DOCTORS' NIGHT AT PETIT DE GRAT HALL

The St. Anne Hospital Board and the Arichat Branch of the Hospital Auxiliary with the assistance of the C.W.L. of St. Joseph's Parish, sponsored a doctors' night in the Parish Hall, Petit de Grat on the 24th of September.

The purpose was to welcome Dr. S. K. Ummat who recently opened an office in Arichat and to extend expressions of appreciation to Dr. J. H. Winter for his services. Dr. Winter has been in practise on Isle Madame for the past thirteen years.

Paul C. Doyle, in his capacity as President of the Hospital Board acted as Master of Ceremonies and spoke briefly. He said that the Board had carried out the people's wishes and obtained the services of a second doctor to replace Dr. G. R. Deveau. Correspondence with Dr. Ummat began last December and continued until July of this year when Dr. Ummat visited Isle Madame and met with the full Hospital Board. He returned with wife and four children and has taken up residence and opened an office in the Charles E. Latimer home.

Mr. Doyle welcomed Dr. Ummat on behalf of the people of Isle Madame and Louisdale in which everyone joined by clapping. An appreciation of Dr. Winter's service was shown in the same way.

Mr. Doyle expressed the hope that the doctors and the hospital staff will be able to arrive at a large measure of agreement that will provide us with the best modern medical services possible. He said that the Hospital Board was prepared to do everything possible to assist the doctors and he asked everyone to assist by seeing the doctors, if possible, during office hours, by following their treatment and by showing our appreciation of them by making them welcome in our community.

Both Mrs. Ummat and Mrs. Winter were present.

Dr. Ummat shook hands with everyone present after which all adjourned to the basement where a delicious lunch was served by the ladies. Dr. Ummat spoke briefly thanking everyone.

Much appreciation goes to Xyste Landry who rendered a number of piano selections during the early part of the evening and to those responsible for the fine program.

The Record extends a welcome to Dr. and Mrs. Ummat to our community and we also like to extend our personal appreciation to Dr. Winter for the splendid service given the public for the past thirteen years and wish him continued success in his profession.

NOVA SCOTIA FEDERATION OF HOME & SCHOOLS ASSOCIATIONS

Is Home and School really anti-teacher?

"No", says Mrs. W. S. Hallman, President of the Provincial Federation, pointing out that as part of their evidence of support the organization annually provides the Dora M. Baker Memorial Scholarship Award.

"While good classroom teaching is considered when the applications are reviewed" continues Mrs. Hallman, "We also recognize the fact that a real teacher's influence doesn't stop there and we pay a good deal of attention to the role the individual plays in the life of the community."

Application forms, available now from the Federation's Office in Truro, stipulate that the award is to be used for further professional study, or related travel. The Award, established in 1954 was valued at $250 in 1967 when it was awarded to Mrs. Arthur Allen of Spencer's Island. Through the years it has gone to teachers in every level of the system, in all parts of the Province.

"This is one way in which we can recognize achievement" Mrs. Hallman points out, "However, we realize that the Scholarship is awarded to one teacher only. It is the job of our members to Create within each association an atmosphere of understanding and appreciation of their teachers. That's Home and School, parents and teachers working together for the good of the child."

SUGAR AND SPICE by Bill Smiley

BRAVO STRAFFORD!

I wonder how many people including English teachers, ever sit down in this rat-race world of ours and read a play by Shakespeare? Or anybody else for that matter.

I'm sure the number of persons on the North American continent who do this for the sheer joy of it, annually, could be counted on two hands and two feet. And I wouldn't be among them.

The only people who read plays are producers, directors and actors, who read them for obvious reasons,, and high school students, who read them because they have to.

Plays are not written to be read, but to be seen. Just as operas are written to be heard, and houses built to live in, and cars built to to rust and women built different from men.

That's why I enjoy so much our occasional visit to the Stratford Festival. Suddenly a soliloquay becomes not something you had to memorize in school, but a real man baring his tortured soul before your naked eyes.

Suddenly a turn of phase or a shrug brings tears to your eyes. Or an unexpected belch draws a wave of laughter. Or an old cliche like, "A horse, a horse; my kingdom for a horse," becomes a wail of mad anguish that has you bolt upright in your seat.

This year we wound up our summer with a real bash of playgoing at Stratford. It was great. Even Kim, the 16-year old cynic admitted, "I really dig that Shakespeare."

Fourteen years ago, my wife and I saw a production of Richard II, with the great Alev Guinness starring. It was the first season of the festival, when the theatre was a huge tent, rotten hot in midsummer. But it was something new, colorful and vital on the Canadian scene. We were thrilled.

This year, we saw the same play, with British actor Alan Bates playing the emotionally and physically warper Richard. There's a handsome theatre, air-conditioned. The festival is no longer something new. But it's as vital and colorful as ever. And it's still a thrill.

Despite a fairly solid lambasting from the drama critics, the festival is having a solid smash this year at the box office. Which merely goes to show you how much attention anybody pays to drama critics outside of New York.

