SUGAR AND SPICE by Bill Smiley

IN DUTCH WITH DAUGHTER

My daughter is furious with me. Again. She's at that age, 14, when daughters have very little difficulty in becoming enraged with their fathers. This occurs, of course, only on days when they're not sore as a boil at their mothers.

She has good reasons, of course. She claims I'm crabby in the morning and grouchy at night. This is because I'm always hollering up the stairs to tell her to get a move on, in the morning, and hollering up the stairs telling her to get her light off, at night.

She calls me an old crock when I refuse to play badminton with her, because of my bursitis. And when I do play, and beat the can off her, she is like all women. She accuses me of cheating, or playing like a big bully.

She goes livid with rage when I try to help her through some situation I know will be tough. "What do you think I am, Dad, a child?" But she grows purple with passion when I remind her that she's not an infant and can just keep on looking for her lost gym suit and I don't care if her P.T. teacher does kill her and she can play basketball in her underwear, for all I care.

She boils with bellicosity when she wants help with her homework and I remind her that she thinks I'm stupid and she'd better do it herself.

When I play the heavy father, moralistic and conventional, she calls me, in disgust, an "old poke." When I get gay and kick up my heals and become the life of the party, she is miffed and makes cracks about my lack of dignity.

In fact, about the only time we seem to be on our old basis of true buddies is when she's trying to wheedle some money. Then her true sweetness and my innate generosity shine through and we get along beautifully. Until I remind her that she's to be in at 11p.m., even if it is Friday night.

Oh, well, that's about standard, these days, for a healthy father - daughter relationship. But this week she went off like a skyrocket.

I decided to use a portrait of Kim in my English teaching. It was painted, and extremely well done, by Jean Hay, whose daughter Princess and Kim were bosom pals then, about age nine.

I took the painting to school, held it up for three minutes for the class, then told the students to describe the impression it made on them Results were interesting.

Quote: "He wasn't very old, perhaps about ten, but the eyes were those of an old tired man. An overworked man."

Quote: "I think that this child is a bedraggled orphan, wishing for parents to love and care for him."

Quote "Tears of pity and forlorness could almost be seen dripping down the boy's rusty cheeks."

Quote "It is a picture that leaves the viewer with a feeling of deep concern."

Quote: "His large, sad eyes, which dominated his thin, dirty little face, told his story better than a thousand words."

Quote: "His ears drooped like a dog's when he knows he has done something wrong and will be punished."

Quote: "I got the impression that he was very sad and lonely, perhaps an orphan who had gone without food for some time."

Just a sample. Titles were such as: The Boy; The Lost Orphan. One imaginative lad called it The Last Jew and suggested the child was waiting to go off to the gas ovens.

What young lady of 14, who is dabbling with lipstick, wears a brassiere, and has been out on a date, wants her name bandied about the school as: an old, tired man; an orphan; a sad dog; a dirty face; a rusty cheeks. And worst of all, a boy. Ninty percent of them thought she was a boy.

Maybe she had some excuse, after all, for coming home from school, those brown eyes like boiling chocolate, with, "DAD! I could murder you!"

ST. PETER'S AREA UNIT CANADIAN CANCER SOCIETY HOLDS ANNUAL MEETING

An encouraging decrease in certain types of cancer, especially of the stomach, was reported by Miss Elizabeth Hartling, Executive Director of Nova Scotia Division of the Canadian Cancer Society at the annual meeting of the St. Peter's Area Unit, held in the St. Peter's School Auditorium. Miss Hartling congratulated the Unit on their year's work. She further reported that the Nova Scotia Division had been successful in passing the designated quota of $135,000.

In the absence of the president, Mr. A. O. MacLean, the meeting was chaired by the vice-president Mrs. A. Catherine MacRae, who read the president's report, which gave a summary of the year's work and extended thanks to all those who had assisted in the work of the Cancer Society in the area. Following the report, the meeting nominated Mr. MacLean for the position of Provincial Director, a post which he had perviously held.

The Educational Convener, Miss Jean V. MacCuish, reported that activities for the year had been confined to the schools, including the Cancer Society Essay Contest, to which 93 essays had been submitted. She said that first prize for the St. Peters School had been presented to Miss MacInnis by Miss Margaret Madden; to Miss Mombourquette, of L'Ardoise, by Mr. MacLean; and to Mr. MacKinnon, of Johnstown, by herself. She also reported distribution of bookmarks and calendars.

