NEWS OF THE LEGISLATURE

Released By Nova Scotia Press Bureau, Halifax

Proposed establishment of a pulp mill in eastern Nova Scotia; the multi-million dollar crossing of the Big Bras d'Or; community pasturage extension; the paving of more roads; formation of Industrial Estates Limited; construction of a new school for the deaf; a large housing development in Halifax; improved terms through which fishermen may acquire vessels were contained in measures undertaken or participated in by the provincial government to increase employment and further develop Nova Scotia, said Premier Stanfield.

***

Since the Pottier Commission investigation of the Cape Breton Hospital the establishment has become the leading institution of its kind in the province, said Donald MacNeil (PC-Cape Breton South). He urged the government to maintain its requirements that mental hospitals in the province in order to qualify for financial assistance, keep their standards close to those recommended by the commission.

***

Replying to a question by Dr. C. L. MacMillan (L-Victoria) on the proposed crossing of the Big Bras d'Or Lake Highways Minister G. I. Smith said it would probably be a causeway from the lake's eastern shore to Seal Island and then a high-arched bridge from the island over the deeper part of the lake. The crossing is a joint federal-provincial project, as part of the Trans-Canada highway system, and the proposal of the type of crossing had not yet been approved and might be changed, said Mr., Smith.

***

The government was not prepared to initiate an appeal to Ottawa for further assistance to growers in the program of apple tree removal but would support them in an appeal for additional assistance in this respect, said Agriculture Minister E. D. Haliburton, stating it was a stand he had taken on more than one occasion. "Any move in that direction should come from the apple industry—and we would go to Ottawa with them." The province, he said, was not considering extending its own assistance beyond what it now offered in the clearing of land and administration, because it was felt the present assistance was the limit of the province's resources. The question had been asked by Liberal leader Henry D. Hicks.

***

Tabled in the legislature by Premier Stanfield the Public Accounts showed that both revenues and expenditures, for the fiscal year ending March 31, 1957, exceeded the all-time high recorded in the previous fiscal year. Revenues totalled $59,817,231; expenditures, $58,524,964 plus sinking fund installments and serial requirements, including Highway Funds of $4,956,085. There was a net deficit of $3,663,818. Highest revenue was from gasoline tax ($13,125,000), and liquor revenue amounted to $10,373,000. Heaviest spender was the Highways Department ($20,000,000) with almost three-quarters of this amount on road maintenance. The present government was in power for four months of the period covered by the report.

***

Former Provincial Treasurer R. M. Fielding (L-Halifax Northwest) speaking on education said "the action taken to date to help improve the lot of teachers in Nova Scotia has been of such limited character and of an optional nature that it has not really met the problem of the recruitment" .. "increased salaries must be found" he added.

***

During the latter part of the week James M. Harding (PC-Shelburne) introduced a bill respecting incorporation of the Practice of Chiropractic — the Nova Scotia Chiropractors Association — to consist of all registered chiropractors in the province.

***

Read by Premier Stanfield, a statement by Trade and Industry Minister E. A. Manson, announced that "barring unforseen circumstances" a ferry service will operate this summer between Boston and Yarmouth. The S. S. Yarmouth Castle would operate on the run, making its first sailing from Boston, June 30 and the last, from Yarmouth on September 14.

***

Two Liberal members, both doctors, Dr. W. C. O'Brien (L-Yarmouth) and Dr. P. E. Belliveau (L-Clare made appeals to the government to make more funds available for construction of hospitals, in order to make effective the hospital plan, and to consult the medical profession more fully with regard to the plan.

Little Anse Home And School

The monthly meeting of the Little Anse Home and School, was held on February 18th and was called to order by the President.

After the routine business was completed, a lengthy discussion took place on whether the Encyclopedia "Canadiana" should be purchased for the school, to be paid with funds raised by the Home and School. However, a voite was taken which decided —all in favor.

Much time was spent on health problems and how they could be taken care of.

Founders Day was celebrated by reading — (1) the by-laws; (2) History of our Association; (3) Re-reading of the charter; (4) Members contribution to Founders Day Fund.

Then a lighted birthday cake was presented by the social convener, was cut and served to the members with sandwiches and coffee. A very enjoyable half hour was spent while eating and making merry.

The meeting ended by singing "The Queen".

