SUGAR AND SPICE
by Bill Smiley

IT'S TIME TO BE OUTDOORS

This is the time of year when there should be 24 hours of daylight, when a man should be able to keep going 24 hours a day, and every man should be on a month's vacation.

Think of that fishing. Bass, muskies pike and rainbow trout, just lying around there drooling, wishing somebody would toss them a lure. With the water so cold, their flesh makes chicken taste like dessicated rubber.

In the bogs the ducks chuckle and in the bush the partridge chortle. Whether it's a bitter morning crouched in a blind, or a stealthy stroll down a sun-filtered wooded road, everything beckons the hunter.

And there's the golf course. A crisp day, the turf like velvet, and all the tourists and women out of the way at last. Nothing to distract. Fat bottoms in Bermuda shorts are replaced by plump black squirrels intent on filling the larder with acorns.

And everywhere there's sky as blue as virgin's veins, blue-black water welcoming, butter-golden sun and blazing bush to delight the eye and uplift the soul.

Every orange-blooded Canadian, from the most venerable of bird-watchers to the Grade Four tyke who must make a leaf collection, yearns to be out in the most wonderful country in the world in the most wonderful time of the year, in the most wonderful life that any of us will ever have.

And what are we all doing? We're behaving like typical Canadians. We recognize the beauty, the allure of autumn, but we do nothing about it.

If we're youngsters, we go to stupid school. If we're oldsters, we rake the ruddy leaves. Or we worry about the silly storm windows. Or we go to idiotic meetings to exchange inanities. Or we trudge off to some ridiculous job in order to put food in our mouths and oil in the tank. Just because it's fall and all these asinine activities are back with us.

It's not only unintelligent. It's unfair, unpatriotic, unscrupulous, unreligious and unbelievable.

For years I have longed for a holiday in the fall. And for years I have been denied it because of the incredibly insane social structure in this country, which decrees that you have holidays in the summer, or, if you can afford it, an equivalent hot-holiday in winter, down south.

Who wants holidays in the summer? With long evenings and weekends, we can fish, swim, boat to our hearts' content. And with the up-coming four-day work-week, there'll be even more time.

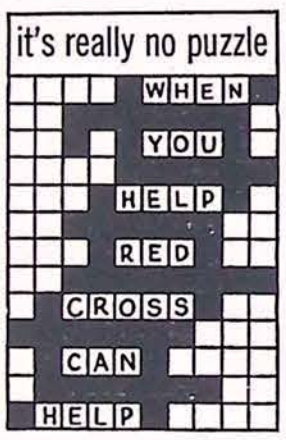

But we're stuck with an archaic system that seems to be tied to the school year. On Labor Day, we all go back to the plough, and spend the most glorious weeks of the year at mundane, monotonous chores.

Not for us the gold and blue of autumn days at our myriad lakes, the wild fire of sumach on the hills, the honk of wild geese flying, the wood fire's warmth on a cool evening.

Now, after Labor Day, we don sober garb and pious mien, crawl back into our huts and begin once again the pretence that life is real and earnest.

It's just as well they're not planning to make me Minister of Education. If they did, there'd be a month's holiday in June, school through July and August (until one p. m. every day) and six week's holiday beginning Labor Day.

Don't worry. It will never happen in this country. It's much too sensible.

CANON R. R. LATIMER ATTENDS MEETING IN ROME

The Primate of the Anglican Church of Canada, Most Rev. H. H. Clark, has appointed the Rev. Canon R. R. Latimer to represent him at a meeting in Rome, Oct. 3rd to 5th, of the Governing Body of the new Anglican Centre there. The discussions of the Governing Body will centre around the most effective uses of the new ecumenical centre. The Anglican Church of Canada, together with the other 18 Churches within the worldwide Anglican Communion, is contributing to the support of the Centre.

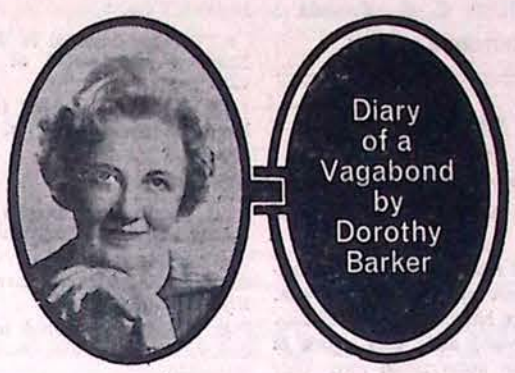

In opening the Centre, during his visit to Pope Paul VI last March, the Archbishop of Canterbury explained that it would contain "a library of Anglican books so that people in Rome who so wish may be assisted in study of Anglican theology, spirituality, liturgy and history. In this way it will serve the spread of knowledge and understanding which is an essential part of the ecumenical movement." The Centre will also be the headquarters for the representative of the Archbishop of Canterbury in Rome. It is situated in the Palazzo Doria in the heart of the city.

More Fish To Fry

By the year 1991, Garth Campbell, general manager of CN passenger services, told a transportation research conference in Niagara Falls recently, 30,000 persons are likely to travel daily between Toronto and Montreal.

