SIXTY-SECOND YEAR — ARICHAT, CAPE BRETON, N. S., JANUARY 24, 1959 — No. 21

A HOLIDAY MOTOR TRIP

When a limited budget presents a valid reason for not taking an extensive holiday Nina (that's my wife) and I spent a lot of time in trying to select a suitable place to spend our vacation.

As usual each year the annual discussion takes place as to when and where we will spend when and where we will spend our three weeks. Finances also playing a part as to how far afield we can go.

As we hadn't definitely decided whether to go North, South, East or West a friend and neighbor Helen came to our rescue and suggested we three take a leisurely trip for a few days through Nova Scotia.

As that sounded like a good idea we packed lunches, camera, fly lotion and other essentials for our needs. We left North Sydney one morning about nine o'clock. We reached the Canso Caseway without incident. While there we had ice cream, gassed up and decided we would, on the first leg of our journey, go down to Canso. None of us had ever visited that part of the country before (along the Chebucto Trail.)

We proceeded on route 4 until we arrived at Monastery. There we turned left on a side road with signs indicating that route No. 16 was the road to our destination. What a delightful drive —all paved roads—and as it followed the coast line, every turn we emerged from brought to view a prettier scene than the last—cosy little settlements nestled in each cove and everything spotlessly clean. We drove on until we arrived at the Atlantic Ocean. When in the lower part of Canso a large fish plant with its wharves and boats plainly told us that the fishing industry played a big part in the economic life of the town. After chatting with one of the men in charge and learning much about the earlier history of Canso we retraced our tracks and rode back over the same way we had come.

After driving about twenty miles and wishing for a change of scenery we took a secondary road at Guysboro and after driving another twenty miles through real rural roads we at last, to our great relief, came to a nice little village called Melrose, which is on route No. 7.

It was a relief to settle back again as we rolled westward on the paved highway. After driving approximately ten miles we arrived at a pretty little village called Sherbrooke. As there had been a fair there that day accommodations were at a premium. After unsuccessfully tryin to get a place to stay for the night, it was suggested we try a place on the outskirts of the town called Winklerod. Without too much optimism we drove out and to our delight were told that they could put us up for night. As it was a while before dark we decided to go out and see the town. Helen our chauffeur, who by the way is a very capable driver is always agreeable to going where anyone wishes at any time, was a willing partner. Well we drove through the main street and came to a sign which pointed to Sonora—9 miles. We followed that road and it took us along the banks of a branch of the St. Mary's River past the remains of pulp wood plants which had been in operation in years gone by. Now all that remained was the foundation, an old smoke stack and some piling and crib work.

We parked down at a nice beach and picked up shells for souveniers of our visit. We also met a nice man by the name of Burns who lived a few hundred feet from where we were stopped and he gave us the history of Sherbrooke and Sonora in particular. Sonara, in by-gone days, was a thriving little village with many of its men being employed at the pulp industry. There were in those days some nice homes, one in particular owned by a Captain Burns, but now pretty well showing the ravages of time down through the years.

After arriving back at the motel we were entertained by the proprietor as he related to us his experiences from the time he had come to Sherbrooke, when a young man, and got employment in the lumber woods and how he built the first electrical plant which served the town for thirteen years until it was taken over by the Nova Scotia Power Commission.

After enjoying a refreshing sleep we arose next morning and after dressing sat down to the most appetizing breakfast we had had in a long time. My how that lady could cook bacon and eggs. My mouth waters every time I think of them. We left vowing if ever again the opportunity presented itself we would pay her another visit.

Well we now had to think of getting back to Cape Breton and each of us having a little of the wanderlust in our makeup we decided to go across country and come out at or near New Glasgow—after passing through Sheet Harbor we drove on and came to a Game Sanctuary with a gate across the road. The keeper's cottage was near by and as we came to a halt he came out and asked us to register at the office after which we proceeded on. It was real virgin country and the roads were passible altho very rough. We saw deer and many smaller animals. All seemed quite tame. We eventually reached the other side of the Sanctuary and again had to regsiter. We met two cars only during our trip through and as it would have been an unenvious place to get broken down they had a telephone connection from one keeper's cottage to the other just in case one did not show up in a reasonable length of time, they would start a search and assist if needed. We arrived in New Glasgow and after visiting some friends we headed for Cape Breton and home.

