Historic Flash Back For Cape Breton

Silver Dart to Fly From Baddeck Colorful Anniversary Program

On the morning of Monday, February 23, a fragile, flimsy aeroplane mounted on bicycle wheels, will be pushed out over the frozen surface of the Bras d'Or Lakes near Baddeck. Seated at the controls, set in a maze of bamboo poles and wires, will be a pilot more at home in a screaming jet, Wing Commander Paul Hartman, DFC, DFM, CD, of Ottawa.

At 11 o'clock the veteran test pilot will point the kite-like plane toward Sydney, the tiny motor will come to life, and the intrepid RCAF veteran of the skies will attempt to wing the naked-looking plane over the snow-covered hills and frozen lochs of Cape Breton to Sydney.

The daring flight will be the first of many events this year celebrating the golden jubilee of the first aeroplane flight in Canada, and the British Empire, which occurred when J. A. D. McCurdy piloted the Silver Dart one half mile over Bras d'Or Lakes back in the winter of 1909.

The Silver Dart is a duplicate of the original and was built at the RCAF air base at Trenton. It has a wing span of 49 feet from tip to tip, a wing area of 420 square feet and the total weight, including pilot, approximately 800 pounds. It is powered by a duplicate of the first water-cooled air engine in the world.

Wing Commander Hartman has already visited Baddeck, checking thickness of the ice, and will personally supervise assembling of the flying-kyte which will arrive in Sydney aboard a C-119, a flying box-car, and then be transported to Baddeck.

Hon. Mr. McCurdy, former lieutenant-governor of Nova Scotia, and now, at 72, Canada's oldest pilot, will be flown to Cape Breton in a special RCAF plane, Feb. 21, for the anniversary flight.

Mr. McCurdy will be honored at Baddeck by the townspeople some of whom witnessed the first historic flight, at a testimonial dinner.

In the first decade of the 20th century a vital chapter in the history of aviation began at Baddeck when famed inventor Dr. Alexander Graham Bell, gathering four energetic and deeply interested young men to his side, formed, in 1907, the Aerial Experiment Association. The organization actually was the result of a suggestion by Mrs. Bell.

The association had two headquarters, one at Baddeck and the other at Hammondsport, N. Y., where the four young men, Glenn H. Curtiss of Hammondsport; F. W. (Casey) Baldwin, Toronto, Lieut. Thomas Selfridge, U. S. Army, West Point, and Jack McCurdy of Baddeck, conducted ex-vision, of "aerodromes".

Their fourth machine was the Silver Dart which was taken to Baddeck and subsequently took to the air, Feb. 23, 1909, with McCurdy at the controls .. the first aeroplane flight in the British Empire.

McCurdy still vividly remembers the memorable flight and recalls looking down from about 60 feet in the air and seeing the great inventor Bell happily waving his arms, his white hair and white whiskers standing out against the background of a red sleigh in which he was seated. .

The Feb. 23 re-enactment of the first flight is expected to attract a large group of visitors and members of the press, radio t.v., wire and news photo services to Baddeck. A committee, now active in Baddeck, will cooperate in making arrangements for accommodations and will do what they can to alleviate any difficulties which may be encountered by the large influx. The Baddeck committee includes D. B. MacLeod, chairman; J. A. Harrison, vice-chairman; A. Langille, secretary; G. MacAulay, G. MacFarlane, K. MacDonald R. F. Hudson, K. MacDermid, Mrs. Siever and Mrs. F. Moulton. Also on hte committee are Mrs. F. W. Baldwin, widow of "Casey" Baldwin and Mrs. David Fairchild, the daughter of the late Dr. Alexander Graham Bell.

Ratepayer Happy With Results

The Richmond County Record.

Dear Mr. Editor:—After reading the report of the Municipal Council in the last issue of the "Record", I was surprised, yet happy to learn that the standing of our Municipality was not as gloomy as some would lead us to believe—far too many Jeremiah's in this County are spreading their lamentations and prophecies among the ratepayers of the County, thus hindering the collection of taxes.

