A Delightful Trip To Montreal

When most folks take a holiday, the objective in mind is to relax and steer clear of their particular calling, however, this does not seem to apply to the printer and publisher, because on our trip to Montreal, we visited the plant of the "Monitor Publishing Company, on a few occasions where our brother, Earl E. Bourinot has been employed for the past several years.

The Monitor plant is located on Hampstead Ave., off Sherbrooke and is a well equipped shop.

At the Monitor plant several weeklies are published serving Notre Dame de Grace section of the city as well as suburban areas.

At the time of our visit a tabloid advertising circular was being printed for a large department store in that city. The press run took several days and in the vicinity of one million copies of about ten pages were turned out. The front page of the circular was in two colors. On a rotary press two or more colors are printed in the one operation.

The composing room of the "Monitor" is modern in every respect, with a battery of about ten Linotypes supplying the type for the columns of their publications.

Composing room employees are all members of the Montreal local of the International Typographical Union and are skilled men in the trade.

The shop is equipped with a Scan-Engraver. This piece of Electronic equipment supplies the engravings for newspaper photos, which are made from plastic material of suitable screen to imprint on newsprint.

The boys working in the composing room are a friendly lot. The only Maritimers are our brother and Lionel or should we say (Leonell) Alain of Moncton N. B., a genial young man, who is a Linotype operator and at one time was on the staff of "Le Evangeline", of Moncton. Then we met Henry, Jacque, Nick, Marcel, and Charlie all Montreal boys; we also met Nick the Dutch boy. These men make up the night shift as well as many others.

We met Tom Maltby the day superintendent. Tom is a very competent man and is held in high regard by the employees of the plant.

Our thanks goes to Bob Dick, the Linotype Machinist, (and a good one). Bob although off duty one night helped us solve a mechanical problem we were having with the distributor mechanism of our own machine. Showing us how to rectify the trouble, he drove us over to the Monitor plant and explained fully using a machine of the same model to demonstrate. We received many pointers from Bob, who has been employed as a machinist in many newspaper plants in Canada.

The founder of the Monitor Publishing Company, is Mr. Hugh E. McCormick, who at present is 2nd Vice-President, of the Canadian Weekly Newspapers' Assn. The annual meeting of the Association which will take place shortly in Banff, Alta., will see Mr. McCormick, as 1st Vice President and next year to the President's chair. Our own Cecil Day of Liverpool, N. S., will be the new president for 1957-58.

The story of Mr. McCormicks success reads like one of "Horatio Algers" stories. Starting in a modest way Mr. McCormick, like all publishers, had his ups and downs and by sheer determination, he emerged as one of the most successful publishers in Canada.

During his youth Mr. McCormick, was a noted hockey player on one of Montreal's leading teams.

We met the editor of the serving the Lakeshore of Montreal and enjoys a large circulation in this suburban area.

Mrs. Miller is a daughter of the late Walter Legge, publisher of a large weekly in Cranby, Que., during his lifetime.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Miller make a great publishing team and the Lakeshore News speaks well of their efforts.

We made a few brief visits to the Monitor, while in Montreal and enjoyed every minute seeing the boys at their various tasks which go into the making of a newspaper. Although we have been engaged in the printing business for many years—we learned a lot on these visits to the Monitor, with our brother showing us the way around and who knows a composing room from layout to lock up.

Next week we will endeavour to bring you a sketch of our motor trip home via U. S. A.

Charles Bruce Visits County

Our good friend, Charles Bruce, Superintendent of Canadian Press, of Toronto, was a recent week-end visitor to Arichat.

Mr. Bruce, is a native of Guysboro County and makes annual visits to the old homestead at Port Shurman, where his mother still resides and was to celebrate her 90th birthday while Charlie was on his visit.

Mr. Bruce is an author of several books, his last publication "The Channel Shore", has gained favor of its many readers, as this novel contains a most exciting story. We are greatly obliged to the author for sending us a complimentary copy.

While Mr. Bruce was on his brief visit here we accompanied him to L'Ardoise and Point Michaud. Mr. Bruce was gathering data on the fishing industry, in the early days before the gas engine. It appears that in the early days fishermen from the Guysboro shore frequented the Cape Breton coast in summer and engaged in mackerel fishing off Petit de Grat and L'Ardoise.

