CN FERRY SERVICES HANDLE MORE TRAFFIC

Record traffic trends during the summer tourist season have carried into September on Canadian National's ferry services operated between Yarmouth, N. S. and Bar Harbor, Me. and between Borden, P. E. I. and Cape Tormentine, N. B.

Efforts to extend Nova Scotia's tourist season appear to be meeting with success. Traffic carried into the province by CN's Bluenose during September was higher than for the same month last year.

The ferry carried 6,378 passengers and 2,208 cars into Nova Scotia last month, increase of 1,078 and 391 respectively over September 1964, said J.G. Davis, manager of CN's Maritime area.

There were 7,982 passengers and 2,584 cars carried from Nova Scotia to Maine in the Yarmouth to Bar Harbor run last month, increases of 1,011 and 327 respectively over the comparable month last year.

Total traffic handled in the Bay of Fundy service amounted to 14,360 passengers and 4,792 automobiles. The figures represent business increases of 2,089 passengers and 718 cars over traffic totals for September 1964.

The 1965 tourist season for Nova Scotia was bolstered by the average 18,000 people a month carried into the province by the Bluenose during July and August.

Prince Edward Island also enjoyed a late season boost in tourists. Last month's traffic across the Northumberland Strait has shown increases over the number of passengers and vehicles handled in September 1964.

The ferry service carried 66,341 passengers and 26,664 vehicles to and from Prince Edward Island last month. The totals represent increases of 4,095 and 1,717 passengers and vehicles respectively.

Rail passengers, including those travelling by CN's charter bus service, increased by 573. The Abegweit, the Prince Edward Island, and the Confederation made a total of 845 crossings during the month.

The Canada Pension Plan and its benefits

Here is what the Canada Pension Plan will do for people like Robert Martin, a 55-year-old skilled tradesman who earns $100 a week ($5,200 a year).

If Robert works full time until age 65 he can look forward to a monthly retirement income of $104.17 from the Canada Pension Plan and $75 from Old Age Security—a total of $179.17 a month. When his wife, who is two years younger than Robert, receives her Old Age Security pension, the Martins' monthly income will rise to $254.17.

If Robert becomes disabled at age 60, having contributed for five years, he will get a disability pension of $103.13 a month until he reaches 65 when his retirement and Old Age Security pensions begin.

If Robert dies after contributing for three years, his wife will receive a widow's pension of $64.06 a month until age 65. From then on her widow's pension will become $62.50 and she will also receive the $75 Old Age Security pension—a total of $137.50 a month. At the time of Robert's death, Mrs. Martin will also be paid a lump sum of $500.

All benefits under the Plan will maintain their value. The actual benefits payable will probably be higher than those given here since benefits will be adjusted to meet changes in living costs and in wage levels before they are paid and changes in living costs after they become payable.