Less than a quarter of a century from now he predicted, trains will leave from these two cities every half hour between 8 a. m. and midnight. They will make the two hour trip at an average speed of 167 mph.

Fantastic? Not any more fantastic than the fact a caload of fish, the most perishable edible for human consumption, travelled recently from Lunenburg, Nova Scotia, to Vancouver, British Columbia, without more than a mere fraction change in its original sea freshness.

While the space age in which we have arrived continues to develop such rapid means of transportation, research moves ahead at just as formidable a rate to preserve our life-sustaining resources.

The fact that a refrigerator car with the unit built in its door has been perfected, proves the transportation industry has made a breakthrough in fish distribution. This type of car not only leaves the entire interior free for cargo, but in so doing it also reduces shipping charges.

Sending fish all the way from Lunenburg to Vancouver may seem a little like taking coals to Newcastle, but it had its purpose. After almost four thousand miles and eight days travel time, the carload of halibut and cod fillets and scallops were fresh enough to appeal to the most discriminating appetites.

Government Co-operates

The experiment was carried out under the direction of men from Fisheries Services of the Federal Department of Fisheries.

Fillets and scallops were pre chilled at a Lunenburg processing plant to 28.5 degress which is just above the freezing point for salt water fish. This crystallized their water content almost eliminating dehydration and loss of weight.

CN officials traveling with the equipment kept a close check on the car with special instruments. Readings were taken frequently which proved that the temperature did not vary more than a degree plus or minus during the entire trip.

Some of the shipment was removed in Montreal, Toronto and Winnipeg for inspection. Of the 1,000 pounds that left the Atlantic coast half arrived at the Pacific Port City. The six man team accompanying the carload acted as critics of freshness and flavour when some of the shipment was prepared for their meals while en route.

This pilot run out of Lunenburg was just one more step in studies which began for Canadian National 14 months ago. It was then the railway began looking for ways to improve the handling of Atlantic catches suitable for wider markets.

More of this particular type of refrigerator car will be available. Pacific fisheries may also take advantage of this method of reaching customers in a more extended market area. It will also give Prairie housewives and those living in central Canada an opportunity to judge for themselves the merits of Fraser and Campbell River salmon from B. C. and that fished from the tumbling Restigouche. I am sure they will all welcome a means of extending their budgets by serving fresh salt water fish.

ST. PETERS HIGH SCHOOL STUDENT AWARDED $100 COMMUNITY CLUB

Miss Rebecca Harnish, a Grade XII student at St. Peter's High School in 1965-66, is the recipient of the $100 award of the St. Peters Community Club, based on the results of the Grade XII Provincial Examinations. The award which has been granted annualy by the Club since its inception is made to a student at the St. Peters District High School, who is a resident of the village and who is continuing his or her education and who has received the highest marks in the Provincial Examinations.

Miss Harnish who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kitchner Harnish, has been accepted by the School of Nursing of St. Rita's Hospital, Sydney. The announcement was made by Mrs. Alexander Morrison of the Award Committee of the Community Club.

AMENDMENTS TO GAME LAWS

Lands and Forests Minister E. D. Haliburton today cautioned hunters that recent amendments to game laws of the province provide for penalties of $10 to $300 to persons found guilty of infractions.

The amendments prohibit carrying firearms in or near a forest or woods during the period from one hour after sunset to one hour before sunrise, unless it is in a case or dismantled so that it cannot be readily fired or made operable.

However any person may carry a rifle of .22 calibre or less between December 1 and February 15.

The amendments also prohibit the use of a moveable light of more than 4½ volts in a field or forest frequented by deer from one hour before sunrise. This regulation does not apply to a person owning the land.

A big game license cannot be issued to a person under 18, or a small game license to a person under 16, however, a parent or guardian may obtain a big game license for a child or ward over 16, or a small game license for a child or ward 14 or older.

MOLES AT GREENHORN FARM

Ten thousand ways to rid a farm of moles have been accumulated here at Greenhorn Farm. They are harder to get rid of than communists, and they work in the same underground way. Ugly uprisings occur on our lawn and in our gardens and meadows constantly, and our pleas for help from the experts have brought us thousands of methods (all reputed to be fool proof) for ridding ourselves of these pests.

Put moth balls down the mole holes. Perhaps this preserves the moles' fur, but that's all it does. Moles are no fools! Or try placing a soft-drink bottle in the hole, leaving the mouth of the bottle protruding so that the wind whistles across it and scares the pests away. Our moles are immune to this treatment, but it raised the devil with the lawn mower. Attempts to drown them out were equally abortive and left the moles more active than ever. I hooked the exhaust pipe of my automobile to a rubber hose and tried to gas them, but then my motor is only 4 cylinders and these are V8 moles!

We then tried spreading a heavy coating of lime on our soil, which made it look like Christmas on the prairies, but didn't bother the moles a bit.

So we are again yelling for help. Is there a ten-thousand-and-oneth way to kill moles that really works? (All the poisons have been tried with no success). If there is and you know it, would you please write me? There is a very slight hint of Fall in the air, and we'd like to do in the moles before they spend the winter raising more of their kind in the cosy channels underground on Greenhorn Farm! No matter how bizarre your cure is, we're willing to give it a try. You may reach us through this newspaper, or write direct to Greenhorn Farm, 16893—80th Ave., R. R. 4, Cloverdale, B C.

