HOW THE DAYS GO

"It's not the cough wot carries you off. It's the coffin they carry you off in."

That old English folk saying pretty wells sums up my attitude toward life this week. It isn't the work that's killing me; it's the after-hours stuff, in a typical week.

Last Monday after work, I wrote my column, then spent five hours studying an essay by C. S. Lewis, concisely called "Right and Wrong as a Clue to the Meaning of the Universe." Try selling that one to a girl whose chief worry is her hair-do, or to a boy who can hardly wait for the last bell to ring, so that he can streak for the pool-room.

Tuesday night I went curling. First time this year. Next morning, I felt 112 years old when I crawled out of the sack. My muscles worked only in fits and starts.

Wednesday afternoon, rushed to matinee to see movie of Macbeth. Sat with doe-eyed female English teacher. Later told my daughter I'd held hands with her throughout the show. Dauhgter furious. Wednesday night, a two-hour meeting of our staff's General Futility Committee.

Thursday afternoon, a two-hour drive to the city, through a swirling snow-storm with Kim, her last (halleluiah!) visit to the orthodontist. Five years and 700 dollars after it all began the kid has straight teeth.

Two more hours home, the transport trucks giving us a mud-bath about every two miles. But we had a jolly conversation, in the cozy car, in the black night, in the white wilderness. Talked four-letter words, their origin and their fascination. We agree they were ugly but powerful. Not the dirty ones. They reveal merely a limited vocabulary. But such epithets as slop, drab, slib, clot, punk, jerk, fink, have a certain horrible charm.

Friday night is relax night, the week over. I curled up again, and later got into a session, one of those "Kids don't know how lucky they are today" sessions with some other creaky relics of the Depression. I also got hell when I got home. But not to worry. Tomorrow I could sleep in.

Tomorrow arrived, about 30 winks later, and the Old Girl, still a bit owly, informed that she wasn't up to driving the kid to the city for music lesson. I was thrust into the snow and ice. She slept in.

Hugh was to come home with us, for a week-end's skiing. He didn't shiw up at the rendezvous We went to his men's residence. Nobody had seen him since eight o'clock the night before. With some faint hope that he's either eloped or been kdnapped, Kim and I struck out for the long dreary drive home.

Momma is all rested up, and informs me that we're going out to spend the evening with some new friends. Groan. It was exhilarating but exhausting, four of us talking at once. Left at 3 a.m., clutching a delicious home-made coffee cake.

Sunday was church, curling in the afternoon and a special treat in the evening — dress rehearsal for an annual pargent in the church. I am in charge of rounding up sufficient bodies of the right size and shape.

Have you ever tried to deliver 25 reluctant teenage boys to a church on a Sunday evening, in this day and age? Don't.

St. Joseph had sprained his ankle, skiing, and couldn't make it. St. Peter had the flu. St. Andrew just didn't bother showing up. St. Thomas had to go out of town with the bantam hockey team. St. Paul thought the rehearsal was next week. The shepherds have lost their crooks. The three wise men are two dopey kids who want to get home and watch Bonanza. Judas is sore because he's just learned he's the villian in the piece.

And you grope off to work in the dark Monday morning And you have a rough day. And you come home and look at the mail; two whopping insurance premiums, a fuel bill that makes you want to run for the nearest travel agency, and a notice from the bank that your account is overdrawn.

Oh well, it's a great life if you don't die from sheer living.

ADOPTION CAMPAIGN FOR CATHOLIC CHILDREN FOUND 53 HOMES IN 1965

(We are happy to publish the following release by the Catholic Women's League, of Nova Scotia and congratulate this organization on their charitable work on behalf of these unfortunate children and we wish them continued success. —Editor.

"During the 1965 Catholic Adoption Year 53 Catholic children found adoptive and foster homes within the province, as well as an undetermined number of Protestant children, according to the report by Miss Audrey Devanney Provincial chairman of the Catholic League adoption campaign.

Weekly parish meetings were held throughout the province during the campaign.

Publicity through Television, Press and Radio media brought many calls and inquiries.

The program will continue with the co-operation of the various welfare agencies.