While in L'Ardoise we visited Alonzo Samson and Michael Murphy, merchants of that place. We also called on Miss Rose A. Montourquette, where we saw Mr. and Mrs. George Monbourquette, A most hospitable family and old friends of many years. We drove over to Little Harbor Breakwater, where we saw a son of the late Tom Clannon and like his late father, is a boat builder, and a good one. We also met a Mr. MacGrath, of L'Ardoise, but presently employed in Halifax. Mr. Bruce was much interested in the boats and fishing gear used by the L'Ardoise fishermen. Mr. Clannon informed us that he had some orders for boat building during the winter. Both he and his brother have purchased the old school house in that district, which they have converted into a boat building shop.

Our next stop was Point Michaud Beach and from this point we could see islands which we later learned were named Isle Basque.

After leaving the beach we proceeded along the Point Michaud Road toward Grand River and called on Kennie MacAskill, who gave Mr. Bruce some clue of the Guysboro fishermen who engaged in net fishing in the early days. We were glad to meet both Mr. and Mrs. MacAskill, who have resided there for many years.

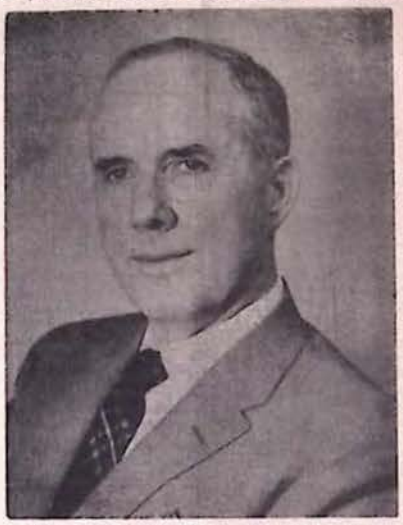

We continued our journey to scenic Grand River, where we viewed the spacious interior of the Presbyterian Church. The imposing tower of this church has been removed, but we understand will be rebuilt again.

Time did not permit us to visit many of our Highland friends. We took the highway at the church pointing Loch Lomond on the road sign. As Mr. Bruce, never viewed the beautiful Loch Lomond we felt this was a good time to make the trip. From the top of a high hill one got a good view of this pretty lake, noted for its trout and salmon fishing. After skirting the lake for a short distance we came to a road sign pointing Hay Cove 6 miles. We proceeded along this road with one side hedged with peeled pulp wood. Soon the road narrows with huge overhanging trees. Not familiar with this road we decided to return by whence we came and take the Lewis Cove Road from Grand River to St. Peters.

The old Scottish air of the "Bonnie Banks of Loch Lomond", had a familiar note and although Charlie and yours truly saw a part of new Scotland, we made the trip by the high road and the low road and got to beautiful Loch Lomond anyway.

We always look forward to Mr. Bruce's annual trips, which are a source of pleasure and enjoyment to us.

Member for Antigonish-Guysboro Appointed Parliamentary Assistant

MR. A. R. MacDONALD, M. P., Antigonish-Guysboro

The announcement recently of the appointment of Angus R. MacDonald to the post of parliamentary assistant makes the well-known local merchant the only Nova Scotian to date named by Mr. Diefenbaker to the second rank of Canadian government, says the "Antigonish Casket."

Mr. MacDonald assumes the post of Assistant to George Hees, the Minister of Transport. In that position he becomes the second man in the top echelon of a department that employs 12,000 men and overseas marine services, airports tele communication, weather offices, canals and waterways and ferry services from the Arctic circle to the Atlantic coast.

Interviewed in his home following the announcement of the appointment Mr. MacDonald was extremely cautious in his comments. "I feel it is a tremendous honor and I am certainly grateful for the trust that Mr. Diefenbaker has placed in me. However, it is a huge department with responsibilities that cover the nation from coast to coast. I face a big job in familiarizing myself with hte department and that alone will keep me busy for many months."

I would be less than honest if I did not admit that the combined task of looking after the interest of my constituents and functioning is going to keep me busier than I have ever been in my life. However, I feel fit and looking forward to the job.