(3) If the real property is a house and land connected therewith, with of without buildings, the assessable value of the real property so occupied is the assessment of the house and the land reasonably connected therewith as determined by the assessor pursuant to this Act.

(4) If real property so occupied is part only of a property that has been assessed as an entirety, the assessor shall determine the assessable value of that part which is the place so occupied and the land reasonably connected therewith, but no reduction shall be made merely because rooms or space under the control of the occupier are not used.

The purpose of this insertion is to inform the owners of property in the above Region, of this change in the Assessment Act. Household furnishngs and personal effects in any real property occupied for residential purposes are no longer assessed; instead an occupancy tax is substituted. This occupancy tax is not a property assessment tax but a tax set at 20% of the real property occupied for residential purposes. This occupancy tax is set by the Assessment Act and not by the Assessor. The percentage rate of the occupancy tax cannot be changed by the Assessor or an Appeal Board. We hope that this insertion will eliminate any unnecessary correspondence with the Assessor or Appeal Board over the occupancy tax.

EXPERIMENTAL VESSEL TO VISIT MARITIME PROVINCES

Canadian Atlantic fishermen will see an unfamiliar vessel from time to time during the next twelve months as a conventional black hulled Scottish seine netter, the "Guiding Star", moves from one Atlantic coast to another to demonstrate her method of catching various species of fish.

The "Guiding Star", a 70-foot wooden vessel powered by a 152 hp diesel engine, has completed the Atlantic crossing from Aberdeen and is now in Newfoundland. She is under a one-year charter to the Industrial Development Service of the federal Department of Fisheries to determine whether Scottish seine netting can be adopted profitably by the Canadian fishing industry, and also to engage in exploratory activity.

The skipper is Captain Alex Hay of Peterhead, Scotland. He and his Scottish crew of six will operate first from ports in Newfoundland and later will move to Nova Scotia, New Brunswick, Prince Edward Island and Quebec.

The "Guiding Star" will engage in full scale commercial fishing operations which will enable fisheries authorities to assess the potential of the Scottish seine netting technique in Canada

The decision to charter the Scottish vessel and her crew was made following a survey carried out last year by experienced Scottish skippers, under contract to the federal government, to determine the possibilities for the development in the Atlantic of Scottish-style seining. The decision to conduct a full-scale, year-long trial was made following an assessment of their fndings.

NEW POST OFFICES FOR NOVA SCOTIA

National Health and Welfare Minister Allan J. MacEachen has been advised by Postmaster-General J. P. Cote of plans to construct twelve new post offices in Nova Scotia under the 1966-67 winter works program.

Construction of the new post offices will depend on the availability of sites at reasonable prices, and the receiving of appropriate tenders in time for the work to be done this winter.

The sites of the post offices, and the constituencies in which they will be built are:

Larry's River (Antigonish-Guysborough), Port Howe (Cumberland), Barton (Digby-Annapolis-Kings), River Bourgeois (Inverness-Richmond), Hopewell (Pictou), Barss Corners, Tancook Island and Western Shore (Queens-Lunenburg), Arcadia, Middle West Pubnico, Salmon River and Shag Harbour (Shelburne - Yarmouth-Clare).

Mr. MacEachen also has been informed of plans to construct a post office at Port Mouton (Queens-Lunenburg) if a rural route mail delivery can be established and the present offices at Central Port Mouton and Southwest Port Mouton amalgamated with Port Mouton.

FOR SALE—24ft Boat in excellent condition with 4 h. p. Acadia Engine; new sail, car battery and 80 lobster traps. A real bargain. Apply to J. R. Terrio, West Arichat, N. S.

double your money with Canada Savings Bonds Centennial Series

Centennial Series Canada Savings Bonds offer you their highest interest yield ever—5.48% a year when held to maturity.

The new Bonds pay annual interest at the rate of 5% for each of the first four years; 5½% for each of the next three years; 5¾% for the following year and 6% for each of the last five years—a total of $72.25 in interest on every $100 Bond.

And for the first time, there is a special compound interest option. To take full advantage of it, leave all the annual interest uncollected until Nov. 1, 1979, and you will get interest on your interest, amounting to $27.75 extra on every $100 Bond.

It all adds up to total interest of $100 on every $100 Bond. It's a safe, sure way to save. DOUBLE YOUR MONEY with Canada Savings Bonds Centennial Series.

This Series retains all the traditional features which make Canada Savings Bonds Canada's most favoured investment.

They are still easy to buy for cash or on instalments where you work, bank or invest.

You may buy as little as $50 or as much as $10,000. Every Canadian resident may buy up to this limit. So can estates.

They are still simple to cash, anytime, at any bank in Canada for their full face value plus earned interest. Just fill out the redemption form on the Bond, present it to your bank and you'll get your money right away.

And now they're better than ever to keep with the highest interest yield ever and interest on interest. DOUBLE YOUR MONEY with Canada Savings Bonds Centennial Series.
