Allan J. MacEachen, Nominated Liberal Candidate At Hawkesbury

ALLAN MacEACHEN
IS RENOMINATED

Port Hawkesbury — Allan MacEachen, former Professor of Economics at St. F. X. University and a native son of Inverness was renominated as Liberal standard bearer in the June 10 Federal election for the riding of Inverness Richmond West Cape Breton which he has represented since 1953.

He was the only name placed before the jammed convention hall and moving the nomination was Harold J. Gillis, former Mayor of Port Hawkesbury and seconder was Guy Hilts of Louisbourg.

Chief speaker was Hon. R. H. Winters, Federal Minister of Public Works, who made a prediction that Nova Scotia would send 10 Liberals to Ottawa "to give to that opportunity to keep this great nation on the path to prosperity and peace."

The convention held in the State Theatre was the opening gun in the campaign for the June 10 election.

Another speaker was Richard Bohlmann, Liberal M. P. for Gloucester, both whose main address was in French.

Mr. Winters said the record Federal budget was an example of determination of the St. Laurent government to endeavour to see that prosperity was known to all sections of Canada.

He opened his talk in reading from a prepared statement in French and charged the Progressive Conservative's Mr. Diefenbaker had failed to "bridge the gap" between the two traditional races, that he had failed to get a mayor or seconder of his nomination as leader from Quebec, or any substantial support from the people of Canada who speak the French language and follow great traditions.

Prime Minister Louis St. Laurent was one of the greatest Canadians of all time, he said. Mr. Winters agreed with Allan MacEachen that the record number has been aptly termed "a Maritime budget".

He said Nova Scotia had sent 10 Liberals, one CCF and one Progressive Conservative member in the "peace and prosperity" government. Any change should be for added Liberal representation in view of the government record.

Candidate MacEachen, whose record as a graduate to United Nations was cited as recognition of his ability as a public figure said he was a St. Francis Xavier University classmate of PC nominee Robert S. MacLellan Jr., young Sydney barrister. He said he hoped that after the election they would be no strained relationship.

But, he said, Mr. Mackenzie's statements at his nomination convention at Port Hawkesbury two weeks ago needed some checking. He said his opponent had stated the Liberal majority in 1953 was 624 votes and that there were 226 polling sections.

From the official records, said Mr. MacEachen the Liberal majority was 1731 and there were only 178 polls. He said he would work on these 178 polls and leave his opponent to work on the 168 pluralism polls."

Mr. Winters expressed satisfaction at the pan-packed meeting two days after dissolution of parliament. He said it was a tribute "to this outstanding young man," to the association executive headed by President P. H. J. MacKinnon, Port Hawkesbury, and the entire organization.

Ottawa News Letter

by
HON. R. H. WINTERS
Minister of Public Works

Dear Mr. Editor:

The big item about Parliament today is that it does not exist any longer. It was dissolved on April 13th and the Prime Minister announced that there would be a general election on June 10.

The election of Canada now have an opportunity of choosing the composition of the next Parliament. This is part of the democratic process and from my own experience I know what a salutary thing it is to have a new mandate from the people as they present.

Under our constitution, any duly elected Government is entitled to hold office for five years. The last election was on August 10, 1953, but it has been the practice here in Canada, to give the people an opportunity to express themselves on this important matter about once every four years. I think this is reasonable because after four years any Government that is responsible to the wishes of the people is anxious to know whether it still enjoys the confidence of the electors. At the same time the voters are equally anxious to have an opportunity to express their own views about what Government they wish.

This has been a good Parliament. I think it has been the most constructive of the three in which I've sat. Much has happened and a great deal has been accomplished.

We have seen a new leader of the Opposition and a number of new faces in the Government. The role of the Maritimes has received more emphasis than in any other Parliament in Canada's history.

