Do You Remember When?

BY OLD TIMER

This week I am beginning the registry of shipping in Arichat from 1855 to 1884. These were the golden years of Arichat as a shipping port, the peak years being from 1855 to 1869.

The following table will give you an idea of the role this port played in the commerce of eastern Nova Scotia. It shows the number of vessels registered, with the approximate total tonnage for each five years of that period.

1855-1859	76	5,657
1860-1864	96	8,398
1865-1869	63	5,655
1870-1874	30	2,593
1875-1879	30	2,825

Diocese Antigonish Mourn Death of Bishop MacDonald

(The following eulogy to the memory of the late beloved Bishop MacDonald, appeared in the "Casket", which so well outlines the life of the Most Reverend John Roderick MacDonald, whose memory will linger in the hearts and minds of the clergy and their parishioners throughout the diocese and by other creeds who recognized him as a great benefactor and who carried out his apolistic duties with great distinction.—Editor)

A LIFE IN A WORD

Few men are of such clarity and character that their epitaph can be written in a single, meaningful word. Most of us are too complex; too much a mixture of varied characteristics to be easily describable.

Most Reverend John Roderick MacDonald was one of those rare individuals whose life could be summed up in a single word and that word is—kindness.

Ability and knowledge can command respect but only kindness to all can inspire genuine affection on a wide scale. It follows that such a reflection must spring from a great love of God, an all-absorbing love of mankind.

All the great qualities evinced during a lifetime of unstinting service came from the fountain of kindness that welled up within this man and spilled over to refresh and inspire those with whom he came in contact.

No monument will be needed to keep alive the memory of the Bishop in this diocese. Hundreds of personal acts of kindness as they are recalled and retold, will join to form a great chain of memory. Almost any greatness can command monuments but loving kindness lives on in memory to become legend.

His was a life of action without pretension. For more than forty years he moved among his ever-growing flock and whether he stood in a humble country kitchen or resplendent on the throne of the Cathedral he was simply, "Father John R., Pastor.

He had simple eloquence; a genius for administration and a great ability to organize for social advancement at home and abroad. All these qualities were born of his great love of man in God's image. He was a wise man because only great wisdom can produce such kindness.

There was no such thing as an impersonal approach for Bishop MacDonald. All problems within his jurisdicton were intensely personal. As Rector of the Cathedral he knew the members of

Superstitions Told About New Year's In Many Lands

Good Luck Offered in Many Ways to 'Believers.'

New Year's Day affords everyone the opportunity to bring himself good luck throughout the year. A number of that is supposed to [illegible] according to several superstitions concerning the beginning of a new year.

The "First Foot"—the first person to enter the house on New Year's morning — plays a significant role in the family's future fortunes. He must be a dark man to bring good luck, but if he also brings a gift and "carries in" more than he "takes out," then the house is assured peace and plenty for a whole year. The most auspicious gifts as luck-bringers are a lump of coal and a red herring.

Unmarried persons are advised to look out of the window on New Year's morning. If you see a man, it is a sign that you will be wed before the year is out. Should you see a horse, you can have a wish, and it will be realized within the year. To see a dog is lucky, but a cat foretells worry.

A little care will make it possible to bring oneself good luck for the entire year. Wear something new, if possible, on New Year's Day, but the garment must be put on when you first dress in the morning. Receipt of a gift is certain to carry luck. Wish everyone you meet "A Happy New Year," but remember when the greeting is given to cross your fingers for luck. Be sure to say "rabbits" as the first word when you wake before anyone has had a chance to speak to you.

Love's progress will be aided on New Year's Day if you are careful to put on the left stocking before the right. The potency of this charm is supposed to be increased if you do all things as far as possible left handedly during the day.

To open a bank account on New Year's Day was considered lucky in Old England, the custom growing probably from the belief of many centuries that whatever you do on the first day of the year will be an indication of what will happen during the months that will follow.

In some parts of England and Scotland it is supposed to be unlucky to leave a house until some one has first entered it.

Of Many Things

By AMBROSE HILLS

WELCOME TO 1960

In spite of gloomy forecasts, Canada goes into the year 1960 in pretty fine shape. Inflation has been held in check in recent months, due in large measure to the courage of the government (maybe it is the Christmas spirit that makes me finally say a good word for the politicians!), and the good sense of Canadians generally in accepting unpopular decisions without too much fuss.