The Committee is encouraged by reports of gratification and benefits to adopted chlidren and their new parents, and hope for an increase in adoptions for there are still many children looking for parents who can provide them with the benefits of that sort of home which most of us have come. Couples who accept children in their new home can always rely on competent counselling in regard to any question that might arise as the child matures.

Arrangements for adoptions are much simpler than they used to be. Any couple who would consider giving a child a home is assured of prompt consideration by the Provincial Department of Welfare, Children's Aid Societies throughout the Province, Home of the Guardian Angel, Halifax, and Catholic Charities, Sydney, N. S.

The Committee in charge of the regional organization is Rev. Colin Campbell Director of Catholic Charities Miss Lillian Romkey, Consultant, Dept. of Public Welfare, Miss Audrey Devanney, Campaign Chairman, Mrs. J. Colin Dunn, Co-Convener, Miss Norberta Kelly, Provincial President, Mrs. Frank E. Martin, Television and Radio, Mrs. J. L. Douglas, Mrs. James F. Kelly, Miss Jean Covey, Miss Marie Sampson and Miss Delphine Stokes.

GENTLE GENIUS

I went out to interview a man called Heinrich Eichner and fell in love with his entire family. Probably because they are a family who do things together. Not only fun things, but Heinrich and Edith, with their five children work together as well.

They live in a little brown house in one of Edmonton's new suburbs. In the summer there are tall sunflowers leaning heavily against the house and a small garden in the front yard that gives one an instantaneous impression a tiny bit of Europe has been transplated to the prairie city.

Eichner now teaches an art course as a member of the extension facutly of the University of Alberta but at one time he took any job he could find to keep his family fed and a roof over their heads. For five years he was employed at small jobs or as an orderly in a hospital. He never lost faith in the future he could except in this new land though he did have periods of deep depression and discouragement.

Perhaps the greatest fortune is his wife. Warm and outgoing, it is evident from the moment one enters their studio home that she is not only mother, wife and artist, but his inspiration as well.

When I started out for their home I was merely bent on learning a little about the man who had created figures in stone of the Zodiac that pave the entrance to Edmonton's beautiful Planitarium. Before I left the Eichner family I had been literally transported into their world of dreams.

It was a whirlwind sort of an interview because I was in a constant state of trying to listen to the quiet philosophy of Heinrich, who looks like a reproduction of our image of Jesus Christ, the many praises of their friend and mentor, Jan Moytle, and the happy enthusiams of Edith, all in the broken accents of newly learned English. Interspersed with the conversation were trips to the kitchen to watch a blueberry dessert bubbling in the oven (baked in my honor), to enjoy the art work of all five children—especially the work of Barbara who has inherited her father's bold technique and her mother's sense of color and form—and a tour of the basement workshop where they all busy themselves creating.

It was when we reached the rock pile that my story began to jell. They looked like very ordinary rocks until Heinrich wet them. Then I saw the wonderful colors he has obtained in his Zodiac figures. It took months to collect these stones. As a family they hunted in the area farm yards and fields, beside stream and roadside, for the treasures Heinrich needed for his contracted masterpiece. They all worked at splitting and polishing the stones he chose from the pile.

I wanted to understand his deep rooted belief that all humans are born with artistic talent. "Many lose it when subjected to civilzation. There is a unity in composition and we give of our best if we can find our way back to childhood, for there is faith and innocence in most artistic expression", was one of his opinions.

TRAINED ARTISTS

This interesting couple met 15 years ago at the Muenster School of Handcraft and Art. Edith Eichner is an accomplished sculptress as well as a painter and she has written and illustrated a winsome story for children. She had modelled and reproduced in concrete "Christ on the Cross" which hangs in a Catholic retreat house, and "Christ the Teacher" in bronze commissioned by Assumption Academy. When she is angry with her husband she paints him in yellow, but most of the time in blues "because the spiritual light shines through."

When I asked Heinrich why his Planitarium mural was on the ground instead of on a wall he replied, "because people should know where they are walking. We seldom look down, that is why we stumble." More of his philosophy, but truly characteristic of his charm.