We arrived at 10 P. M. tired but agreeing it was the best trip yet and dreaming of another similar trip next summer.

River Bourgeois Ripples

The month of January always brings a renewal of wedding anniversaries which appear as follows:—

Heading the list is Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Digout who were married 65 years on January 8. The marriage ceremony was performed by Father A. E. Mombourquette at St. John the Baptist Church here. Mr. and Mrs. Digout have lived in the village of River Bourgeois ever since. Mr. Digout is 88 years of age and Mrs. Digout is 85. They observed their anniversary quietly and were informed that a Mass of thanksgiving had been offered on their behalf by their grandson, Rev. Father Henry Meade who is at present Chaplain at an Air-force base in Turkey.

Next on the list we have Mr. and Mrs. Amable F. Burke who celebrated their 56th anniversary on January 17.

In Hawker Mr. and Mrs. Martin Pottie celebrated their 54th anniversary on January 16th, on the same day Mr. Pottie also celebrated his 78th birthday.

Mr. and Mrs. Willie Robertson of the Church Point celebrated their 54th wedding anniversary on January 9th.

Mr. and Mrs. John L. Burke celebrated their 53rd anniversary on January 17.

Capt. and Mrs. Simon F. Burke celebrate their 47th wedding anniversary on January 20th.

Mr. and Mrs. John Henry Thibeau celebrated their 43rd wedding anniversary on January 10th.

Three couples celebrated their 42nd wedding anniversaries on January 15th. They are: Mr. and Mrs. Joe MacPhee of Hawker; Mr. and Mrs. Willie Pottie of the same place and also Mr. and Mrs. Peter Landry of South River Bourgeois.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry U. Sampson celebrated their 41st wedding anniversary on Januray 17th.

Celebrating their 40th wedding anniversary on January 10th were Mr. and Mrs. Henry LeBlanc.

44 years married were Mr. and Mrs. Victor Digout on January the 17th.

Wally Bona was successful in passing the required examinations to qualify as a member of the Halifax Police Force. He is the third young man from River Bourgeois to join the Halifax City Police.

One of our local residents, Mr. Remi Fougere, recently butchered an ox which weighed 984 pounds dressed. At one time oxen were quite numerous. They were valuable for farm work and food supply. With the coming of modern farm equipment and motor trucks these useful animals have almost entirely disappeared from our fields.

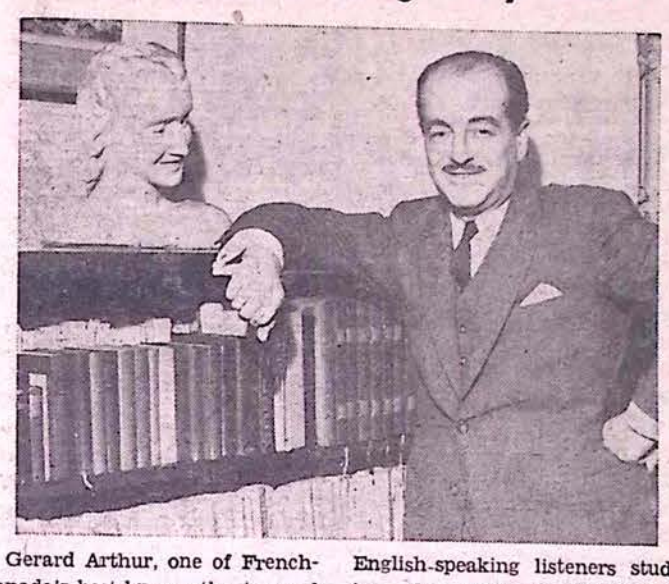

Peggy Boyd, stewardess on a T. C. A. Vicount, spent a couple of days recently visiting her mother, Mrs. W. F. Boyd.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Touesnard have taken up residence in the old LeVesconte house.

