Hon. G. I. Smith Issues Statement Winter Program

HON. G. I. SMITH, Q. C.
Minister of Highways

The following statement, relative to the winter highway program, was issued on January 15, by Hon. G. I. Smith, Minister of Highways:

"The Department of Highways and I as the responsible Minister, have a definite responsibility to the people of Nova Scotia to do our best, within the resources at our disposal, to improve highway conditions, in winter as in summer.

"However, I am increasingly concerned because the comments and opinions from many persons coming to my attention appear to indicate widespread misunderstanding with regrad to the ice control and snow removal service. It is becoming apparent that some people expect the Department to keep the highways completely clear of snow and ice at all times and under all conditions of weather.

"This unfortunately, is beyond our capacity. Indeed it would be virtually impossible even if the Province's resources in money, men and machines were vastly greater than they actually are.

"We have greatly extended, and I believe, materially improved our winter service and we have allotted much more money for it than was formerly the case. We are insisting that money be spent in a manner calculated to obtain the best value for the most people.

"Our aim is to deal as effectively with these problems as our resources allow. It must be kept in mind, however, that every dollar spent on ice control and snow removal is a dollar less to spend on the general maintenance and improvement of the road.

"In this province slippery conditons very often occur without warning. Even after our staff known these conditions exisit, it takes time to carry out salting or sanding. We cannot simultaneously deal with every mile of the slippery roads on which such slippery conditions may occur.

"Similarly in the case of snow removal, we cannot deal with all roads at the same time. We make every effort to open roads as quickly as possible, but even on main trunk roads, it is not possible to keep all the snow cleared all the time and under all weather conditions.

"While our staffs are prepared to work long hours under the most adverse conditions in order to keep the highways open, it must be remembered that unless adequate time is taken to provide for proper maintenance of the machines in operation, the inevitable results will be breakdowns resulting in further delays and serious dislocation of the service.

"Surely all reasonable persons will agree that during winter even more than at other seasons, the highway user must bear some responsibility for his own safety. I must therefore urge all who use the roads to do so with even greater caution than at other times of the year. Slippery places and heavy snow may be encountered almost anywhere at almost any tme, and the incautious driver is not only likely to get into trouble himself but to cause danger to others. This will be so despite anything the Department can do to counteract the effect of winter weather.

"We of the Highways Department, will do all we can to reduce the risk, but in the final analysis the conduct of drivers has more to do with safety, or lack of it, than other other factor. We will do our best. Will you?"

(The foregoing is very good and timely advice and if all motorists would be guided by this important statement by the Minister of Highways, we are sure winter driving would become less hazardous. After all winter driving is left entirely to the good judgement of the driver and regradless of sanding and plowing, there always remains some dangerous spots on our highways and men and machines cannot remove these hazards in short notice. Make winter driving safe by using good judgment.—Editor."

JOHN D. MacLEAN

The death of John D. MacLean occurred at Inverness Memorial Hospital, on Tuesday, January 14th. He had been in failing health for some months and prior to his entering the Inverness hospital, had been treated in other hospitals.

A life-long resdent of Points, West Bay, he was a son of the late Donald and Mary MacLean and was 72 years old. For the past 30 years or more, he lived alone. He was gifted in a number of arts, but the greater part of his time was devouted to his vegetable and flower gardens, which attracted many visitors during the summer. "Johnnie" was likeable and had many friends who visited him frequently. But his closest associations were the birds that found a haven around the spacious yard. Houses were built and watering convenience prepared for these little feathered friends and they came back each year in ever increasing numbers. These little creatures may come back again, the flowers may thrive and blossom for a short time, but the cherished memories of John D. MacLean will live on forever.

Surviving are four sisters: Mrs. Sarah MacAulay, a patient at Inverness Memorial Hospital; Mrs. Amelia Bannster, Portland, Me.; Mrs. Henrietta Williams, Tenn.; and Miss Annie MacLean, N. E. Harbor, Maine; also a brother, Philip of N. E. Harbor, Maine.

The funeral took place on Wedon Wednesday, Jan. 15th from the home of Mrs. Susan Campbell with burial at The Points cemetary.

Rev. R. Humby pastor of Uuited Church took charge of the service.

