LAST WEEK in the LEGISLATURE

The throne speech debate continued with Education Minister Leonard making a major impact in his revelation of progress in the realms of education and welfare while Agricultural Minister Haliburton drove home the fact that a fine future awaits those keen on farming in the province. It is not likely that the debate will be finished until next week possibly on resumption of the House on Tuesday when Highways Minister Smith may finish the traditional opening phase of the session.

Tabling of the MacKinnon Royal Commission report is important to many hundreds of thousands of Nova Scotians. It has been a long time in the building but it holds good news in suggestions which are likely to be followed with government legislation to implement them during this assembly. In a sweeping sense the MacKinnon report provides general increases under the Workmen's Compensation Act including allowances for widows and dependents. The liability for fishing vessels has been recommended for an increase from $50,000 to $200,000 and consideration of contribution will be given to some mining operations the economic position of which may not be able to shoulder a substantial increase in contribution. All told, this report is of major importance to the province and is being carefully considered by the government.

Attorney - General Donahoe spoke at length about health—the new insurance plan and the hospital tax. He told of a complete penal survey to be made of provincial institutions at no cost, due to the helpfulness of the Ontario government, and said a federal committee is in process of considering the need for a federal institution in Nova Scotia.

Agriculture Minister Haliburton urged young farmers into operating on a modern basis; spoke of the benefits of the abattoir to be built with provincial government help and said Jerome Barnum Associates had saved $200.000 a year in the Liquor Board alone—which also controls as a cabinet minister. Mr. Haliburton pointed out that the government would make about $150,000 this year on beer bottles ..all coming to the province instead of an individual or company.

Education Minister Leonard gave much detail of advances in education and welfare. He emphasized the value of the Mcnab Royal Commission report on school construction and its present study by the government. He spoke of the increases in teachers' salaries above the foundation scale from $100 for a TLC 4 to $480 for a professional certificate Class I—effective August 1, 1958; also a further improvement in income of $400 for professional Classes 1. 11. 111 if teaching in junior or senior high school. Both projects would cost the provincial government an additional $700,000.

In the calendar year 1958, he said, teachers' salaries on a provincial sharing basis cost almost $8,000,000 and exceed $9,000,000 in 1959. In fact, Mr. Leonard stressed that provincial sharing of the foundation program, exclusive of debt and interest charges would cost nearly $12,000,000 by March 31, 1959. One hundred and fifty scholarships have been given for Normal school where attendance is 427 not to mention 171 in universities on special scholarships. Two hundred and fifty thousand dollars more has been given to universities with added loan funds for students.

The school for the deaf has been settled with New Brunswick for Amherst. Great advances in payments of Old Age, Blind Pensions and disabled have been effected. The Social Assistance Act, replacing the Poor Law, has the Province and Dominion paying two thirds of costs in municipalities with special assistance during February, March and April of this year for those not on unemployment insurance. The province will pay 83 1-3 per cent for 42 out of 66 municipalities in Nova Scotia.

The province has offered a sharing plan with Cape Breton for a new vocational school.

Mothers' Allowances have been increased $10 a month across the board — the first increase since 1942.

Mr. Leonard rapped Opposition citicism of the great financial benefits made to the people of Nova Scotia by the Stanfield government.

Premier Endorses Red Cross Drive

HON. R. L. STANFIELD
Premier of Nova Scotia

"When you contribute to the Canadian Red Cross, you share in the great humanitarian work carried on by it," Premier Stanfield said in endorsing the annual campaign for funds to be held during March.

Premier Stanfield, honorary president of the Nova Scotia Division, Canadian Red Cross Society, added personal wishes for success in the campaign.

A. W. Fowler is campaign chairman.

"The Red Cross has been for many years the symbol of mercy when disaster strikes in any part of the world," the Premier pointed out.

"The work of the Red Cross Society in disaster areas is well known, but less well known are other functions performed by it. In the province of Nova Scotia the Red ross Society carried on a free blood transfusion service, and 32,000 bottles of blood were distributed to the hospitals of this province in the year 1953. The blood was generously contributed by volunteer donors, but the total cost to the society of this service was $200,000.