On December 29th, Hervey Boyd, son of Mr. and Mrs. Cameron Boyd and Lydia, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Val Kyte, St. Peters were united in marriage at Moncton, N. B., where the newly weds will make their future home. The Record joins with the many friends of the young couple

K of C News

The regular meeting of the Laurence Kavanagh K of C Council was held recently in the Club Rooms, West Arichat, with Grand Knight J. H. LeBrun presiding The meeting was advised that word from New Haven announced the commissioning of John E. Winter, M. D., Arichat, as medical examiner for the Council. Brother Norman Samson reported that Chaplain A. Doucet celebrated Requiem Mass in November for the deceased K of C. members of Richmond County He added that a Corporate Communion on the first Friday of the year, January 2, took place at West Arichat Church, with over 80 knights in attendance.

Word was also received from the Supreme Council, New Haven, that the Laurence Kavanagh Council No.4607 had received the 1958-59 Knights of Columbus Certificate of Honor in recognition of its outstanding achievement in fulfilling requirements for the Membership Roll. This is indeed a worthy achievement on the part of the new Council.

Reverend T. Power, P. P., Lower River Inhabitants, addressed the knights using as his text "The role of the Knight in the Apostolate of the Church". He referred to the Chistopher Movement by Father Kellar and urged knights to follow its aims and objectives. "Practice love and charity. Insist on truth, order and love; instill light where there is darkness. Be an active and good Catholic in public life", stated Father Power.

The January meeting will be held in the K of C Rooms, St. Peter's on Sunday the 25th.

Credit Union Holds Meeting

On Wednesday, January 14th, approximately 40 credit unionists of the community of L'Ardoise attended the annual meeting of their own bank. Thomas Mombourquette presided and Leo Gracie was secretary. In his written report, the president gave a very conscise analysis of the financial position of the credit union which, he stated, had improved markedly during the year under review. This had been a very active year for the organization and more members had availed themselves of the credit union services. Mr. Thomas Peters reported for the Credit Committee stating that 75 loans had been granted. The general condition of loans at the end of the period was considered very good. Mr. Onesime Martell reported for the Supevisory Committee.

A 2 1-2% Dividend on shares and deposits was recommended by the Board of Directors and approved by the general meeting.

Miss Sally Ann Mombourquette, teacher and manager of the School Credit Union reported that 80 pupils from grades V to XI were active members of their organization. More important still was the fact that these young people were receiving an education in the government and principles of credit unionism.

Mr. D. J. MacEachen, Nova Scotia Credit Union League Representative, North Sydney and Urbain LeBlanc, St. F. X. Extension Department, St. Peter's, addressed the meeting.

The following slate of officers, as presented by the nominating committee, were elected by the general assembly: Directors — Cornelius Mombourquette, Joseph Leo Gracie and Matthew Ferguson; Credit Committee—Thomas Peters, Thomas McGrath and Ernest Mombourquette. Miss Sally Ann Mombourquette was elected to the Supervisory Committee.

New Royal York Hotel--Salutes Canada

A distinguished group of Canadian designers, artists and artisans blended their ideas and skills to achieve a distinctive Canadian theme in hte public rooms named and decorated for the provinces of Canada in the new 400-room, air-conditioned addition to Toronto's Royal York Hotel. The new addition, boosting the hotel's capacity to 1600 rooms, making it the largest in the British Commonwealth, will be formally opened February 21 by Ontario's Premier Leslie M. Frost, in the presence of N. R. Crump, president of Canadian Pacific, and other government and business leaders. Guest Speaker At Board of Trade

Mr. MacIntyre of the Department of Trade and Industry, Halifax, addressed the local Board of Trade at their monthly meeting on the tourist industry and his subject was pertaining to Campsites and Trailer Grounds.

