J. W. Stephen's Ltd., Operate A Modern Woodworking Mill

J. W. Stephens Limited have one of the most modern woodworking factories in the Province of Nova Scotia. Stephens woodworking factory is headed by Mr. Thomas Brown. Mr. Brown has spent all his working years in woodworking factories throughout Canada. He has been foreman of Stephens' factory for the past eight years and is known by all the Cape Breton contractors as an expert on mill and factory work. He is an expert on blueprint reading and thework turned out in Stephens' factory is second to none.

Stephens employs 25—30 skilled craftsmen made up of cabinet makers, ash makers, frame and door makers and all are specially trained in their type of work. Stephens' factory is the only unionized factory in the City of Sydney, and the first to be unionized in Nova Scotia. They receive the highest rates of wages paid anywhere in the Atlantic Provinces.

The machinery is most modern and the workmen are working under best working conditions. Stephens employees work 44 hours per week and are paid time and a half for over-time with two and three weeks vacation given with pay, and paid for every statutory holiday.

The quality of material used in Stephens' factory is the best quality obtainable and Stephens buyers are buying materials from every source possible where the best material can be located. In Canada they buy as far west as British Columbia and in order to obtain foreign woods they buy considerable material from the United States. Due to the type of workmanship and quality of the stock turned out in Stephens' woodworking factory, the merchants in Sydney and in Industrial and rural Cape Breton have realized that it pays to have their fixtures and cabinets made by Stephens.

Stephens' woodworking factory has been extremely busy for the past two or three months and workers have been added to their three or four additional cabinet large staff, at this writing Stephens are looking for two first class cabinet makers. Due to the extra rush in our factory we found it necessary to work practically every night and on Saturday afternoons for the past two months.

Stephens Construction Limited, subsidiary of J. W. Stephens, Limited, were recently selected by the Parish of St. Theresa's Church in Sydney to finish the interior of the church. This job required skilled tradesmen and experts on mill work, also first-class material, therefore, the reason Stephens Constuction were awarded this contract. When this work will be completed it will be one of the most beautiful churches in the Maritime Provinces.

Stephens Construction only recently completed construction of the new Provincial Building for the Nova Scotia Governmnt at Sydney. The contract for this job was in the vicinity of $600,000. This building was inspected by the public at a recent official opening. All mill-work on this large project was supplied by J. W. Stephens Limited. Stephens Construction are also the builders of the new Commission Store on Prince Street for the Nova Scotia Government, all millwork and material supplied by J. W. Step-Ltd. Stephens modern factory is now in the process of completing a millwork order for Crowell's Limited, Charlotte Street, Sydney.

The leading contractors in Cape Breton buy their millwork from Stephens. Stephens are proud that they were selected by the Maritime Builders Limited, one of Cape Breton's leading contractors, to supply all the millwork for the Don Bosco School, the Woodill High and the Cornwallis School being built by the Maritime Builders for the City of Sydney. Maritime Builders also selected Stephens to supply woodwork for the new Royal Bank of Canada Building at Whitney Pier. The Maritime Builders realize that with Stephens materials they can do a better job for a fair price.

J. W. Stephens invites the people of Richmond County and elsewhere to visit their modern woodworking plant located on 199 Townsend Street, Sydney.

Pope John XXIII

Angelo Giuseppe Cardinal Roncalli, 76, patriarch of Venice, Italy, was elected Tuesday last as Pope, succeeding the late Pope Pius XII. He chose the name John XXIII.