"During March the Canadian Red Cross Society, Nova Scotia Division, will appeal to the people of Nova Scotia for the sum of $199,200, so that its services may be continued. I endorse the financial campaign of the Canadian Red Cross Society and urge all Nova Scotians to acquaint themselves with the work being carried on in this province by the society and then to give it their generous financial support," the Premier concluded.

A Letter On Municipal Topi

The Richmond County Record.

Dear Editor.—A news item appeared in the last issue of your paper refering to action taken by the Municipal Council, in respect to tax arrears, hospital accounts and current tax collections. The item mentioned that 85% was collected in current taxes in 1958 and that the present Council expected a greater effort during 1959.

After reading the Clerk's report we are convinced that M. Doyle did very well in collecting 85% of the 1958 le and more especially in spite of conditions which existed in the pulp, lumber and fishing industry in the mainland districts during the past year.

It would be quite difficult to find too many Municipalities in the Province of Nova Scotia that could show 100 percent collections on current levies.

Let us give credit where due and as a Ratepayer of the Grand River District and having followed Municipal matters for some years I am convinced that our present Municipal Clerk is performing his strenuous duties in a very creditable manner and no doubt like St. Matthew, the tax collector spoken of in a recent letter in your columns by "Ratepayer" cannot find too much praise in this day and age, any more than this Saint found at Capernaum when a tax collector for the Roman government.

We have been told and our fathers before us that two things we could bank on and that was death and taxes, so let us play the game as good upright citizens, pay our taxes, follow the golden rule here on earth and when life's chores are ended it can be truly said "he was a good citizen".

Street Lights Off

We have no definite word as to why the Arichat Street Lights, have been turned off, however, we presume it must be due to lack of funds to carry on the continuance of this public service.

We never miss the water until tht well goes dry and the same can be said about our street lights—"we never missed the lights until the power was shut off." It must be realized that the sponsoring committee in charge of the Street Lights, had no easy task in collecting the large amount involved in the yearly operation of these lights. We suggest for the present that business people and householders may co-operate by placing outside lights facing the street, until such time a workable system can be arranged to meet the monthly instalments to the Nova Scotia Power Commission.

Just Ramblings

We clipped the following from the editorial column of the "Liverpool Advance" when Editor Day had the following to say about an editorial which appeared on education and taken from "Bathurst Northern Light" and we are inclined to follow the same thoughts expressed by both these editors. Editor Day starts off with the following comment:

In these days when the cost of education is crippling the country, the following from an exchange publication seems especially sensible and timely:

(From Northern Light)

"We might remind ourselves that many of today's leaders in this world are rugged individuals, who walked to school, carried a cold lunch and held down a part-time job to pay for the costs of the process. Ease does not produce character. Education offered as a blue-plate special is costly and it does not stick to the mental ribs.

"It is time we got back to the essentials of education, even if we have to forego the air-conditioned, steam heated palaces bought with tax money, and corral Junior and Junior Miss under the proverbial oak."

REPORT FROM THE Legislature

By EARL URQUHART

My last weekly letter dealt with some of the remarks which I made in the House during the Throne Speech Debate. I pointed out that the Stanfield Government was doing little or nothing to relieve the serious unemployment situation which prevails in all parts of Nova Scotia. I also stressed the fact that the once flourishing lumber industry is now very sick and that immediate prospects for an improvement in that industry were not too bright.

During the week Clyde Nunn, my colleague from the neighbouring county of Inverness, gave a very fine address, and attacked the Government for misleading the people of Nova Scotia during the 1956 election campaign. He emphasized that the brighter and more prosperous days which the Tories promised have turned out to be days darker and poorer.

Thursday evening, February 19, the Speaker entertained all Members of the Legislature at a dinner which is held each year in conjunction with the Annual Meeting of the Commonwealth Parliamentary Association. Sir Howard 'dEgville, Secretary-General of the Association, was delayed by travelling conditions and was unable to appear that evening but did meet the Executive, of which I am a member, the following day at a luncheon. This week the Lieutenant-Governor is entertaining the third dinner at Government House, and group from the Legislature at Ishall be among those attending this function.