Mr. MacIntyre in his address explained the requirements for such sites as laid down by his department and answered many questions on the subject asked by members of the Board.

Mr. MacIntyre is a North Sydney man and is a very efficient and genial official of the Department of Trade and Industry.

The Board extended a vote of thanks to Mr. MacIntyre, which was unanimously approved.

(The following editorial written by P. A. N., in the Casket, congratulating Mr. Leo MacIntyre, on his radio broadcasts on the late A. B. MacGillivary, is worthy of note and we are happy to clip this editorial and we feel sure many of our readers will enjoy its contents.—Editor.)

"Leo MacIntyre, Glace Bay barrister, has gone on the air with a short series of broadcasts on the late A. B. MacGillivray, stipendiary magistrate, whose name was already legendary at the time of his death.

In undertaking this series, Mr. MacIntyre is doing more than providing good entertainment. He has been telling "A. B." stories for many years, as a student at St. F. X., an army officer overseas, and a popular after-dinner speaker since his return. He knows many of them and he tells them well. And the late Mr. MacGillivray, well endowed with keen wit, humor and common sense of his own, was the subject of many a tale worth telling. Most of them are of the things A. B. himself said and did. Some, as Mr. MacIntyre points out, are simply good stories tacked onto A. B. because they sound that much better when associated with him.

In retelling these stories over the air, Mr. MacIntyre is recalling to our attention several interesting facts. One is that you will find in Eastern Nova Scotia a kind of humorous story that is unique. It is truly a part of our old culture, a delightful part and a part worth preserving and developing.

A few years ago Miss Peg MacGillivray ran a series of stories in this paper which brought pleasure to many. They were tales which had their birth in the County of Antigonish. They were true tales and truly worth recording. The fact that they have been preserved in print is one that calls for our gratitude to the author and the publisher.

We now have a new debt to acknowledge and we sincerely hope that our new benefactor in Cape Breton will go on to gather and tell tales of other men and other times, and that he will also encourage the present generation to be humorous in a way that will make its humor worth preserving.

Wedding Bells

MALTBY — SAMSON

PETIT De GRAT—St. Joseph's Church, of this place, was the scene of a very pretty wedding on December 29th, when Mary Claire, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Samson, Petit de Grat, was united in marriage to LouisMaltby, son of Mr. and Mrs. Percy Maltby, of Poulamond.

Rev. Charles Forrest officiated at the double ring ceremony and celebrated Nuptial Mass.

The bride entered the church on the arm of her father to the strains of the wedding march, played by the Rev. Sister. Joseph Marchand an uncle of the bride sang appropriate nuptial solos. The bride looked charming in a floor-length gown of white nylon net and lace over satin with long tapered sleeves and bouffant skirt. Her finger tip veil of silk illusion fell from a bridal cap of nylon tulle and trimmed with pearls. She carried a white prayer book and rosary and a bouquet of red roses. She was attended by her cousin, Miss Aurine Samson, of Arichat, who was attired in a nile green nylon gown with matching head-dress, also wore nile green nylon mitts and carried a bouquet of pink and white carnations. Maid of honor Miss Yvonne Boudreau, who was attired in a pale pink nylon gown, wore a matching headdress, also pink nylon mitts and carried a bouquet of pink and white carnations. The groom was supported by Leon Samson, brother of the bride and Simon Maltby brother of the groom.

Immediately following the Mass the young couple motored to the home of the bride's parents where breakfast and dinner was served to relatives and friends, numbering over 100. Later during day they motored around Isle Madame and on their return were greeted at the home of the groom's parents in Poulamond where supper was served to relatives and friends numbering over 150. The bride's mother, Mrs. Louis Samson, wore a two-piece light blue suit with a corsage of pink carnations. Mrs. Maltby mother of the groom wore a light grey suit with a corsage of pink carnations.

They were the recipients of many useful gifts, including a purse of money.

We wish Claire and Louis a long and happy wedded life.