The transportation report was given by the vice-president, in the absence of Mrs. Jack Adams, Transportation Convenor, showing that 33 patients had been assisted in transportation to the Tumour Clinic in Halifax.

Welfare Convenor, Mrs. A. MacDonald, reported that 180 dressings were on hand and that demands for supplies had been very light during 1965.

Mr. R. J. O'Leary, Campaign Chairman, reported that the quota of $600.00 had been oversubscribed, by $14.77. He gave special thanks to Mrs. Carroll, L'Ardoise; Mrs. M. Burke, French Cove and Mrs. T. Baccardax, River Bourgeois and said that there were approximately 65 workers involved. He regretted the departure of his co-chairman, Rev. Glen M. Mattinson, who has moved to Rosedale congregation in Toronto.

Treasurer, Miss Lois MacDonald, reported a balance of $152.20.

Miss Margaret Madden submitted the following slate of officers for 1966, as suggested by the Nominating Committee; President, A. O. MacLean; vice-president, Mrs. A. Katherine MacRae; secretary, Mrs. G. Campbell; treasurer, Mrs. Lois MacDonald; educational Convenor, Miss Jean V. MacCuish; transportation convenor; Mrs. Jack Adams, welfare, Mrs. A. MacDonald; campaign chairman, Mr. R. J. O'Leary; co-chairman for campaign, Rev. Neil MacLean; extension and development, Miss Margaret Madden; area directors, Rev. Gerald Rogers, L'Ardoise and Rev. ST. JOSEPH'S CREDIT UNION

Mr. Editor in reporting the St. Joseph's Credit Union News for the past month we find that the 13th Newsletter has announced the Annual Meeting in a big way and this Meeting is really the members business and we are sure that our efficient manager, Carl, is always happy to talk over the problems of members and welcomes new members to the ever growing numbers to St. Joseph's Credit Union.

In January of this year shares have increased by $3,157.33 and the total assets of your Credit Union in this community now stands at $287,187.50! A whopping success we would say is the right phrase and may we add our congratulations to the manager, staff and to all our thrifty members.

Thersa MacNeil of the Extension Office in Sydney was in attendance at the Annual Meeting and was also the guest speaker.

In closing we can tell you that things are going good at St. Joseph's and we will have more to report next month.

CLAIMS FOR MEDICAL EXPENSES ON INCOME TAX RETURN

(Press Release)

SYDNEY, N. S.—February 1966. There is no ceiling on claims for medical expenses on your income tax return, T. J. Evans, District Taxation Director, reminded Cape Breton taxpayers.

Since 1961 taxpayers have been able to claim the total of such expenses that exceed three percent of net income, These expenses of course must be backed up by medical receipts.

Furthermore, where a husband and wife are both earning taxable income, the medical expenses of both may be pooled and claimed by either of them, leaving the other free to claim the standard $100 deduction without receipts.

PRINTER'S INK CINDERELLA

During recent weeks there have been several newspapers added to the distribution of this column. It is a challenge for me when I compare the total number of readers of these home-town papers, and my assignment to portray and inform residents about this Canada of ours from Newfoundland to Vancouver Island.

One of the editors of the newly added newspapers suggested during a conversation about my job and past experience that readers would be interested in what went before "Diary of a Vagabond."

When the column was launched in 1959, a capsule autobiography was in the first release. It contained most of these facts. I was born to two decidedly gifted parents. My father noted as one of the first successful political cartoonists in the United States. He was "Doc" Bowmon of the Minneapolis Tribune, whom I never knew because he died while I was still in diapers. During my childhood my mother was one of the first presidents of a world - wide organization, called The International Dry Farming Congress. At that time she was also editor of the magazine, Country Life in Canada. Later she was woman's editor of the Calgary Herald. She was a gifted artist, craftswoman, sculptress as well as writer and newspaper woman.

I grew up to be a contented housewife. Completely without talents such as my parents possessed, I coasted as mother and wife for eighteen years. My only outstanding ability seemed to be that I could make what my husband called superb Yorkshire pudding and lemon pie.

