Diary of a Vagabond

BY DOROTHY BARKER

THE TALE OF A DOG

She wasn't my friend but the guest of a neighbor and naturally two strange women, who had only known each other for a short time, would choose such harmless subjects as travel and careers for conversation. When I mentioned all the bread I had been able to butter because of my love of trains she slapped her trim thigh, threw her head back in a glorious hearty laugh and said, "I have a lovely story in which a train plays a major role. Would you like to hear it? Well natch, here's to more butter for my bread.

Her story went something like this—"Our family has owned an island on a huge lake ever since I was a kid. Now that we are all grown up we split our vacation time so that each member gets two weeks occupancy. Being the single member, I rate the last choice, which is the final two weeks in August.

"I have a German Shepherd called Sister, or Sis for short. This was to be her first visit to the island in fact her first trip anywhere. I didn't know she would have to be crated or muzzled when I checked her at the Union Station. The CN baggage attendant took one look at my pony-sized pooch, who bares her teeth in a smile when she is pleased, and said 'Nix', I'd have to have a muzzle for her.

"It was just 20 minutes to train time and stores that sell dog muzzles were miles from the station. I finally persuaded him to keep Sis while I grabbed a taxi and headed for a pet shop.

MISS AS GOOD AS A MILE

"I got back to the station just in time to hear the gates clang shut on the track where my train was pulling out. The next train did not leave for hours.

"Sis and I spent the morning in the nearby exhibition grounds. The journey north was pleasant and uneventful. When the train arrived at our stop, dusk was just beginning to fall. I retrieved Sis from the baggage car, and took the usual taxi to drive the six miles to the lake.

"When we arrived at the lake a new teenager was at the helm of the water taxi. He said he didn't know our island, but I assured him that even in pitch dark I would recognize it. Twenty minutes later he tossed my bag on the dock, boosted a reluctant Sis after it, and was gone. Then a horrible realization crept over me. This wasn't our island but an island a mile from ours.

"There was only one thing to do, I stripped, wriggled into my bathing suit and called to Sis to follow me. I had often swum between the two islands and if I kept the blinking lights of our cottage straight ahead I knew I couldn't miss.

"I had been exhibiting my best crawl for the stars overhead to admire when I realized Sis was floundering at my side. I suddenly remembered she was still wearing her muzzle. She was close to being drowned as I wrestled with her to remove it. When I finally got the muzzle loose I didn't know what to do with it. I couldn't afford to drop it because Sis and I had to go back home by train. I treaded water and put it on my head, fastened the strap under my chin and tried to catch up to Sis now swimming for her very life. with a dog's intuition right for our shore.

"When I emerged from the water, my brother—waiting for me—said, 'Who are you trying to escape from, Muzzles?' No need to have CNR tattooed on my arm to remind me to muzzle that hound when she travels by train. The nickname has stuck to me to this day."

JOE V. BOUDREAU EMBARKS ON NEW VENTURE

Joe V. Boudreau who conducted a general store in Arichat for the past several years, has embarked on a new venture and will open his new 5 cents to a $1.00 store on Wednesday, December 5th at 6 o'clock p.m., when the public is invited to attend this new opening and take advantage of the specials offered.

The new store is at the same location and is known as the late George A. Andrew building and with the exception of a full plate glass front and the new entrance facing the East, the familar and popular store can still be classed as a land mark, however the interor of the building has taken on a notable change and is now a modern self-service store and is stocked with the many items to be found in such a store.

In this issue of the Record will be found a large display advertisement announcing the opening of Boudreau's 5 cents to a $1.00 store and also will be found congratulations and best wishes to Mr. Boudreau in his venture from local business men and a few outside ads.

Joe is a son of Mrs. Kate Boudreau and the late Dan C. Boudreau of this town and for some years was employed as office manger for J. E. Benoit, Ltd., of this town. Joe served in the Royal Canadian Air Force during World War II.

Interested in sports, Joe was a valued member of the Arichat Hockey Team, some years ago and still takes a keen interest in hockey and other sports.

Mr. Boudreau's wife and faithful partner, is the former Clare LeBlanc, daughter of Mrs. Juliette LeBlanc and the late Stanley LeBlanc of this town. They have one son, Vernon.