Cabot Squadron Air Cadets Visit Isle Madame Squadron

On Friday evening the officers and Cadets of the Isle Madame Squadron, Air Cadets, welcomed Cabot Squadron No 562 of North Sydney, under the command of Squadron Leader, Marshall Killan to Petit DeGrat, where the Cabot Squadron demonstrated their ability in drill. This squadron were also accompanied by their band as well as by some lassies known as cadettes.

The performances of the Cadet Band, Cadets and Cadettes was outstanding and a credit to their leaders and drew much applause from the boys of the local Cadet Squadron, Clergy and citizens present for the occasion.

Flight Lieut. Ralph Britten, D. F. C., officer commanding of the Isle Madame Squadron, welcomed Cabot Squadron to Isle Madame.

Rev. A P. Poirier, Chaplain of the Squadron, spoke in glowing terms of Cabot Squadron, and Comanding Officer Marshall Killan, he said the performance was an inspiration to the Cadets and Officers of the Isle Madame Squadron and that he felt sure our local Cadets would profit by the visit of Cabot Squadron.

All the Officers and Cadets of the Isle Madame Squadron were uniformed and while on parade in the spacious new St. Joseph's Parish Hall, were instructed by P. O. Adrian Burke, Chief Instructor; Adjacent Edwin Power, in a very creditable manner instructed the Squadron as to their duties while on parade and that it was expected that the Queen's uniform would be worn with respect and honor.

Other officers of the Squadron are:—P. O. Leon Landry, Supplies Officer; Frank Spencer and Arthur Theriault, Civilian Instructors.

After the ceremonial parade of Cabot Squadron, the wives of the officers of Isle Madame Squadron, served a dainty lunch in the spacious basement of the Parish Hall, to the visiting Cabot Squadron and to the guests present for the occasion.

NEWS ABOUT TOWN AND COUNTY

MUNICIPAL SCHOOL BOARD

The Municipal School Board met at the Court House, here on Thursday to prepare the 1959 budget, which in turn will be presented to the Municipal Council at the Annual Session.

Warden James Johnston presided at the meeting with the following members in attendance:—W. E. Morrison, St. Peters; Walter Fougere, Cannes; John A. MacAskill, Stirling; Alex Marchand, Louisdale; H. E. McDonald, D'Escousse; Rev. (Dr.) Charles Forest, Petit De Grat and E. C. Doyle, Secretary.

On Duty

We are pleased to see Collector of Customs Bart LeBlanc back on duty, after being on the sick list. He was relieved by an officer from St. John, N. B.

Returns Home

Mrs. C. S. Malzard has returned home after spending a few weeks at the home of her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. George Cox of Shelburne. She also visited at the home of Rev. and Mrs. A. E. Kingsbury at Stellarton where Rev. Kingsbury is the pastor of the Anglican parish in that town.

———:O:———

From Montreal

Mr. and Mrs. Amos G. Boudreau and two children, Karin and Jeannette of Montreal are visiting at the home of Mr. Boudreau's father, Mr. Edward Z. Boudreau of Boudreauville.

Mr. Boudreau is employed as a Superintendent for Brown & Ryan, Shipping Brokers of Montreal and is at present employed by this firm at the Halifax waterfront for the winter months. Amos for some years sailed to foreign waters and can relate many interesting stories of his travels.

While here he also visited his sister, Mrs. Louise Paon and family.

Enjoy Skating

For the first time in many years both young and old enjoyed skating on Arichat Harbor recently. The harbor is now frozen from the Government wharf East. Some ice to the West of the wharf appeared, but this did not hamper the M. V. Vaniheim", from docking.

Harvest Ice

The ice harvest from Shaw's Lake, Lochside, is completed and we understand the cut measured 15 inches in thickness.

A large ice house at the Lake is full to the brim and will be used by Booth Fisheries at Petit de Grat.

All modren ice cutting machinery was used to harvest the cut this winter and was quite an improvement over the old methods.