JANUARY FISH LANDINGS

Fish landings officially recorded in the Maritime Provinces in January amounted to 20.8 million lbs. valued at $1.2 million, according to a joint release by the Department of Fisheries and the Dominion Bureau of Statistics on February 12th. Dundee Dew Drops

By A. F.

PHILIP ALEXANDER MacINNES

The death of Philip A. MacInnes occurred at Dundee on Tuesday, February 18th, following several months of disability. He was in his 100th year and was the last survivor of a family of seven. His parents, the late Murdock MacInnes and Christy Ross, were two of the early pioneers who settled at Rear St. George's Channel. Mr. MacInnes (Philip) was born in a log cabin, and at the age of 4, his father built a new house on the same farm, and the family moved in.

When he was 12 years old, his father passed away. It was then, that the late Philip MacInnes, began to feel the responsibilities of a home. As the family grew up, they left, one by one, in search of greener fields, while he remained at home. More land was cleared and each year a new piece of burnt-field was under cultivation, and soon a fine farm was in progress.

In his late twenties, he married the former Miss Katherine MacKinnon of West Bay Center, and reared a family of three boys and a girl.

The livelihood of the late Mr. MacInnes and family was not wholly dependant on farming, for ten summers he fished (hand-lined) on the Grand Banks of Newfoundland. This life was often revived, as he related stories of his experiences on the high seas. Some of the Captains whom he accompanied there were: the late Capt. MacIntosh, West Bay; Capt. Eli MacKay, Malagawatch and Capt. Johnnie Matheson, Grand River.

In 1925, sorrow struck his home, when Mrs. MacInnes "Katie", passed away and in 1930, the old homestead was abandoned and Mr. MacInnes accompanied by his youngest son and daughter-in-law, when they took up residence at Dundee. At this time, Mr. MacInnes, was in his 70's, but was in the prime of life, taking an active part in the farm work. His face and figure was always much deceiving of his years. But after having the misfortune of three bad accidents, (the last one a fractured hip from which he never fully recovered) physical frailty became more conspicious; although for a long time, he was able to get around on crutches, and from his bucksaw and axe, there was always a surplus of firewood in the yard. It was only after his vision became impaired that he retired to indoor life, and for a year, he was taken to and from his bedroom in a wheel chair, as some weeks passed by, the infirmities of old age, began to take hold and as the shadows of departing day closed in, the late Mr. MacInnes, became bed-ridden. There he lingered for almost five months in the twilight of eventide. His lengthy earthly career came to an end at 12.30 p.m., on February 18th when he found eternal rest.

Predeceased are two brothers: John and Murdock, also four sisters, Mary (Mrs. James Lang), Margaret, (Mrs. Will Fernald), Katherine, (Mrs. Comfort) and Christy (Mrs. MacKenzie)

Surviving are one daughter, Mary (Mrs. W. R. Ross), New Glasgow, N. S., three sons, John A. and Malcolm C. MacInnes, St. George's Channel, N. S., also Hugh M., with whom he resided at Dundee, N. S.

The funeral under the direction of Angus MacDonald, of Port Hawkesbury Funeral Parlor, took place on Wednesday, February 19th at 2 o'clock P. M., from Black River United Church, of which the deceased was a member.

Rev. R. C. Humby, United Church pastor who was in charge of the service, also sang that beautiful solo "Light at Evening tide, The choir was in attendance, with Mrs. W. S. Urquhart as organist. Hymns chosen were: "The Lord's My Shepherd", "Abide With Me", and by request, "I've Wandered Far Away From God."

Interment was at MacKay's Cemetary, St. George's Channel. Pallbearers were: Angus and Ralph MacInnes, Ross and Archie MacIntosh, John Calder and Hector MacRae.

Beautiful cut flowers and wreaths, including a pillow from the family surrounded the casket.

A MESSAGE FROM RED CROSS CAMPAIGN CHAIRMAN FOR RICHMOND

Last year the slogan was "Give twenty-five cents more for every dollar you gave before". Many people did donate more and $186,000 was collected in the Province of Nova Scotia. Richmond County donated $2570.05.

This year the objective for the Province is $219,400.00 and the Richmond County objective is $2,560.00.

To collect this amount it means the knocking on all doors in all areas but the cause is worthwhile and I am confident the people will make it easy for the collectors by having their donations ready.

Whenever and wherever there is a call for help the Canadian Red Cross is always ready to answer that call. It will be kept ready in the measure we support this March appeal for funds.