"Naturally I'm grateful that my constituents share in the honor because I genuinely feel that the appointment is more than a tribute to the party members in the area then it is to me. I know that Mr. Diefenbaker was tremendously impressed by hte organization in Antigonish-Guysboro and it has undoubtedly influenced his thinking in this situation.

"I can't express my pleasure at the good fortune which finds me with Mr. Hees as my immediate superior. I have a great admiration for this man who saw fit to dispose of his personal interests in order to devote himself to the tasks of government and I think we will all admit the debt the Conservative party owes Mr. Hees for the work done as president of the national party organization.

"Reviewing some of his speeches in the house in recent years it becomes evident that my new "boss" is a real friend of the maritimes and is acquainted with our particular problems. Some of his remarks have been applicable to my own immediate area and it is comforting to know that I will be directly responsible to a man who has spoken out many times for the fishermen, miners and seamen of Nova Scotia.

Mr. MacDonald told the Casket that he had no immediate plans for departure. "I have a great deal to do right here before I can leave for Ottawa and my first need is a working schedule that will permit me to do justice to both my own people and my new job. That's what I'm working on at the moment."

* * * * *

(Mr. MacDonald, conducts an up-to-date clothing store here in Arichat, and is held in high regard by his many friends. Mr. MacDonald, is a very industrious man and most sincere in business dealings.

At a recent meeting of the four county development committee at Antigonish, we personally saw Mr. MacDonald, in action and as the Federal representative from Antigonish-Guysboro, he left no doubt in our mind that he was determind to do his utmost to help bring industry to Eastern Nova Scotia and to better the economy of the area he has the honor to represent.

We congratulate Mr. MacDonald on having been appointed to the important office of Parliamentary Assistant to the Hon. George Hees, in the Department of Transport and wish him every success in his new office.—Ed.)

Brick School Classroom Withstands Atomic Blast At Las Vegas, Nev..

LAS VEGAS, NEVADA—A full reinforced brick school structure successfully withstood the effect of an atomic blast during the recent 1957 "Plumbbob" nuclear test series, the Federal Civil Defense Administration announced at a July 10 news conference here. The structure, which was designed by the Structural Clay Products Research Foundation, Geneva, Illinois, research arm of the nation's brick and structural tile industry, was one of five structures under test to evaluate new reinforced brick and tile wall designs.

In the same test, two roof structures of reinforced clay tile beams also were not visibly damaged. In addition, six walls of brick and tile in two other structures were successful in developing wall arching resistance to blast pressure., the FCDA announced.

Following is the full text of the Federal Civil Defense Administration news release of July 10 announcing the test results:

"The Structural Clay Products Research Foundation had five structures under test to evaluate new reinforced brick and tile wall designs and to study wall arching-resistance to atomic blast pressures.

"A full-size brick structure, 32 feet by 28 feet, which could serve as a school classroom survived atomic blast sources with no apparent damage inside or out. No cracks were noted in the walls, roof or at any joints. Large enough for a typical class of 30 pupils, the building could have provided a high degree of blast protection.

"The structure had 10 inch thick reinforced concrete flat roof and was windowless. The lack of windows is an important part of protecting building occupants from missiles flying through or from the window opening.

"There were no cross walls within the structure. The 32 foot wall lingth was orfeited toward ground zero and was designed and located for a predicted load of about 1,500 pounds per square foot. The other three walls and roof were designed for testing at pressures of about 750 pounds per square foot. Deflection gages revealed hat the front wall deflected inward about one quarter inch and the center of the roof one half inch. However, all deflections were elastic and there appeared to be no permanent deflections.

"Of interest also is the fact that this type of reinforced brick structure is designed to resist the destructive forces of powerful tornadoes or earthquakes.

"Two roof structures of reinforced clay tile beams were not visibly damaged.

"Two wall test structures for three brick and tile walls each were successful in developing wall arching-resistance to blast pressure. In each structure the two highest strength walls successfully withstood hte blast. The lowest strength walls successfully withstood the blast. The lowest strength wall n each structure, declared to just fail at the design overpressure, cracked as predicted and as desired to aid in the establishment of economical and sound safety factors for future engineering design purposes.

"These building designs were developed and the tests were sponsored by the Structural Clay Products Research Foundation in co operation with the Federal Civil Defense Administration."