The last war knocked the props right out from under me. Suddenly I was not only mother, laundress, housekeeper and wife, but father and bread-winner as well. Skipping lightly over these war years when I held positions in a munition plant and a two year stint with the YWCA's Special Services posted to an airport and a WREN's barracks, the armistice literally forced me into a career.

FOOLS RUSH IN ....

When I was at the end of my material resources, I submitted an article to a Toronto daily newspaper. This was printed and I found myself accepting, with more nerve than good sense, the suggestion of a desperate and harrased suburban editor that I become a "stringer" (area reporter) I was told this entailed covering Council, Home and School meetings, church functions, etc. Competition with the two other daily papers soon forced me into ambulance chasing and court reporting. I became involved (in the capacity of a reporter) in fires, drownings and domestic squabbles which made good headlines.

When the opportunity presented itself for me to invest in our own home-town paper I thought my career had hit the heights. I was NEWS EDITOR with a desk and typewriter all my own!

This ardous and exciting job lasted six years. Then, through circumstances over which I had no control, I was made managing editor. With my investment and that of other shareholders likely to be doubled, the paper was sold and I found myself footloose. That was when this Diary was conceived.

There have been more than four hundred editions. I have travelled by rail all over Canada in search of copy material and have met fascinating and interesting people in all walks of life from executives of prosperous industries to miners, fishermen and housewives with artistic and creative ability. I have tried, and will continue to do so, to capture the excitement of Canada on paper and to give you, my readers, a word picture of this wonderful nation.

LICENSE YOUR VEHICLE BEFORE MARCH 31, 1966

There are very few working days left to March 31, expiry date for the province's 185,000 passenger vehicle licenses.

Hon. Stephen Pyke, Minister of Highways, urges all operators and owners of passenger vehicles to mail the detachable renewal portion of their motor vehicle permit, and payment for their 1966 plates to the Registry of Motor Vehicles, P. O. Box 186, Halifax.

"By mailing in the renewal slip and the appropriate sum within the next two weeks, motorists can avoid the inconvenience and frustration of the rush period as the expiry date approaches."

It is estimated that 135,000 passenger vehicles should be registered by March, 31. To date 25,500 have obtained their new plates.

Mr. Pyke noted that motorists should also check their operators licenses which expire at the end of the month in which their birthday falls.

Saint John— The largest telegram ever handled by the Can. National Telecommunications office in Saint John, a whopping message 228 feet long, was delivered to Prime Minister Lester B. Pearson in Ottawa.

Organized by Radio Station CF BC, the 11,144 word telegram protested the sending of the aircraft carrier Bonaventure to a Quebec shipyard for a major refit.

The message took more than 6 hours to transmit and contained a total of5,533 signatures.

R. J. Whittaker, CNT manager at Saint John, said the whopping telegram was sent without interferring with regular service. "We were warned about it in advance, and had extra staff on hand to deal with it," he said.

Salute to Nova Scotia

(The following Editorial appearing in the "Citizen News" of Los Angeles, California, on January 27, 1966 when Hon. W.S.K. Jones, minister of trade and industry and Hon. G. I. Smith, minister of finance and economics for the province of Nova Scotia, were on an official visit to that city and the comment appearing in this editorial speaks well of the Stanfield Government and the future of Nova Scotia, from an Industrial and economic viewpoint, taken by this newspaper, under whose masthead appears the following motto: "The Voice of the Golden Westside."—Editor.)

(From the Citizen-News)

"NOVA SCOTIA rates a salute for a number of things, but one of the best is a firm belief in balancing the budget. The citizens of this Canadian province believe that government, like any efficient business, must live within its means.

Attention was called to this maritime province by the presence in Los Angeles of W.S.K. Jones, minister of trade and industry, and G. I. Smith, minister of finance and economincs for the province.

OUR CHAMBERS of commerce had better watch them—they are here to lure local industries to establish branches in Nova Scotia. Several American companies have already done so and investors from India and Japan are reported setting up shop there.

Factory shipments and capital spending in Nova Scotia in 1965 increased faster than in any Canadian province, Jones said.

One reason, he thinks, is the "craftsmanlike" approach of the workers to their jobs.

