Acadian Festival to be Held From Aug. 8-15 Along Parishes of St. Mary's Bay

Western Nova Scotia Acadians Have Arranged a Grande Program

The "longest main street in America", a 40 mile stretch of Nova Scotia's trunk route 1 following along St. Mary's Bay scenic shore from Weymouth to Beaver River in Digby county will be the focal point of the Acadian Festival of Clare, August 8 to 15.

This area is known as the French Shore of Nova Scotia and is one continuous settlement of Acadians and it it were not for sign posts one would not not know where one village ends and another begins. It is for this unique blending of villages that the stretch has been labeled the "longest main street in America."

Villages with such names as Grosses Coques, Saulnierville, Comeauville, and Belliveau's Cove emphasize the Acadian atmosphere of the district of Clare, settled by banished Acadians of Grand Pre, who, following their expulsion from Nova Scotia in 1755 returned some years later to an epic, overland march from Boston, Massachusetts. Finding their homes and farmlands in the rich Annapolis Valley occupied they pushed onward to St. Mary's Bay where they settled and built homes from the dense forests which reached down to the sea.

Present-day Acadians cherish the customs, traditions and culture which the original Acadians loved so dearly and which they passed on to succeeding generations. The forthcoming Acadian Festival will vividly portray these heart-bound qualities and characteristics.

Dominating the French Shore —landmarks for mariners and of tremendous interest to visitors— are the beautiful churches of the Acadians, all of imposing structure and built by these master craftsmen.

Spires of six parish churches point heavenward between Weymouth and Beaver River and two which in particular, catch the eyes of visitors are St. Mary's at Church Point and St. Bernard's at St. Bernard. St. Mary's, its steeple rising a majestic 190 feet above the ground, towers over the bustling village. It is the largest wooden church in Canada.

St. Bernard's, of granite stone, was 30 years in the building and is one of the most beautiful edifices in Nova Scotia. Year after year these devoted Acadians, through annual fairs and donations raises money for its construction and watched it slowly but surely take shape. After more than work and sacrifice their than a quarter of a century of dream was realized. Visitors to St. Bernard's during the Acadian Festival in August will be given a vivid insight of the strong characteristics possessed by these Acadians of Nova Scotia.

A Delightful Trip To Montreal

After leaving the CNR station we proceeded to the home of our brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Bourinot who reside in their comfortable home on Hingley Ave. off Sherbrooke St.

This section of the city is residential and at present a large apartment building is being constructed on Benny Ave. We were told that only a few years ago the area or part known as the Benny Farm was vacant land but today in this section as well as other parts of Montreal vacant lots of land are being quickly utilized for residential and business buildings, all of the latest and modern type.

*****

Having some business to attend to at Sears Limited, retail Printing Machinery Supply house in Montreal we got in touch with our good friend Ken Griffith, Sales Manager who kindly drove us around the city pointing out some of the places of interest, such as the look off at Westmount where one can really get a view of the city of Montreal. We were happy to meet Mr. Griffith's wife and two attractive little daughters who were making plans to leave soon on holidays.

The next day Ken took us to the show room and office of Sears Ltd., where we were happy to see Stan Osler, Montreal manager of Sears who like Mr. Griffiths is well and favorably known by publishers of Maritime weeklies having, on several occasions, attended meetings of the Weekly Newspapers Association. Both these men take a keen interest in the type of equipment best suited to their needs. While visiting the Sears firm another Cape Bretoner, a son of Nelson Boutilier of Port Hawkesbury had just purchased some binding equipment to add to their plant on St. Margaret's Bay Road near Halifax which produces ruled forms under the name of Skerry and Embree. This firm is going into book binding and should make a success.

We wish to thank Ken for his kindness and assure him that the courtesy shown us was most appreciated.

*****

Our next visit was at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bill (MacTavish) Calder at Ville St. Pierre. Both Bill and his good wife the former Sue Murray are natives of St. Peters.

Mr. Calder is the son of the late Rev. John Calder and Mrs. Frank Cotton, who Bill informed us had been on the sick list but was much improved in health from last reports. He had been down on a hurried visit to his mother's bedside.

