Past Year Review On Education Reveals Record School Enrollment

by the
HON. M. S. LEONARD
Minister of Education

During the school year that ended on July 31, 1957, a total of 160,299 pupils were taught in the public schools of Nova Scotia by 5766 regular teachers, this represented an increase of 3452 pupils and 180 teachers over the preceding school year. While statistics concerned the enrolment in the schools at the present moment are not available, it is probable that a similar increase has taken place since school began last September.

School Construction and Consolidation

To accommodate the steadily increasing school population, some 90 new school buildings, or extensions to existing buildings, were constructed during 1956-57, providing approxmately 320 new classrooms.

As a result of consolidation for purposes of the rural and regional high school areas, there are now in the province 23 specially consolidated areas for the education of pupils at the high school level. These consolidations make high school facilities available to a total of 9575 pupils; in the eight regional high schools located in towns, 169 teachers, and in the 15 rural schools there are 5879 pupils with 286 teachers.

Testing

In continuation of the Nova Scotia Standards Project, a comprehensive sampling of Grade 8 pupils throughout the province was tested in 1956-57 in reading comprehension, reading vocabulary, arithmetic fundamental, arithmetic problems, language usage and spelling. In previous years similar tests were administered in Grade 3 and 6, and this year pupils in Grade 11 will be tested.

The results of the test provide teachers and administrators with a means of discovering the strengths and weaknesses of the pupils and consequently the areas of teaching that needs special attention.

Teacher Education

The enrolment to the Nova Scotia Normal College has been maintained at the same level as last year, with approximately 325 students in attendance.

Five local universities and colleges cooperate with the Department of Education in a joint teacher education plan. At these institutions in 1956-57 a total of 128 students in courses leading to the Bachelor of Education degree and the Senior and Junior education diplomas, all of which qualify them for teaching licenses and certificates in Nova Scotia.

Curriculum

Work on curriculum development continues through revision of printed guides for teachers, and prescription of better instructional materials, principally new textbooks for pupils. New teaching guides were published for Mathematics in grades 7-9 and for English in the same grades. Series of revised programs were extended to Grade 5 in Health Education and in Science, to Grades 8 and 9 in Mathematics, to Grade 9 in French, to Grades 9 and 10 in History, and to Grade 12 in Latin.

Guidance

Most schools in Nova Scotia make a genuine effort to provide educational, vocational and personal guidance, to enable each pupil to reach his or her maximum development. With the rapidly increasing enrolment in our secondary schools and the growing number of educational and vocational opportunities, it becomes increasingly necessary for students to make wise and informed decisions on their future educational careers.

Vocational Education

cation in Nova Scotia are many and varied. They include such schools and service as the vocational high schools, vocational evening schools, schools for coal miners, the marine engineering school, the marine navigation school, the land survey school, the program of vocational rehabilitation for the disabled, and correspondence courses. The total number of people served is approximately 9500.

Adult Education

During the year, short courses in discussion methods, citizenship and leadership were conducted by the Adult Education Division in 58 centres. The courses were attended by over 1500 persons, representing many community organizations. Four folk-schools for farmers and fishermen were again held. The number of grant-aided classes for adults was 166 in 69 centres, with a total attendance of 2313.

The School of Community Arts, a 10-day residential course held at Tatamagouche Rural High School in August, celebrated its 10th anniversary this summer, when a total of 127 students took courses n general painting, professional painting drama play production, music, folk dancing and Scottish culture.

For the first time, a Junior School of Community Arts, patterned after the Tatamagouche school but designed for the age group of 14 to 18, was held. Sponsored by the Nova Scotia Federation of Home and School Associations, it was directed and staffed by members of hte Adult Education Division and other specialists in the arts. Total attendance was 58, most of the students receiving scholarships, from Home and School Associations and other groups, to pay for their living expenses.

The Nova Scotia Festival of the Arts, begun in 1956, again received considerable assistance from he members of the staff of the Adult Educaton Division, especially from its specialists in music and drama.

Everett News

We regret to report the passing of Leon Boudreau, age 52 years, of Sommerville, Mass., the beloved husband of Clara Deschenan and the son of the late Henry and Mrs. Boudreau, formerly of Arichat. The late Leon Boudreau, leaves to mourn besides his wife two daughters and two sons. We extend sympathy to the bereaved family.

Ambrose Sampson of Louisdale and Quentin Landry of Little Anse were visiting friends on Edith Avenue and Pierce Ave. Quinten visited his sister Theresa, in Warren, R. I. The boys enjoyed their visit while here and we are all looking forward to their return in the not too distant future.

Mrs. Vernie Boudreau and Mrs. Edith Sampson have returned home after visiting friends and relatives at Petit de Grat. While there they attended weddings of their two nephews and reported a wonderful time, with summer-like weather throughout their stay

Mrs. Annie Sampson and Martha Marchand have the sympathy of their friends in the passing of their brother, the late Daniel J. Marchand of Louisdale recently. The late Mr. Marchand was 92 years of age and was quite active up to a few weeks prior to his death. The surviving members of his family have our sympathy in their bereavement.

Mr. and Mrs. Reg. Richardson and family were here visiting the latter's sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Felix Goyetche, on Pierce Ave. They returned to home in Conn., the same night.