REV. A. DOUCET

Harold is well and favourably known here by his friends. His wife is the former Elsie Edwards, daughter of Mrs. M. Edwards and the late Philip Edwards, of Arichat.—Editor.)

(Shelburne Coast Guard)

Harold M. Huskilson, a native of Lockeport, and resident of Shelburne prior to moving to Yarmouth a few years ago, is being welcomed back to the town where he will make his home and conduct his expanding mortuary business.

Mr. Huskilson recently purchased the undertaking business operated by J. W. L. King, and plans to make his headquarters in Shelburne. Hotel Short Course

A highlight of the provincial Hotel Short Course, March 25-27, at the Nova Scotian hotel, Halifax will be a series of lectures by two professors of Cornell university, Ithaca, N. Y.

Greater proportion of the course's second day, March 26, will be allocated to Dr. Robert A. Beck, associate professor of Cornell's school of hotel and restaurant administration and Professor J. William Conner, school's workshop director.

Varied fields of the hotel industry will be covered by the Cornell authorities, including management, supervision, personnel selection, training, food service, menu planning and customer service.

Demonstrations of the actual preparation of food will be conducted by qualified economists and nutritionists, Jean Ross, hotel short course director, said recently. Fresh and frozen vegetable dishes will be prepared by Mrs. Florence Hilchey, Halifax, salads by Elizabeth MacKinnon, Department of Public Health, Windsor, and sea foods by Joanne Zwicker, Department of Fisheries, Halifax. Well-known home economist with Swift Canadian Company, Martha Logan, will demonstrate meat cooking.

"While this course is intended primarily for hotel operators and staff," said Miss Ross, "managers of restaurants or other institutions where food is served are welcome to attend any of the sessions that might be of value to them. Of particular interest to management wiuld be lectures by Dr. Beck on personnel and by Professor Conner on food merchandising. Most food demonstrations are slated for Thursday, March 27, and these would be of interest to restaurant or institution staff."

Invitations to the course, sponsored by the Nova Scotia Department of Trade and Industry, are being issued to the 680 licensed places of accommodation in the province including hotels, resorts, motels, cabins and tourist homes. Approximately 20 exhibitors will display products used in the hotel industry. It is hoped, said Miss Ross, to have an expert in hotel speaker for the annual banquet and travel business as guest on Wednesday night, March 26.

A WISE INDIAN CHIEF

Word of an uranium strike brought a swarm of amateur prospectors to the Oka Indian Reservation near Montreal, the Reader's Digest reports. The Indians demanded that their chief drive off the Geiger-counter-bearing trespassers, but he just watched, until the reservation had been thoroughly staked out. Then he called the police to chase the intruders and headed for town, announcing: "I go now to register claims. Tell all—no one pull out stakes."

Home

The road to laughter beckons me,
The road to all that's best;
The road where I nightly see
The castle of my rest;
The path where all is fine and fair,
And little children run,
For love and joy are waiting there
As soon as day is done.

There is no rich reward of fame
That can compare with this:
At home I wear a honest name,
My lips are fit to kiss.
At home I'm always brave and strong,
And when the setting sun
They find no trace of shame or wrong
In anything I've done.

There shine the eyes that only see
The good I've tried to do;
They think me what I'd like to be;
They know that I am true.
And whether I have lost my fight
Or whether I have won,
I find a faith that I've been right
As soon as day is done.

The Swing Easy Quintet

One of the most unusual groups currently to be heard on CBC radio is the "Swing Easy Quintet", led by arranger-harpist Elyze Yockey. Each Friday morning at 9:30 the group contributes a fifteen minute segment of lightly swinging music to "A. M. Chronicle" on the CEC's Maritime Radio Network. Seen here talking with emcee Maurice Foisey and Elyze, and left to right: George Carroll, drums; Warren Chiasson, vibes; Julius Ilhu, bass; and Frank Langone flute.

HUGE RAILWAY CAR CARRIES 10 AUTOS

HALIFAX, N. S.—The largest consignment of automobiles ever to be handled in a single conveyance — ten British-made Vanguards—was shipped from here to Montreal in one of the new Canadian National Railways auto transporter cars recently.

The huge railway car, designed by CNR engineers, is 75 feet long and more than 16 feet high, and is the largest enclosed unit in use on any railroad in the world. It had carried no more than eight automobiles prior to the record shipment from Halifax.