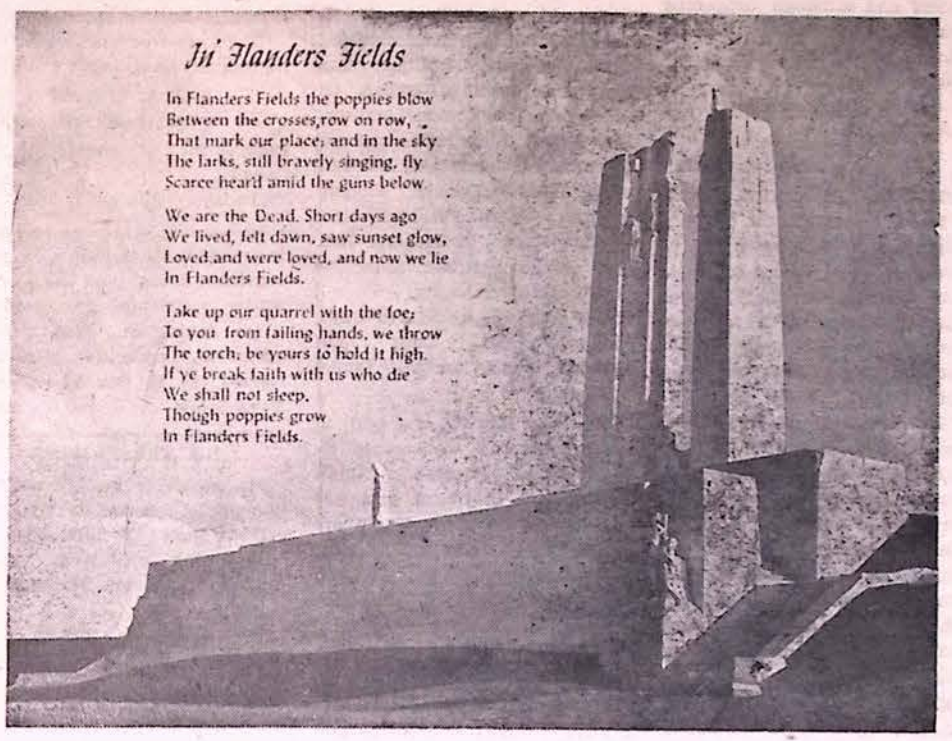

He is the 262nd pope of the Roman Catholic Church which Roman Catholics claim began with St. Peter 20 centuries ago. He also is the 43rd consecutive Italian Pope in 435 years.

He was elected by the Cardinals assembled in solemn conclave at the Vatican in Rome.

The new Pope will be the spiritual head and leader of some half billion Catholics throughout the world, and shortly after the announcement, the new Holy Father appeared on the balcony of the Vatican and gave his first blessing (urbi et orbi) to the city and to the world.

Thousands were assembleed in St. Peter's Square and cheered him loudly in a great demonstration of joy.

Remembrance Day - Tuesday, November 11th

National Poppy Campaign Opens

The Remembrance Day season will be celebrated in a few days from now, and the public's attention is drawn to the National Poppy Campaign.

There are three distinct phases to the observance of remembrance itself, symbolized by the wearing of a poppy—the emblem derived from the blood-red flower which grew in such profusion on the graves of Canadian soldiers who sleep their long sleep in Flanders Fields. The wearing of the poppy is now a tribute to those who paid the supreme sacrifice in all the wars in which Canada has been engaged.

Second, there is the use to which the money raised by the Poppy Campaign is put. Across the length and breath of Canada thousands of families not entitled to Government assistance are given a helping hand through the Poppy Fund of Legion Branches.

Third, there is the assistance given to disabled veterans by the sale of poppies which they have made in "Vetcraft" shops in which light, sheltered employment is provided for them through the distribution of their poppies.

Poppy Day again makes its appeal to the good, thoughtful people of our County, but also on the competence and vigor of those who will canvass from door-to-door as well as the Legionaires who sponsor the drive.

The Red Cross At Springhill

Full resources of the Canadian Red Cross Society will continue to be made available to the people of Springhill, Reuben Baetz, Toronto, National Director of the Society's Disaster Services, said in the mining town last Friday.

It was Mr. Baetz's second visit to the disaster-stricken area in three days. He arrived Wednesday to meet with Charles L. Illsley, Red Cross Commissioner for Nova Scotia and Leslie Punchard, Provincial Swimming and Water Safety Director, to consolidate the program for direction of the emergency.

Mr. Punchard has been in charge of relief operations for the Red Cross since the fatal bump at the mine October 23.

News of the discovery of 12 miners still alive at the 13,000 foot level broke while the National Director was at the scene and Mr. Baetz assisted in planning the accelerated program of relief which the welcome development brought.

Largely a behind-the-scenes operation, the Red Cross work at Springhill consists of maintaining vital supplies of food and clothing for those affected by the tragedy.