56th WEDDING ANNIVERSARY CAPT. and MRS. FORGERON

Capt. and Mrs. Jeffrey W. Forgeron, a popular and highly esteemed couple of West Arichat have celebrated their 56th Wed ding Anniversary.

They were married in West Arichat by the late Rev. Father Edward Robitaille, who performed the ceremony at the church of the Immaculate Conception. The bridesmaids were the Misses Alma Forgeron, sister of the groom and Minnie Benoit. Supporting the groom were Messrs Abraham LeJeune, brother of the bride and Patrick McNamara a cousin of the groom.

A prominent coastal master during the greater part of his life, Capt. Forgeron retired from the sea twelve years ago and has the distinction of owning and commanding the last sailing vessel out of Isle Madame. Both the genial Capt. and his good wife have been active in community affairs in their home parish and are active and devout members of the Immaculate Conception church.

They were born at West Arichat and reared a family of 11 children: Capt. Wilfred, Capt. Edmund, Capt. Edward, Capt. Clarence, Capt. Hubert, Alfred; Mrs. Clifford Boudreau, (Dorothy) who tenderly cares for her parents; also Zelia in Flordia; Capt. Abraham in Halifax; Rev. Sr. Alexis, f.d.j., in Alberta and Evangeline who died when an infant. They have 24 grandchildren and four great grandchildren.

They received many gifts, kind wishes and congratulations from their many friends.

The Record congratulates Capt. Jeff and his good wife on their anniversary and wish them continued good health and happiness.

Hat Saves Life From Molten Steel

Joseph Starzomski, a 42 year old Dosco Open Hearth Furnace pit hand residing at 83 Bay St,, Sydney, N. S., recently became the first Cape Bretoner and the first Dosco employee in the Maritimes to be admitted to membership in the International Turtle Club.

Starzomski was working in the pit of No. 2 Open Hearth Furnace on June 19, 1958 when molten steel at a temperature approrimating 2,400 degrees Fahrenheit spilled and splashed upon him in a quantity sufficient to cause serious injury or possible death. The employee was wearing a hard hat at the time and as a result completely escaped serious injury and suffered only minor burns.

The Turtle Club is an International Association of people saved from death or serious injury by the wearing of a Safety hat sometimes known as a hard hat or shell. The Association was originated and sponsored by the E. W. Bullard Company of California and there is now a Canadian Branch working with the various Accident Prevention Associations throughout this country. Mr. Starzomski is the seventh Nova Scotian to receive such an award and membership in the Turtle Club.

The Dosco employee was presented with a membership certificate, a wallet card and a lapel button at the regular Open Hearth Foreman's meeting by General Superintendent Cliff Murray of Dosco's Dominion Iron & Steel Safety Superintendent Jimmie Holmes and Open Hearth Superintendent Al Dean.

Mrs. C. T. Martell Dies At Medford

Mrs. Charles T. Martell (the former Jane Boudreau, daughter of the late Capt. Thomas Boudreau and Caroline Boudreau, of Poulamon), died at Medford, Mass., on Dec 28, 1958, at the age of 83 years. Surviving besides her husband, who is 86 years of age are two daughters and two sons: lMary) Mrs. Shannon of Medford; (Florence) Mrs. Hayes, of Medford; Albert of Medford and Charles Martell of Ramsey, N. J. Also seven grandchildren and six great grand-children.

The late Mrs. Martell and her husband, moved to the U. S. A., in 1907 and resided in Medford for 45 years and prior to that in East Boston, Mass.

Highly regarded by her many friends the floral and other spiritual tributes to her memory bore mute evidence of the esteem in which she was held.

The funeral was largely attended with interment in Oak Grove, Cemetery, Medford, Mass.

The Record extends sincere sympathy to the bereaved husband and family.

OUT ON A LIMB

By Stumpy McCulloch

Ol' Sam dropped into the local movie theater the other night, but two women seated in front of him was carryin' on such a lively conversation that he couldn't hear anything but their voices.