MacTavish, as Bill is known by the readers of the Record kept us amused with his usual stories of things past and present. Although living in Montreal for many years both Mr. and Mrs. Calder have a warm spot for Cape Breton and their many friends.

On our visit to the Calders our brother Earl accompanied us and a very enjoyable Sunday evening was spent with the amiable and hospitable couple.

******

Our trip to Montreal would not be complete without a visit to the MacNeil family, old friends of our family for many years. Residing in that city are Hector MacNeil C.E., Walter MacNeil, C.E., Bernard MacNeil, Ella MacNeil and Jean MacNeil R.N.

Hector was our first visitor who took us on a motor trip to places of interest and later brought us and Mrs. Earl Bourinot to visit his sisters Ella and Jean, who reside at St. Ann de Bellivreu on the Lake shore, a beautiful suburb of Montreal where they occupy a modern apartment overlooking the lake. Here we spent a most enjoyable evening with these old friends who are still interested in Arichat and its people past and present.

Hector is a retired engineer but is still engaged as a consultant. During recent years much has been read in the daily and weekly press of Canada of the Seven Islands Development where Mr. MacNeil was Chief Resident Engineer in the building of the railway to that far northern part of Canada where the great deposits of iron ore are now carried over this completed rail line.

Hector like his brother Walter, first became interested in Engineering while employed on the Trans Continental Railway, with the late William Robertson, C.E., of this place.

Mrs. MacNeil, the former Irene LeBlanc of West Arichat, was not at home when we visited Hector's residence on Queen Mary Road. We look forward to seeing Mr. and Mrs. MacNeil next summer when we hope they will spend some time in Arichat.

Miss Ella MacNeil for many years held an important position with the CNR and only recently retired.

Miss Jean MacNeil R.N., is on the staff of a Military Hospital in Montreal.

Thank you, Hector, Ella and Jean, for your kindness which will be long remembered.

Walter R. J. MacNeil C.E., his good wife and his brother Bernard called for us and motored us to their home in Mount Royal, a large and prominent residential section of Montreal which is often referred to as Model City.

Mr. Walter MacNeil was the resident engineer in the planning and building of Mount Royal after which he was appointed Town Manager, a position from which he retired in 1956 but is still retained as a consultant engineer by the city.

His brother Hector was Resident Engineer on the construction of the CNR Tunnel leading to the station at Mount Royal, which is considered an excellent piece of engineering.

We heard and read much about Mount Royal, but to be driven around the town by Walter MacNeil, the man responsible for its growth from a few scattered farms to a "model city" of nearly 17,000 residents, gave us a first hand view of the colossal undertaking which continues to flourish with an estimated 1000 new citizens moving in annually.

Mr. and Mrs. MacNeil reside in an attractive stone dwelling with commodious interior. A large lawn to the front and the rear and located in a beauty spot of Mount Royal.

Bernard MacNeil who holds a responsible position at Mount Royal spent the evening with us. We had not seen Bernie since he left Arichat several years ago. He was planning an air trip to Alaska before we left Montreal to visit one of his sons employed in that far northern region.

Mr. Walter MacNeil is also a Cape Bretoner and had recently returned from Victoria, B.C., where she and Mr. MacNeil visited their daughter who is married and residing in that city.

Our thanks go out to these good friends for making our visit a most enjoyable one.

We had a delightful visit at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John deVris newlyweds. Mr. deVris, a brother of Mrs. Earl Bourinot, came to Canada from Amsterdam a few years ago. John is an accountant and is employed by a large supply firm in the city. His wife is also employed by this firm. We wish John and Gracie a long and happy wedded life.

Dr. Hugh McKay, M.D., is administrator of the Aberdeen Hospital Commission, New Glasgow. Dr. McKay took his pre-medical and medical studies at Dalhousie Medical School, from which he graduated in 1925. Prior to his present position, Dr. McKay was engaged in private practice.

He later joined the staff of the Nova Scotia Department of Public Health as Divisional Health Officer. He is now Assistant Deputy Minister to the Department and is on loan to the Commission for the duration of its work.

