N.C.B. "Army Day" Pagant To Portray Early Acadian Times

CAMP GAGETOWN, N. B.' March 18—A spectacular military pagant, depicting early Acadia in French colonial times, will be presented by more than 500 troops of the 3rd Canadian Infantry Brigade Group in the capital city of New Brunswick during the latter part of May.

Entitled "Soldiers of the Queen", the event will be staged over a four-day period in conjunction with "Army Day", May 23, in the Lady Beaverbrook Rink, Fredericton.

Highlight of the performance will be a portrayal of Acadian scenes and activities before a replica of old Fort Nashwaak, an historical French fortification built in 1690 that stood on a site 3,000 yards from the present-day Lady Beaverbrook Rink, near the junction of the Nashwaak and Saint John Rivers.

Modern-day soldiers, dressed in the uniforms and costumes of the period, will enact periods during which the fort was in operation from 1690 to 1692. Scenes will depict settlers, the military garrison and the local Abenaqui Indians at the time of the British and French struggle for supremacy in North America. One sequence will include an attack by the British on the fort and the ensuing pursuit by the French.

The central figure around which most of the action will envolve will be Compte Joseph Robineau de Villebon, the soldier-diplomat who commanded the Acadian garrison under Louis XIV of France.

LAST WEEK in the LEGISLATURE

The pressure at the legislature is increasing as the days approach the anticipated Easter completion of work and last week was a prime example of the Stanfield government getting on with the job.

In keeping with the spirit of the government effort since its Labor Minister Pyke which offers inception was a bill introduced by amendments to the Workmen's Compensation Act—all of which benefit the many thousands who need such legislation to help them when they experience misfortune in their various jobs.

If the bill passes with general approval compensation awards will be improved to a 75 per cent maximum salary of $3,600. Pensions for widows and dependent children will be increased by $10 and $2.50 a month. The increases will become effective next June when the bill bcomes law. There are many other alterations to improve the old Act, based on the recommendations of the MacKinnon Royal Commission report—considered one of the best documented reports of its kind in many years. This type of government legislation is typical of the general welfare improvements made by the Conservative administration since it came to power.

A report tabled by Education Minister Leonard showed that during the 1957-58 period the provincial government spent over $15,000,000 in education. Improvements in schools, opportunities for teachers and plans for the future were explained in detail. The government expects to spend over $19,000,000 on education in the next fiscal year.

Premer Stanfield tabled an interim statement of expenditures and advances from capital account and special reserve for the period ending March 31, 1959. It showed that more than $4,000,000 remains available from previous voted authority—so the money has been well husbanded not spent just because it was there to spend.

A rental control bill was "killed" by assembly vote because the government feels new legislation, to be introduced in this session, will be more realistic.

Through new legislation the government also proposes to share in the losses experienced by municipalities through sale of debentures at a discount—for school purposes—and for collection and distribution to hospitals of a new per capita contribution by municipalities for capital needs of hospitals. The hospital plan will reduce estimated municipal expenditures in connection with hospital care by some two million dollars a year.

The Opposition claimed that a deficit was averted in the presentation of next year's estimates by use of funds to be obtained through the hospital tax. Premier Stanfield denied that such funds would be used for any other purpose than the Hospital Tax Act authorizes.

In reply to an Opposition question regarding cash in advance at hospitals, Health Minister Donahoe said in the house that the Nova Scotia Hospital Commission had not issued any instructions that cash in advance should be collected from any prospective patients. The hospitals may do so of their own volition, said Mr. Donahoe, but not on government direction.

Opposition leader Hicks asked the Premier about the rumored arrangement with an American firm that seaweed and kelp be harvested along a lengthy stretch of coastline. Mr. Stanfield assured Mr. Hicks that talks are in process but that no commitment will be made in any fashion until the matter is aired publicly and given careful consideration.

The Premier tabled his account of capital estimates which totals slightly more than $26,000,000 but $10,000,000 of which is to retire old indebtedness built up through the years. Something over $3,000,000 remains of the last session's vote so the total available to be spent other than on debt retirement will be in the vicinity of $18,000,000.

A bill to amend the Housing Commission Act will add further help to the Province in paying for redevelopment surveys.

CNR ACKNOWLEDGES CONSCIENCE MONEY

MONCTON — The season of Lent stirred the conscience of an unidentified Nova Scotian.

He or she has sent $20 to the Canadian National Railways, with a partial explanation which confessed "this is yours, not mine... sincere Lenten conscience and repentance."

The note accompanying the money bore a Halifax dateline. the sender was indebted to the CNR.

The remittance was the second of its kind received by the railway in the Atlantic region in less than two months. Ten dollars came through the mail in January.

For Winter-Weary Spirits . . .

Here's A Spring Treat

Spring is here! Pleasant balmy days are here, and there are signs of green grass and peeping flowers. All giving a new lift to "winter-weary" spirits.

Appetites, too, can be sparked with a "spring-like" flavor treat. Penny Franks and Noodles sauced with V-8. The wonderful blend of eight garden-fresh vegetables in V-8 juice . . . tomatoes, carrots, celery, beets, parsley, lettuce, spinach, and watercress . . . gives a long cooked flavor to this easy top-of-stove dish. Perfect for Spring living.

Along with the sparkling skillet dish, serve a fresh fruit salad. Then, for dessert surprise the family with home-made chocolate cake and a beverage of their choice. It's happy eating!

PENNY FRANKS WITH NOODLES

½ cup chopped onion
½ cup chopped celery
3 tablespoons butter or margarine
3 cups V-8
6 frankfurters, cut in ¼-inch slices
4 ounces (1½ to 2 cups) medium-wide noodles
½ teaspoon salt
¾ cup shredded process cheese

Cook onion and celery in butter in heavy frying pan about 5 minutes. Stir in remaining ingredients, except cheese. Cover tightly. Cook over medium heat, stirring often, about 20 minutes or until noodles are tender. Sprinkle cheese over top; cook until just melted. Makes 4 servings.