We join with Joe's many friends in wshing him every success in his venture.

C. W. L. MEET AT PETIT DeGRAT

The November meeting of St. Joseph's Parish Council, C.W.L, was held in the Church Vestry.

The president, Mrs. Godfrey Fougee was in the chair and 21 members answered the roll call, as well as two honorary members being present. Plans were made at this meeting to hold a Regional Conference in the Parish Hall on November 14th.

Father J. J. MacDonald stated that the theme of the meeting would be on Eccumencial Council: 1st. How the laity involve in the second Vatican Council? 2nd. How is the entire life of the Church marked by the cooperation of all in the acts of the Few? 3rd. The liturgy n the life of the church? 4th The role of the Parish? How does the church reach the people through structural organization? He also stated that the membership convenors invite all old members to attend our Regional Meeting. The Spiritual Convener was asked to make a list of members at least two at a time to make an hour of adoration before the Blessed Sacra-

SUGAR and SPICE

By Bill Smiley

Noticed a letter to the editor the other day that suggested congregrations should give their pastor a hearty round of applause if they enjoyed his sermon. At first, the idea appealed to me. Many a time, in church, I've been completely carried away by the sermon. In fact, on several occasions, I've been carried right out of this world. To dreamland.

On second thought, however, the notion of applause for a sermon lost its appeal. Supposing the minister got a real storm of hand-clapping. There's always the chance that he would beam happily, hold up his hand like a TV comic, pull another sermon out of the sleeve of his cassock, and give us a 30-minute encore.

With the knowledge that the roast was odorificating at home, the gastric juices would flow like Niagara Falls and the consequent rumbling of stomachs would be horrible to contemplate, frightful to listen to, and destructive to any facade of holiness that we'd managed to erect.

Then, on the other hand, it would be only fair, if we were to applaud with gusto for stirring sermons, that we should be able to express our disapproval in the customary manner by booing, stamping and whistling. If we didn't like what the parson said And the prospect of rousing some of our soundest sleepers with such an outburst instead of the mellow tones of the organ, is fraught with heart attacks, strokes, and apoplexy. We'd need a crew of trained stretcher - bearers in a day when you can hardly get sidesmen.

Can't you imagine the jolt you'd get as you sat there happily nodding, if some hardened sinner who disapproved of the sermon on sin came out with a mighty "BOOO OO" right in your ear? You might very easily fall off the bench, simultaneously uttering an expletive that would irrevocably consign you to the fiery regions from which the sermon had just tried to save you.

Nope, we'd much better to leave things as they are, and greet the end of the sermon with the same old hawking, coughing, snuffling and glove - searching - for as we do now.

I've often felt that being a preacher must be one of the toughest propositions in modern society. He has enough problems to make anyone take refuge in blasphemy, but he can't. He knows enough inside stuff to blast the parish wide open but he has to keep mum.

Some of his parishioners get sore if he doesn't visit them regularly. Others turn out the lights and refuse to answer the door when they see him coming. Still others invite him in, which is probably the worst fate of all.

He can sit down and wait until the television show is over. Or he can drink a gallon of tea with some old girl who's only too willing to get the knife into him the minute he leaves. Or he can sit by the bedside of some old reprobate who hasn't been to church in 50 years, but is thinking better of it as the pearly gates loom.

People want their parson to be a leader in the community, but if he expresses a firm opinion on anything outside the doors of the church, he is a professional troublemaker or an interfering busybody, and "He'd better remember where his money comes from."

For a salary little above that of a laborer he is expected to be a public relations expert, psychiatrist, big brother, wailing wall, youth leader and building inspector on week days, a Thomas Aquinas on Sundays. "Yes, but he gets a free house," howl his parishioners. The free house is usally a vast barn, which the minister has half enough furniture to fill and half enough furnace to heat.

There are a lot of dunderheads, crashing bores and outright incompetents in the ranks of the clergy. But, on the whole, they are men with a high purpose in life, tormented and fustrated by thorny perversities of human nature among their flocks. Most, in their modest way are heroes and I salute them if not with reverent awe, at least with a hearty respect.

GOOD FARMERS

Farmers on this continent amaze the world. They produce staggering amounts of food each year.