ANOTHER REASON for growth— and an inducement to local industries to establish branches—is the incentives given to new industries, including the construction of facilities on a long term lease-back basis.

"One reason why we are succeeding is that we believe that the government role can be overplayed." Jones said. "In dealing with us therefore you will not find yourself wrapped up in bureaucratic red tape."

The government of Nova Scotia will "provide assistance and leadership where and when it is indicated that we should, but never at the expense of private enterprise," Smith said.

"WE CONSIDER that government must operate as would an efficient business. We believe that the current budget must balance. We believe that we must live within our means. We do not have annual deficits to be financed by borrowing."

Part of the Nova Scotia program is described as Voluntary Economic Planning with "groups representing almost every walk of life meeting to study our economy, outline obstacles to growth, and set targets for the future.

"MANAGEMENT, LABOR and government are working together to achieve common aims for the benefit of this generation and those that will follow."

Like California, tourism is important and gaining. Last year more than 900,000 tourists vacationed in this province—much more than its population of 750,000.

We wish that California—and our country—could be operated with Nova Scotia's businesslike eficiency."

Proceedings of Municipal Council

The second Annual Meeting of the 33rd Council was called to order by Warden Langley at 10:00 a.m. The Clerk called the roll of the Councillors. All Councillors present except Councillor Holmes.

Warden Langley asked Very Rev. A. P. Poirier to say the prayer for opening of Council.

The Warden stated that this has been the best year for Tax Collections in the entire history of this County. He feels that everybody has done a good year's work and that the County has had a very good year on the whole.

The Warden asked the Council to try and finish Council in five days.

Warden Langley stated that we were very fortunate to have the Hon. Allan J. MacEachen, Minister of National Health and Welfare, to address this Council. He welcomed Mr. MacEachen to Council.

Mr. MacEachen expressed how pleased he was to be able to be here for the opening of this Council and wished the Councillors a very successful Council session. He stated that he was leaving for Ottawa; that he had to be there for the opening of Parliament at 2:30 p.m. Mr. MacEachen mentioned that the Federal Government had extended the date for Hospital Construction Grants to 1970. He also stated work is being done re-the establishment of T.V. for the French speaking people of Cape Breton Island. He said that he was pleased to see the Industrial Board become more active. He also mentioned that there are outright grants available, in certain areas, by the Federal Government for the establishment of Industry. He mentioned the benefits available through the Atlantic Development Board and the Federal Department of Public Works.

Cuncillor LeBlanc asked Mr. MacEachen how much money will be available from the Federal Government for the construction of Hospitals from 1968 to 1970. Mr. MacEachen stated that there would be approximately $20,000,000.00—one to two million for Nova Scotia. Councillor LeBlanc also questioned Mr. MacEachen about a Nursing Home for this County. Mr. MacEachen stated that he had nothing on that at the present, but that he would have something at a later date.

Deputy Warden LeBrun asked Mr. MacEachen if there is to be a Federal Building constructed in Arichat. Mr. MacEachen said that he was going to request that this project be included in the Estimates for the following year.

Moved by Councillor Benoit and seconded by Deputy Warden LeBrun that the Federal Department of Public Works construct the Arichat Federal Building in the year 1966 Motion carried.

Deputy Warden LeBrun felt that it's about time Arichat gets a new Post Office. Warden Langley stated that Point Tupper should have a new Post Office and that Mr. MacEachen should try to get a new Post Office for this area.

At this time Deputy Warden LeBrun took the Chair so that Warden Langley couud make the following motion: Moved by Warden Langley and seconded by Councillor Doiron that the Department of Public Works be urged to erect a suitable Post Office in Point Tupper in 1966. Motion carried.

Councillor Mancini asked Mr. MacEachen when St. Peter's was going to get a new wharf. Mr. MacEachen stated that the Department of Public Works has reached a decision to construct a wharf at St. Peter's.

Councillor R. Boudreau said that he visited a home in his district in which there was a child, mentally and physically ill. He stated that the income of this family was not very much and that the drugs for this child were very expensive. He wanted to know why there was no type of Assistance for these children. Mr. MacEachen stated that the Federal Government is considering cases of this kind under the Canada Assistance Act.

The Warden thanked the Hon. Allan J. MacEachen for coming.