Labour, too, has shown somewhat more restraint and good sense over the past four or five months. Most workers are of the opinion that it is better to hold the line and consolidate Canadian gains now than go romping off on a fake boom that could price us right out of competitive overseas markets, and thus create unemployment.

This sensible sentiment in Canada gets something of a setback, however, when American-owned concerns apply their native wage rates to the Canadian scene. An example is the International Paper Company, which applied wage-rate increases in their home plants to their big operations here. Wonderful for their Canadian employees, perhaps, but sure to cause discontent and new wage demands throughout the Canada paper industry — where prices are already high enough. Acts of this nature, by American-owned companies operating in Canada, can have serious results for Canadian consumers, especially when pace-setting industries are involved.

In spite of these complications, Canadians have ridden through a very dangerous period in this nation's economic life. Labour and management both deserve various governments. By next Autumn, if all hands remain steady on the oars, it is altogether likely that international trade will find this country a strong competitor. If increased productivity can be achieved, there could be a series of increased wages without a corresponding increase in the cost-of-living index: and after all, that is the only kind of wage increase that does any good.

In other words, things look reasonably good for 1960 and we can mean it sincerely when we say, "HAPPY NEW YEAR TO ALL!"

Enigmatic Gent

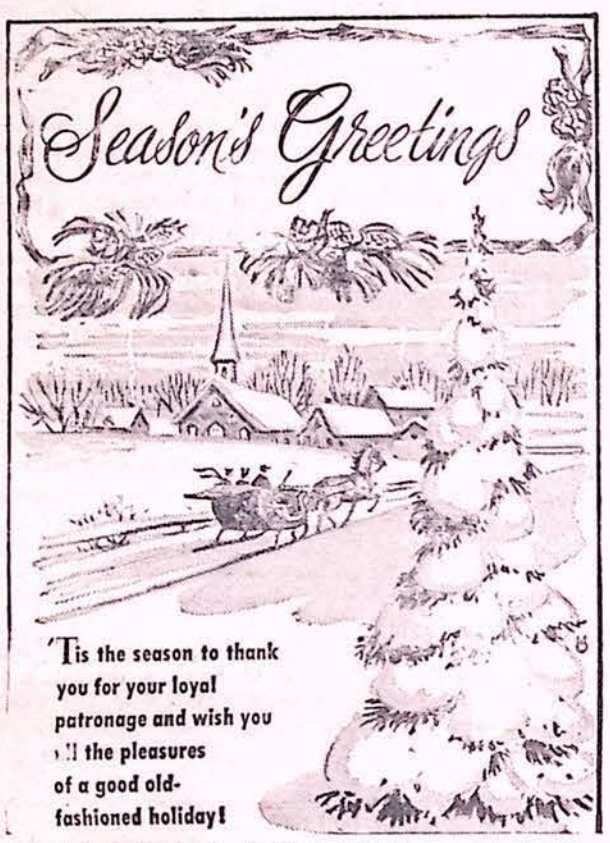

I am a caller at every home where you may meet,
For daily I perambulate along each street.
Take one letter from me and still you will see
I'm the same as before, as I'll always be.
Take two letters from me, or three or four
I'll still be the same as I was before.
In fact, I can tell you that all my letters you may take,
Yet of me nothing else can you make.

As you probably know, enigma is the term given to a riddle in verse form in which the word or object that is the answer is concealed in deliberately mystifying allusions. Can you guess the answer to this one?

Answer: The postman.

every family. He rejoiced with the parents in their triumphs and sorrowed in their disappointments. He counselled and loved their children. He left in the Parish of St. Ninian a pattern for the personal pastorate that is faithfully followed to this day.

When the church in its wisdom discerned the qualities he so modestly sought to conceal and elevated him to the episcopacy, he approached the diocese as he had his parish. In the near-decade that he presided, the diocese of Antigonish has become a model of concern and provision for the young, the orphaned, the aged, the sick, and the unfortunate.

His successor will find more than a model organization reflecting the wisdom and energy of Bishop John R. MacDonald; he will find on every side evidence of the special love that mankind reserves for those who are ever kind.