A collector of taxes does not seem too popular with those who refuse to pay their taxes—and if one dwells on the Bible, they will find that St. Matthew, had his trials collecting taxes near Capernaum, however, this great Saint was among the chosen and later wrote the first book of the New Testment.

The road of a tax collector in this day and age is no "bed of roses", and we suggest Mr. Editor that the ratepayers of Richmond co-operate in making this one of the most prosperous counties in the Province.

Thanking you Mr. Editor for space in your valuable paper.

Yours very truly,

RATEPAYER

Hon. J. A. D. MacCurdy and the Silver Dart

The man who made the first flight in the British Empire at Baddeck 50 years ago, Hon. J. A. D. McCurdy, tries out the controls of the Silver Dart, a replica of the original fragile craft which made aviation hsitory back in February 1909. Right is LAC. L. McCaffrey, aero technician of the R. C. A. F. Trenton, Ont., base, who researched and supervised the building of the replica at Trenton. The machine will be flown at Baddeck, Feb. 23, during cermonies commemorating the 50th Anniversary of the First Flight in Canada and the British Empire. The Silver Dart replica has been modified to carry a modern power plant for the unique Baddeck flight.

Rev. C. Girroir, Gives Talk

D'Escousse News Home and School

The regular monthly meeting of the D'Escousse Home and School, was held at the school in that place on Wednesday, January 21.

The guest speaker for the evening was the Rev. Father Conrad Girroir of Louisdale, who delivered a very appropriate talk on:—"How to obtain more members for our Home and School Association."

Here is a summary of his talk:

"When sister called and gave me the topic I was to discuss—I told her that I was keeping Bees and using honey to attract pepole to our local Home and School Association — this was more or less a joke. I began to search for a few pointers in books. One of the books I was looking in was "How to win Friends and Influence People" by Dale Carnegie. And mind you his first chapter is "If you want to gather honey don't kick over the Beehive."—The lesson here is that people do not easily accept blame....He gives the story about big killers, Crowley of New York—who when he was sentenced to the electric chair—did not say; "Is this what I get for killing people?" but said "This is what I get for defending myself." Criminals, less offending men and women are always eager to defend themselves. So this eagerness to defend self, must be the Beehive—handle it like a Beehive or else you and I get stung. If we are not liked—If we are not successful in our relations with others then our Home and School Associations will have fewer members.

To come to something definite in gaining new members I would suggest that you befriend others and that you prepare well your programs for the year—and your programs of monthly meetings. Work at your meetings to solve some real and important problem—this will give a raison d'etre to your Association. But most important of all befriend people—if they are your friends—if they love you htey will follow you. Here are six rules Dale Carnegie gives us: six ways of making people like you — this should apply to our Association as well.

(1) Become genuinely interested in other people.

(2) Smile.

(3) Remember that a man's or woman's name is to him or her the sweetest and most important sound in the French or English language.

(4) Be a good listener, encourage others to talk about themselves

(5) Talk in terms of the other man's or woman's interests

(6) Make the other person feel important—and do it sincerely.

THE SILVER DART WILL TAKE TO THE AIR ON FEBRUARY 23

On February 23, in the sky above Cape Breton's Bras d'Or lakes, screaming jets, their vapor trails weaving in the frigid atmosphere the story of a man's tremendous advance in aeronautics, will contrast with a unique scene being carried out on the ice-covered waters below.

That morning time will circle round and fly back through half a century. Out on the ice from Baddeck, surrounded by scores of people dressed in early 20th century costumes, some wearing old time spring skates, others wrapped in furs and seated in old-fashioned horse drawn sleighs, will be a fragile aircraft, looking much like a kite on wheels, the Silver Dart.