STANFIELD'S TO OPERATE A PLANT AT OXFORD

Stanfield's Limited of Truro, an internationally known producer of textiles, will set up a sewing operation at Oxford that will eventually employ more than 100.

The annuncement was made on February 25th by company President Frank H. Sobey of Industrial Estates Limtied.

Stanfield's will be leasing the former Oxford Desk Limited plant in a town which until a few years ago had gained national reputation for the production of woolen products. The building is owned by Industrial Estates Limited.

Mr. Stanfield said initial employment at the plant will be approximately 30 with this figure gradually rising to 100 or more.

Nearly all the employees will be women.

It is expected that the plant will be operational within the next few weeks.

The present plant, five years old, contains 11,000 square feet.

The Oxford plant is well suited for such an operation and requires only minor renovations.

Mr. Sobey said he was particularly pleased to see such a well known company expand its operations to Oxford.

"The new plant will certainly have a beneficial effect on the area's economy and also help the town regain its position as one of the top textile producers in Canada".

Mr. Sobey paid tribute to the Nova Scotia Department of Trade and Industry, through its Industrial Devesopment Ofice in Truro, in assisting in setting up the Oxford operatoin.

Stanfield's expansion comes at time when textile production is making gains in the province.

Proceedings of Municipal Council

First on the agenda was the Clerk's Report. Copies of the Report were passed out to all Councillors. The Clerk reported a Tax Collection percentage of 104.54%. This is an all-time high for this County.

The Warden asked the Clerk to explain the "Statement of Taxes Receivable" as at December 31, 1965.

The Warden thanked the Clerk for his report.

Moved by Councillor Fougere, seconded my Councillor Martell that the Clerk's Report be tabled for consideration at a future date. Motion Carried.

Next on the agenda was the Assessor's Report. Copies of this report were passed out to all Councillors. In his Report the Assessor gave a net gain in the 1966 Assessment of $119,185.00.

Moved by Deputy Warden LeBrun and seconded by Councillor MacAskill that the Report of the Assessor be open for discussion. Motion carried.

Councillor W. Boudreau asked the Assessor why there was an Assessment increase in some districts and a decrease in other districts. The Assessor said that increases were due largely to new construction in some districts and that decrease was due to double Assessments and properties being Vested.

Deputy Warden LeBrun wondered why the Exemption figure for District 2 was so high. The Assessor explained that this was because of the widows and deserted wives in this district and also because of fishing gear and farm machinery.

Councillor LeBlanc asked the Assessor if places of worship were included in his figures. The Assessor said they were not.

Councillor W. Boudreau wanted to know why there was such a great Assessment increase in District No. 16. The Assessor said that this was due to the construction of new homes in the last few years, in that area.

Councillor LeBlanc felt that the Vested Property matter should be discussed later during the week of Council.

Moved by Deputy Warden LeBrun, seconded by Councillor Mancini that the Assessor's Report be accepted. Motion carried.

Next on the agenda was the Assistant Tax Collector's Report. Copies were passed out to all Councillors. In his Report the Assistant Tax Collector stated that in the past year there has been a decrease of $10,000.00 in outstanding Taxes. He said that although the amount of outstanding Taxes is still quite high (approx. $90,000.00), there has been a great deal of improvement. In the last part of his Report, the Assistant Tax Collector stated that if Council intended to again appoint an Assistant Tax Collector, that he would appreciate the consideration of his re-appointment.

Moved by Councillor Benoit and seconded by Councillor Fougere that the Assistant Tax Collector's Report be accepted with the exception of the last paragraph. Motion carried.

The Warden read Mr. Vickery's letter of resignation.

Moved by Councillor Mancini and seconded by Councillor Gerrior that the resignation of the Clerk be accepted with regret. Motion carried.

Deputy Warden LeBrun reminded Council that the Finance Committee is meeting on Wednesday night, February 9, to discuss the Budget and he asked that all other Committees meet and make recommendations to Council before this so that the Budget will not have to be changed once it is made up.

The Clerk was asked to name all members on each Committee.

Deputy Warden LeBrun stated that the By-Laws Committee could not possibly have a new set of By-laws ready for this session of Council, because of the tremendous amount of work that there is in preparing them. He stated that the By-laws Committee expected to have a complete new set of By-laws ready for the August session of Council.