First Bluefin At Wedgeport

Wedgeport, N.S., July 29th— Honor of capturing the first blue fin in Nova Scotia waters this year by rod and reel has gone to a Canadian angler, James Stevens, 15 Lea Crest Road, Toronto.

Fishing off here in one of the local tuna angling Cape Islanders captained by Roderick Boudreau with guide Capt. Willie LeBlanc, Stevens made his strike late Sunday and after a 40-minute battle boated a 300-pounder.

The big fish was hooked off Fish Island at the mouth of the Tusket river. Bluefin, in great numbers, were reported both in the river and also famed Sol Cutler's Rip and three of the tuna fleet were hired by anglers anxious to catch the first one of the season.

"Just a minute, lady," says Malton airport attendant John Magill, "this is aviation gasoline here." But comely Ronnie MacLennan is sure her high-powered car needs the same gasoline as the planes at Malton. Her rather exaggerated demands are not so far from the truth as they were mand for powerful cars is forcing the past, for the public's demanding gasoline makers to produce higher and higher quality gasoline, at enormous expense for new refining equipment. The Imperial Oil Review warns in its August issue that higher prices are a likely result of the horsepower race.

TO CELEBRATE
250th BIRTHDAY

There's only one town in America north of the Gulf of Mexico that is able to say it is about to celebrate its 350nd birthday, and that is Annapolis Royal, today a quite, dignified Nova Scotia community quite unlike what it was centuries ago when it was the bloody scene of bitter and ruthless warfare between the French and English for control of Acadia.

In this town of tranquility, beautiful homes and magnificently shaded streets only Fort Anne remains as mute testimony to the days when the then known settlement of Port Royal echoed to the cacophony of booming cannons, the crackle of guns and the terrifying shrieks of Indians on the warpath.

Now a beautiful, well-kept national historic park and shrine Port Anne, commanding a panoramic view of land-locked Annapolis Basin and surrounding wooded hills and rich farmlands, will be the centre of activities during the natal day celebrations which have been extended to include Friday August 2, Saturday and Monday August 5, official natal day and on which the main festivities will occur.

Preparations, the intense work of many committees, have been carried on for some time to ensure the success of the celebrations which begin Friday evening with the choosing of a Queen at the Princess Banquet. This will be followed by the gay and colorful Princess Ball to be held in the Community Centre.

Saturday will feature the colorful and noisy attractions of the midway and later in the evening a grand Saturday night dance in the Arena.

At 10.30 a.m. Monday, the official Natal Day, the spotlight will fall on the children with the young ones showing off their decorated doll carriages, carts, trikes ad bikes in a gay parade to be staged on the school grounds.

Highlight of the afternoon will be the Grand Parade with its smart stepping bands, floats and decorated cars to grint the Queen and Princesses. Peginning at 1.30 o'clock the parade will move off from the school grounds, wending its colorful way through the main streets to the spacious grounds of Fort Anne where the Queen will be crowned and the decorated-float winners awarded prizes.

There'll be a Little League baseball game at 2.30 followed by an outstanding PT display by sailors of HMCS Cornwallis. The midway will also be in full swing and to accomodate the large crowds dinner will be served in the Community Centre from 5 to 6.30 p.m.

Speed boat races, water skiing and other water sports will be held in the evening beginning at 7 o'clock and a gala dance to be held later in the Arena will wind up the gay celebrations.

Montreal Visit

A visit to Mr. and Mrs. Alex Pearce, the former Haldee Thurgood R.N., was much enjoyed by all of us. Both Mr. and Mrs. Pearce spent several years on Entry Island stationed at the Red Cross Outpost Emergency Hospital there and resigned only recently after giving many years of faithful service. Mr. Pearce recently underwent an operation but is now well on the road to recovery and will resume his duties in that city.

Mrs. Pearce is on the staff of a Montreal Hospital.

Our next instalment will deal with our attending Communion Service at the Church of St. James the Apostle with Canon Rev. Ralph R. Latimer, MA as celebrant and also a visit with Canon and Mrs. Latimer at their Rectory.

Also a visit to the world's famous shrine of St. Joseph's Oratory.