March of Dimes Help This Drive

Annual campaign of the Canadian Associaton for Foliomyelitis—the March of Dimes—is underway, reports County Organizer, Mrs. Paul White, of St. Peters, who was recently on Isle Madame and we are glad to report that Leon M. Landry, President, of the Petit DeGrat branch of the Canadian Legion, has been appointed chairman for the drive for funds on Isle Madame. Everyone should put their shoulder to wheel and help Mrs. White and her campaign officers make the drive a success.

Both have a bank account - and a purpose for saving

Nurse and father both agree that some things are too important to leave to chance. So, like most Canadians, each uses a chartered bank for planned saving, making regular deposits to accomplish a definite purpose.

Your own savings plan may be a short-term, modest one — maybe a vacation trip, or new drapes for the living room. Or your goal may be long-range, like providing more security, greater comfort and independence for you and your family.

But whatever use you find for the money you save, you'll always be glad you saved it!

Save at a bank — millions do!

C.W.L. Meet At Louisdale

LOUISDALE, Jan 12—The regular monthly meeting of the Louisdale Sub-Division of the C. W. L., was held on the 5th inst., with the president, Mrs. Viola Landry presding.

The meeting was opened with the League prayer recited by Rev. C. P. Girroir, our spiritual director.

Answering the roll call were 22 members.

The minutes of the last meeting were read by the secretary and were adopted on motion of Mrs. Eleanor Goyetche.

The correspondence which followed dealt with the topic: "Christian Family Life." This program will take its foothold in Lousdale on January 12th the Feast of the Holy Family. The whole program which will last eight weeks is designed to strengthen, to build up and maintain good family and home life—to make good families better families. It will begin at the eight o'clock mass with families receiving Holy Communion in groups. In the afternoon all families will assemble in the church to receive the blessing of the family as a group, the blessing of all infants and the blessing of pregnant women. Following this, every Wednesday evening for eight weeks, parents will assemble in groups of ten to discuss, "Christian Family Life."

It was moved by Mrs. Rose Marchand, seconded by Miss Mnnie Joyce that the C. W. L. act as an auxiliary to St. Anne's Hospital, Airchat. A group of three were appointed to plan a shower for the hospital to be held the last week of January. The three appointed were: Mrs. Rose Marchand, Mrs. Eleanor Goyetche and Miss Minnie Joyce.

The treasurer's report was given by Mrs. Godfrey Marchand and showed that after $100 had been donated to the Building Fund there still remained $214.04.

The Ways and Means Committee reported that the Christmas "parcel post" was a real success. A card party was planned to be held at the home of Mrs. Eugene Marchand on Firday night.

On motion the meeting adjourned.

Man Of Ideas

The name of Sir George Cayley, who died a hundred years ago, is little known to the general public. In fact he has been called "England's greatest unknown genius." In a recent edition of the BBC programme "Radio Newsreel" Air Correspondent Ivor Jones explained why.

"Cayley used to say that a day that brought no new idea was a day wasted," Jones said. "He was an expert on land drainage; he invented caterpillar tracks for vehicles, he devised a safety belt for use, not in aircraft, but in trains; and he designed complex and modern-looking artificial limbs—this was after one of his tenants had lost his hand. I have some reproductions of the drawings of this appliance, which show that it could be fitted interchangeably, with a knife, a spoon, a cork imitation hand or tools. He thought of this in 1845."

"Cayley also invented a lightweight engine driven by gunpowder, which was, in some ways, a cross between the piston engines and rocket motors we know today. He also foresaw the principle of the jet engine. Besides all this, he found time to sit in Parliament and to start off the Polytechnic Institute in London's Regent Street. But it is his work in aeronautics that gives him an international reputation—if only in a small circle. He was probably the first in the world to analyse one of the great theoretical problems of flying, that of difference between lift and drag. He devised an ideal streamlined shape—what he called 'a solid of least resistance' that is astonishing like the profile of some medern aircraft wings. He didn't stop at theory either. He built the firstman-carrying glider which is known to have flown successfully, though not very far. But it did carry a man—in fact Sir George's coachman. He is said, after returning to the ground safe and sound, to have told Sir George 'I wish to give notice. I was hired to drive not to fly.' This was in 1852 or 1853. As a further example: he designed what he called an aerial carriage, with rotors like a helicopter and propellor for forward flight."