The Clerk read resolutions re-Temporary Borrowing for new School Construction.

The first was a renewal of a Borrowing Resolution for a further twelve months, in the amount of $350,000.00 for the new St. Peter's District High School.

Moved by Councillor Cameron and seconded by Councillor Mombourquette that this renewal of Borrowing Resolution for the St. Peter's District High School be accepted. Motion carried.

Second — an additional temporary Borrowing Resolution in the amount of $150,000.00 for Louisdale School.

Moved by Councillor Mancini, seconded by Councillor Marchand that this additional temporary Borrowing Resolution for the Louisdale School be adopted. Motion carried.

Third — Renewal of Borrowing Resolution in the amount of $100,000.00 for a further twelve months, for Louisdale School.

Moved by Councillor Marchand and seconded by Councillor LeBlanc that this renewal of Borrowing Resolutions re the Louisdale School be adopted. Motion carried.

Fourth — Temporary Borrowing Resolution, in the amount of $82,000.00 for a four-room addition to the River Bourgeois School be adopted. Motion carried.

The Warden welcomed Mr. Stan MacLellan, former Clerk and Treasurer, back to Richmond County. Mr. MacLellan said that he was glad to be back for this short visit and that he was glad to see the Municipality in such good condition. He wished the best to everyone.

Councillor LeBlanc moved to adjourn until 2:00 p.m.

AFTERNOON SESSION

The Meeting was called to order at 2:00 p.m by the Deputy Warden. He stated that Warden Langley was making a phone call and would be back shortly. The Clerk called the roll of the Councillors. All Councillors were present except Councillor Holmes.

Next on the agenda was the discussion of the Financial Statements. The Clerk read the Financial Report and the remarks of the Auditors.

Moved by Councillor Benoit and seconded by Councillor Mombourquette that the Financial Report be tabled for discussion at a later date. Motion carried.

Councillor Marchand brought up the matter of the Louisdale School. He felt that the Building Committee should urge the contractors to rush this project, so that this building will be completed by March 31, 1966. He stated that if they did not do something, that the school would not be half finished by this date. Deputy Warden LeBrun agreed with Councillor Marchand.

Mr. Vickery said that the Architects and he himself have urged the contractors to hurry up, and they have explained to the contractors the great amount of money this County will lose if the School is not completed by March 31, 1966.

Councillor Benoit felt that more men should be put on the job at the Louisdale School.

Moved by Councillor Marchand and seconded by Councillor Mancini that the Building Committee be instructed to urge the contractor to rush construction of the Louisdale School. Motion carried.

Councillor Gerrior felt that the Building Committee should get in touch with the contractors in person rather than by letter.

There was a great deal of discussion re the loss that will be sustained if the Louisdale School is not completed by March 31, 1966. Councillor LeBlanc felt that we should pay much attention to this matter if we stand to lose such a great deal of money. The Warden felt that a representative of the "Stephens Construction, Limited", should be requestsed to appear before Council and explain the reason for the delay in finishing the Louisdale School.

Moved by Councillor LeBlanc and seconded by Councillor Gerrior that Mr. Fred Stephens of "Stephens Construction Limited", contractors for the Louisdale School, and the Architect, be requested to appear before Council and explain why the Louisdale School contract is not further advanced than it is. Motion carried.

The Warden read a letter from the Royal Canadian Air Cadets of Isle Madame inviting the Councillors to attend a parade at the Isle Madame District High School at 7 p.m., tonight, February 7, 1966.

Councillor Mombourquette asked permission to be absent from Council on Wednesday and Thursday 9 and 10. He explained he had to be away on important business in Truro on these days. Permission was granted.

Councillor Doiron moved to adjourn.

BUSINESS FOR NOVA SCOTIA

"The following comment on an American report was published in "Canadian Business", the magazine for management and in their analysis of this report, it now appears that Hon. W.S.K. Jones, Minister of Trade and Industry and Hon. G. I. Smith, minister of Finance and Economics, together with Industrial Estates and the Stanfield Government are performing a noteworthy task in encouraging American Industy to establish in this province. and we feel sure the Americans are impressed by the recent visit of Mr. Jones and Mr. Smith to the United States.—Editor."