The tableau of the past will be staged by the Victoria County Drama Society, with many of the participants being those who actually witnessed John A. D. McCurdy's historic, first-in-the-British Empire, flight back on February 23, 1909. Some of the sons and daughters of these who were on hand that memorable wintry day will be wearing styles of the early 1900's. Like ghosts from the past, famed inventor Alexander Graham Bell, F. W. "Casey" Baldwin, Glenn H. Curtiss and U. S. Army Lieutenant Thomas E. Selfridge will be there to cheer as the Silver Dart takes to the air, piloted this time, not by the celebrated Hon. J. A. D. McCurdy, but by Wing Commander Paul Hartman, RCAF, Ottawa.

Over 1000 dignitaries have been invited to attend the colorful re-enactment, which will officially open a series of events commemorating the Golden Anniversary of the British Empire's First Powered Flight. Nova Scotia government representatives, senior defence and air staff officials will be there along with national press, radio and television representatives.

The Canadian Post Office department will mark the occasion by issuing a special 5c stamp on February 23. The blue commemorating stamp will depict 3 Delta wing aircraft in silhouettte with the Silver Dart, in a darker hue, in the foreground. Over 10,000 first covers will be issued.

Townspeople of Baddeck will honor Mr. McCurdy at a testimonial dinner there, Saturday, Feb. 21, and commemorative banquets will be held at Sydney, Halifax, Montreal, and other centres, Feb. 23.

A reception and buffet lunch for special guests will be tendered at Baddeck following the Silver Dart's flight.

The Nova Scotia celebrations will be the first of many to take place throughout Canada this year.

NEWS ABOUT TOWN AND COUNTY

EAGLE SEEN IN ARICHAT

On Sunday morning, February 1st your Editor saw a big eagle near a flock of gulls on the ice of Arichat Harbor and when it spread its wings in flight it appeared to cover the whole flock of gulls, so large was the spread. We note by the "Yarmouth Herald", where Mr. and Mrs. George Raynard often see eagles near their Glenwood home and the item further states that the eagle is a large bird, and very rare in this vicinity.

A report from West Arichat states that a large bird was seen in that community recently.

Revival of Horse Racing

A revival of horse racing this winter is much in evidence and many races have been held in Richmond and Inverness Counties. On the highway car trailers and trucks can be seen taking horses to the races and the large number in attendance at these races is most encouraging to horse owners and lovers of this sport.

A report of the St. Peters race will be found in this issue.

To Glace Bay

Raymond LeBlanc, was a recent visitor to his parents, Capt. and Mrs. Charles LeBlanc, who are residing with their daughter and son-in-law, Prof. and Mrs. Harry Macneil at Glace Bay. Raymond reports that his parents are in good health.

Both Capt. and Mrs. LeBlanc were highly respected residents of Arichat, having moved to Glace Bay only two years ago.

Capt. LeBlanc during his early life was a prominent sea-faring man and was engaged in the fur sealing industry on the Pacific coast, later taking command of a large ocean-going tug out of the port of Victoria, where he spent seventeen consecutive years returning to Arichat in 1929, at which time he retired from the sea. Although advanced in years Capt. LeBlanc, during the past summer, could be seen around the Glace Bay waterfront, watching the fishing boats come and go and at the same time spin sea stories with the old timers.

We always like to dedicate the following verse of a poem written by Edgar A. Guest to grand old seamen like Capt. Charlie:—

SAILOR HERITAGE

The land has kept me for its own
For all these many years
For sailor's work too old I've grown,
Still, when a ship appears,
I stand and watch it as it moves
On lake or far-flung sea,
And feel that yearning strange, which proves
The sailor blood in me.

A few other points could be observed—conduct your meetings in an orderly way — plan your agenda a few days before the meeting—contact those who are to take part—contact them ahead of time. Have some recreation—a fine publication is published by the Adult Education Division of the Department of Education—it is entitled "Program Helps."

For your information and consolation, things pertaining to the Home and School in Louisdale are not too rosy..Yet if those who form the executive membership and priest will continue to win Friends and influence people we will grow stronger and stronger and at this point it is well to remember that the greatest leader, the world has ever seen and known had his difficulties—he was betrayed by His friends, nay more, He was crucified! His Resurection, His big Victory!

So remain satisfied with the results you obtain by your humble—friendly— and steady strivings towards a better Home and School!