It is not because they have large quantities of land. The Soviet Socialist Republic has 40% more crop land than the U. S. A. yet they cannot feed themselves as well.

Does this mean our farmers are smarter?

I believe the answer is yes. They know much more. They should, because hundreds of broadcasting stations supply daily bulletins of farm information, and the networks do a magnificent job of farm broadcasting. Most of our top dailies have well - informed farm editors, and the weekly papers in rural areas give generous space to important farm news. Excellent farm magazines give detailed farm facts.

Perhaps even more important is the vast amount of research being done for the benefit of agriculture. The universities are doing a magnificent job. Private companies engaged in canning and processing spend fortunes on research that will result in better quality crops. Federal and local governments do their share.

But in the main, the credit must go to the farmers and their families. They put the information to good use. They buy the machinery and keep it operating. They know they will prosper only if they keep up to date, suffer if they fall behind. Take away the well - motivated independent farmer and replace him with a mere servant of the state and most of this wonderful research and know - how would be wasted.

Today the news wires are tel-

BOURINOT — RIDEOUT

St. John's Anglican Church at Arichat, was the scene of a pretty fall wedding on November 15th at 11 a.m., when Rev. William E. Dye, united in marriage in a double ring ceremony, Lydia Margaret, oldest daughter of Capt. and Mrs. Sam Rideout, and Cline James, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. J.Bourinot, all of Arichat. After the double ring ceremony the pastor celebrated Holy Communion.

The bride entered the Church on the arm of her father, by whom she was given in marriage. She was a picture of loveliness in her street length gown of white taffeta with a bouffant effect in the back and long sleeves tapering to points over the wrists. Her chapel length veil fell from a tara of seed pearls and she carried a nosegay of red roses.

Bridesmaids were: Miss Muriel Bourinot, sister of the groom and Miss Meta Rideout, sister of the bride. They wore street length dresses of pastel blue and green respectively and carried matching nosegays of chrysanthemums.

Best man was Lloyd Bourinot, brother of the groom.

Ushers were: Earl Rideout, Frank Rideout and Donald Keeping.

Organist and soloist was Mrs. James Dickie, Port Hastings, a sister of the groom.

A reception was held at the Arichat Hotel for upwards of 75 guests. The mother of the bride wore a turquoise dress of brocaded material with white accessories and corsage of yellow chrysanthemums. The mother of the groom wore a ming blue dress of crepe de chine with brown accessories and corsage of yellow chrysanthemums.

The toast to the bride was proposed by Rev. William Dye and was responded to by the groom, who in turn proposed a toast to Capt. and Mrs. Rideout it being their 28th wedding anniversary.

The four-tier wedding cake was cut in the traditional manner by the bride and groom and apportioned by Mrs. James Dickie.

Miss Laura Bourinot was in charge of the guest book.

Following the reception the happy couple left on a honeymoon trip to Halifax and other parts of the province. For travelling the bride wore a turquoise all-wool poodle cloth suit with winter white accessories and corsage of pink roses.

A pre-nuptial shower was held in honor of the bride at the home of her parents, when many valuable gifts were received.

Out town guests were: Mr. and Mrs. Murray Cossitt, Mrs. Walter Burns all of Sydney; Mrs. Edward Kennedy, Louisburg; J. O. Power and Vincent Power, both of Boston, Mass.; Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Bonin of Boston; Russell Long, of Richabucto, N. B.; Karl Wubbenhorst of Port Hastings; Capt. Morgan Tapper and Bill MacMillan, both of Canso.

They have the best wishes of their many friends for a long and happy wedded life.

NORTH ISLE MADAME CREDIT UNION HAVE A SUCCESSFUL YEAR

(The Record is happy to publish the reports of the North Isle Madame Credit Union. It is noted by the President's Report, where a 4% dividend has been declared. The President and officers are to be complimented on this showing. The faithful work of their reliable and efficient Treasurer, Mr. Jas D. Britten, has during his long term of office, contributed much to the success of the Credit Union on the Northside.—Editor)

ANNUAL REPORT OF THE PRESIDENT

President's Report of the North Isle Madame Credit Union for the year ending Sept. 30, 1962:—

Honoured guests, Rev. Clergy and fellow credit union members.

It is once again my very pleasant duty to welcome you to our Annual Meeting.