Shortly after the Session opened, I was appointed to the Committee on Lands and Forests. This Committee discussed fish and Game and all phases of lumbering operations in the Province. It is to be hoped that some indication will be given this Committee with reference to the establishment of the proposed pulp and paper mill which I recommended in the Throne Speech Debate should be built at Point Tupper in Richmond County.

When the Conservatives were in opposition they introduced two resolutions in various years, asking for Federal aid to education. Last week I asked Premier Stanfield what representations his Government has made during the last 2¼ years with reference to securing Federal aid to education, and he was forced to reply that no representations had been made by his Government. This rather amused me because it was another clear-cut indication of the manner in which the Tories pledge one thing while in opposition, and do exactly the reverse when in power.

I was also able to get the Premier to clarify the situation concerning the listing of a Progressive-Conservative Association telephone under the heading of Province of Nova Scotia in the telephone directory. I expressed the view that it was rather unfair for the Progressive-Conservative Association to have a 'phone the year round, at the expense of the people of Nova Scotia, while the same privilege was not accorded the Liberal and C.C.F. Associations. The Premier assured the House that the listings would be discontinued.

On Monday February 23rd, it was my pleasure to represent the Constituency at Baddeck, where the 50th anniversary of the first powered flight in the British Commonwealth was observed, and a great deal of suspense was experienced by everyone there when the replica of the Silver Dart was flown over the ice of Baddeck Bay by Wing Commander Hartman. The regular Monday night Session of the Legislature was adjourned until Tuesday night to allow the Members to attend this history-making event.

This Friday, I shall be addressing one of the Liberal organizations in Kings County, and I am looking forward to speaking in that area of the Province again after a lapse of five years.

This Session has been the liveliest one of the 10 Sessions I have attended, and certainly the Government is on the defensive when it has to have practically all its Cabinet Ministers participate in the Throne Speech Debate—which is something not customarily done. The Government has still shown no initiative in solving the unemployment situation, and at the date of this letter, February 24th, there is still no indication from Ottawa as to the intentions of the Diefenbaker Government to assist the coal industry.

So, until you hear from me next week, I send you all my best regards.

Chowders ... "Easy Come, Easy Go"

"Easy come, Easy go."

When you stir up a kettle of chowder, you see how fittingly this carefree old slogan fits the savoury eating that comes forth. And how timely for this Lenten season. March winds send appetites soaring like kites. And your hungry hoard sails in for supper, ready to eat everything in sight. As early New Englanders and Maritimers found, best buffer to March winds is a steaming kettle; with seafood and vegetables adrift in a tantalizing broth.

Many a historic feast has centered around a peppery chowder. Who hasn't read Moby Dick; and hungered for a whale-size bowl of the fish chowder which perfumed the air of Nantucket inns! Descriptions of French and Italian coastal villages often tell glowingly of soups that magically mingle seafood and vegetables — like those we can enjoy from Atlantic to Pacific shores.

Coast to coast, all across the U.S. and Canada, families scurry to the kitchen when chowder sends out savoury signals. In true 1959 style, they often find Mom busily brewing . . . mixing cans of prepared soups to make magnificent chowders. This is the kind of beautiful broth she can render up — with ... out setting foot near ocean or ... the Irish stew or your pet holiday dish.

CRAB-VEGETABLE SOUP

1 can (10 ounces) condensed cream of mushroom soup
1½ soup cans milk
1 can (10 ounces) condensed vegetarian vegetable soup
1 cup flaked cooked crab (small can)

Blend mushroom soup with milk; stir in vegetarian vegetable soup and crab; heat. Garnish with grated lemon rind, if desired. 6 servings.

LIVEN BREAKFAST WITH V-8

Put a tingle into breakfast with sparkling red V-8 juice. Perch a wedge of lemon or lime on the edge of each glassful for those who like extra zing. On a cold morning, heat the juice for a pleasing chill-chaser. It wakes up appetites for proper appreciation of the ham and eggs with cinnamon toast.