It also shows, I think, that the festval is more than just a theatre. For the real drama buffs, of course, the play's the thing. But for thousands of others, it's a sort of pilgrimage to an exciting annual event. Not even Will Shakespeare could fill that theatre night after night, year after year. People come for the music, the modern drama, the art exhibits and the whole involving atmosphere.

Things have changed a lot since that first year we attended. No longer do you have to stay in a private home where the landlady is not only a kook but plastered, as ours was. Motels have mushroomed, but it's a good idea to reserve.

No longed do you have to sit on the bank of the Avon, padding your feet in the water and drinking gin and tonic out of a thermos. Now you can paddle your feet in the broadloom of any of several good bars.

No longer do you sit down to a good meal prepared by the Ladies' Aid, for a dollar and a quarter. Now you can take your pick of some fine restaurants. But the price isn't the same, I'm afraid.

Yep, the festival has changed, and so has the town. Some people yearn for the good old days, but I think everything has improved about 400 percent. One big bonus is the lengthened season, which gives thousands of high school kids a chance to see Shakespeare alive and exciting.

And that's the way it should be. Long live the Festival. It was a great idea nobly conceived and executed. It's a source of real pride to see something in Canada that does not flop, but flourishes.

Diary of a Vagabond by Dorothy Barker

ALL CANADA'S IN TRANSIT

Expo 67, with its crash publicity program and universal attractions was expected to draw literally millions in attendance from its opening date in April until the gates close the last time in October. Canada looked forward to thousands of tourists travelling on road, rail, and in the air during the summer of 1967. It seemed logical to think they would all be headed in one direction, Montreal.

This has only been true to a certain extent. I travelled by rail most of the summer from one end of this country to the other. At times I thought the world itself and its entire population was trying to crowd into Winnipeg for the Pan Am Games. Then I moved on to Edmonton for Klondike Days. It, too, was swarming with people. Vancouver's Sea Festival beckoned crowds. By the time I turned east again I was sure the Atlantic seaboard cities would be depleted of all humanity for surely everyone was holidaying west of Moncton. What a surprise was in store for me.

In this go-go age I am constantly intrigued by the various methods each of our provinces employ to put forth the best features of their respective localities. They have all done a magnificent job, especially this summer during the celebration of Canada's Confederation.

In future columns I will pay tribute to their efforts and just as a traveller must have a starting point for his journey, I will start this week with Nova Scotia's Travel Bureau and its excellent promotion campaign.

"Canada's Ocean Playground" —that is the catchy slogan chosen to attract the vacationing public to this province with so much natural appeal. If you look at a map of Canada you will see that Nova Scotia looks exactly like a lobster. It's history is packed with seafaring legends; its people with rugged individulaism; and its coastline with most of the species of popular seafoods, some providing a tickle for a gourmet's palate, and others a challenge for the sporting fisherman.

What action did the Nova Scotia Travel Bureau take to make its visitors welcome and happy? Realizing that most would not want to spend their entire vacations gazing at the scenery or basking on sandy beaches, the bureau began early to publicize a wide range of summer activities.

These included such variety as the Annapolis Valley Blossom Festival which runs for four days at the end of May; the lively Highland Games in mid-July; the memorable Acadian Festival of Clare and the Gaelic Mod, in mid-August; or the entertaining Nova Scotia Fisheries Exhibition in mid-Septemeber.

These are just a few of them. Add two more highland festivals, The International Tuna Cup Match, a lobster carnival, live theatre,

E. R. GOURLEY APPOINTED DIRECTOR

The Tourist Association of Nova Scotia reports the appointment of Mr. Ernest Gourley as Regional Tourist Director for the Eastern Shore Tourist Association.

Charles Keating president of the M.T.S.A. said that "Ernie Gourley has been connected with the tourist industry for some considerable time and has had an exceptionally sound knowledge of the area."

Ernie Gourley, a resident of Antigonish for the past 30 years, is married and has 3 children. Prior to entering the tourist field, Ernie Gourley was a well known sales representative of Canada Packers in eastern Nova Scotia.

BOARD OF TRADE HOLD MONHLY MEETING

The Regular monthly meeting of the Arichat Isle Madame Board of Trade was held in the Municipal Building here on Wednesday, with the President, Very Rev. A. P. Poirier, presiding.

Monsignor A. Boudreau of D'Escousse was appointed Secretary of the Board.

It was brought to the attention of the meeting that the Public Wharf here is in urgeant need of repairs and it was proposed that this matter be brought to the attention of Hon. A. J. MacEachen and the Minister of Public Works. As this is the only wharf for ships to dock at, this request is urgent and repairs will have to be made before the bad weather sets in.

As the Board of Tarde are sponsoring the operation of the Le-Noir Forge, a Richmond County Centennial Project, plans will be made by the Board for its operation during the 1968 Tourist Season.

A Board of Trade in a Community is the voice of the people and it is urged that all business men throughout Isle Madame should be members of the Board and by working in unity can do much to promote many worthwhile projects to the betterment of hte whole area.

At Board meetings members can gain helpful experience in how meetings should be conducted and also gives one an opportunity to speak and take part in discussions that mean so much to your community.

We are anticipating following the proceedings of future meetings so as to keep our readers in touch with what is going on in the Board of Trade.