To date, some $10,000 has been spent by the Society under the heading of disaster relief at Springhill, Mr. Illsley reports. Food and clothing are provided for the Draegermen and bare-faced miners before and after their shifts. Supplies are sent to families victimized by the disaster. Meals are served workers and wives and children of the stricken miners. Hip-boots and ponchos are supplied by the Red Cross to the grave-diggers, who worked in the pouring rain. Food and hot coffee also is being delivered to these volunteers, as well as those who are staffing the morgue set up in the Armouries and others directing the heavy traffic, which has been drawn to the site by the discovery of the 12 miners.

Some 126 volunteers are utilized by the Red Cross in three hour shifts during each 24-hour period, the Provincial Commissioner disclosed. Their jobs include preparation and serving of meals, selection and distribution of outfits to rescue crews, transporting Red Cross workers between the pit-head and headquarters in town, arranging for

Remembrance Day 1958

"Remembrance Day", will be fittingly celebrated throughout the length and breath of Canada on November 11, when everyone will take part in parades, laying of wreaths at memorials and in many cities, towns and villages, church services will mark the occasion.

There are many things that expressions can be given to, the gallantry of all in service, the hardships endured, the sacrifice of many thousands of lives, (on the battlefields, and bombed city areas), and the magnificant devotion and bravery that brought us victory, giving us the freedom and elevated standard of living that we now enjoy."

"Thoughts By The Way"

We who know the wonder and the woe,
Of two world wars, and well we know;
The hardships of those great campaigns,
The mud, the snow, the sleet, the rains.
Now in silent memory, and bending head,
We vividly recall our glorious dead.
We see the coloured poppies scarlet glow
Amongst the endless crosses, row on row.
That signify that deep in under earth,
They are not forgotten, in their land of birth.
Valient sons, who at their country's call,
Served with the armed gave life and all.
The sacrifice and sorrow, is ever with us yet,
But the shock of battle, valiantly was met.
To you our lovely children; It is hard to understand,
The battles that were fought, in air, on sea, on land.
What the future will unfold, in the years ahead.
But we never can forget our glorious dead.

(Some years ago the Proctor Brothers of Gloucester, wrote and printed many true adventures of deep sea fishermen, sailing out of that port. The following true story happening close to our own shores will be of interest to our readers and although happening back in 1876 we feel sure this sea disaster, is still heard off in the Mulgrave area and Cape Breton, when over 60 persons lost their lives.—Editor.)

TERRIBLE DISASTER — Loss of the Schooner Kittie of Port Mulgrave, N. S., with Sixty-three Passengers Bound to Gloucester to Engage in the Fisheries —Narrow Escape of Three Persons Who Were an Hour Late.—Schooner Kittie, commanded by Capt. James Forrestall, her owner, left Port Mulgrave, Sunday, April 2, 1876, bound for Boston, Mass., and there is no doubt but that she foundered in the severe gale of the 4th inst., carrying with her sixty-three persons belonging in Port Mulgrave and vicinity, but who were identified with Gloucester, as they followed fishing from this port during six months of the year, and had many relatives and friends in this city who were anxiously expecting their arrival. The following is the list of the passengers, as nearly as could be obtained:

From Harbor Boucher — John Levangey, Hubert Levangy, Edward DeCoste, Frederick Levangy, Ben Fougere, Michael Pelrine, Henry Benoit, John Paro, Jerry Fougere, Lucian Levangy, E. Fougere, (Jack's son), John King, (Pete's son), L Fougere, Edward DeCoste, (Widow Tom's son) Jos. DeCoste, David Levangy, Ned Boucher, Ben Breen, Ben Btlfountain, Lewis Boucher, Jeffrey Boucher, Michael Oldfield, Wm. Oldfield, Fougere, (Ephraim's son), Daniel McDonald (Allan's son), Mrs. John O'Brien and three children, Sarah McDonald, (Allan's daughter) Augusta Fougere, John McDonall (Allan John's son), Rory McDonald (Donald's son, lighthouse), Wm. Forrestall (William's son).

From Steep Creek — Martin Doyle, N. DeCoste, Jos. DeCoste, Wm. Crittenden, (Hugh's son), John D. Whalen.

From Pirate Harbor — William Maguire.