There is in fact very little I can add to the reports already given to-night. However, I would like to take this opportunity on your behalf to thank the Chairmen of the committees who have carried out their duties in a very diligent and praiseworthy manner.

It is with a feeling of warm satisfaction that we look back over the activites of the past year. Our share capital has increased by approximately $4,000. Our membership has also increased.

Our organization is in such a financial position so as to enable us to pay a 4% dividend an increase of ½ percent over 1960-61. These are all progress and vitality within our organization.

I would here like to add a word of congratulation and encouragement to the School Credit Union, on the fine showing they are making. If we are to prosper in the future we must look to our young people and they cannot learn too soon the wisdom of saving and sound finance.

Credit Union's have reached a stronger, more vital position in the economy of today than it has ever before enjoyed. Let us be proud of the fact that we are part of this vital force. Let us resolve here and now to increase our assets and in so doing reap benefits for ourselves, our communities and indirectly for our nation.

In closing may I say that it has been a great pleasure to serve as your president. I thank each and everyone of you for the confidence you have placed in me and the splendid cooperation you have so freely extended me and I know that my successor will receive the same measure of cooperation and to him I extend a hearty welcome.

Thank you.

FRED MAUGER, Pres.

REPORT FROM CREDIT COMMITTEE

We the undersigned Credit Committee for the North Isle Madame Credit Union beg to make the following report on the loan operations for the year ending September 30ht, 1962.

The number of loans made during the year was 43.

Amount of Loans made during the year $22,597.

Amount received was $16,448.10. Loans were made for various reasons, such as purchasing homes, home improvement, for buying autos, and to fishermen for boats and fishing purposes.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

H. E. McDONALD
NICHOLAS POIRIER

Dated at D'Escousse, N. S.

REPORT OF SUPERVISING COMMITTEE

Monthly meetings were held fairly regularly throughout the year. At these meetings the Credit Committee examined the books which were always found in good order and without discrepencies of any kind.

Following are several observations which were made from hte examination of the various monthly reports.

Firstly, we observed that, generally speaking, more money was saved in comparison for the same month of the previous year. This of course means that our Credit Union is very much alvie. The financial report shows that 7,556 dollars were taken in and $4,512 were paid out in shares.

Secondly: we have 253 members including school Credit Union participants. At this time, a word may be said about C. U. In June 62, $236.75 had been saved; $62.75 were withdrawn. $55.00 has been saved thus far in this school semister. May we say, that parents must encourage children to save as this is a very important part of their education.

The third observation is a less optomistic one. This is the question of delinquent or bad loans. We have four of these loans which have been delinquent since they have been granted. Several others are more promising. We know that delinquent loans are to be expected from time to time; however, we are convinced that some of these borrowers are definitely in a position to do better. As a result, your Credti Union is planning drastic action to collect. We would like to remind those people that they are just as morally bound to pay their debts to Credit Unions as they are to any other orher organization or individual. Thank You.

LOG CABIN NIGHT

When the North wind wails,
On deserted trails,
And the day departs in a somber light,
I'm glad for a briar,
And a birch log fire,
And the sounds that sift through an Autumn night.

Far from the blues,
Let me smoke and muse,
And ponder awhile on some things I like;
Be it hungry howls
Where a panther prowls,
Or an owl's high hoot, from an old rampike.

DUYOUNG—MEUNIER

The Immaculate Conception Church was the scene of a pretty fall wedding of interest to relatives and friends on Saturday, November 10th., when with nuptial mass and the double ring ceremony, Rev. Fr. Doucett united in the holy bonds of matrimony, Marg Juliette Meunier, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Meunier, West Arichat and Elgin Duyoung of Martinique, Cape Breton.

To the strains of the wedding march, the bride who was given away by her father, looked lovely in her waltz length gown of white nylon net over satin, The close fitting bodice was styled with a sweetheart neckline and long sleeves which tapered to lily points at the wrists. Her chapel length veil of tulle illusion was held by a crown of sequins and pearls. She carried a bouquet of white carnations and red rosebuds with satin streamers.