BEST WEEK OF SEASON FOR ANGLERS

A nine-year-old Digby youth and a Sydney rod-and-reel fisherman had a photo finish in the race for top angling honors in Nova Scotia last week.

Young Robert Burnham, son of Capt. and Mrs. Joseph Burnham, Digby, a slip of a boy tipping the scales at 70 pounds won a wrestling match with a fighting mad 18 pound striped bass which came close to pulling him into Digby harbour from the floating slip from which he was angling.

The plucky angler was so tired from the strenuous struggle he just didn't have enough left to lug the prized catch home but a local taxi driver and other thrilled adult fishermen came to his rescue and provided the necessary transportation.

Jimmy MacInnis, of Sydney, while fishing at Milford Haven river at Boylston Bridge, Guysborough county brought in a brown trout that weighed 11 pounds on the nose. He was just two pounds under the standing record which is 13 pounds. MacInnis' brown trout was 30 inches in length and a half-pound better than the best trout landed earlier in the season. Jimmy used light spinning tackle and caught the beauty while casting from the banks of the river.

Atlantic salmon fishermen in Nova Scotia experienced the best week so far this season when they reeled in a grand total of 137 fish during the week ending August 10. Heavy rains, bringing levels up, had helped bring fish up the rivers. Reports received by the federal Department of Fisheries, Halifax, showed Medway the greatest producer with 38 salmon to its credit. Three Eastern Shore rivers were next in line after the top South Shore stream. These were West River Sheet Harbour with 21, St. Mary 17, and Moser 14. Other rivers with catches, Ingram, Ecum Secum, LaHave, 7 each; Margaree 5, Clyde 3. Middle river, Lunenburg county 3; Petite Riviere, Grand River, Richmond county, Ship Harbor, Kirby and Quoddy, two each; and one each from East River, Lunenburg county, Isaacs Harbor, Musquodoboit, Port Dufferin and East River Sheet Harbour.

Although speckled trout fishing was generally poor in the province fair catches were reported from Economy Lake, Clyde River, Musquodoboit, Ingonish, North Arm rivers and lakes and streams in Annapolis, Pictou, Guysborough and Richmond counties.

Fair catches of brown trout were taken from the Tusket and Salmon rivers in Yarmouth Co. and also from Guysborough harbour with the brown beauties there averaging between seven and nine pounds.

Fair catches of rainbow trout were hooked from Rumsey Lake ad pickerel fishermen had fair success from Lake Milo at Yarmouth.

Striped bass fishermen didn't make all the catches they hoped for but those taken from the Annapolis and Bear rivers were fairly large fish. Those taken around Bass river averaged four pounds and although there was a good run of stripers at Tatamagouche the fish were reported small. There were a number taken from Pictou county waters.

Gaelic Mod

Mabel MacInnis, had a stiff fight to retain her 1956 Championship in the person of Ann Jackie Oram. Florence who was runner up, and from Susan Ross, Toronto, Heather MacKenzie and Francis MacLeod, Sydney and Sylvia Shore, Glace Bay. The Gold Medal for Open Championship is presented each year by the Clan Donald in the U.S.A.

In Junior Pipe Band Contest the MacDougal Girls Pipe Band, Dominion, dropped out, having only seven pipers under sixteen eligible to enter and the Senior Division "Macdonald Hundred" did not find it difficult to win over the Junior Division.

In the Piping Competition Heather MacKenzie easily out stepped the large field of entrants. Capturing Piobaireachd; Pipe Major's Contest and all the other contests. Heather becomes the Champion Junior Girl Piper of Nova Scotia.

The special award presented by Mrs. David Fairchild, Beinn Breagh, and Washington, D. C., For "Flora Macdonald's Fancy" in the "Aboyne" Highland dress for Girls was won by Mabel MacInnis. Senior Practice Chanter winners were Francis MacLeod, Sydney, and Linda Hickman, Glace Bay. Sylvia Shore captured the Drummers competition and Myrna Buchanan, Glace Bay, the Senior Girls Gaelic Solo competition.

THE NEW EDSEL CAR ON DISPLAY SOON AT MARTELL'S GARAGE

The New "EDSEL" car a product of Ford, will be showing at MARTELL'S GARAGE, Pondville on September 11th.