To Survey Maritime Industrial Potential--Strait Area Included

MONCTON, Jan. 23 — A team from the research and development department of Canadian National Railways at Montreal will commence work on a special survey of industrial opportunity in the Atlantic provinces starting this month, Douglas V. Born at Oban, Richmond County, he was a son of Mrs. Christena Morrison and the late John R. Morrison and was 65 years old. The deceased was wide and favourably known in Cape Breton, and his passing occasions a sense of regret to many friends who looked forward to his annual visits while on his vacation here.

In his younger days he worked for some years at the Marble Mountain Quarry and shortly after it ceased operaton in 1921 he entered the United States and secured a position with the General Electric Co., Lynn, Mass., and remained with them until the tme of his illness, on December 7, 1957 just one month prior to the date of his retirement.

The remains were forwarded from Rhodes Funeral Parlor, Lynn, Mass., to the residence of his sister, Mrs. Susan Campbell, Points, West Bay, from whence funeral proceedings were taken over by Angus MacDonald, of Port Hawkesbury funeral parlor.

Services were conducted by Rev. R. Humby, Pastor of Black River United Church. Many friends followed the remains to its last resting place where interment was made at MacKay's Cemetary, St. George's Channel. The collection of wreaths which covered the casket carried mute messages of sympathy.

Surviving besides his aged mother, are three sisters, Margaret (Mrs. John MacDonald) and Sadie (Mrs. William Richards, both of Sydney and Mrs. Susan Campbell, Points West Bay; also five brothers, Angus D. and John N., St. Peters; Alex Roberta; Dan, Sydney and Roderick, Kingston, Ont. One brother, William predeceased him some years ago in Boston, Mass.

Time may ease the blow, but it will never erase the memory of a devouted son and brother.

CARNEGIE CORPORATION DONATE BOOKS TO PROVINCIAL LIBRARY

The Provincial Library of Nova Scotia has received a valuable collection of books donated by the Carnegie Corporation of New York.

With the help of a group of eminent scholars and writers, a list of 350 books which would portray contemporary American civilization and explain its origin was compiled.

Sets of these books were assembled and offered by the Carnegie Corporation to a limited number of public, regional and university libraries in British Commonwealth. One set was offered to the provincial library to be made available through regional libraries.

The gift is of particular value in that it contains books considered classics in their fields but which have been out of print and unavailable for many years.

The collection will be subdivided into five units and distributed on loan to regional libraries of the province. This in turn will make them available to Nova Scotians through their numerous branches and bookmobile agencies.

ROOM AT THE TOP

Never mind the crowd, lad,
Or fancy your work won't tell;
The work is the work for a' that,
For him that doeth well.

Fancy the world is a hill, lad,
Look where the millions stop;
You'll find the crowd at the base, lad,
There's always room at the top.

Courage and faith and patience—
There's space in the old world yet;
The better the chance you stand, lad
The further along you get.

Keep your eyes on the goal, lad,
Never despair or drop;
Be sure that your path leads upwards,
There's always room at the top.

TO SURVEY MARITIME INDUSTRIAL POTENTIAL

have been completed in the Atlantic provinces by the CNR are an exhaustive coverage of east coast fisheries, including those of Newfoundland and Prince Edward Island; a survey of the fertilizer industry of the provinces; a study of the area's industrial chemicals potential; a study of the lumbering and pulp and paper industry of the four provinces. Mining operations throughout the entire area have been the subject of other studies.

The work now contemplated should result n a catalog of community resources under two dozen or more headings in the four provinces and should prove especially useful to the communities themselves as an inventory of their industrial and commercial assets.

With the planned expansion of its own facilities for handling traffic at various points in the four provinces, Canadian National is in a position to capitalize on industrial growth. A principal function of its research and development department is the placement of new industry on sites adjacent to its lines.

SATISFIED CUSTOMERS MEAN REPEAT BUSINESS

When the 9,500-ton "Whininapa" clears Halifax for Rotterdam, this week-end, carried in her hold will be 70,000 bushels of apples from the orchards of the Annapolis Valley.

These apples were purchased by L. Cohen of Cohen Brothers, Rotterdam, who has been purchasing apples in Nova Scotia since early fall

On Thursday, the Honourable E. D. Haliburton, Minister of Agriculture and Marketing, and Dr. F. W. Walsh, Deputy Minister visited the "Wihinapa", which was loading at Pier 25 inspected the shipment going forward, and observed the stevedoring methods used in loading the ship. Also included in the party who inspected the fruit were J. W. Torrie, Officer-in-charge of Cargo and Retail Inspection, and C. S. Wilson, Senior Fruit and Vegetable Inspector, both of the Canada Department of Agriculture, Halifax.

"It appears to me that the Stevedoring Companies and the stevedores are making an earnest effort to handle the apple shipments as carefully and as efficiently as possible," said Mr. Haliburton, when questioned regarding this detail. This view was also endorsed by Mr. Cohen, who, at the Nova Scotia Fruit Growers' Association annual meeting, suggested that stevedoring methods at Halifax, insofar as apples were concerned, left much to be desired.