Mrs. Malcolm Duyoung was matron of honor while Miss Pauline Duyoung and Miss Margaret Melanson attended as bridesmaids. Mrs. Duyoung wore a yellow dress of nylon net over taffeta, shoulder length veil held in place by a crown of roses and she carried white and yellow daisies. Miss Pauline Duyoung wore a dress of light green nylon net over taffeta. Her shoulder length veil was held in place by a flower headdress. She carried a bouquet of green gladioli. Miss Melanson wore a dress of pink nylon net over taffeta. Her headdress consisted of blue roses with a shoulder length veil. She carried a nose gay of blue and pink roses.

The groom was atteded by Andrew Meunier as best man. The ushers were Leon Meunier and Murdock Duyoung. Following the ceremony a wedding breakfast and reception was held at the groom's home to immediate relatives and friends. Afterwards the happy couple motored to Sydney, later returning to the home of the bride where supper was served to a large number of invited guests. The bride's table was centered by a three-tiered wedding cake and cut in the traditional manner by the bride and groom. A toast to the bride was proposed by Rev. Father Doucett and responded to by the groom. Telegrams of best wishes were received and many useful and beautiful gifts.

Out of town guests, were Mrs. Joe, Pearl and Violet Malcolm of Port Malcolm, and Mr. and Mrs. Billie Melanson of Rockingham.

They will reside in Halifax.

WILLIAM C. SHAW LAID TO REST AT LOCH LOMOND

The largely attended funeral of the late William C. Shaw was held on November 17th. Following a short service at the home, the lengthy cortege proceeded to the Loch Lomond Calvin Presbyterian Church where services were conducted by Rev. Neil J. MacLean.

The following hymns were sung:—"The Lord Is My Shepherd", "Safe in the Arms of Jesus"; Rev. N. J. MacLean rendered beautifully a solo "The Home Over There" and Kennie A. Morrison in gaelic "In the Sweet By and By".

Funeral arangements were under the direction of R. H. Fillmore, Sydney. Interment was in Loch Lomond Pioneer Cemetery with gaveside services conducted by Rev. N. J. MacLean.

Pallbearers were: John MacDonald, John MacKeigan Angus MacVicar, Malcolm MacIntyre, Allan MacLeod and Donald MacLeod.

(We extend our sympathy to the bereaved family in their great loss. Willie Charlie as he was known by his many friends, will be greatly missed in the district of Loch Lomond where he spent the greater part of his lifetime. He had been in poor health for the past few years, having suffered a stroke. Of a friendly and jovial disposition he enjoyed company and was always ready to relate a bit of history connected with his noble highland race and kept alive the pioneer spirit of his ancestors.

We shall always cherish the memory of our late lamented friend.—Editor) ling of the dwindling farm population. Farms are getting bigger. Fewer farmers are producing more food. We may regret the loss of farm population, but we must admire the productivity of those who remain on the land. They offer an example that city folks ought to try to emulate.

KILLED IN PLANE CRASH

Vincent MacLellan, who was killed in a crash of his own plane of which he was the pilot, in Toronto, was well-known both here and West Arichat at the latter place he resided with Rev. Father Briand, some years ago when Father Briand was parish priest there.

Vince was a native of Grand Mira and had only recently made a flight to his old home.

We extend sincere sympathy to his family.

SCOTTISH CONCERT

We had the pleasure of attending a Scottish Concert at West Bay Road recently when we accompanied our good friend, Vince Power, of Boston, who was down here on a brief visit.

We enjoyed the Concert very much and was impressed with the Bilson dancers of Port Hawkesbury and others who took part in the well prepared program.

IN HOSPITAL

Our good friend and neighbor, Samuel Vigneau, who was a patient at St. Ann's Hospital for a few days, has returned home much improved in health. Mr. Vigneau and Mrs. Vigneau now reside with their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Leo Marchand.

Sam during his youth was much in demand as a singer and many will recall his stage appearance in the County Hall here and later at the Strand Theatre and the Orpheus Theatre in Halifax.

Sam was employed for some time by the Halifax Tramways as a conductor and motorman during the days of the tramcars in that city.

Mr. Vigneau was a fish buyer for over 25 years and retired from this business in 1946 at which time he was employed by the Department of Highways as a checker in the construction of highways from Grand Anse to Isle Madame.

We wish Sam a speedy and complete recovery.