(From Canadian Business)

"New York business leaders can't help but be impressed with the aggressive team of foreign-trade-minded leaders from Nova Scotia. They're becoming the talk of the town.

Each year, the province sends its top trade officials down to New York and Chicago to drum up business. This year's delegation was headed by W. S. K. Jones, minister of Trade and Industry and G. I. Smith, minister of Finance and Economics.

After the American business community had downed their Nova Scotia lobsters, all were impressed by the no-nonsence, business-like approach of these officials. In no uncertain terms, they told their listeners that Nova Scotia wants new plants and factories and businesses and that the government will do everything to achieve this goal.

They both said that, unlike other areas, Nova Scotia can offer new industry a climate that will guarantee it against government interference, regardless of the political party in power.

There were no apologies for Canadian sensitivities about American takeovers; no chauvinism; no emotionalism. New business, regardless of its ownership, said the two provincial leaders, will help the economy of Nova Scotia.

Mr. Jones, in fact, came out boldly in favor of "an interrated eastern common market," which he said, "would benefit all of us through the interchange of goods technological information and people."

He told his audience of the recent progress of Nova Scotia (see CANADIAN BUSINESS, August, 1965) pointing out that Industrial Estates Limited, the government-backed industrial development scheme had attracted 30 new plants to Nova Scotia in recent years.

"IEL," he explained, "will build your plant for you on a site you choose. Then it will lease it back to you on a long-term basis with an option to buy at book value any time you feel so inclined.

"The isn't all," he continued. "IEL will provide financing for anything up to 60% of the cost of installed machinery and equipment. Loans amounting up to 50% of the cost of land, plant and machinery are also available.

"There is still more," he went on. "On the municipal level, an IEL assisted plant will get a tax concession which limits the tax rate to a maximum of 1% of the assessed value of the building. There are incentives, too: a tax holiday, liberal depreciation rate or capital grant."

IEL he predicted, would bring Nova Scotia an additional $100 million in capital investments in 1966.

Mr. Smith was just as business-like in his approach. He handed the businessmen a copy of the abridged Financial Report for the province, then simply pointed out that "we balance our budget on current account. Current expenses must be covered by current revenues. We do not have current deficits to be financed by borrowings."

The Americans were impressed. It will be surprising if none of them direct their firms to build new plants in Nova Scotia.

MORE LOBSTER FISHERMEN AGREE ON 500 TRAPS IN PICTOU AREA

(In the January 6th 1966 ssue of the "Pictou Advocate" an account of a meeting held by fishermen in Pictou, to discuss a 500 trap limit in that area, may be of interest to lobster fishermen in this county and we bring our readers the report, as found in the "Advocate"—Editor.)

(Pictou Advocate)

"A meeting of the lobster fishermen of the areas of Carriboo Island, Ferry Wharf, Carriboo and Pictou Landing of District 7B was held at the Stella Maris Hall in Pictou last Thursday evening.

About 40 fishermen representing these areas were present, as well as a small number from adjoining districts. H. F. Russell of Pictou was appointed chairman, while J. M. Hayward of Pictou acted as secretary.

The chairman read a petition drawn up prior to the meeting, requesting that the Federal Government limit the number of lobster traps that a licensed fisherman may set to 500.

This was discussed and it was decided that this petition be set aside and a new petition be drawn up setting forth the conditions that the meeting would decide upon, and that these conditions be accepted as a gentlemen's agreement among the fishermen.

After a lengthy discussion on whether the limit be 500 traps or 600, it was moved by Duncan MacKenzie that trap limit of 500 per boat be set. This was seconded by Charless Clark and went to a vote.

Results were 29 votes for the 500 trap limit and eight against. It was then moved by Bert Polley and seconded by Donald Polley that the vote be taken on a 600 trap limit. The vote showed seven fishermen for the 600 trap limit and 29 against.

It was then decided that the 5$$ trap limit be accepted and be shown as such on the petition.