YOUNG MEN VISITS PORT ROYAL HABITATION

Sponsored by the Kinsmen Club of Kentville, some thirty four members of the World Council of Young Men's Service Clubs, are presently touring the Maritime Provinces and Eastern Canada, and recently were guests at the Port Royal Habitation, where they received an official welcome and greetings from Deputy Mayor of Annapolis Royal, Robert Emin; Baden Powell MLA for Digby; R. A. Laurence Q.C., Annapolis Royal; and Secretary of the Annapolis Valley Affiliated Boards of Trade, Lloyd K. Hill.

The group, consisting of members of Kinsmen Club of Canada; the Round Table of Europe, Africa, Asia, South America and New Zealand; Apec's from Australia and Asia A;ctive (20-30) International of the United States, Central and South America, were in some instances accompanied by their wives.

The World Council is apparently a sincere attempt by the young men of the countries represented to strengthen the bonds of International goodwill by individual and collective service to their communities based on a free interchange of ideas and discussion.

The group arrived via Air Canada at Moncton on September 17, visited New Brunswick, Prince Edward Island, and came to Nova Scotia by bus. Here they toured the Cabot Trail, the South Shore and the Valley and were much impressed by the scenery and the friendliness of the people.

At Port Royal they were given a brief history of the area by Stephen Thorne, assistant superintendent of the Habitation, how the Habitation came to be built, and a general tour of the various buildings. Following the tour there was an informal social half hour enjoyed and each visitor was given a membership certificate in the Order of the Good Time, courtesy of the Province of Nova Scotia.

Countries represented included Belgium, Sweden, South Africa, Zambia, Denmark and England. All spoke very good English and were highly appreciative of the hospitality extended.

Mr. Hill in his remarks to the group stated that it was most fitting that the climax of the tour should be at Port Royal, the birthplace and oldest settled area of Canada.

FATHER KYTE MARKS 50th ANNIVERSARY TO THE PRIESTHOOD

St. Joseph's Parish Bras d'Or honoured their pastor, Rev. J. B. Kyte last Sunday in observance of the golden jubilee of his ordination to the priesthood.

A special Mass was celebrated by Father Kyte with His Excellency Bishop Power. Co-celebrants were Very Rev. J. H. MacEachen, North Sydney, Very Rev. A. P. Poirier, Arichat, Very Rev. R. C. MacLeod, Inverness, and two former residents of the parish, Rev. J. Andrea and Rev. A. MacNeil.

Rev. J. J. MacDonald, of St. Joseph's Parish, Petit de Grat preached the sermon.

An address was read by Mr. Norman MacIntosh expressing the sentiments of esteem in which Father Kyte was held by the parishioners. Mr. A. MacNeil presented a gift to the jubilarian on behalf of the parish.

Following the ceremonies a dinner was provided in the Church hall with Very Rev. J. H. MacEachern acting as Toastmaster. A toast to the Country was made by Mr. Tom Sullivan which was followed by a toast to the parish by Rev. J. Andrea. Rev. George Topshee toasted the jubilarian.

In a brief reply, Father Kyte referred to his many happy years in the priesthood. He thanked all those who had taken part in preparing the program celebrating his 50th anniversary and the huge crowd that attended.

Father Kyte, son of the late Patrick Joseph Kyte and Anastasia Boyd, was born September 7, 1891, at Dartmouth, Nova Scotia. He received his elementary education at St. Peter's Academy, St. Peter's, Richmond County, and entered St. Francis Xavier in 1907. After graduation from the University Father Kyte accepted a position with the Civil Service, Bureau of Statistics, Ottawa, for a period of three years. He entered Grand Seminary, Montreal, in 1914, where he pursued his theological studies. He was ordained to the priesthood on December 23, 1917, and said his first Mass in his home parish of St. Peter's December 30, 1917.

During his long and distinguished career Father Kyte has served the people throughout the Diocese. He was first appointed in February, 1918, assistant to St. Anne's Glace Bay, where he remained until August of 1918 when he was appointed assistant to Stella Maris Parish, Inverness.

In October of 1927 Father Kyte was appointed pastor at St. Peter's, South Ingonish. He remained there until 1934, and then was named pastor to Star of the Sea Parish, Canso. In October 1950 he was appointedt Vicar Forane of Guysborough Deanery. In 1959 Father Kyte came to St. Joseph's Parish, Bras d'Or where he resides as parish priest.

Father Kyte was one of six children, Sister Paul of the Cross, former Mother General of the Sisters of St. Martha, Bethany, and Mary Josephine, residing at the MacDonald Guest House, Antigonish, are sisters. Stanislaus Elwood manager of the Antigonish Wholesalers, Antigonish and Joseph William, who resides on the homestead, River Tillard, St. Peter's, are brothers. Two other sisters, Angela (Harterly, Alberta) and Catherine, are dead.

(The foregoing was taken from the "Casket", Antigonish and the Editor of the Record joins with the many friends in Father Kyte's native Richmond County in congratulating him on his 50 years of dedicated service in the priesthood. May he enjoy many more years of good health and continued happiness.—Editor.)