Among the highlights, the Pipeline debate stands out. It was very exciting and at times the fate of Parliament hung in the balance. The loan the Government made for this project has now been repaid in full with interest. Another feature was the renegotiation of the fiscal arrangements under which Nova Scotia will receive some $6 million a year more than our Province received under the old agreement. I don't believe that anything was more important to us, however, than the Federal Government's decision to enter the field of power development, with an offer to build and operate thermal power plants in Nova Scotia and New Brunswick with a view o making electric power available to consumers as cheaply as possible.

One of the last Acts of the old Parliament was o comply with a request from farmers across Canada, including the Nova Scotia Federation of Agriculture, by amending the Agricultural Products Marketing Act; we also broke new ground in making fishermen eligible for Unemployment Insurance benefits; and legislated to enable the Federal Government to enter into agreements with Provincial Governments for a national hospitalization plan

This has been an historic Parliament but it is over now and it remains to be seen which political party in Canada will merit the support of the voters at the polls on June 10, 1957.

I wish in concluding this series of letters, to thank you kindly for printing them in the Richmond County Record each week. Will you please accept for yourself and your readers my warmest regards and best wishes.

Yours very truly,

ROBERT H. WINTERS

Sports Answer To Juvenile Delinquency

Charlie Conacher's answer to juvenile delinquency? Sports, he says emphatically in the current issue of Maclean's magazine. "Games raised our whole family out of the slums of Toronto, and probably saved us from careers like those of Mickey MacDonald and his brothers Eddie and Alex, notorious crooks and holdup men who were practically our next door neighbours."

In his own story of Canada's first sports family, beginning in Maclean's, Conacher, who was the star sharpshooter on Toronto's one-time famous Kid Line of Primeau, Jackson and Conacher, recalls the climb of the ten Conacher children from the depths of poverty in a Toronto slum. He says, "The answer to why more of us didn't go wrong, is sports."

"A few families did. My brother Roy and Bert played with Alex MacDonald, Mickeys younger brother. One day Alex got a lift from Mickey, who was in the penitentiary at Kingston. It [illegible] Mickey wanted Alex to pull. Alex tried to get some of the neighbourhood kids in on it. Fortunately all the Conachers were too busy playing shinny."

Charlie, who sketches his own career and those of his brothers, Lionel, Roy, Bert and Dern, says, "It was mostly through hockey that the Conachers got to be known beyond our own neighborhood. We wanted to live better and you can't live better without money. Hockey looked like the best way to make money to all the Conachers.

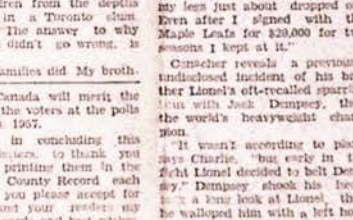

"When I started playing hockey I was terrible, I was so bad as a skater that they made me a goalkeeper to keep me out of the way. But I knew I had to succeed. I just about lived at the rink in our neighborhood. I skated until my legs just about dropped off. Even after I signed with the Maple Leafs for $20,000 for two seasons I kept at it."

Conacher reveals a previously undisclosed incident of his brother Lionel's oft-recalled sparring bout with Jack Dempsey, then the world's heavyweight champion.

"It wasn't according to plan," says Charlie, "but early in the fight Lionel decided to belt Dempsey." Dempsey shook his head, took a long look at Lionel, then he walloped him with a left hook that straightened him up. Lionel started to grin, and so did Dempsey. They took it easy after that."

Bigger Bedrooms Now Popularly Priced!

with SPACEMASTER folding doors

You don't have to remodel to enlarge your bedroom. No partitions need come down. Just put "Spacemaster" doors on your closets or entry doors—and you pick up all the space that swinging doors waste.

"Spacemaster" doors fold subtly the doorway, never out into the room. You can put beds, nightstands, lamps closer to closets . . . and still have plenty of room to move in.

First cost of "Spacemaster" is at a new low. Maintenance costs are nil. You clean them with soap and water. And there are no installation costs since you can put them up yourself in 15 minutes.

See "Spacemaster," made by the makers of famous "Modernfold" doors, today.