In the September issue of Reader's Digest it is stated that Henry Ford started in business with a capital of only $28,000 but the company bearing his name has spent a quarter of a million dollars to introduce its new EDSEL car, coming to MARTELL'S GARAGE, on September 11th.

This involves about 160 million dollars for designing, for making dies and tools and other launching costs and 150 million for new plants and facilities necessary to produce and distribute the Edsel.

You must plan to see the new EDSEL, when on display.

WARNING

Any person or persons found trespassing or destroying my property located on Grandique Road, (the former Parker property), will be prosecuted to the fullest extent of the law.

Wedding

MacDOUGALL—HILL

GRAND ANSE, N. S.—A marriage of unusual interest to many friends, took place at West Bay Manse on Friday, August 9th, when Mrs. Marjorie, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Colin Dicdon, West Arichat, became the bride of John Calder, eldest son of the late Alexander and Mrs. MacDougall, Points, West Bay. The single ring ceremony was performed by Rev. R. Hunnay of United Church.

The bride was an attractive figure in a two-piece suit of light blue, with blouse in nylon sheer, fashioned with round neck line and bosom of small sparkling rinnestones. Her small shell hat of white rayon and straw, white flowers and eye veil were in keeping with other accessories. Pearl ear-rings were the only jewellery worn. Her corsage was of pink roses, lilly of the valley and maiden hair fern. She was attended by her daughter, Mrs. Ross MacIntosh, who looked equally charming in a suit of mid-blue with blouse and gloves of pink nylon. Her hat and other accessories were white and her corsage was of orchid sweet peas and maiden hair fern.

Ross MacIntosh supported the groom. On their return from a motor trip through eastern Cape Breton, a reception was given them at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ross MacIntosh, St. George's Channel, with only immediate family connections present.

The dining room and table were attractively arranged with summer flowers and a three tier wedding cake centered the table, on white. A dainty buffet lunch was served.

Both parties enjoy a wide popularity and it is the sincere wish of friends from both sides of the border, that they may be destined for many happy days, and although the skies overhead may be at times, cloudy and grey, May their skies be always blue, and may their pathway be strewn with roses along life's way.

The happy couple will reside at Grand Anse.

MORE WOMEN THAN MEN IN GERMANY

Germany now has three million more women than men as a result of World War II casualties, reports Richard C. Hottelet, Columbia Broadcasting System correspondent, in the September Reader's Digest. Today's German woman is a different person from the one of Hitler's time. She has been pushed out into the world. She knows more about politics and business than ever before. Lipstick, rouge, nail polish and perfume, once regarded as daring, are now common.

LABOR DAY

Summer officially ends with Labor Day, so here to get one last bit of tan is CBC dancer Connie Deverell. She will be starting back to work again Tuesday on one of CBC television's variety shows.

TRUE WORTH

True worth is in being, not seeming,
In doing each day that goes by
Some little good—not in dreaming
Of great things to do bye and bye.
For whatever men say in their blindness,
And spite of the fancies of youth;
There's nothing so kingly as kindness
And nothing so royal as truth.

—o—

Trust men and they will be true to you; treat them greatly and they will show themselves to be great.—Emerson.

For The Lands Sake USE LIME!

Lime will make the difference between good and poor crops if your soil, like 95 per cent of the soils in Nova Scota, is sour and needs lime. Application of lime to soil which formerly produced nothing but weeds and hay of poor quality has often converted such growth to excellent clover as much as 4 tons to the acre. No wonder the farmers of Nova Scotia have increased their use of lime by some 37,000 tons annually in the last 20 years. Lime is the best buy on the market today for every progressive farmer, providing an investment return of $19 for every dollar spent.

Lowest Prices In Canada

Blast lime at $1.50 per ton, and ground limestone at $2.00 per ton, in bulk car lots is all that it costs a farmer to have these products delivered at his nearest railway siding. These are the lowest prices in Canada—take advantage of them. If you are within trucking distance, the same price will effect delivery at the plant or quarry.

Now Is The Time For Lime

This is an excellent time of the year to apply lime to your soil. You can have a car of lime shipped out to you immediately. Get it spread on the land as soon as you possibly can in order to be assured of better crops next year. For full details on this Department's lime policy finest of its kind anywhere.