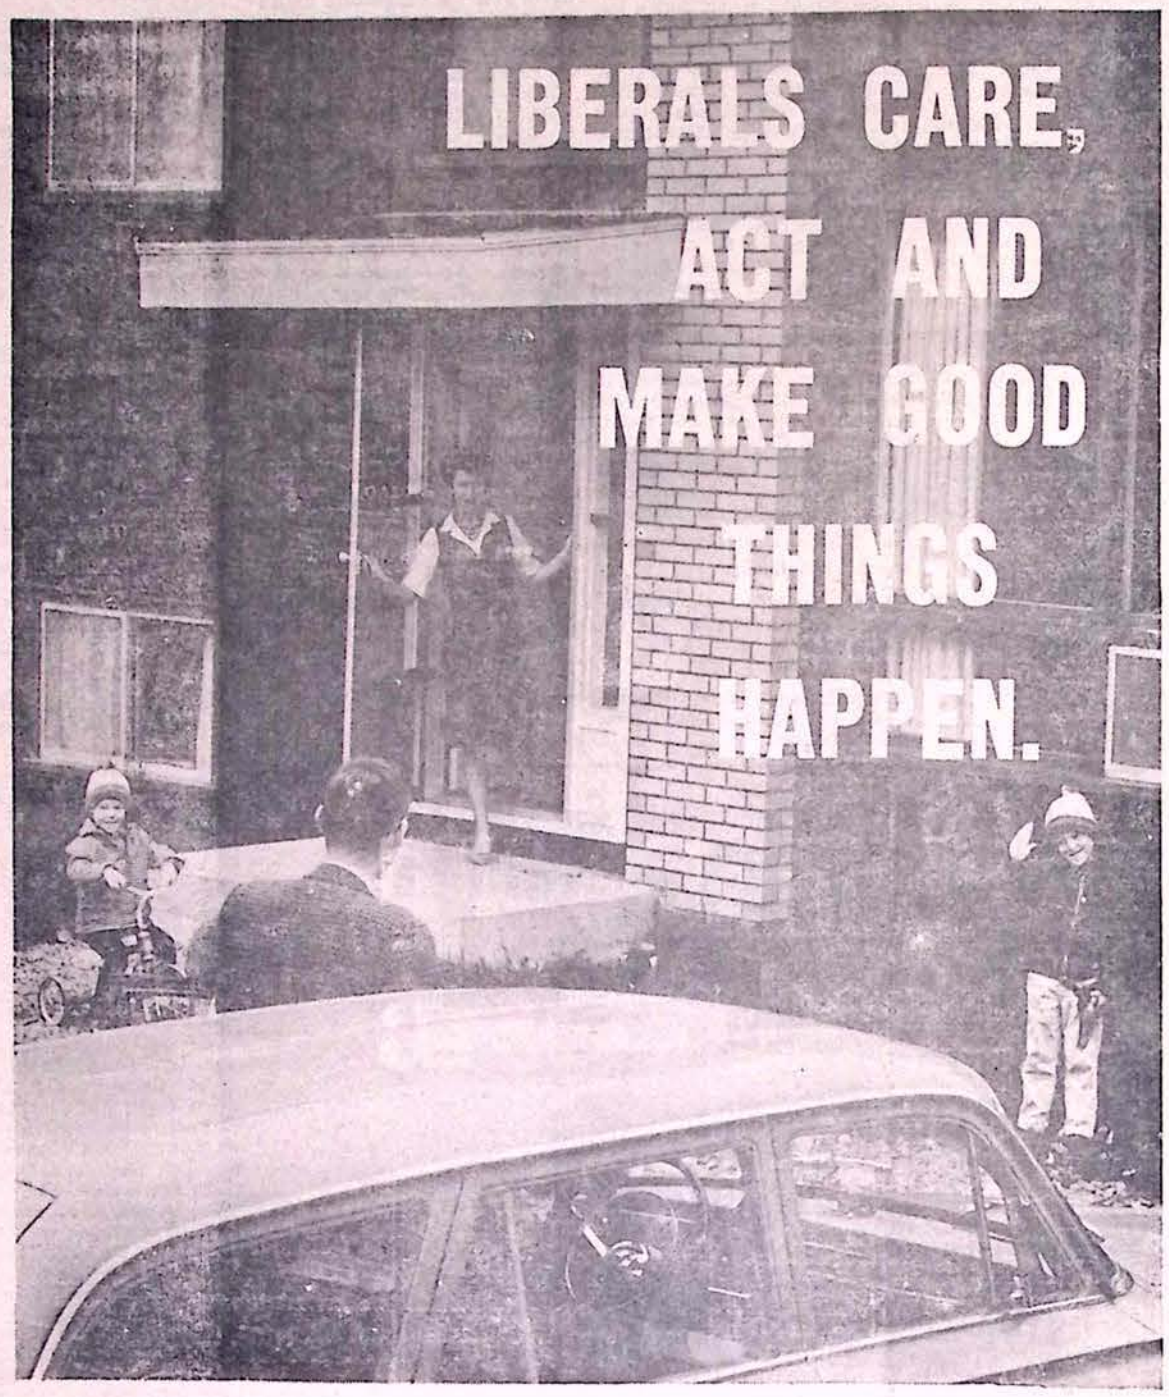

What will the Plan cost you?

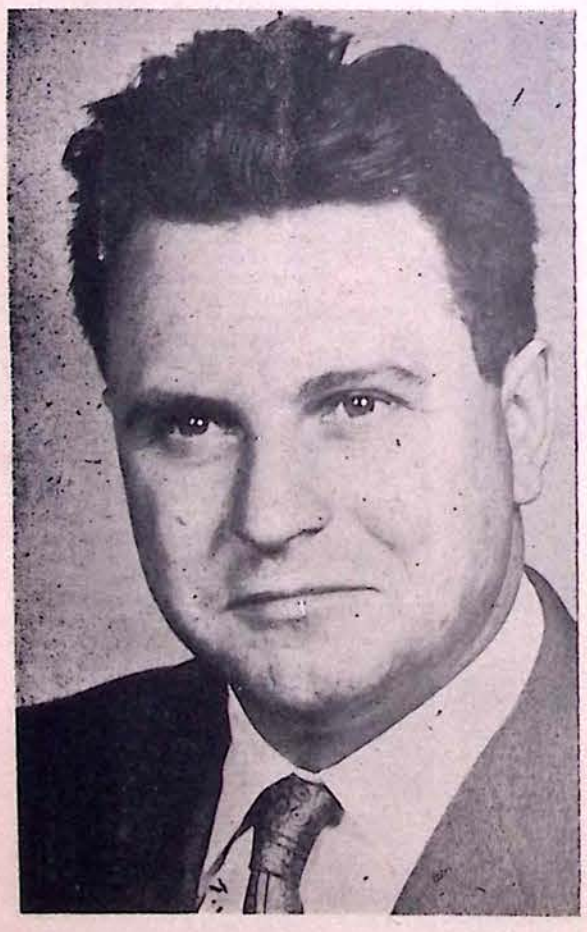

If you, like Robert, are employed and have earnings of $5,200 spread evenly over the year, you will, commencing in January, pay at the rate of $1.59 a week until your contributions for the year amount to $79.20. Your employer will pay the same amount.

This advertisement is one of a series which relates some of the important benefits of the Canada Pension Plan to individual circumstances.

Issued by authority of the Minister of National Health and Welfare, Canada,
The Honourable Judy LaMarsh.

YOUR RED CROSS SERVES YOU AND SERVES FOR YOU

Good things are happening in Nova Scotia . . . from coast to coast in Canada.

The Liberal Party has given real meaning to the word prosperity in Nova Scotia. Income taxes have been reduced. Income from wages has never been higher. There are more people holding down more good jobs, earning more money than at any time in Nova Scotia's history.

- Over $250,000.00 was provided to Nova Scotians during 1965 under the winter housing building incentive programme.
- It is estimated that — this year, Canada's gross national product has passed the 50 billion dollar mark for the first time in it's history.

ALL THIS BECAUSE OF A LIBERAL GOVERNENT IN CANADA.

GOOD THINGS ARE HAPPENING! The country is moving again. Canada needs a Liberal majority to keep it moving. A Liberal vote is a vote for more prosperity.