L'Ardoise C.W.L. Hold Regular Monthly Meeting

The members of L'Ardoise C. W. L. sub-division held their monthly meeting on January 8th, with a good attendance. The National President's message from the "Canadian League" was read, also some of her report from the World Catholic Womens' Organization conference held at Rome and the minutes of the executive meeting held at Florence were also read.

A letter from a needy family was received and given the required attention.

At this meeting subscriptions to the "Canadian League" were collected from many of the members. It was decided to send the per capita fees in the future.

A donation was given to aid in buying games for the school children as an indoor recreation. This was done jointly with the Home and School.

The meeting closed with prayer for a hospitalized member.

MILITARY FUNERAL FOR WALTER CALLOW

A funeral service with full military honors was held in Halifax for Walter Callow, last Friday. His casket was borne from MacAskill's funeral home to St. Andrews United Church, on a gun carriage preceded by a company of the second Battalion, Black Watch (RHA) of Canada, with their pipes and drums.

Memorial services in the church were conducted by Major Harry Grimmer, Camp Hill chaplain, and a long time friend of Walter Callow.

Major James Willar, Eastern Command chaplain, gave the funeral oration at the church.

Following the services the remains were taken to Advocate, Cumberland County, where Walter Callow was born, January 23, 1895.

He was buried in the cemetary at Advocate on Saturday, where Major Millar conducted a service at the graveside and a firing party from the Black Watch participated.

Also from the Black Watch was a buglar who sounded The Last Post and a line piper to play The Lament.

Walter Callow's only immediate survivor, his daughter, Mrs. (Dr.) J. K. Morrison, (Melba), formerly of St. Peters's but now residing in London, Ont., arrived in Halifax the middle of last week.

EASY DOES IT

A young father was pushing a baby carriage in which an infant was screaming as loud as any Comanche who ever lived. Wheeling the yowling child he kept murming gently, "Easy now, Donald. Keep calm, Donald. Steady boy. It's right, Donald." A young mother passing by paused to say, "You certainly know how to talk to an upset child—quietly and gently" Then, leaning over the carriage, she said to the wailing infant, "What seems to be the trouble, Donald?" The father interrupted, "His name is Henry. I'm Donald!"

We see eye to eye and know as we are known, reciprocate kindness and work wisely, in proportion as we love.

SPECIAL MENTION

We are glad to know that baby Stephen Angus, who weighed 7 pounds 3 1-2 ounces is doing well and that the proud parents have something to crow about on the birth of their first child.

We extend congratulations to the parents.

To Double Axle Production At Trenton

Investment of half a million dollars the railway car axle forging capacity at Trenton Steel and Coal Corporation, Limited was announced on the 11th of January by Crawford Gordon, Dosco President.

A new manipulator, forging hammer, and billet heating furnace are to be added to the Company's present axle production facilities to enable them to meet the increased demands of Canada's expanding economy.

This is the first major investment to be announced by Dosco since A. V. Roe Canada Limited acquired control of the Corporation last October. Crawford Gordon, who was elected Preisdent of A. V. Roe Canada Limited.

In releasing the announcement about the Trenton axle forging facilities, H. J. Bezanson, General Manager of the Trenton Steel Division of Dosco, said this will insure the supremacy of Pictou County in this field.

"The manufacture of RAILWAY CAR AXLES is a tradition at Trenton" Mr. Beznanson says. "The first axles forged in this country were turned out on the site of the present plant from bundled iron under a board drop hammer some years before any steel was melted n Canada. Axles have been produced continuously since that time eighty years ago. This s the latest step in a modernization program that has been going on steadily here. In 1947 we greatly increased efficiency and output by installing our first mechanical forging manipulator—the second machine to be installed on the North American Continent for the mass production of axles."

Mr. Bezanson said the demand for axles has steadily increased in line with the country's economy and installation of an additional manipulator, wth a second hammer and furnace, will provide ample forgng capacity to meet requirements for railway car axles in the foreseeable future.