C. W. L. MEET

ment during the forty hours devotions. A letter from our Bishop in Rome was read, then Father MacDonald asked all members to send their children to daily Mass as often as possible, also stated that men from the parish would be chosen to go around the homes to encourage the continuation of the Family Rosary daily.

He also asked the press convener to write the Film Board regarding the type of programs on T. V. It was felt that some of the pograms were not in keeping with our Christain way of life.

Mrs. Clarence Landry volunteered to give the names of the Bingo committee for the month.

A commttee of four volunteered from the floor to take charge of special entertainments to be held for all members on the 25th. It was then decided that the travelling basket would start travelling around the parish again very shortly.

With no further business to come before the meeting it was adjourned on motion of Mrs. Vander Samson.

The act of Consecration to the Blessed Virgin Mary was then recited by Rev. J. J. MacDonald in unison with the members.

PRESS CONVENOR

C. W. L. HOLD CONFERENCE AT PETIT DE GRAT

A Reginoal Conference of the C. W. L., was held in St. Joseph's Parish Hall, Petit de Grat on November 14. The meeting was called to order by Mrs. Hugh Gillis, Diocesan President; Father George MacLean, Diocesan Director, recited the League prayers. A short address of welcome was read by Mrs. Anita Fougere. Fr. J. J. MacDonald, P. P., of this Council also welcomed the guests and introduced to the members Monsignor A. Boudreau of St. Hyacinth's parish, D'Escousse. Monsignor MacLean of Johnstown and Father Arsenault, curate at Guardian Angel Parish, L'Ardoise. Also present were Rev. Sisters of the neighbouring parishes.

The Theme of the Conference was "The success of the 2nd Vatican Council" and "The renewal of the Christian Life".

Mrs. Hugh Gillis, President gave a report of the Provincial Convention held in Kentville and Halifax recently, recalling the late Monsignor Burns last message in Kentville which in part, is: Each and everyone of us, in the League have a necessary role to accomplish, that has been given us by Almighty God. He encouraged those who did small things, to do them well for the love of God. The president also commended on the Social Life Conference held in Antigonish. She stressed the need of C. W. L. members working together for the common good of all. It is the hope that all women in the world will become active members of the C. W. L. She remarked that if every member would get one new member the C. W. L. membership would be about three hundred thousand.

The President reminded the Conveners when sending their report forms to be sure and send them all whether used or not.

Mrs. Ann Goodwin corresponding Secretary gave her report on "Child Welfare". After which Fr. MacLean spoke on the 2nd Vatican Council now taking place in Rome. He explained why and how essential it was to have such a Council; it is hoped that it will bring about an increase in faith; a renewal of Christian morality and an adjustment to present day living. The Catholic Bishops over the world and some non Catholic as well are attending the Council. The Pope, as the head of the church knows the great need for adjustment; some of the church laws may be changed, some have already been changed. There are many problems to be solved, so let us pray for the Holy Father—Pope John XXIII, that the Holy Ghost inspirt him and help him make wise decisions. The members were then divided into 4 groups of workshops. Group (1) was led by Marie Boyd, topic was: How is the Laity involved in the second Vatican Council? Group (2) led by Mrs. L. Gracie: How is the entire life of the church marked by the cooperation of all in the acts of the few? Group (3) led by Sister Marie Rose: The laity and the life of the church: Group (4) The Roll of the parish, led by Sister L. M.

After a successful discussion the Pesident asked the guests to address the meeting. Monsignor A. Boudreau then spoke on the need of lay apostles. Lay teachers going from one parish to another may have more effect on people falling away from the church than the priest himself.

Monsignor MacLean told the gathering it was his loss that he had not attended many conventions, but felt sure that gatherings such as these were of more value to take part in. Father Arsenault stated he was happy to have been able to take part in this Conference. He spoke briefly on the Sacrifice of the Mass. The Mass is the principle means of worshipping God, therefore we should assist with great devotion.

Father J. J. MacDonald urged the people to pray for the success of the Council and be prepared to accept any changes that will be made and have respect for authority. Father G. MacLean complimented the members for their good attendance and good reports. He concluded by thanking the ladies of the parish for the warm reception given him and the visitors also for the nice refreshments rerved.

The meeting adjourned with the recitation of the League prayers and prayers to the Holy Father by Rev. George MacLean.