If desired, after noodles are tender, transfer mixture to an ovenproof casserole. Sprinkle cheese on top; broil until lightly browned.

River Bourgeois Ripples

Prior to the beginning of Lent came Mi-Careme time. This was once an enjoyable sport, but seems to have been replaced by other entertainment, one of which is watching television, a new invention of this push-button age. March came in like a lamb, but as the old saying goes, it may go out like a lion. We believe the lowest temperature reading recorded in this vicinity during the cold spell was at Leo McPhee's store when the thermometer registered 16 degrees below zero. Recently we experienced a severe rain storm which resulted in the flooding of several cellars. Among the unfortunate owners were Blaise Boyd and Mr. Guillaume Burke.

Contary to last winter when row boats were used from one end of the harbor to the other, this winter, sufficient ice formed to carry cars and trucks which also went the full length of the river. When good skating was in evidence the teen-agers took advantage of the good ice to play hockey, while some others took part in skating. Some of our old time skaters showed up to prove that they could still carve the figure 8 on the shiny surface of the ice.

Peter Landry took time off from mending his fishing nets for his yearly skate, while Placide Burke who never lets a winter go by without enjoying the same sport also turned out. What happened to our old friend Marie Boyd this winter that she didn't show up? Could it be rheumatism?

With the contributions we received, together with the profits derived from the sale of our news letter, we have now been able to pay the debt we incurred in erecting the automatic flood light in front of our veteran's monument. We also gave an offering of $5.00 for a High Mass which was celebrated on the 11th of November for our fallen veterans. Next spring we intend buying more flowers from the nursery to beautify the surroundings around the monument, after which we will donate $50.00 to Fr. Samson towards the carillon for the parish church. This of course will be given in memory of our fallen heroes.

The severe cold spell apparently aroused the fox from his lair to prowl around in search of food in the vicinity of Richard's Pond. Some of these cunning animals ventured within range of Joseph Richard's gun and the result was several dead foxes.

Mrs. Susan LeBlanc of South River Bourgeois celebrated her

WOODLAND HARVEST KEEPS FORESTS GREEN

Canadian Forestry Association Promotes Better Woods Use

Harvest the trees and conserve the woodlands. This is forest management. It is like farming. Modern forestry practice requires that the young trees be protected and, like other crops, harvested at maturity before they die and rot. Without the harvest, young growth is held back. And it is the young growth that keeps the forest green.

It was this concept of forest management that was discussed at the 58th annual meeting of the Canadian Forestry Association held recently in Ottawa.

The CFA, a national organization supported by the public, promotes the development, protection, and utilization of the woodlands. It provides services, including the operation of two railway conservation cars, it conducts 4-H and Junior Forest Warden programs, and manages the Tree Farm Movement, of which many farmers and other woodlot owners are members. The CFA is a service organization dedicated to increasing the forest wealth of the nation.

Another forest fact of increasing concern discussed at the Ottawa meeting was the wastage caused by forest fires. In 1957, there were 6,000 forest fires in Canada of which 5,000 were caused, directly and indirectly, by humans. Smokers and campers alone accounted for more than 2,000 fires. Altogether, almost a million acres of timber were destroyed.

A YOUNG TREE FARMER learns about forest management. That is, trees like other crops, must be harvested before they die and rot, thus providing a cash crop and making way for new growth. The Canadian Forestry Association, through the Tree Farm Movement, assists farmers and others to manage their woodlots profitably.

"Fire is the greatest single preventable enemy of the forest," said C.F.A. manager J. L. VanCamp. "All the larger companies operating in the forests manage their woodlands on a perpetual yield basis," he said, "at the same time, the forest industries create four billions of dollars annually in national income." "Forest fires, far from generating benefits for Canadians," he continued, "not only devastate the woodlands destroying millions of trees annually, but make the soil unfit for new growth for several years."

91st birthday recently at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Anslem Fougere where she is residing for the winter months. Mrs. Le Blanc is still very active being able to attend church and do a considerable amount of knitting.

Maynard Boyd recently joined his two brothers Kevin and Gerard who had gone to Shelter Bay in Northern Quebec where they were employed. We were told that it is a very cold country, the temperature going down as low as 25 degrees below zero.

Donald Fougere arrived home with a 1959 Ford car which he purchased prior to his departure from Ontario. He was accompanied home by his brother, Arthur.

John Landry, chief forest ranger for the County attended the annual meeting of Rangers in Halifax. It was unofficially reported that 1456 deer had been killed in Richmond County and 30,160 in Nova Scotia, during the 1958 hunting season.

John recently purchased a new 1959 Chevrolet truck.

Henry U. Samson was taken to the Victoria General Hospital in Halifax by Walter Fougere. Also a patient at the V. G. is Mrs. Joseph Boucher, church Point. Barbara Stone, young daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Stone was operated on for appendicitis also at the V. G.

Peter Samson and Clement Burke narrowly escaped serious injury, recently, when both were struck by a car near River Tillard. Peter was rendered unconscious for a time.

We are happy to report that Dr. John Boyd who suffered a heart attack recently is now much improved and is at present recuperating in Miami, Flordia.

(The Editor of the Record also extends good wishes to Dr. John for a speedy recovery. Many in Arichat will recall Dr. Boyd when he and his cousin, Jim C. Boyd attended the Arichat High School in the Grade XII class of the late Rev. Sr. St. Fermin. Both John and Jim were popular and brilliant students.)