True Sea Story Schr. "Kittie" of Mulgrave

From Port Mulgrave — William Crittenden, Edward Ryan, Rory McDonald, George Longuill, Jas. Perkins, Alex Peerkins, J. O'Hanley, Peter Forestall, Arch. McDonald.

From Cape Breton — Roderick McDonald, MacMillan's Point; James McDonald, Whycocomagh; John O'Handley, Judique; Alex McDonald, Judique; Rupert G. Ross, Port Hood; Wm. Johnson, Port Hood; Alex McInnis, near Hawkesbury; John Cass, Hawkesbury; John McDonald, Keeper, Judique; John D. McKinnon, Judiqoe; Daniel McEachern, Judique; Henry Simpson, Manchester, Guysboro, County.

The crew consisted of Capt. James Forrestall, . Capt John Martin, James Martin, Daniel McDonald.

The schr. KITTIE was built in Lunenburg, and was owned by Capt. James Forrestall of Auld's Cove, Strait of Canso, and was about ten years old. The above list is as correct as can possibly be got; there may be one or two that have not been obtained. The total including passengers and crew, was sixty-eight.

There were three persons viz. William McDonald and Neil McDonald, brothers, and Angus McDonald, who were coming on this vessel, but were an hour late, the vessel having sailed. All their clothing was on board, and they came by land. Their being behindhand on this occasion was the means of preserving their lives.

Wilfred Boudreau

The death of Wilfred Boudreau at his home in Poulamon, will be heard with much regret by the many friends of the deceased throughout the county and elsewhere. Mr. Boudreau had been in poor health for some time and during the past year was obliged to retire from active work. He was a flour and feed dealer for the Robin Hood Mills for many years, in this county.

A veteran of World War I the late Mr. Boudreau was 62 years of age. He was a splendid community worker and an active member of St. Eloi Branch of the Canadian Legion as well as the Poulamon Home and School Association.

During his early life he was employed as a steward on ships of the Dominion Coal Co., and Great Lakes ships.

Always of a pleasant and jovial disposition, his passing will be mourned by his many friends.

Funeral took place from St. Hyacinth's Church, D'Escousse, and was largely attended by comrades of the Canadian Legion and friends from all over Isle Madame and the mainland.

Surviving are his wife and aged mother of Poulamon, to whom we extend our heartfelt sympathy in their great bereavement.

LOST 3 SONS, CONISTON MOTHER TO REPRESENT MOTHERHOOD AT NATIONAL REMEMBRANCE

OTTAWA, Ont. — A Coniston mother who lost three of her five serving sons during the second world war will represent Canadian motherhood on November 11. She is Mrs. Helena Forrestell, a 63-year old widow, whose five sons all served in the RCAF.

Mrs. Forrestell will place one of the four official wreaths along with the Governor General, a government representative and a member of the Canadian Legion. She was recently selected by the Legion to attend the Ottawa ceremony and lay the wreath on behalf of the Motherhood of Canada.

Two of her sons were killed on operations with the RCAF. Flight Sergeant Daniel Forrestell, a wireleess air-gunner, was missing in April, 1943, and has no known grave. Flying Officer Robert Forrestell, a pilot, went over France in in August 1944. In March of that year, Sergeant pilot Thomas Forrestell was killed in a flying accident in Canada. Two brothers, James and Francis, also served in the R. C. A. F.

Mr. Forrestell died in 1954. The Forrestells had nine boys and two girls. One of the girls is serving as a missionary in Africa; another, Mrs. Bert Hewittson, resides in Brockville. Three sons live in Coniston, near Sudbury. A fourth son Michael is in Lethbridge and Patrick lives in Tottenham, Ont. A sixth son, Ambrose, died when he was 12.

Mrs. Forrestell is the fourth silver cross mother from outside the Ottawa area to attend the national Remembrance ceremony. Last year a Truro mother, Mrs. Z. MacFarlene, made the trip to Ottawa. Prior to that Mrs. A. J. Reynolds of Chatham, Ont., was the silver cross representative. In 1955, Mrs. John Leboldus of Vibank, Sask., was the first mother to be selected as a result of the Legions new policy of getting truly representative mothers to lay the wreath. All of the above women lost three sons.

N.S.A.C. ALUMNI TO MEET ON MONDAY

A meeting of the Alumni Association of the Nova Scotia Agricultural College is scheduled to be held at Truro on Monday afternoon next.

