 1956 moved an amendment to His Honour's Speech which reads, in part, as follows:

"This Assembly regrets that the Speech from the Throne presents no practical programme for increasing employment in this Province."

If unemployment was a serious matter then certainly it must still be equally serious today, particularly in the Counties of Pictou and Cape Breton. Where is the Government's great plan for relieving unemployment, I should like to know?

Unemployment is a serious matter today in the Maritimes, although not as serious as in some other parts of Canada, according to a recent survey published in the Financial Post. Indeed, the Minister of Highways, as a Private Member for Colchester, in his maiden effort in this House during the Session of 1950, was quite concerned about this matter, when he said: "That the unemployment situation is a serious one seems to be only too well established and I join with the Leader of the C.C.F. Party in an endeavour to impress upon the government the necessity for early and effective action. I am sorry that the Honourable the Premier did not say anything to alleviate the anxiety of the people in this respect." That was said in 1950, seven years ago. Today, it is 1957 and I can likewise say that I am sorry that the Conservative Government, some Members of which thought they saw the problems years ago, has nothing to offer the people so far in the solution of their problems.

Perhaps the views of the Government on this point will, like the decrees of the Medes and the Persians, be made known in due course. We shall await them with keen interest to say the least. The excuse that might be offered is that the Government is not in office long enough to analyse the problem and find a solution to the problem of unemployment. I feel that such an excuse, if the Government cares to use it, will not be very acceptable to the people who are in need of food, shelter and clothing.

This Conservative Government must be creative in its thoughts and in its actions and it will have to prove to the people of this Province that the Conservative Party really had a new and a different way of dealing with out problems — problems of finance, highway reconstruction and paving, higher old age assistance, increased disability pensions, better schools and higher teachers' salaries. This Conservative Government must do substantially better, to mention only a few fields of public service.

After 8 years the Premier, as Leader of the Opposition, convinced enough people in Nova Scotia that he had a magic formula for the problems and needs of this Province. Let his Government now unveil that magic formula and produce the industrial development of which he prophesied would take place under a government led by him.

Let me remind the Premier and his Government that Municipalities will continue to look for substantial assistance, teachers will be expecting the higher salary scale they were always led to believe a Conservative Government would provide for them, the coal miners will expect this Conservative Government to create markets for their coal and properly so after repeated charges by the Tories that the Liberals never did anything to assist the miners, the unemployment will wait day by day for booming new industries to spring up and provide the opportunities for work the Conservatives led them to believe they would create, and citizens in the rural areas will await the coming of Spring when the secondary roads will be reconstructed, not piecemeal, but by a sweeping programme supposedly well planned though never revealed by the Conservatives while in Opposition.

Let the Conservative Government now get busy and do the things they advocated while in Opposition. The programme of this new Conservative Government will be carefully watched by the people of Nova Scotia, and their every-day activities will come in for the closest possible scrutiny.

News of the Provincial Legislature

Capital expenditure estimates tabled by Premier Stanfield for the current fiscal year included more than half, almost $13,000,000 for construction of roads, bridges and ferries—the breakdown being $8,930,000 for road construction, $2,300,000 for the bridge program, $150,0000 for construction of ferries and docks, and $1,600,000 alloted as the province's share in construction of the Trans-Canada highway. The estimates also included, for rural high school buildings, the sum of $1,655,000. $1,290,000 was included in the loan funds for the Fishermen's Loan Board.

Premier Stanfield announced the resignation of the president of the Nova Scotia Technical College, Dr. A. E. Cameron. Dr. Cameron will be replaced by John Hoogstraten, professor of civil engineering at the University of Manitoba. Dr. Cameron had announced his wish to retire last year, the Premier reported.

A limitation of the privileges of family doctors in the Halifax Victoria General Hospital and other provincial hospitals has created a trend which will relegate the family doctor to a servile role and eventually will cause his disappearance wa voiced by Dr. Henry Bearden L-Halifax West). Regulations have shut out family doctors from the hospital staff of the Victoria General is contrary to other general hospital he charged, a policy which tals in the country, he said. He also said the minister of health should not be burdened with other portfolios. He hoped his remarks would arouse hospital boards to a realization that they have a duty to all patients and doctors alike using their hospitals.

Questioned by opposition members re details of an alcoholics treatment centre which the Progressive Conservative party had promised in its manifesto Premier Stanfield and Health Minister R. A. Donahue informed the House that the government had no plans for establishing such a centre this year but the promise would be fulfilled. The government had no money for its establishment this year, said the Premier, but would initiate a definite program to grope with the alcoholism question.

B. W. Balcom, L-Kings North, pressed that the treatment centre for alcoholics be either a separate institution, or one attached to a general hospital but definitely not run in conjunction with a mental hospital.

Segregation of younger children from the hard-core of inmates at the Nova Scotia School for Boys at Shelburne through the building of a security-type lock-up for the hard-core group a suggestion put forward by J. Clyde Nunn, L-Inverness, would be given the utmost consideration and thought by the government, said Attorney- General Donahue. Mr. Donahue added that he hoped to isit, soon, all such provincial institutions and principle, was given the bill which

Second reading, or approval in to personally scrutinize them. will allow establishment of the Nova Scotia Development Limited. The government will match share for share, public investment in the $10,000,000 capital of the corporation, designed to promote and assist provincial industry. The corporation would have nine directors, seven appointed by shareholders and two by Governor-in-Council.

Many rural areas in Nova Scotia will be able to receive the benefits of electricity through an amendment to the Rural Electrification Act which was approved in principle. Where there is an average of two or more domestic classification customers per mile the bill will allow government assistance on extensions undertaken by the Nova Scotia Power Commission or privately operated utilities. Opposition Leader Henry D. Hicks, commenting on the amendment, said it would, in addition to making rural living more pleasant, make it much more practical to settle on many Nova Scotia farms.

The possibility of a multi-million dollar chlorine plant to be established in Cumberland county area by Canadian Industries Limited was announced by Premier Stanfield. In referring to changes in operational plans of proposed thermal power plants for Nova Scotia and New Brunswick the Premier said the changes would not stop Nova Scotia from accepting the proposals but his government would give greatest study of the plans to ensure the best interest of Nova Scotia before entering into any agreement. "What we want to see is a maximum quantity of Nova Scotia coal used to develop power in the thermal power plants," he said.

A Digby Board of Trade request to have the CPR-operated Pines hotel slated to be sold, operated by the government was forwarded to Trade and Industry Minister E. A. Manson through M.S. Leonard, MLA for Digby. It was a matter of policy for consideration by the whole government, said Mr Manson. No action was expected until after the present session had closed.

A report of an extensive survey carried out in Pictou county by a mining consulting engineer, G. A. Visnes, engaged by the government was tabled in the Legislature by Mines Minister Manson. The report, said Mr. Manson had been forwarded by the government to the Acadia Coal Company with a request for what t erms, if any, they be willing to implement the report. "On the basis of prevailing conditions and of future expected developments, we believe that a new mine will be justified in Pictou county, if sufficient tonnages of good coals can be proven, under sufficiently attractive mining conditions", said Mr. Visnes in his report.

The Legislature prorogued last Friday night and during the six-week-plus session coped with 124 bills, 26 more than handled in the previous session. In the final moments legislation was approved making it illegal for liquor agents to operate in the province and also legislation limiting the deer kill this coming season to one deer, either sex, per hunter.