"Pardon me," he said, "but I cain't hear a word."

"You're not supposed to," one gal snapped, "this is a private conversation!"

It's a tragic fact, but nonetheless true, that if Mister Longfellow had lived in the 20th century, he probably wouldn't have mentioned the spreading chestnut tree in his poem about the village blacksmith! 'Cause the chestnut tree is almost extinct, the victim of a mysterious blight.

* * *

Now comes the news that the stately elm tree, which shades the streets of thousands of our towns, is threatened by a fungus called Dutch elm disease. If you have an elm tree, and its leaves turn an unnatural yellow color in June, it may mean your tree is a victim of the disease.

Dutch elm disease is spread by dark beetles which carry the fungus. If your tree is attacked, it's best to cut it down as quickly as possible, and burn it, so that the disease won't spread to nearby elms.

* * *

Whole towns have been hit by the disease! For instance, Mount Pulaski, Ill., had 600 elms in 1942, but six years later it had only 16—plus 584 hazardous dead tree trunks. Besides losing its fine elms, the town had to pay about $70 apiece to have the trunks removed! Many towns are fighting the disease with DDT spray and other control methods, and meanwhile lots of folks are planting honey locusts and maple as shade trees—'cause they resist disease mighty well!

* * *

I just have room for another safety rule for tree farmers: Before I cut a tree, I always figure out a way of escape—well back and to one side, and at least 20 feet away. I reckon that's just common sense!

* * *

"What are you aimin' to raise on this property?" Ol' Hannibal asked the city feller who had just moved in.

"Children," the feller replied.

"Shucks," said Hannibal, "around here we consider that a sideline!"

* * *

So long! See you soon!

in wishing them every happiness for a long and prosperous wedded life.

The three Boyd brothers, Kevin, Maynard and Gerard are presently occupied cutting pulp at L'Anse a Crapeau which is located directly below Mr. Fred Robertson's residence. This place in pioneer days was used as a shelter for fishing schooners. It is interesting to note how the large trees are still in a sound condition. They were estimated by some of our experienced woodsmen to be at least 100 years old.

SOUP MAKES THE MEAL

On a cold wintry Sunday night . . . or any winter night at home . . . there's nothing more inviting than a fireside supper. Especially when you plan it around a tureen of tempting hot soup. It's meant for warming folks . . . tots as well as grown-ups . . . right down to their toes!

So convenient for these informal supper menus are hearty canned condensed soup combinations. Mix or match family favorites for tasty treats. An especially enjoyable team is Bean with Bacon and Vegetable Soups ladled from a tureen into comfortable soup bowls. Have plenty on hand for "refills".

To go along with the soup . . . tangy open-faced melted cheese sandwiches and crisp celery. For dessert, pass squares of spice cake with butter frosting (made from a mix) and fresh fruit.

WINTER SPECIAL

1 can (10 ounces) condensed bean with bacon soup
1 can (10 ounces) condensed vegetable soup
1½ soup cans water

In saucepan, blend soups with water. Heat, stirring now and then. Makes 4 servings.

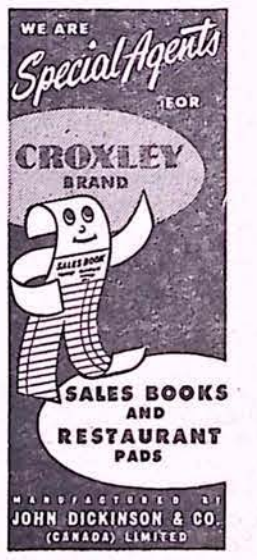

For the chicken lovers in your family, try this combination:

CREAMY GUMBO

1 can (10 ounces) condensed cream of chicken soup
1½ soup cans water or milk
1 can (10 ounces) condensed chicken gumbo soup

In saucepan, blend cream of chicken soup with water, stir until smooth. Add chicken gumbo soup. Heat, stirring now and then. Makes 4 servings.