This promises to be a very important meeting from the standpoint of the Alumni Association and, for this reason, the president, Keith Rand, and secretary, Walter G. Grant, feel as many alumni as possible should make every effort to attend.

FEDERATION TO MEET IN JANUARY

Dates of the annual meeting of the Nova Scotia Federation of Agriculture have now been set for January 5, 6, and 7, 1959.

The meetings will be held at the Nova Scotia Agricultural College, with the opening session on the evening of Monday, January 5. Put a ring around these dates and make a point of being in Truro for the annual meeting of provincial farmers.

LIMESTONE CONTINUES TO MOVE

Although Hants County farmers bought enough limestone in the week ending October 25th to enable the county to pick up three full percentage points, and so boost its total to 120.2 percent, it still was not enough to enable the county to hold first place in the limestone race for the farmers of the neighbouring Colchester-East Hants district picked up a full six points and so, with a point otal of 121.5 per cent they lead the parade by a scant 1.3 per cent.

Antigonish gained, too, and now, in third place with 91.4 per cent, is pushing well on towards its full quota. Kings and Lunenburg-Queens are just about neck and neck, according to the report received from this office of C. A. Douglas, Director of Extension Services. The latter district, with 81.8 per cent has a narrow edge over the former's 82.4 per cent.

Tonnage handled to date on a provincial basis — 40,737 tons, or 67.5 per cent of the provincial quota.

A USEFUL REFERENCE

One of the most attractive and best-illustrated publications to cross this desk, in many a day is one which arrived this week, entitled, "Mushroom Collecting For Beginners". There has not been too much material available for distribution on this topic, so this bnlletin, which has been written by J. Walton Groves, Head of the Mycology Unit of the Botany and Plant Pathology Division of Science Service, Ottawa, fills a long needed want.

Mr. Groves' bulletin is intended as a guide for beginners who would like to use some wild mushrooms for food. While the bulletin may not enable the beginner to identify all the wild mushrooms in general, it, nevertheless, seems a very useful reference, and it will enable the beginner to identify many edible kinds. Everything else should be avoided. The edible varieties specially chosen for inclusion in the bulletin, are all common varieties. They are easily recognizable, with a little care in observing the charalter described, and some of them can easily be found at any time during the growing season, when conditions are sufficiently moist.

Mr. Groves emphasizes one rule, which should be heeded at all times by collectors: "EAT ONLY SPECIES THAT YOU KNOW TO BE EDIBLE. AND AVOID ALL OTHERS."

FRUIT GROWERS TO MEET AT KENTVILLE

The annual convention of the Nova Scotia Fruit Growers' Association will be held at Kentville during the period of December 8-11, inclusive.

Plans are now being drawn up for what promises to be a very interesting programme and, certainly, fruit growers who are interested in any phase of the industry will find the annual convention well worth attending.

Details of the programme will be announced later. In the meantime, keep in mind that the convention will open on Monday evening, December 8 and close on the 11th.

billeting of out-of-town crews and checking and re-ordering supplies.

Corps members and trained social workers comfort wives and children of the trapped miners during the long vigils at the pithead. Records and volumes of paper work are kept by the headquarters secretarial and accounting staffs.

"In the initial stages, disaster crews came from Divisional Headquarters at Halifax, Charlottetown and St. John, "Mr. Ilsley said. "Since that time, nearby Red Cross groups who knew Springhill people and could interpret their needs have been added."

Subsequent volunteers have come from Halifar, Truro, New Glasgow, Westville, Stellarton, Pictou, Amherst, Athol, Southampton, East Mapleton, West Brook, Holloway River, Lakeland and Parrsboro.

Leadership has been provided by key personnel from Provincial Headquarters in Halifax.

Among those on the scene are directors and staff of the Society's Outpost Hospitals, Junior Red Cross, Nursing Services, Blood Transfusion Service, Home Services, Women's Work.

"We will continue to give relief as long as the emergency exists,," the Provincial Commissioner stressed.

Red Cross Headquarters and kitchen have been set up in the basement of the Springhill Baptist Church. Clothing and comforts are being provided in the Red Cross First Aid Depot next to the Draegermen's hut.