The Warden said that he was sorry that Mr. Vickery, Municipal Clerk and Treasurer, has accepted another position. He stated that he took it upon himself to call for applications for Municipal Clerk and Treasurer and that applications are to close on February 9, 1966. He said that he felt it unnecessary to call a special Council meeting to discuss the resignation of the Clerk and to call for applications, since Council was meeting in the near future, anyway. He asked if any Councillor was dissatisfied with his action re this matter. All Councillors felt that he had done the right thing. The Warden stated that he regrets to see Mr. Vickery go and that he considers that the two years Mr. Vickery has been in the County have been the best years for this County. He wished Mr. Vickery every success in his new job.

The Warden next read a letter from the Royal Canadian Legion, inviting all Councillors to avail themselves of the facilities of the Lounge at the Legion Hall in Petit de Grat. For their convenience the Legion will remain open during the noon hour.

The Warden suggested that Council should try to follow the tentative agenda.

Moved by Councillor Gerrior and seconded by Councillor Fougere that the tentative agenda be accepted. Motion carried.

SACRAMENT OF BAPTISM MADE MORE MEANINGFUL

On Sunday, February 20, at the general meeting of the Parish Y. C. S. George Boudreau and his team realistically and dramatically portrayed for the benefit of all the ceremonies surrounding the Sacrament of Baptism.

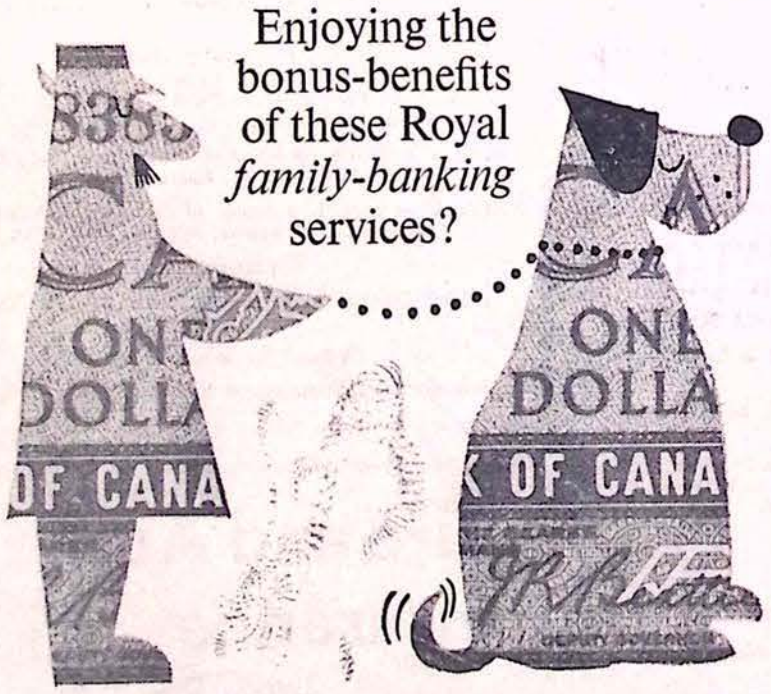

The role of the priest was filled by Gerry Samson, a grade 11 student, while the Godparents were Donald Landry and Anne Marchand. Gerry executed the baptismal ritual with dignity and through the use of the vernacular (French in this case) he helped the students to aquire a deeper appreciation and insight into the solemn prayers associated with the sacraments.

The Chaplan of the parish Y. C. S., the Rev. J. J. MacDonald, acted as commentator throughout the ceremony.

Toward the end, with the completion of the ceremonies, George Boudreau, who headed up the committee, opened up a discussion period on Baptism. During the course of this, many interesting points were brought out amongst which was the consideration that preference should be given for Christan names for new born infants.

During the business part of the meeting which was chaired by Roy Boudreau, plans for the coming week-end were announced; these included a hockey game and a skating party slated for M. Jim Boucher's rink at River Bourgeois on Saturday evening. Roy reported that three of the boys from the club had recently made a trip to Christ the King parish in Trenton to sound out the feasibility of setting up Y. C. S. Club rooms similar to those that are now efficiently functioning in that town. He further reported that the boys who went to Trenton were warmly received by the Y. C. S.'ers and that they spent a worthwhile evening.