SOUP HONOURS ST. PAT

"Wearin' o' the green" for St. Pat's day includes a bright touch of colour on the dinner table. Start with savoury hot bowls of green pea or cream of asparagus soup. Gently slide a puff of whipped cream (unsweetened) or sour cream atop each bowl. A sprig of watercress at the tiptop will look for all the world like a shamrock. Still another garnish idea — croutons cut like shamrocks. Then on

———:O:———

Charles V. DeCoste

Charles DeCoste, one of our respected ctizens, in his 83rd year passed away at his home here on the 2nd. The late Mr. DeCoste took up residence in Arichat some years ago in the property formerly occupied by the late Mrs.. LaVash. Well liked by his neighbors and friends, his passing will be mourned.

He engaged in fishing out of this port for some years, retiring from the sea about ten years ago. During his early life he fished out of Gloucester and was a crew member on many of Gloucester's famed vessels and was at one time a crew member of the famous Schr. Henry Ford, of Internationl Racing fame.

Charlie was a splendid seaman and could relate many yarns of his experiences on bankers, in the days of sailing ships. Although he had given up the sea, he never lost interest in the occupation he had spent the greater part of his life and in the summer could be seen around the dock awaiting the arrival of the shore fishermen. The memory of men like our departed friend, Mr. DeCoste will be cherished for many years to come.

Surviving besides his wife are four sons and four daughters:—Mrs. Raymond Samson, (Evelyn), Boudreau, (Violet), Petit de Grat; Petit de Grat; Mrs. Francis H. Mrs. Godfrey H. Boudreau, (Irene), Arichat and Mrs. Albert LeBlanc, (Delima), Arichat; Leonard DeCoste, of Gloucester, Mass.; Charles, Jeffrey and Clifford all of Arichat.

The funeral which took place at the Assumption Church, Arichat, was largely attended. Very Rev. A. P. Poirier, Pastor, was celebrant at the High Mass.

Pall beareres were:— Thomas Acton, Baptiste DeCoste, James MacDonald, Sam Vigneau, Narcisse Forgeron and Thomas DeYoung.

Funeral Director C. A. Boucher was in charge of funeral arrangements.

We extend sympathy to Mrs. DeCoste and family in their bereavement.

SPEAKING OF MUSIC

Caught reminiscing over the good old days are Joyce Sullivan and Dr. Leslie Bell who have both been associated with CBC musical programs for amny years. Joyce, now a star of BC TV's Showtime, started her television career as a singer in Dr. Bell's group. Dr. Bell himself now concentrates on his radio work and can be heard each Saturday evening in his program of musical appreciation called Speaking of Music on CBC radio's Dominion network.

Fellow up the way a bit is real handy fixin' gadgets and gimmicks and things. Used to be popular, too. But he isn't anymore. Just a little thing, too. He fixed up his lawn mower with a coin device so that it takes a quarter to run it.

If you're thinking about retiring some of your land to permanent forest, one of your first problems will be how to select the land; leastways if you're like most of the fellows I know.

Well, sir, there are a few simple rules to follow which will kind'a make the decisions for you. First off, if the land is so steep as to make it difficult to till and encourages washing away of the top soil, plant trees. Forest will protect the soil.

If your soil is rocky, sandy or has heavy clay content, it probably won't even make good crop land or pasture. Retire such land to forest. Even if the soil will support crops or pasture, but at too high a cost, it makes more sense to plant trees.

Had myself a good chuckle the other day. I got a letter from this fellow down South who has a good-sized woodlot on his farm: Seems he uses his chain saw with the brush cutting attachment to cut brush for his goats.

Well, sir, the goats have gotten so used to the sound of the saw that every time they hear it the come a'runnin'. This kind'a tickled the fellow and he talked it up around the neighborhood.

Next things you know the chain saw distributor gets a letter from a magazine called the "Sheep and Goat Raiser," asking for an advertisement 'cause no goat and sheep farmer ought to be without one of them chain saws.

That's what I call being alert.

* * *

Talk about being alert and all that. I read where a real sharp logging company up in Boise, Idaho, put in a brand new idea: a mobile logging camp on wheels.

Seems they bought six big trailers consisting of bunkhouses, shower houses, cookhouse and shops. Each bunkhouse has five bunks; each unit is 28 feet long. Thirty men can be housed in the camp.

Sure makes me proud of forestry —it turns out some mighty fine products and some mighty fine thinkin'.
